TO CURE ROUND SHOULDERS

It Is to be Found in Proper Foods and Regular Exercise.

To cure round shoulders, says "a woman who knows," the best and most nourishing foods must be taken, as weakness of constitution or health is one of the first causes of round shoulders. You should take a strong iron and quinine tonic, and if it is cold weather when you begin the cure take cod liver oil as well. If this is apt to disagree take cream instead. You must keep regular hours as to meals and sleep, and have plenty out-door exercise, only without undue exertion. Walking is about the best exercise to take, although riding and bicycling may be indulged in when you are getting better.

You must be carefull to sleep on a hard mattress, never on a feather bed, and you must take care that your pillows are not raised too much as this is apt to throw the head forward and add to the rounded shoulders, instead of making them any better. You must be careful always to walk straight and never lounge along the road. The way to do this is to hold the shoulders well back, the chin, in the air, to look straight forward on a level with your eyes, and never droop the head and go through life looking for possible pins on the ground.

On no account must you stoop over your work or reading, as this is bad indeed. If you are sewing you must sit in a low chair, and one that has a straight back to lean against. If by any chance you have to sit on a high chair to do your work, you must see that you have a footstool. In writing you should either sit at a table which is the proper height, or you should always use a sloped desk, and in reading never hold the book on your knee, but hold it up and lean back or sit upright while reading.

You should often hold your hands behind your back and walk this way up and down a room or out of doors for ten minutes at a time, when you have nothing better to do. You must also lie flat on a backboard or the floor for several hours a day.

The Most Curious Sleeve.

Here is the most curious sleeve designed for fashionable women in many a day. And when past and present sleeves are considered, that is surely saying much for its novelty.

It is the new dinner sleeve of the moment which forms an old-fashioned mitt when it reaches the hand.

It answers the purpose of sleeve and glove in one, and is quite the fad of the hour for dinner wear, as it does away with the awkwardness of removing the glove from the hand when dining.

The most effective of these odd dinner sleeves are made of spangled tulle or net. The filmy fabric clings closely to the arm and when it reaches the wrist it is shaped like a mitt of the days of our grandmothers. It just covers the knuckles, allowing the rings to show to good advantage.

FASHION'S NEWEST SLEEVE.

The sleeve does not reach to the shoulder, but, like many of the ultra-fashionable sleeves of the day, is suspended from it by a band of velvet or jewels. Just where the sleeve is attached to the bodice is a mystery to the uninitiated, but it goes without saying that it is attached and it is not necessary to put on one's sleeve first and one's bodice afterward.

Economizing Space.

A woman who investigated how the innumerable suits and jackets are taken care of in the shops where these are offered for sale discovered that the necessary economy of space comes from the use of metal rods upon which the garments are suspended by means of wire hangers. She promptly applied the same principle to her own limited supply of closet room, with the result that she is able now to utilize space that can be found in any clothespress, however small. From a near-by plumber she got all the gas-pipe tubing she needed cut in the required lengths. These were mounted in the closet by simply securing them on the hook boards, taking care that they fitted snugly between walls. Two or three dozens of the cheap wire hangers completed the closet outfit, and now skirts and bodices, wrappers and jackets are kept within easy reach in compact space and in good shape. In particular is the parlor floor closet, when thus equipped, found to be much more useful, for there may hang the reserve overcoats and heavy storm wraps of the entire household, which have heretofore often proved too bulky and unmanageable for it.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Frankenthal. Die Strafkammer des hiesigen Landgerichts verurtheilte die Wärter Ringle und Hahn von der Kreis-Kranken- und Pflege-Anstalt der Pfalz wegen Mißhandlung von Zöglingen in 24 beziehungsweise 10 Fällen zu sieben beziehungsweise zwei Monaten Gefängniß. Den Strafantrag hatte die Anstaltsdirektion gestellt.

Offenbach. Von den Stadtverordneten wurde beschlossen, die Verbrauchssteuern auf Mehl und Brod vom 1. Oktober 1899 ab aufzuheben.

Zweibrücken. Im Kalkwerke Lautzkirchen stürzte der Arbeiter Konrad 17 Meter tief ab. Er erlitt dabei einen tödtlichen Schädelbruch. Seine Mutter, eine Wittwe, verlor schon zwei andere Söhne durch Unglücksfälle.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Der sozialdemokratische Reichstagsabgeordnete Agster, der sich von seiner nervösen Erkrankung noch nicht erholt hat, ist im Einvernehmen mit seinen Verwandten und Freunden in die Abtheilung für Nervenkranke des hiesigen Bürgerhospitals aufgenommen worden.—Hier starb, 76 Jahre alt, Dr. Otto Elben, Herausgeber und langjähriger Leiter des „Schwäbischen Merkurs," von 1871 bis 1876 Reichstagsabgeordneter, von 1868 bis 1882 württembergischer Landtagsabgeordneter, Gründer und Ehrenpräsident des Schwäbischen Sängerbundes, Ehrenmitglied des Deutschen Sängerbundes, der 1862 unter seinem Vorsitz gegründet wurde.

Ravensburg. Die Strafkammer verurtheilte den nicht weniger als 114 Mal vorbestraften 59jährigen Weber L. Schmid von Tübingen wegen Diebstahls zu acht Monaten Gefängniß und wegen Bettels zu einer Woche Haft.

Rottenburg. Der Schultheiß von Oeschingen, der in ungesetzlicher Weise die Verbreitung eines sozialdemokratischen Flugblattes behindert hatte, wurde vom hiesigen Oberamt über die richtige Handhabung des Preßgesetzes belehrt und erhielt den Auftrag, die mit Beschlag belegten Flugblätter zurückzugeben.

Schwäbisch-Hall. Ueber die bedeutenden Etablissements des Pfarrers Hermann Faulhaber mußte das Konkursverfahren eröffnet werden, was im ganzen Lande ungewöhnliches Aufsehen erregt. Faulhaber, der als Militärpfarrer den Feldzug mitgemacht und das Eiserne Kreuz erworben hat, wollte durch eine Eisenwaarenfabrik und eine große Buchhandlung in selbstlosester Weise sozial wirken und innere Mission auf industrieller Basis treiben; er war trotz organisatorischer Fähigkeiten den großartigen Unternehmungen geschäftlich wenig gewachsen. Etwa 800,000 Mark sind gedeckt. Für Faulhaber, der sein ganzes Vermögen mitverliert, und zahlreiche Mitbetroffene ist der Zusammenbruch ein schwerer Schlag. Nicht mitbetroffen sind die großen, von Faulhaber gegründeten Diakonissenhäuser und das Kinderhospiz des Johanniterordens dahier.

Ulm. Den Erstickungstod fanden hier 18 junge Schweine. Sie langten am Abend als Expreßgut in zwei Kisten an und wurden während der Nacht mit einer Decke zugedeckt; am Morgen waren sämmtliche Thiere erstickt. Der Schaden beträgt etwa 500 Mark.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Turnhauptlehrer Georg Kaller ist im Alter von 64 Jahren gestorben. Der Verstorbene erfreute sich großer Beliebtheit. Er war Ehrenmitglied des Männerturnvereins und der Turngemeinde und seit 22 Jahren Turnlehrer an der Mädchenschule.

Mannheim. Im März 1894 stürzte der inzwischen verstorbene Kammersänger Alvary bei einer „Siegfried"-Probe auf der Bühne in die sogenannte Drachenhöhle und zog sich schwere Verletzungen am Knie zu, wodurch er längere Zeit an der Ausübung seines Berufes gehindert war. Alvary machte die Stadt für diesen Unfall verantwortlich und klagte auf 30,000 Mark Schadenersatz. Der Prozeß, der noch immer anhängig ist, dürfte jetzt aus der Welt geschafft werden; die Stadt ist bereit, an Alvarys Wittwe 18,000 Mark zu zahlen, und letztere will hiermit zufrieden sein.

Offenburg. In Niederweier ist die Ziegeltrockenhütte des Ziegeleibesitzers Stephan Knörr eingestürzt. Das Knörr'sche Ehepaar und seine beiden Kinder trugen dabei schwere Verletzungen davon, ein beim Ziegelaufsetzen beschäftigter Knabe und ein Mädchen wurden getödtet.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

[OFFICIAL.]

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, N. J., held on Thursday, May 4th, 1899, at 2:30 p. m.

Roll call showed all members present except Freeholder Miller.

The minutes of the previous regular meeting of April 6, (reading of bills being omitted) were on motion approved as read.

The minutes of special meeting of April 20, were on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS ETC.

Westfield, May 1, 1899.

S. Rusling Ryno, Clerk Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Elizabeth, N. J. Dear Sir:—At a meeting of the Township Committee held this evening, the following resolution was passed.

Resolved, That this committee request the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County to grant to the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company, all the rights and privileges necessary to complete the trolley line from Rahway through Westfield to Mountainside Borough.

(Signed,) Chas. D. Reese, Township Clerk, Westfield Township.

On motion of Freeholder Roll, received, and placed on file.

From the County Attorney:—

May 4, 1899.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen:—Regarding the case of Martha Anderson a lunatic now confined in the State Asylum at Trenton, and whose expense at said asylum has been charged to Union County, I would say, that upon investigation of the matter and after having had a conference with Dr. Warde, of the asylum at Trenton, I have come to the conclusion that it would not be proper for your Honorable Body to pay said bills at the present time for two reasons, first, because I have not been able to obtain satisfactory evidence that she is a pauper chargeable to Union County, and second, because if the said lunatic was chargeable to Union County, she should under the law of 1897 have been sent to the asylum at Morris Plains. By the law of 1897 the State was divided into two asylum districts, one known as the Trenton district and the other as the Morris Plains district. Union County is in the district known as the Morris Plains district, and the law directs that all insane persons from Union County who are kept at the public expense shall be sent to the Morris Plains district. The party in question, Martha Anderson, was sent by Judge Armstrong, of Camden, to the Trenton asylum, and he alleged in his certificate that she has a legal settlement in the County of Union and should be kept at the expense of the County of Union.

Dr. Warde is of the opinion also that she should have been sent to Morris Plains, and no doubt, an effort will be made to secure her removal. I am also endeavoring to ascertain proof as to her legal settlement. Pending this investigation I would advise the Board of Freeholders of Union County to defer the payment of any bills in connection with the above matter.

For the information of your Honorable Body, I would say, that by the law of 1898, chapter 130, it is provided that in case an insane person has no estate, the person or persons chargeable by law with his or her support are obliged to maintain him or her at the asylum, and the judge before whom the examination pertaining to the commitment of the insane person is made in and by virtue of said act is required to ascertain the legal settlement of such insane indigent person as nearly as may be in the same manner directed by the act entitled An Act for the settlement and relief of the Poor.

Respectfully Submitted, W. R. Codington, County Attorney.

On motion of Freeholder King, the opinion was received, filed, and the recommendations contained therein adopted without dissent.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By the Committee to settle with the County Collector:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 1, 1899.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Your Committee to settle with the County Collector respectfully report that they have examined his books showing his receipts and disbursements, together with his vouchers, bonds and coupons paid, and bank books, and we find the same agree and are correct in every particular. His total receipts from the date of the last fiscal year to the present time were.....$481,304 68

Disbursements..... 454,596 46

Balance in bank.....$ 27,708 22

(Signed) J. Martin Roll, Benjamin King, Jacob Brucklacher, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Robison received and placed on file.

NEW BUSINESS.

From Judge VanSyckel, a true copy of the following order, etc.:

UNION COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT.

| In the matter of the application of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union for the appointment of Commissioners to condemn land belonging to Jonathan P. Glassby and others, for the purpose of widening North or Westfield Avenue in the Township of Union. | Order fixing compensation of Commissioners |

Application being made to the Court by W. R. Codington, attorney for the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union to fix the compensation for services rendered by the commissioners appointed on October twelfth, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, in the above entitled matter. It is on this 24th day of April, eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, ordered that the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union do pay to F. C. Marsh, Joseph A. Hubbard and James O. Clark, the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars each the same to be in full for compensation for services rendered and necessary disbursements incurred by them in the discharge of their duties respecting the condemnation of lands made by said Commissioners by virtue of said appointment made October twelfth, eighteen hundred and ninety eight.

B. VanSyckel, Judge of Union Circuit Court.

(A True Copy:) William Howard, Clerk.

No objection being offered, the foregoing copy, etc., was received and placed on file.

By Freeholder Ehrlich:

"Resolved, That the committee on Rahway drawbridge be empowered to make a contract with George W. Heath as bridge tender for one year commencing May 1, 1899, at a salary of $200 per annum, payable quarterly.

Freeholder Brucklacher moved the adoption of the resolution and on roll call it was adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Roll:

"WHEREAS, The cost of maintaining the county pauper insane persons at Morris Plains Asylum has reached the large sum of over $40,000 per year, and is constantly increasing, and

"WHEREAS, It is thought by some that these patients could be maintained at a much less expense if the County had an insane asylum of its own, therefore be it

"Resolved, That a committee of seven be apointed by the Director to ascertain and report the probable cost of such county asylum, and whether or not it is advisable at this time to purchase or build such an asylum, and whether or not it is the opinion of such committee that money could be saved to the county by having an asylum of its own."

The foregoing preamble and resolution gave rise to considerable discussion, during which Freeholder Roll said, that since he became a member of the Board, the lunacy bills of the county had more than doubled. Essex County had its own asylum, and maintained the patients therein at an average cost to the county of $1 68 each, as he had been informed. He believed Union County could do equally as well.

Freeholder Tier said that it cost Union County $3.50 per week for each of its patients at Morris Plains Asylum, which he thought excessive.

Freeholders Swain, Brucklacher and Farrell spoke in support of the resolution. It was shown that the State allowed $2 for each patient maintained at Morris Plains, it cost nearly $6 for each patient per week for maintainance of same. Should the county have its own asylum, it would receive from the State $2 per week for each patient maintained therein.

The motion was then on motion of Freeholder Farrell adopted without dissent.

The Director appointed as the said committee, Freeholders Roll, King, Tier, Farrell, Swain, Brucklacher and Higgins.

By Freeholder Scudder:

"Resolved, That consent is hereby granted to the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company to locate, build and operate a double-track street railway in the Township of Westfield, in Westfield Avenue, between Broad Street and South Avenue, said portion of Westfield Avenue between a county road under the control of the Board of Freeholders of the County of Union; and also in Westfield Avenue in the City of Rahway from the easterly side of St Georges Avenue, thence westerly crossing St. Georges Avenue and thence to a point in Westfield Avenue distance westerly seventeen hundred and fifty-three feet and six tenths of a foot from the beginning point.

"Said tracks to be located so that the inner rail of each track shall be distant two feet and three inches from the centre line of said Westfield avenue in the Township of Westfield and in the City of Rahway, the rails to be flanged of the girder pattern of a section weighing not less than seventy pounds to the yard and said avenue to be macadamized by the said railway company from curb to curb to a depth of not less than six inches with crushed mountain stone; the work hereby authorized to be done under the supervision of the Committee on Roads and the County Engineer.

"And Be It Further Resolved, That consent is also hereby granted to the said Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company to locate, build and operate a double track street railway across Central avenue, being a country road, at its intersection with Grove street, said tracks to be laid on each side of the centre line of Grove street at its crossing with Central avenue, and the rails to be of the kind above specified in this resolution, the macadamized work in laying said tracks to be replaced by the railway company; said work to be done under the supervision of the Road Committee and the County Engineer."

On motion of Freeholder King the foregoing resolution was placed on file.

By Freeholder Scudder:

"Resolved, That the above resolutions be referred to County Road Committee to be reported at the next meeting of this Board."

Freeholder Brucklacher moved the adoption of the resolution which was duly seconded.

Some discussion ensued, in which Freeholder Farrell said he thought the road should be macadamized from curb to curb to a depth of twelve inches, and should be maintained by the railway company.

The resolution was then adopted without dissent.

By Freeholder Adams:

"Resolved, That consent is hereby granted to the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company to locate, build and operate an electrical street railway over and across the county bridge located in South avenue in the Township of Cranford, over the Rahway river. Said railway to be a double-track street railway having a distance of four feet six inches between the inner rails of its tracks and constructed with flanged rails of the girder pattern of a section of not less than seventy pounds to the yard. Said tracks to be located on said bridge and constructed thereon under the supervision of the Committee on Bridges, County Engineer and the railway company to make such alterations as may be required by the County Engineer and the Committee on Bridges for the purpose of strengthening said bridge to carry said railway, at its own expense.

Freeholder Roll moved the adoption of the resolution, which was duly seconded.

Freeholder Farrell moved to amend, "That the matter be referred to a committee of three, the said committee, together with the County Engineer, to examine said bridge and report at next meeting of the Board."

The amendment was carried, and the resolution as amended was adopted without dissent.

The Director appointed as the said committee, Freeholders Farrell, Adams and Scudder.

Freeholder Farrell moved that when the Board adjourns it stands adjourned to meet Tuesday, May 9, 1899, at 2:30 p. m., which was so ordered.

The following bills, audited and approved were read, and on roll call, unanimously ordered paid, viz:

OUR YOUNG FOLKS.

SOME P'S AND Q'S.

Pray, little lads and lasses gay,
One lesson do not lose,
As through the world you wend your way,
Oh, mind your p's and q's.

For while P stands for pears and plums,
For pleasantness and plays,
For patience and for promptitude,
For peace, politeness, praise;

Yet, lackaday! it leads in pert,
In pinches, pests and pain,
Perverse and petulant and pry,
And also in profane!

Q stands for Quaker quietness,
For quinces, quality,
For quickness and for queenliness,
For quaint and quittance free.

But then, it heralds quake and quail,
And querulous—indeed,
All quibbles, quarrels, quips and quirks,
And quacks it serves at need.

Then watch them, little maids and men;
For folks will soon excuse
Full many a fault and foible, when
You mind your p's and q's.

WHAT JOE DID KNOW.

Joe Covell was just beginning to have a really good time with the Centerville boys. He was supposed to be paying a visit to his Uncle Frank and Aunt Emmeline, but he really put in the day finding out how different Centerville was from New York, and how like boys are the world over. Nice boys in Centerville went barefoot and he didn't have to tease Aunt Emmeline at all to let him do so. But, of course, when it comes to getting in the shade of the Carmichael barn and bragging there could be no doubt that New York exceeded Centerville, and Joe kept Will and Alexander Carmichael and "Hooky" Gibbs and Fred Myers and Hen Thomas as much entranced as Marco Polo did the people of his day and time with his stories about the far east.

Hen Thomas wasn't at all pleased. It may be because he was the biggest and was just about the age when he thought he was the smartest. He had been undisguisedly admired by the other boys till Joe Covell came.

"Ye-es," sneered Hen, "I've heard you make your brags before. Whadda you tink, fellers? He says that in New York the houses is so close together 'at they tech each other!"

"They do so!" protested Joe.

"Geddout!" scorned all the boys together.

Joe had his blood up, and there would have been a regular quarrel then and there if "Monkey" Reynolds had not come along at that moment and held up two fingers, which everybody knows means, "Let's go swimmin'."

They all trooped off, forgetting the dispute. Joe was as glad as anybody that they were going swimming. That was a sport in which he was not to be beaten. He was at the head of the class there. He knew tricks in swimming that none of the boys in Centerville knew. As a diver none of them could come up to him, and he could do "the steamboat" and "tread water," and all the regulation acts, besides being a swift and enduring swimmer with the sailor stroke.

Joe got to telling about the surf at Long Branch and the undertow and the tides and all, when Hen Thomas, who loved to torment smaller boys, slipped up behind him and pushed him under water in the middle of a word. Joe came up gasping and choking and full of wrath. He shot water with his hollow palm into Hen's face.

The big fellow gasped for breath, but he dragged Joe out where it was deeper and held him under until Joe's head rung and his ribs nearly burst in the effort not to breathe. There was something like jealousy growing in Hen Thomas' heart and a wild sense of wrong raging in Joe's.

He and the others made for the bank where their clothes were.

"Let's go away and leave him," said Will Carmichael. "I know a place down by the copperas banks, a little further down stream, that's pretty near as deep as this. We'll wade across where the little island is and go swimming on the other side."

They started off, all but "Hooky" Gibbs. Either he didn't want to come with them, or he was afraid of Hen Thomas.

They had crossed the river from the side Hen Thomas was on and trotted on homeward, meaning to cross by the covered bridge. They followed the narrow path, winding in and out among the bushes on the banks, and as they chattered along Will Carmichael called out: "Cheese it, fellows! What's that hallowing?"

"Help! Help! He's drowning! Drowning!" It was "Hooky" Gibbs' shrill voice.

They ran up stream toward the Sycamore swimming hole. Gibbs was out in the stream up to his waist pointing to the deep hole and shrieking.

As they ran Joe tore off his clothes, and as they got opposite where Gibbs stood shivering and crying, he dashed in, swimming his swiftest stroke.

"He's down there about," moaned Gibbs. "He said he had a cramp." Joe dived down, but fetched nothing. Again and again he came up, shook the water out of his eyes and nostrils, took a good long breath and fought his way to the bottom against the buoyant waters. They roared and thundered in his ears and made the red sparks come in his eyes as he strove to see in the dull current. His foot slipped on something soft. It felt like flesh. Instantly he stooped and slipped his hand under the body and strove to lift it to the surface.

But Thomas was caught in some weed or was clutching it, Joe never knew which. It took a wrench to dislodge him, and when it seemed he could stand it no longer the body came up, scarcely heavier than the water, and Joe got the breath he was dying for.

Joe clutched Thomas' long foretop, and swam for the side of the river nearest where the other boys were. Fred Myers and Sandy Carmichael stripped and plunged in to give a hand when they saw him rise to the surface.

"Reynolds!" gasped Joe, between breaths, "light—a fire—quick!"

Reynolds and Will Carmichael began frantically to gather up dried leaves and dead grass and last year's weeds into a bonfire, that sent up its first wreath and crackling blaze as the loud splashing of the boys' feet in the shallows announced that they had brought their burden to land.

"O, he's dead! He's dead!" whimpered Reynolds, when he saw how stark and ghastly the white figure looked.

"He will be if you don't do something!" said Joe. "Make that fire burn fast, and get some darnicks as big as your two fists in there to heat."

Reynolds had got the stones in the fire and was alternately fanning the blaze and piling on the fuel a handful at a time, so as not to smother it out.

"We want something to cover him with," said Joe." Now, Fred, don't you let go his tongue. Will, you rub his hands. Sandy, you take his feet. O, harder! Harder! Rub harder! Reynolds, as soon as you get those stones hot let me know." In the meantime Joe was kneeling astride the prostrate body. He pressed both hands on the floating ribs till the air gushed out of the throat. Then relaxing the pressure, he let the elastic ribs spring back and the air rush in. Again and again, and yet again, with regular movements, as if one were inhaling and exhaling deeply. He listened for the heart beat.

No sound.

"They're hot!" cried Reynolds.

"Roll 'em over here," answered Joe. Reynolds took sticks, and partly by tonging them and partly by pushing them, got two hot stones at Thomas' feet. "Wrap 'em up in something, so they won't lose their heat too fast. Keep his feet covered up. Now, get two more up here by his armpits. And tell Gibbs over there to stop crying and go for the doctor!"

Reynolds shouted across the darkening river to the scared boy to run for Dr. McDowell, and to be sure and tell him to come over by the covered bridge.

"I'm not going to give it up for a whole hour yet," promised Joe. "I've heard of people working longer than that and still rescuing drowned persons. I've heard of them working four hours. Get some more hot stones? Put 'em where you can. It's better to burn him than to let him die."

Joe steadily pumped air into the lungs of Thomas, pressure—rest; relax—rest. In the quiet evening air they heard the thunder of a horse's hoofs trotting in the covered bridge and then the crash of buggy wheels striking the gravel of the road outside.

A feeble flutter made itself felt under the fingers of Joe's right hand.

"Hooray!" shrilled Joe, and the others joined in the chorus as they chafed at the flesh, now beginning to lose a little of its chill.

Just then there came a crashing through the underbrush, and Dr. McDowell ran down to where the excited boys were.

"Good! Good!" he cried when he saw what had been done. "You are boys out of ten thousand. There's mighty little left for me to do."

"Dress him the best way you can, now."

They were getting him into his clothes when Henry's eyes opened, closed and then opened again. He saw Joe Covell. It seemed to anger him. He snarled, "You think you're smart, don't you?"

"Don't you mind him," said Dr. McDowell. "You boys know how to make a saddle by crossing your wrists. That's right. Now carry him right through there and I'll take him home in my buggy. Don't you mind him, my boy," he said, putting his arm around Joe. "He'll be all right when he knows what you've done for him."

And so he was. There was nothing Henry Thomas would not do for Joe Covell, and the very next day Mr. Thomas himself brought Joe a beautiful poney and said: "This is yours. I wish I could give you more. I hope you'll put it to as good use as what you do know."

A Novel Craft.

Two mechanics of East Oakland, Cal., have constructed and patented a novel craft designed for use on the Yukon River, and which they claim can travel as speedily on ice and snow. The boat consists of two long tubes of aluminum, provided with a rudder and double runners for use when the boat is propelled over the ice or snow-covered ground. The motive power is the same as on a bicycle, scoop-formed pedals working in water, and the same can also be used on the ice and snow-covered ground in addition to rubber-tired wheels.

THE ART OF BATTING

Some Points By "Buck" Ewing Well Worth the Attention of the Beginner.

"Buck" Ewing, the manager of the Cincinnati Club, has not been an active player in several years, but his duties as manager have obliged him to keep in close touch with the game, and he knows as much about batting as he ever did. When "Buck" was in his prime he was one of the best batters in the League and one of the best catchers who ever donned a mask. He has made a study of the science of batting and in the following article gives much advice which young players would do well to study carefully, and many an old League player could better his stick work by following his ideas. Here they are:

Footwork has as much to do with successful batting as it has in puglism. A player who steps away from the plate as he swings at the ball can be put down as an easy victim for an out curve, and it is a pitcher with a very poor head who does not serve up out curves in profusion to such a batter.

Even good batters will get into the habit of pulling away from the plate, and at such times they become as easy victims as one to whom the fault is chronic. The old-timer does not continue in that line for long, however, but regains his stride after a short lapse from grace. He will practice continually until he overcomes the fault and gets back to his old style.

To the beginner, however, the conquering of the habit is difficult. He has got to be coached continually in the forward straight steps. With college players especially is this fault of pulling away painfully evident, and it is the prime reason that college players are such notoriously weak batters. To overcome this fault is the trainer's hardest duty, so batting is almost the first thing professional trainers take up when they take charge of a college team.

A plan which should work effectively, and which I shall try whenever I get the chance to train a lot of amateurs, is to have a box built the size of the regular batter's box, with the sides raised high enough to prevent the player from stepping outside, even if he tried. This would necessitate a straight, forward step and, by constant practice, the player would become so accustomed to that movement that he could not do otherwise.

This is an original plan of my own, and I would like to see it tried by some of the many college coachers.

A great mistake made by many players, both professional and amateur, is to imagine that they are obliged to swing fiercely at the ball to make it travel fast and far. There was never a bigger mistake. The whole secret of successful batting is in timing the ball so as to meet it squarely with force. Professionals call this "Meeting the ball." "Just meet it, my boy," is often heard on the ball field. If you are an instant late or an instant too soon you will lose the driving power to your blow. It all lies in the step a batter takes in going forward to meet the ball. If you step in just at the proper time you are reasonably sure to meet the ball on the nose, and it goes off the bat with a ringing sound most pleasing to the old-timer. Bing, and its off, and woe betide the infielder who may be in front of it. He will wish he had on cricket pads.

A quick, snappy movement is often better than a swing. "Lip" Pike, one of the best batters who ever lived, had this quick wrist movement, and, although he apparently made little effort, he made some of the longest hits on record. By just meeting the ball, too, a player can master the art of placing the ball with much greater ease than by a terrific blind swing. The latter way is bound to throw a man off his balance and to get his eye off the ball.

Pitchers are always on to the free-swingers or "swipers," and will change their pace on such batters, dishing up slow "lobs" and swift ones in the most perplexing confusion. If you are prepared to swipe at a swift one, and the pitcher puts up a slow one, you are off your balance and cannot get a good smash at the sphere. If, on the other hand, you are in a position to hit either a fast or slow one, by being ready to meet it, you can fool the pitcher nearly every time, and you will become a 300 per cent. batter before you know it.

BUCK EWING.

Scientific Pitchers.

Edward Hanlon became reminiscent while the Brooklyns were waiting for the steamer Algonquin to sail for the South.

"I have always studied pitchers closely," said the noted manager, "and I have yet to see the equal of Keefe and Clarkson. I think Clarkson was the brainest pitcher who ever stood in the box. When I was with the champion Detroits Clarkson used to have us guessing. He had the most puzzling slow ball I ever saw and he knew how to use it to perfection. The moment a batsman stepped to the plate Clarkson would look him in the eye and take his measure. He seemed to be trying to look into the batsman's brain. In many instances he would pitch up the first ball as slow as possible. The batsman would look for a fast one after that, but Clarkson would fool him by tossing up another slow one just outside of the plate. The batsman, then convinced that a fast ball was due, would naturally be puzzled to see another slow one lobbed up. If Clarkson thought he had his man guessing, he would put a fourth ball as slow as the others, which generally fooled the batsman into hitting at it in desperation. The next time this same man came to the plate, looking for more slow ones, Clarkson would completely upset him with speed and curves. In that way he had his opponents completely mystified. Keefe was almost Clarkson's double, and Welch was not far behind. Radbourne was another wonderful pitcher. These men used science in preference to brute strength, and as a result they lasted longer than the average pitcher of the present day.

STUDENT TAILORS AT YALE

Two Wide-Awake and Enterprising "Theologs" Startle "Old Ely."

EARNING THEIR WAY.

William Lysander Burbank Collins and Robert Stuart Young are the Men of the Tailoring Firm.

Went Into Business Simply as a Means of Earning Their Passage Through the Divinity School—Will No Doubt Be as Successful Saving Souls as Selling Suits—

Two wide-awake and enterprising young theologs in the Yale Divinity School have startled old Eli and the world at large by hanging a tailor's sign on the door in the dormitory known on the Campus as "West Divinity Hall."

William Lysander Burbank Collins, the head of the firm of tailoring divines, who will not write "D. D." after his name until 1901, is an ideal theological student in appearance. Tall, spare, almost bony in his leanness, with sloping and stooping shoulders, a full dark beard clipped close, which is less expensive than a shaven face, and eyeglasses that denote the burning of midnight oil.

He is thirty years old, and hails from Keene, N. H., Denman Thompson's native town, and before he was twenty-one built and paid for a home for his parents, after which he set out for an education and was graduated from Amhurst.

Room 110, West Divinity, presents a curious mixture of the tailor shop, study and young gentlemen's den.

The table is heaped with text books and learned treatises on theology, mixed hopelessly with sample books and sample cards, showing the latest patterns for fancy vestings, the swellest thing worn in New York, price $7 to $15," as one announcement of the "student tailors" says seductively.

Student Collins, in reply to a question said:

"Tailoring? Yes sir; why not? Isn't it an honest calling? Isn't it honorable? Isn't it respectable?

"We're doing a smashing business, too. We've got to live, and my partner's got a wife and baby to look out for, too.

"My partner, Robert S. Young, is only twenty-four years old. He's from Peoria or Kankakee, or somewhere in Illinois.

"To tell the truth, the idea is his. He did tailoring at the college and sold $2,000 worth of goods last year. We began in November and we've sold over fifty suits, over $800 worth already, but we've only just begun to advertise. I believe in advertising."

At this moment a customer came. He was a fellow-divinity student. He wanted a serge suit.

"Now, I've got a lot of new samples, old man, and I want to show 'em to you," began the Rev. Dr. Collins, briskly. "I tell you they're dandies. This is a line from one of the largest houses in Chicago, and I'll make you a special price on 'em."

The salesman was running over a large book of tailor's samples with the deftness of an expert.

"My partner handled them last year at his college, and I'm telling you they are daisies. I wan't to get a sample order, and so I will let you have 'em a dollar off. Here's the most popular blue serge at $15—I'll let you have 'em at $14.

"Well, they have got a serge down at one of the stores for $10 that looks just like your $15 suit," faltered the customer.

"A tailor-made suit is always better made; the button-holes don't break out, the buttons don't come off, the trimmings are of better material; you can always have 'em altered and they always fit better," the tailor-salesman divinity student rattled. "Besides blue is the most expensive die used; its so full of aluminum.

"The sun will oxidize the color in these cheap serges and turn them brown. They can't sell any of these serges ready-made downtown any cheaper than I'll make 'em to order.

If the Rev. William Lysander Burbank Collins throws himself into the struggle for the salvation of souls as he does into the sale of a fourteen-dollar suit of clothes, there will be a great awakening in the neighborhood of his ministry.

The firm have gone into the business of clothing their fellow students simply as a means of earning their passage through the divinity school and their preparation for that greater work of clothing souls with the raiment of righteousness.

Apparently they will not have to wait on table at some summer resort hotel during next vacation, but may themselves luxuriate on the verandas at Newport, Saratoga or in the Catskills—provided shocked conversation doesn't break up their business.

White House Clocks.

There are clocks innumerable—historical and commonplace—in the home of the president of the United States. But one of the clocks is of American make. It was bought by James Monroe and has always remained in the green room. It keeps just as good time as its foreign contemporaries, though in the early days America did not shine as a successful clockmaking country.

The clock in the blue parlor was once owned by Napoleon Bonaparte, who gave it to Lafayette, who in turn bestowed it upon Washington. It has a frame of alabaster and gilt bronze, and is wound but once a month. It keeps time to-day as accurately as when it was new.

The Lincoln clock is in the red room and is made of ebony and gold. It strikes the halves and quarters as well as the hours.

In the room now occupied by Mrs. McKinley is a clock which has been ticking away for thirty years. The clock with which the public is most familiar is on the stairs leading to the President's office, and many a weary and anxious waiter has watched its hands creep relentlessly across the face. It is modern and commonplace. The private secretary has a clock with a cathedral gong, which is a good timekeeper.

ESCAPED CONSTABLE.

Residents of Cranford Watching Out for a Bad Foreigner.

Cranford and surrounding villages are looking for Henry Eckelman, a German, thirty-five, who is alleged to have maltreated a number of small girls.

Thomas Kiegel, father of seven-year-old Maggie Kiegel, and Robert Henry, father of Martha Henry, six years of age, made complaint against Eckelman before Justice Mendell in Cranford Friday. The Justice issued a warrant, and this was given to Constable Schindler to serve. He found Eckelman and took him into custody. While the Constable was escorting Eckelman to the Cranford lockup, the prisoner broke away, and drawing a revolver fired at the Constable.

The Constable drew his pistol and returned the fire, but Eckelman escaped. Eckelman had been in this country for about seven months. He came from Germany and worked for Hotelkeeper Hess in Cranford. He speaks broken English, is about five feet ten inches in height, well built, was dressed in a dark suit, has brown hair and beard, and a distinct birthmark on his cheek. Feeling against Eckelman runs high in Cranford.

CITY NEEDS TALKED OF

Enthusiastic Meeting of Business Men Held.

SENATOR REED ON HAND.

JAMES E. MARTINE WANTS MORE LIBERAL OFFICIALS.

Silas Dewey Drake Believes in Advertising and Suggests That the Common Council Appropriate $1,000 for Such a Purpose.

If there is anything in indications Plainfield is about to be enlivened and improved in several respects by the active and aggressive action of a number of the leading citizens in both business and professional circles. As arranged, a meeting was held in the Coward building an East Front street last night, which was attended by a representative gathering.

J. B. Coward called the meeting to order, and Mayor Smalley was selected for chairman. Assessor Elston M. French was chosen for secretary. Mayor Smalley was brief in his remarks upon assuming the chair, and shortly introduced Senator Reed as the first speaker of the evening. Mr. Reed said that he had been called upon without much notice and was not prepared to say much. However, he assumed that the meeting was to indulge in discussion that would be of some benefit in advancing the material interests of the city, and along such a line he thought that a few remarks pointing out the faults of Plainfielders, with a view to their correction, might not be amiss. The first thing, he said, that came into his mind in this connection was the tone of criticism for their home town that many Plainfielders assume in conversing with strangers. This fault, he thought, prevailed to a greater extent among the ladies than among the men. As the general reputation of a city, as its own citizens spoke of it, was a very important detail in inducing others to come here and take up their residence and help to contribute to the business interests, he thought it a very bad fault that anyone should speak ill of it.

The most important matter, and the most interesting, to which the Senator referred, was the taxation question and its relation to prospective residents. Mr. Reed believed that when a visitor heard that the tax rate was $2.40 on the $100 it did more than any thing else to keep them away from the place. The solution of this difficulty was in making valuations at the market value of the property. The Senator dwelt at considerable length on this phase of the matter, and declared that the prevailing custom of assessing properties at a per centage of its true value was a system that obtained practice because of public sentiment in the community. That sentiment ought to be changed, he said, and the assessments made at true value, which would result in reducing the rate of taxation to $1 on the $100, and would prove the biggest drawing card that Plainfield could secure.

After Senator Reed had finished James E. Martine was introduced by Mayor Smalley. Mr. Martine, who is one of the largest property owners in Plainfield, and one of its most careful observers, said that Plainfield was not growing as it should grow. Mr. Martine attributed a part of this condition of affairs to the railroad fares. He thought that they were too high.

One point that Mr. Martine dwelt upon to considerable extent was the officious and narrow-minded ways of the city officials. The present municipal government seemed devoted to the idea of making a Paris of Plainfield in short order, irrespective of the hardships, injustices and aggravations that they heaped upon the property owners. They drew a line here and a circle there, and said that all things within those lines must be so and so, irrespective of whether the conditions warranted it or not. That was not the right policy for the city officials to pursue, as it did no good to the people in the city and kept many from coming here.

Mr. Martine also thought that in many ways Plainfield was narrow-minded, puritanical and bigoted in its idea of Sunday practices. He alluded to the fact that it was against the law for a drug store to sell a cigar or a

THE ENDEAVOR CYCLERS.

FIRST RUN ENJOYED TO MARCONNIER CHAPEL LAST NIGHT.

Forty in the Party, Which Proved to Be a Jolly One in Every Respect--Good Time Was Had at the Chapel.

The Christian Endeavor bicycle squad took their first run of the season last night and attended a strawberry festival and entertainment at the Marconnier chapel The squad begins the year with every prospect for a most successful season of work along those lines which they have chosen.

The start was made soon after 7:30 o'clock from the Park Avenue Baptist church. There were about forty Endeavorers in the party and they made a fine appearance as they wheeled away. They came from all the societies in the city. The night could not have been finer, and the roads were in first-class condition.

At the festival an enjoyable programme of violin and piano music was presented, also vocal selections. A good social time was enjoyed. The run home was made in a half-hour, the party reaching town at 11 o'clock.

This is the third year of the squad. It was organized originally to go to the outlying societies of the local union and encourage the workers in their religious services, but at length the members began to take in social affairs.

Last Thursday night all those interested in a bicycle squad met at the home of E. E. Anthony, of West Front street, and reorganized for the year of 1899. Mr Anthony was elected captain and last night the first run was taken. The destination of the party next time has not been decided upon.

RAILS ARE NOW AT HAND.

MATERIAL FOR CONSTRUCTION OF TROLLEY ROAD.

Each Rail Weighs 1,680 Pounds—Roadbed Said to be the Best in the State—The Rails Will be Laid Right Away.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 24—The first shipment of rails for the main line of the Westfield and Elizabeth Railway Company's trolley on the south side arrived yesterday.

Eight carloads were left here, six at Garwood and six at Cranford. Workmen are now busily engaged unloading the rails and carting them to the places along the line, where they will be utilized. Contractor Serrell was at this place and Cranford yesterday. Work will begin at once laying the rails, starting at the Roselle borough dividing line. The railroad ties have been laying along the line for several days past. The poles and overhead work are expected to arrive very shortly.

The rails have attracted considerable attention. It requires two cars to carry the rails. These rails are twenty yards long, and weigh eighty-four pounds to the yard, making each rail's weight 1,680 pounds. The double-track railway will therefore contain 240 tons of rail to the mile.

It is said the roadbed will be the best built in the State. From present indications it now looks as if the south-side trolley will connect Elizabeth with Plainfield before September.

Timbo & Company's New Store.

Fitted out with everything new from top to bottom and end to end, the cigar store and lunch place of Thomas Timbo & Co., at 135 North avenue, is without doubt the neatest and prettiest place of its kind in the city. Mr. Timbo has gone to heavy expense in furnishing the new store, the fixtures and details in every respect being made especially for his use. The interior of the store has been painted and decorated throughout and presents a bright and handsome appearance. A costly and beautiful onyx soda fountain has been established in the front of the store, from which the best of hot weather decoctions will be served this summer. New and costly show cases have been bought for the cigars, a stock which Mr. Timbo and his assistant, Erwin Neighbor, keeps up to the finest standard at all times.

Opening of Arlington Hotel.

Last evening a formal opening of the Arlington Hotel, under the proprietorship of Mr. Jensen, took place, and was a great success. The principal feature of the affair was the dancing which continued until a late hour. Wallander furnished the music. During the evening a sumptuous repast was served by the host and this was greatly enjoyed. There was a large attendance of people and everyone expressed satisfaction with the opening. Mr. Jensen has made a great many improvements about his hotel and it is now considered to be one of the best kept houses in this vicinity.

FLAMES MAKE CLEAN SWEEP OF ICEHOUSE.

Disastrous Conflagration of the Brady Brothers' Property.

OF AN INCENDIARY ORIGIN.

THE TOTAL LOSS IS ESTIMATED TO BE $6,000 OR $7,000.

The Newly-Organized Fire Department Worked Hard to Prevent Adjoining Buildings From Igniting—1,900 Tons of Ice Destroyed—An Immense Crowd Attracted By the Glare.

One of the worst fires with which this city has been visited for some time past broke out last evening about 8 o'clock in the icehouses owned by Brady Brothers, and located on West Front street. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin. Two alarms were sent in, one from Box No. 47, near the Pond Tool Works, and the other from Box No. 45, at South Second street and Muhlenberg place.

There never was a time when the department responded so quickly and did such prompt and efficient work. Everything seemed to work in harmony and the call men turned out to a man. All the hydrants accessible were used and a number of streams of water were poured into the flames.

According to the best of authority the fire started next to the railroad on the south side of the building about half way up from the bottom. Considering the exact location of the starting point, according to the best judges, it hardly seems probable that the fire was the result of a spark from a locomotive. The building is so constructed that the sides are open with a double lining, and once a fire got started it would be impossible to stop it.

The house had a capacity of 6,000 tons of ice, and there were about 1,900 tons stored therein. The house and contents were a complete loss, which it is estimated will be in the neighborhood of $6,000 or $7,000. There is no insurance on the ice, but the building was fully covered by insurance, $1,500 of which was held by E. M. French & Co.

A Daily Press representative was in conversation with Bernard Brady last evening, and was informed that the ice house would be replaced immediately, and that the fire would not interfere with their plans. The firm has 200,000 tons of ice stored in their houses at Lake Hopatcong.

Mr. Brady is inclined to be suspicious regarding the fire.

During the early part of the fire some of the nearby dwellings suffered from the heat and were scorched to some extent, in some cases necessitating the use of water. A barn owned by Brady Bros., standing a short distance from the icehouse, was not damaged to any extent whatever. Several horses and wagons located in nearby barns were narrowly rescued from destruction.

The fire attracted the greater portion of Plainfield and North Plainfield people. Passing trains felt perceptibly the intense heat thrown out. At Potter Press Works the night men run out the hose stationed there and water was thrown on the press works. Owing to lines of hose being laid on Front street trolley cars were prevented from running past the fire. Their traffic was continued through a system of transfer.

Regarding the insurance it should be stated that several companies held policies on the building, no one company being willing to take the entire risk. As soon as possible the debris will be cleared away and work will be started to replace the destroyed house, with another one of similar construction.

The chiefs of the department are liberal in their distribution of praise of the work of the call men, and the way in which the fire was handled is certainly a credit to Plainfield's firemen. In less than one hour and a half from the time the fire started, it was practically extinguished.

The alarm from Box 47 was sent in by Augustus Jacobson, and Fred Weber sent the alarm in from Box 45.

Fire Department Changes.

The change in the fire department apparatus will not be made until June 1st. The pavement has been laid in front of the new engine house in the West End and the first of the month the apparatus assigned to that house will be transferred.

HIGH IN MASONRY NOW.

GOVERNOR VOORHEES ADVANCED TO THE 32D DEGREE.

H. W. Marshall and J. A. Smith, of Plainfield, Were Among Those Advanced Last Night—Mr Durand Faints.

H. W. Marshall and J. A. Smith, of this city, were among the candidates who were advanced to the thirty-second degree in Masonry in company with Governor Voorhees at Phillips Hall in Jersey City last night. A number of Plainfield Masons were in attendance at the event.

Congressman Henry N. Fowler, of Elizabeth, ex-Mayor John C. Rankin, of Elizabeth, Congressman W. D. Daly, of Hoboken, and Judge Frank Fort, of Newark, were also advanced to the thirty-second degree.

All the degrees were conferred by New Jersey Consistory No. 1. The chief working officers were James Durand, Stephen Smith and Thomas Tilden. A banquet followed the conferring of the degrees.

Mr. Durand, who lives in Rahway, during the initiation of the Governor, fainted from excitement. He was taken to the City Hospital.

A FRUHLINGS FEST.

Seasonable Event to Be Given By Church of the Heavenly Rest.

The children and teachers of the Heavenly Rest Industrial School are making elaborate plans for a Fruhlings Fest, or spring festival, to be held on the church property the afternoon and evening of Saturday, June 17th. The grounds will be prettily decorated with flags and lanterns, and a number of attractive booths will be erected in the parish house, where fancy articles to suit the most æsthetic taste will be on sale, besides plenty of refreshments.

Miss Minnie Wilson, the chairman of the Fruhlings Fest committee, will be assisted by a number of her friends and the corps of thirteen teachers who give instruction to the scholars.

It is astonishing the progress this school has made Organized the 26th of November in a blizzard with nine scholars, it now numbers 126, with an average attendance of 65 pupils. Instruction is now being given in singing, German, embroidery, outline work, plain sewing, crocheting, darning and kindergarten. The feast is given for the purpose of raising money enough to carry on the work and establish a cooking class in the fall.

The school is non-sectarian and holds its session every Saturday from 2 until 4:30, and visitors are always welcome and will be well repaid for their trouble. Such work ought to be encouraged.

WANTS HER DRESSES BACK.

Mrs. Anna Leary Brings Suit Against Morristown Domestic.

J. P. D. Kirch has brought suit before a Morristown justice of the peace for Mrs. Anna Leary, of this city, against Miss Belle Mason, of that place, in tort.

Miss Mason was a domestic in the employ of Mrs. Leary last February, and at the expiration of the month when she left her employer alleges that she took with her two costly dresses. One was taken with Mrs. Leary's permission to wear home, and the other one was taken without her permission.

The first one was to be sent home at once, but weeks have passed and the dresses have not come. Now Mrs. Leary sues for their recovery, or their equivalent.

WATER COVERED SEWER PIPES.

It Came From Leaks in the System of Water Pipes.

It was only necessary to take a glance in the sewer trenches on Richmond street a few days ago, to see that Street Commissioner Gavett was right when he said that the sewer pipes were covered with water. When the trenches were opened and the pipes laid bare, it was seen that water rose up to within a few inches of the ground, completely covering the pipes.

For the past few days men have been pumping the water out, and now the trenches are nearly dry. This was necessary before any work could be done. The water comes from leaks in the system of water pipes.

Has Not Sold Land for Naval Magazine.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 24.—Farmer John Winans, of Tremley, denies the story that the United States Government had purchased his farm for the purpose of locating a naval magazine on the land for the storage of high explosives. He said that parties had called on him to secure the price of his land, and he gave them the figure at which he would sell it. Since then he had not heard anything from them.

COOPER WILL GET POSTMASTERSHIP.

It is Thought Senator Reed's Friend Will Win.

THOMPSON SEEMS WORRIED

WANTED THE GOVERNOR TO UNDERSTAND SITUATION.

Somerville Delegation of Republicans Did Not go to Ask Voorhees to Interfere in Contest, but Went to Vouch for the Loyalty of Thompson to Regular Republican Candidate.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 24—Local leaders of both the so-called Thompson and Reed factions of the Republican party in Somerset County appear pretty well satisfied that George W. Cooper, whose candidacy aroused the opposition of the Thompson faction, will succeed Alvah A. Clark as postmaster here.

The contest, like almost everything of a political character which has happened in this county recently, has been marked by charges and counter-charges, emanating from the rival factions. So direct and apparently well-authenticated were some of these allegations of party disloyalty that Congressman Howell, through whom the appointment is made, ventured the opinion that inasmuch as there appeared to be no straightout Republican seeking the office, it might be as well to urge Postmaster Clark to retain the position. This suggestion, while not taken seriously, was regarded as indicating that Congressman Howell intended to fulfil the partial promise he had made to Senator Reed and recommended the appointment of Mr. Cooper, notwithstanding the insinuation that Cooper and other members of the Reed faction had at divers times worked against the election of Republican candidates.

In refuting the assertion of party treachery made against Cooper, followers of the Reed faction declared that Clerk in Chancery Lewis A. Thompson and his followers were responsible for such dissatisfaction as existed in the Republican ranks, because of their determination to rule or ruin the party in the county. Mr. Thompson, holding, as he does, a position of trust under appointment by the Governor, was averse to resting under the imputation that he was directly or otherwise responsible for the defeat of any Republican candidate in his county. He determined to assure Governor Voorhees that such was not the case, and with that object in view he requested several of the leading Republicans of the county to visit the Governor at Trenton last Tuesday and explain to him the situation as it actually exists. They did so, and it is said convinced the Governor that no matter what the factional differences in Somerset may be, all sides appear united on election day and work hard for the success of the Republican candidates.

Governor Voorhees expressed the hope that this pleasant relationship did exist, and one of the delegation said that it would be demonstrated by the withdrawl of such opposition as existed toward the appointment of Cooper as postmaster.

This gave rise to the impression that the delegation had called on Governor Voorhees to ask his influence in defeating Cooper and securing the nomination of some other candidate for postmaster. No such request was made, members of the delegation say, and if it had been Governor Voorhees would have ignored it, because he does not consider it within his province as Governor to interfere with the selection of a candidate for postmaster of Somerville or any other locality.

RAIN AND FLOODS, HE SAYS.

For the Pacific Coast DeVoe Predicts Dry, Scorching Spells.

Weather Prophet DeVoe, of Hackensack, says we are about to have a spell of weather never before experienced in this country, and cautions the people to prepare for it. According to his forecast, the Pacific coast will be almost cremated by a burning drought during the last days in May and the early part of June.

Along the Atlantic seaboard the Hackensack forecaster says there will be heavy floods due to great rainstorms.

Outing at the Rock.

Principal John Dalziel, of the Plainfield Academy, has taken his class of boys for an outing to Washington Rock today. There were about 24 lads in the party, and they went to the Rock in one of Captain Hand's big stages. The time will be spent in nature study and a picnic in the mountains.

MR WHITE'S ENTERPRISE

TO START A DEPARTMENT STORE IN STOCKTON, CAL.

Plainfield's Former Merchant Will, It Is Said, Invest $75,000 in a Dry Goods Store on the Pacific Slope.

The Stockton, (Cal.) Evening Mail prints the following story in its issue of May 16th, which will be of interest to Plainfield:

Two or three times within the past month The Mail has made reference to the probability that a certain gentleman, whose name was withheld at the time, would soon open a large department store in Stockton, making a specialty of dry goods. The articles stated that the gentleman was from the East, and that he had $75,000 to risk on the venture. The particulars were secured by The Mail from M. Arndt, of the Arcade, with whom the Eastern man had held a conference in regard to the matter. Mr. Arndt declined to divulge the name of the gentleman, at the latter's request, as he was not fully determined upon the location of the store, and was looking at Los Angeles and Sacramento.

The merchant is E. H. White, and his home is in Plainfield, New Jersey. He has selected Stockton as the most desirable place for the large department store, and, in company with Mr. McCarty, the head man in the dry goods department of Levi Strauss & Co., of San Francisco, will be in Stockton about the 1st of September next, when the preliminary work of establishing the store will probably be begun.

Mr. McCarty was in Stockton the past day or two, and informed Mr. Arndt that Mr. White favored Stockton above the other two places mentioned.

TO ENJOY LOWER TAXES

BOROUGH FINANCES ARE IN SPLENDID CONDITION.

Prompt Payment of Taxes and a Reduction in the Cost of the Municipal Government Will Materially Change the Result.

The present condition of the borough from a financial standpoint is one of which every citizen can feel proud, for her citizens have been remarkably prompt in paying their taxes. Of the 1898 personal tax there is now remaining unpaid about $35, which, according to Mayor Smalley, is not equaled any where in New Jersey, and the next two weeks will make a far better showing. His Honor is also authority for the statement that this year the tax rate will be lessened to a great extent This reduction will result in a measure from the fact that the police department this year will cost the borough about $1,000 less than previously. In the other departments such great reductions cannot be made, as there are generally fixed sums for each one.

The remaining taxes for 1898 unpaid is comparatively small and the collections are good. Instead of the officials resorting to dogmatic methods in collecting taxes they are using a great deal of moral persuasion and according to their own statements excellent results are obtained.

The school tax may be a little higher this year on account of the building of the new school, and this matter is not altogether in the hands of the Council to control. However, where the Council has control of the finances there will be reductions wherever it is possible.

Y. M. C. A. Bicycle Run.

The second Y. M. C. A. bicycle run occurs tomorrow night, and the boys are to be treated to something nice at Rahway, the association they are going to visit, has in store for them. The members there have put their hands down in their pockets and offered to entertain the visiting wheelmen from Plainfield, New Brunswick and Summit.

Took Insect Poison.

A young man rushed in Hepburn's drug store Monday night, all excitement, saying that he had swallowed a dose of insect poison for powdered licorice. Mr. Hepburn administered an emetic as soon as possible. He was soon out of danger. Next time he says he will look at the label on bottles and papers before tasting of their contents.

Represents the Central.

John K. Large, of East Front street, chief of the detective force of the Central Railroad Company, went to Buffalo yesterday to attend the annual meeting of the Claim Agents' convention, now in session at the latter city, as a representative of the Central Railroad Company.

Epworth League Rally.

An Epworth League rally will be held tomorrow night at Cranford. About forty members of the chapter of the First Methodist church will attend in a body.

DEPRAVITY AT 'PLAINS

What Rev. Mr. Shott Has To Say About It.

TIME FOR REFORMATION.

PROPOSES TO DO WHAT HE CAN TO BRING A CHANGE.

Says There Are Too Many Licensed Drinking Places—Bad as the Bowery—Shocking Profanity Heard—Cock Fights There, Too.

Nestling quietly under the shadow of the stately Watchung range of mountains in one corner of Union county, one would scarcely think that Scotch Plains, rich with tradition that dates back to the time of King George, was a hamlet wherein vice and evil doing prevailed to more than an ordinary extent. But if recent developments are taken to indicate anything, Scotch Plains is a wonderfully deceiving place as to its moral turpitude. In fact, Scotch Plains is bad in a good many senses of the word. And there are none who recognize this condition more poignantly than Rev. James Shott, pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist church, which is 102 years old, and the mother of the first Baptist church ever organized in New York city.

Last Friday afternoon Miss Alida Messler, nineteen years of age, who has spent all her life in Scotch Plains, came to Plainfield and tried to commit suicide in a sensational manner in the hallway of the Codington building on Park avenue. The desperate act of this young girl is now said to be the culmination of a disgraceful condition of affairs that prevails in Scotch Plains.

Yesterday afternoon a Daily Press reporter called on the reverend gentleman at his parsonage, bounded on one side by the century-old church over which he presides and on the other by a dozen modest cottages and five hotels. It is the latter to which he attributes much of the badness of the town.

"Just think of it," said the minister with considerable warmth of expression, "here we are with five licensed drinking places and yet possess a population of but 200 or 300 souls. That is a worse condition than you will find on the Bowery in New York. I tell you it is outrageous, disgraceful. What am I going to do about it. Well I'll tell you I propose to do some moralizing from my pulpit before long." And there was an inference in his remarks that was suggestive of the fact that someone was going to hear truth that would strike home.

"It doesn't need a murder to make me commence preaching temperance," continued Rev. Mr. Shott. "And when I say temperance, I don't mean the stopping of liquor drinking alone. I mean temperance in language as well. Why, the profanity that I hear on the streets and in the public places of this town is simply shocking; men who are supposed to be reputable citizens, and mere lads too, are disgustingly shocking in the profanity that they turn their tongues to. This lewd talk is heard in the presence of ladies and children till one fails of language severe enough to express his feelings in relation to the matter."

It is a fact that for several years Scotch Plains has been one of the favorite places for pulling off cock fights, these affairs usually attract crowds of from all over Union and Somerset counties. Rev. Mr. Shott had heard of these things, and he presumed that they were true

"I think there is nothing that an American citizen can do," he said, that is more belittling to his country and to himself than to indulge in this sort of a pastime, sport or whatever name you may designate it by. It is a cherished institution of the Spaniards, and it seems to me that in the light of recent events even the low class that attend the cock fights would feel like absolving themselves of this practice as citizens of a country that has done wonders in relieving other people of the infamy and injustices of the Spaniards."

Speaking of the causes that led up to the attempted suicide of Miss Messler, Rev. Mr. Shott said that he had visited the young girl at the hospital and that she had told him things which were of such a character that

FITZ THE FAVORITE

Considerable Money Being Wagered on the Big Mill.

New York, May 24.—Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Jeffries will not fight in the day time, as was originally planned by the promoters of the big mill.

This has just been decided by the officers of the Coney Island Sporting Club. The evening of June 9 is the date.

The change was effected through the assurance of a prominent picture firm that it can take a successful moving picture by electric lights.

Betting on the fight has been very lively for the past few days. Fitzsimmons is still the favorite at about 7 to 5. There is plenty of money to be placed on Jeffries.

Frank Dwyer, the well-known Western turfman, has received a commission of $5,000 from a syndicate of Western sporting men to be placed on the Californian at 8 to 5.

Dwyer, who also likes Jeffries, bet $750 of his own money against $1,000, and $200 to $400. Several other small bets were recorded at 2 to 1.

A sport named Kline from San Francisco, took the short end of $1,000 to $750 at the Marlborough Hotel.

CRUSHED BY FALLING WALLS

Nine Laborers Seriously Injured—Two of Them Fatally.

New York, May 24.—Nine laborers were at work on the excavation for an apartment house at 126 and 128 West Eleventh street, when a green retaining wall, pu up to protect the open yarl at 130 from slumping into the excavation, was seen to waver. The men ran toward the rear of the lot, and were caught in the collapse of some were caught in the collapse of some twenty-five feet of earth and stone. Only two escaped serious injury, and of the other seven it was said that two were likely to die. All were removed to the neighboring St. Vincent's Hospital.

The injured men were:

John Donnelly, 36 years old, depressed fracture of the skull; condition critical.

Luigi Gasso, 33 years old; fractured skull; condition critical.

Joseph Graffo, 28 years old; contusions of the side.

Angelo Achille, 22 years old; contusion of right foot.

Frank Parisso, 40 years old; lacerated chin and internal injuries.

Antonio Argorro, 50 years old; con tusion of back.

Andelia Treabasso, 18 years old; contusion of right foot.

The other two, Patrick Kelly and Frederick Coghlin, ufter having scalp wounds dressed by the hospital physicians, were able to go to their homes.

Delayed Justice to a Negro.

Frankfort, Ky., May 24.—Enos Barnes, colored, is to-day a free man after having served more than ten years' imprisonment for a crime he did not commit. He was convicted of the murder of Stephen Boyd in January, 1889 Nov Dr. F P. Wheeler, a physi ian of Maysville, has made an affidavit in which he says the real murderer was William O'Brien, a white man, at the time a member of a well-to-do family.

Dr. Wheeler says that O'Brien confessed to him on his deathbed about two years ago, and that he has since kept the confession secret out of regard for O'Brien's family. He did not think that Barnes should suffer further imprisonment, and could not longer withhold his statement. On this affidavit Acting Governor Worthington granted a pardon.

Will Make Postmaster's Happy

Washington, May 24.—Hundreds of Postmasters will have their salaries increased on July 1. Every year the salaries of the Presidential Postmasters are readjusted, and this year the phenomenal increase in the postal receipts will result to the advantage of many of the Postmasters. The increase this year can be estimated in the millions, and the total receipts will range between $90,000,000 and 100,000,000. The returns so far received from the Post Offices indicates that as the result of the coming adjustment in the neighborhood of 100 Post Offices will be lifted from the fourth class to the third class, the lowest class of Presidential offices.

Theosophists Get $50,000

Chicago, May 24.—At the thirteenth annual convention of the American branch of the Theosophical Society, George E. Wright announced that $50,000 had been given to the organization by some one whom he refused to name. He said that the money was real, not astral, and that the interest was to be devoted to the advancement of the society. It was decided to incorporate the society under the laws of Illinois and to copywright the name as a preliminary to receiving the $50,000.

Murderer's Row is Overcrowded.

Sing Sing, May 24.—There are nine murderers in the death house in Sing Sing awaiting execution. The last arrival was Joseph Muller, of New York. When the death house was constructed there were only eight cells in it, but it had to be enlarged. There are now more condemned men in Sing Sing than at any time since the law putting murderers to death by electricity went into effect.

Killed With a Baseball Bat.

Wilmington, Del., May 24.—William A. Montague died yesterday as a result of being assaulted with a baseball bat. Montyloo Cole, of Toronto, Canada, a dental student at the University of Pennsylvania, is held for the murder. Jealousy is said to have caused the trouble.

Asphyxiated by Gas.

Hackensack, N. J., May 24.—Anna Gaughan, employed in the family of Geo. Jaeger, a paper manufacturer, living at Maywood, was found dead in bed. She had blown the light out on retiring, and had been asphyxiated by gas. The girl was only 20 years old.

Was Harry Huntington's Baby.

Chicago, Ill., May 24.—The body of the man who committed suicide at the Philadelphia Hotel, in Wabash avenue, has been identified as that of Harry E. Huntington, member of a well-known New York family. His brother is a prominent physician in New York.

CONTINUED IN CONFERENCE

Aguinaldo's Representatives Talk With Civilian Members of Commission.

DIEFERENCE OF OPINION

The Military and Civilan Members of United States Commisson Somewhat Divided.

Filipino Commission Admits that Form of Government as Proposed by President Schurman is Extremely Liberal—Natives and Spaniards Do Some More Fighting; Typhoon at Manila.

Manila, May 24.—The civilian members of the United States Philippine commission and the representatives of Aguinaldo and the Filipinos continued in conference to-day. The military members of the United States commission did not participate, and it was later learned that the members were divided.

The military and civil elements differ as to the wisdom of continuing the conferences. The military men adhere to their original demand for the unconditional surrender of the enemy. The civilian members are willing to confer and argue with the Filipino representatives and adopt a more liberal policy in dealing with them.

JACOB G. SCHURMAN.

The Filipino representatives are greatly impressed by the propositions submitted by Prof. Schurman, the president of the commission. President Gozaga, of the Filipino commission, admits that the form of government proposed by Prof. Schurman is most liberal.

Major Bell of the 4th cavalry made a reconnoissance at Santa Rita, west of Bacalor. He encountered considerable resistance from the enemy and had several men wounded. There was also a brush with the enemy at Mariquini and later at Passay, where a line of the enemy's skirmishers who were shielding a force of trench diggers, attacked Gen. Ovenshine's lines, but were repulsed. The Americans had two men killed and two wounded.

A terrific typhoon is prevailing here. Its force is so great that ships are unable to put to sea.

Reports from Zamboanga, on the island of Mindanao, just received by the steamer Delcarmen, are to the effect that the insurgents renewed the attack upon the Spanish garrison on May 10.

There was a fierce fight, in which the Spanish completely repulsed the insurgents, driving them beyond their trenches and into the interior.

General Rios is in command of the garrison pending the arrival of American troops to relieve the Spanish forces.

In the battle of May 10, the Spaniards suffered a loss of two killed and thirty-six wounded.

To Adopt a Woman's Invention.

Washington, May 24.—Information has been received here from Mexico and Japan to the effect that both Governments propose to establish life saving and signal systems along their coasts and to employ the Coston night signals now in general use by the army, lighthouse and other branches of the Government service. The Coston signals were invented years ago by the widow of Capt. Coston of the Marine Corps.

The Grand Stand Collapsed.

Malden, Mass., May 24.—During the parade in celebration of Malden's 250th anniversary a stand at Florence and Washington streets collapsed and 350 persons fell to the ground. Several persons were hurt, but none seriously. Many members of the Legislature, guests of Representative Turner, of Malden, were on the stand. Among the hurt were Representative Chase, of Westboro, who was badly bruised.

Black Powder Mill Destroyed.

Chicago, Ill., May 24.—The black powder factory of the Aetna Powder Mills, containing many tons of powder, was completely destroyed by an explosion. The report was heard eighteen miles away. The mills are situated one and a half miles from Miller station on the Lake Shore Railroad. The building was blown to pieces, and nothing remains but a bare spot surrounded by the rubbish.

An Office for Col. Hawkins.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 24.—Col. Hawkins of Washington county, commander of the Tenth Pennsylvania Volunteers, will probably get home from the Philippines in time to be nominated for State Treasurer on the Republican ticket. State Treasurer Beacon has made the prediction that Col Hawkins will be his successor.

Seven Killed in an Explosion.

Copenhagen, May 24.—An explosion occurred in the military laboratory here in the department in which shells are filled. Seven men were killed and three others badly injured. The building was demolished.

WILL HAVE THEIR MONEY.

Gov.-General Brooke to Distribute Uncle Sam's Donations to Cubans

Havana, May 24.—Having received despatches from Washington permitting him to close the negotiations for the distribution of the $3,000,000 donated by the United States for the payment of the Cuban troops, Governor-General Brooke sent for Gen. Gomez. The latter went to the Salon Trocha, Gen. Brooke's headquarters, accompanied by Col. Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, a member of his staff. They remained closeted with Gen. Brooke and Major Kennon several hours discussing the order that Gen. Brooke is about to issue. Only a few changes were made in the plan already agreed upon. As it now reads every line of the order has been agreed to by Gen. Gomez, and this is so stated in the preface to the instructions for the laying down of the arms of the Cuban soldiers. The order says the arms will be turned over to the civil Governors or to the Alcaldes of the municipalities where the soldiers live or where they receive the money. The Alcaldes are charged with the care of the arms until they shall be collected and put in the Cuban arsenals at Santiago and Havana. No mention is made as to whether this will be before the United States forces leave the island.

The order will probably be published on Wednesday without further changes in any particular unless there are unforseen developments. The present solution of the problem is looked upon as a victory for Gen. Brooke in that President McKinley decided that the course mapped out by him was the wisest to follow.

The delay, however, has been unfortunate. Agitators have used the newspaper despatches concerning Washington's interference to foment discontent among the men. It is not possible to tell how many men will accept the money. The plan is to rush the payment of the Third, Fourth and Fifth Corps as soon as possible. The telegram from the veterans in the province of Santiago stating that they would not accept money had its influence here. The forces of Col. Aceas at Alquezar, Guines and San Nicolas, 500 strong, met at Alquezar and resolved to disband without touching the American money. They have so notified Gen. Gomez. What they will do with their arms is not known, but it is supposed that they will keep them. Six hundred men under Gen. Mayia Rodriguez are reported to have already buried their arms.

All the Cuban officers who served in Santiago and who are now in Havana met at the Hotel de Inglaterra and resolved to send a telegram congratulating the Santiago veterans on already disbanding without money. It is believed, however, at the Salon Trocha that plenty of men will come forward and get their money.

Gen. Gomez does not care whether the money is accepted by the soldiers or not. He so stated in his manifesto when he told them to give up their arms and go home with or without money.

La Lucha received a telegram stating that the officers and soldiers in the Holguin district had resolved that if Gen. Gomez agreed to accept the $3,000,000 in the name of the army he had forfeited his position as their representative and had exceeded the authority conferred on him by them at the Bayano convention. Gen. Gomez explained that he did not accept the money. He had only advised the soldiers that they might take it or not as they chose.

Gen. Brooke has ordered that $16,000 be given to the insane asylum, which is in an extremely bad financial position. The inmates are nearly starving.

Well Was Not Poisoned by Tramps.

Middletown, N. Y., May 24.—The wholesale poisoning by paris green thrown into a well on the farm of Benjamin and R. M. Crosby, at Thompson Ridge, has caused intense excitement. An offer of $300 reward for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties has got the officers hustling too. The theory that the poison was thrown in the well by tramps or children has been abandoned.

Thinks the Shamrock Will Win.

Omaha, Neb., May 24.—The Hon. W. A. Paxton, of this place, a personal friend of Sir Thomas Lipton, owner of the cup challenger Shamrock, has received an interesting letter from the latter. Among other things Lipton says:

"Perhaps you would like to have a look at the cup the Shamrock is going to lift. Unless you see the cup before that boat gets out I am afraid you will require to come over here and have a look at it."

Will Not Ask the State for Aid.

New York, May 24.—At a meeting of the Municipal Assembly, having in charge he celebration to be tendered Admiral Dewey upon his return to the United States, it was desided not to ask the legislature for any financial aid. The mayor says he is opposed to asking any help from the state in the matter as it is wholly a New York City affair and will be carried out by the city authorities and the committee appointed for that purpose.

Paris Passengers in London.

Is it not surprising that a remedy that has been the Physician's Trump Card for a century—his ace of trumps!—should now, for the first time, be so prepared as to make it possible to offer it to the public in a form available for immediate use, and capable of being preserved without loss of virtues for a decade?—or until the occasion arises? Such a surprise exists in Ripans Tabules.

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low priced packet is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (a sufficiency for a year) can be had by mail for forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

BUFFALO STRIKE IS ENDED.

Both Sides Sign Agreement and the Men Return to Their Positions.

GRAIN SHOVELERS WIN.

Contractor Connors Agrees to the Suspension of So-Called Objectionable Bosses.

Freight Handlers' Strike Also at an End—But Little Time Consumed in Arranging the Final Details of Settlement—No Further Trouble is Anticipated—Parties Most Interested are Satisfied.

Buffalo, May 24.—The grain Shovellers strike was declared off yesterday and the men returned to work this morning. In the agreement under which the men returned to work Contractor Conners has conceded practically everything with the exception of the abrogation of the contract. He agrees over his own signature not only to live up to previous agreements entered into by the lake carriers, but he agrees also to the appointment of a committee of five, three members of which will represent the grain shovellers, which will have absolute power to determine whether or not any of the men now employed by him as scoopers be admitted into the new Grain Shovellers' Union and permitted to work.

Under the terms of the agreement Mr. Conners is to submit to this investigation committee for examination a list of the names of the men now employed by him as grain shovellers. The committee is to pass upon the list within forty-eight hours. Mr. Conners also agrees to the suspension of all so-called objectionable bosses and to the appointment of bona fide monthly men as their successors, who shall act as boss scoopers pending an investigation of the charges made against the suspended bosses.

A document containing terms practically the same as outlined above and drawn up by the Executive Committee of the Grain Shovellers' Union was presented to Mr. Conners for his signature. Mr. Conners insisted upon some minor amendments, and the agreement as amended and signed by him was carried back to the grain shovellers' committee, which had been in waiting at the Robinson House. After a discussion which lasted less than fifteen minutes the committee unanimously agreed to the amended document and the strike was declared off.

The settlement with the grain shovellers' means the endt of the freigh handlers' strike. The freight handlers, who have been holding out in order to assist the scoopers have also returned to work. Mr. McMahon said in an interview that there was no reason why they should remain out longer.

Cannot Question Gen. Ames.

Washington, May 24.—No official cognizance of Gen. Adelbert Ames's speech made before the New Hampshire Society of Colonial Dames, in which he criticised Gen. Shafter, can be taken, as Gen Ames is no longer in the service of the United States. In the war with Spain he was a Brigadier-General of Volunteers, but he has not been in the regular service since 1870 when he resigned his commission. He later became United States Senator from Mississippi. Gen. Ames commanded the 3rd Brigade of the 1st Division of the 5th Army Corps at Santiago from July 10 to Aug. 24.

Slashed by a Burglar.

Harrisburg, May 24.—Julius Caesar and his wife were awakened at their home in Middletown by a noise in their room. Mrs. Caesar saw a man walking about the bed and screamed to her husband, who seized a gun, but not before the intruder had slashed his wife with a razor and cut him about the head. Mrs. Caesar will die. A man of the name of Wasson, a servant of one of the officers at Camp Meade, has been arrested.

No Horses Were Burned.

Chicago, May 24.—It is now definitely known that no horses were burned to death in the Harlem track fire as was at first reported. The actual money loss on buildings destroyed is placed at fully $200,000 on which there was no insurance. It was first thought that the fire was started accidently, but later developments have revealed the fact that it was the work of an inceridiary, but the authorities refuse to state who is suspected of the crime.

May Raise the Colon and Oquendo.

Whitestone, N. Y., May 24.—Capt. I. J. Merritt, the President of the Merritt-Chapman Wrecking Company, who has returned to his home here after bringing the Reina Mercedes safely to Norfolk from Santiago, says he thinks there is still a good chance to raise and save the Colon and Oquendo. He examined them carefully, and what he saw, he says, warrented an attempt to save them.

New Fortress for Halifax.

Halifax, N. S., May 24.—The Imperial authorities have decided to construct a new fortress here. It will be located near Herring Cove Head, south of York Reboubt, facing the sea. The new fort will contain quick firing batteries with the latest type of armament.

Lavigne and Erne Match.

Buffalo, May 24.—Frank Erne and George Lavigne have been matched to fight July 3 in the Hawthorne Club for the lightweight championship and a purse of $7,500, of which the loser's end will be $1,500.

Fourteen Persons Drowned.

Berlin, May 24.—Fourteen persons were drowned at Hoermansdorf, near Straubing, Bavaria, by the capsizing of a ferryboat. The accident was caused by the breaking of a rope.

Consideration Deferred.

Minneapolis, May 24.—The Presbyterian General Assembly in session here deferred consideration of union with the Church South.

TO CLEAN MATTING.

To make soiled matting look fresh and bright prepare a pailful of warm water with a handful of salt and four tablespoonfuls of Ivory Soap shavings dissolved in it. With a clean cloth squeezed out of the mixture, wipe every breadth of the matting, rubbing soiled spots until they disappear.

A WORD OF WARNING.—There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

SEVEN NEGROES LYNCHED IN MEXICO.

Cincinnati, May 24.—A special to the Enquirer from Diaz, Mexico, says: There is great excitement in the town of San Dialo, ten miles from here, over the lynching of seven colored laborers on the Mexican Central Railroad. Jose Santo, a Spanish negro, attempted to assault the wife of Senor Duply, a ranch owner. He was tracked by bloodhounds, and, with nine others, was captured in a hut on the river bank opposite Eagle Pass. The regulators did not attempt to prove the guilt of any of the negroes, but hanged three of them and shot four more. Four of the negroes killed are Americans and all have served sentences in the Texas penitentiary.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS COME TO GRIEF.

Buffalo, May 24.—George H. Kinter and Elizabeth L. Kinter, his wife, well known in Christian Science circles, were arrested this morning on warwarants charging them with manslaughter in causing the death of Ralph L. Saunders, 9 years old, who, with his parents, had been visiting the home of Captain W. R. Sample, Thirteenth Infantry, at Fort Porter. Mr. Saunders is a brother of Mrs. Sample. Captain Sample is now on his way to the Philippines with his regiment.

The child was suffering from Pneumonia and died from pure neglect, no medical aid having been given him.

NATURE WAS BETTER THAN PHYSICIANS.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., May 24.—The little son of William Wilson, living near Elrod, swalowed a carpet tack nearly two years ago. Every effort of the physicians to remove the tack from the child's stomach failed, and the little fellow wasted away to a mere skeleton.

In a violent fit of coughing, the boy ejected the tack from his lungs. It was in perfect condition, excepting the point, which had rusted off. After ridding his lungs of the tack the child began to improve, and the indications are that he will speedily regain his former health.

TWELVE CUSTOMS INSPECTORS GUILTY.

Washington, May 24.—In the case of the twenty-two customs inspectors at New York, who recently were suspended upon charges of neglect of duty and of accepting tips from incoming steamship passengers, the Collector and Surveyor of the Port, who conducted an investigation into the charges, have reported that as to ten of the men the charges were not sustained, and as to the remaining twelve it was found that the facts warranted their suspension from duty and pay for thirty days.

These recommendations have been approved by Assistant Secretary Spaulding.

NEW CIVIL SERVICE RULE THIS WEEK.

Washington, May 24.—President McKinley discussed his forthcoming civil service order with the Cabinet yesterday, and now has it ready. It probably will be issued this week. The President thought he had it completed before he went to Hot Springs and intended to make it public while out of the city. But he found several omissions, and deferred its issue until he returned and went over the subject again with the Cabinet. It now is explained that the order is complete in all its details and ready to be signed and made public.

STEAMSHIP PARIS A HOPELESS WRECK.

Falmouth, May 24.—A leading Cornish diver who returned here last night from the Paris takes a pessimistic view of the prospects of saving the liner. To the correspondent of the Associated Press he said:

"I do not anticipate that the Paris will ever be refloated. She is pierced by rocks amidships, her fore holds are badly damaged, the bulkheads are practically useless, and, even if she were got off the rocks, I believe she would sink.

McPARTLAND DEFEATS "SPIKE" SULLIVAN.

New York, May 24.—After twenty-five rounds of fast and vicious fighting in the Lenox Athletic Club last night, Kid McPartland received the decision over "Spike" Sullivan. Going into the fight on the short end of the betting, McPartland completely upset the calculations of the sports. He bested his man at every point of the game and administered to him the most severe punishment that he has ever received in his pugilistic career.

HOW WILL THEY RACE?

Some Youngsters Who Have Been Bred From the Real Good Ones.

The gentle art of "picking winners" has engaged the minds of many men at many times and in many places, but when it comes to attempting to solve the two-year-old problem at this season of the year in a country of such "magnificent distances" as this it can be readily conceived that conjecture has most to do with the matter.

There are, however, as is to be expected, a number of two-year olds that, partly from their ownership, partly from their breeding, and in some cases from the prices they brought as yearlings in the public sale ring, have engaged particular attention. Notably among these are the sons and daughters of Domino, that James R. Keene received at the Castleton stud, and the youngsters that have been brought East from the Great Bitter Root stud which Marcus Daly has established in Montana.

Domino's stud career was as brief as his racing career was meteoric, in spite of sundry natural ailments with which he contended from the first. He was a great race horse but an unlucky one, and it is through the doings of his get that one must hope for his fame to be perpetuated. Mr. Keene has a notable pair of colts by the fleet-footed son of Himyar in Doublet, a chestnut out of that sterling mare Lucy Wallace, and Disguise, a bay out of the imported mare Bonnie Gal. There is a good deal of resemblance to the dead and gone Domino about each of them, but there is considerable deviation of type, especially about the quarters.

Mr. Keene has not had the best luck in the world on the turf for the past few seasons, but he is not tired of tempting fate. His string is again a large one. In Runaway Girl he has a chestnut daughter of Domino, out of imported Fair Vision, that many good judges think may beat even the colts by the Futurity winner.

Mr. Keene's stable is not confined to home-bred ones, and he paid some big prices for yearlings sold in 1898 at public auction. Among these was the chestnut colt Toddy—by Hanover—Hot Scotch, for whom Milton Young, of the McGrathiana stud, got $3,100. The get of Hanover has done so universally well—the get of this sire headed the list last year with over $119,000 to their credit—that it may be hoped that Toddy will prove no exception to the rule and race up to the family average, as his appearance would lead one to expect.

The Bitter Root stud turned out some very good looking yearlings in 1898, a number of which Fred Mossom recently brought up from Montana. It is understood that the pick of these were sent to "Billy" Lakeland's stable on their arrival, and, anyhow, no trainer has two much better lookers than St. Finnan and Hamptonian.

These colts are decided opposites at that. Hamptonian, who is a bay by imported Bathampton—Alice Himyar, looks the English thoroughbred all over. He is full of quality, rather high in the air, and shows all the nervous excitability that so traditionally belongs to the blooded horse. St. Finnan, on the other hand, has more of the solid strength and durability that the sire, Tammany, the vanquisher of Lamplighter, displayed, though his dam, Ayrshire Lass, is an imported mare.

WANT TO BE SPEAKER.

Western Candidates Doing Some Lively Hustling for the Great Honor.

THEY FEEL CONFIDENT.

Mr. Payne, of New York, Still in the Race to Win as an Eastern Favorite.

Representatives Henderson and Hopkins Tell Why They Should Have the Coveted Position—They Look For Help From the East—Say the West Should Have Recognition.

Washington, May 24.—The Western candidates for the Speakership are having their innings this week. The presence of Representatives Henderson and Hopkins in Washington, and the confident talk of their success have put their stock higher than usual. Then again, Mr. Payne, of New York, has been at the Capital, and his statement that he is still in the contest has made some doubtful of Mr. Sherman's strength. The Western men are trying to get the Western delegations to hold state caucauses and declare their preferences for the Speakership. So far the Illinois delegation has been the only one to do this, but it is stated that on Saturday the Wisconsin delegation will caucus and an attempt will be made to adopt the unit rule. Both Henderson and Hopkins are working for this delegation and both claim it, while Mr. Sherman's friends say that two or three of the Wisconsin Congressmen are favorable to him.

Representative Hopkins feels confident that his canvass is progressing satisfactorily, and that he will get a good vote from the Eastern delegations, as well as from the West. Mr. Hopkins says that the Republicans will have to consider the welfare of the party throughout the country and the preservation of its policy in the government. With a majority of but thirteen in the next House, they will have to deal with the problems of the greatest importance, and upon the success with which these problems are handled depends the future of the party.

"In order to secure success," says Mr. Hopkins, "there will have to be perfect harmony in the party, and everything will have to be subordinated to the general welfare. In organizing the House as well as outlining its policy every member must consider what is best for the party and for the country, for a division over personal or minor matters might result disastrously. I think, therefore, that when Congress assembles the Republicans will choose a Speaker after due deliberation and after carefully weighing all considerations."

Apart from the question of individual candidates, he says he believes there are good public reasons why Illinois should be given the Speakership. In his judgement, he says, Illinois has become the pivotal State in politics, and upon holding the continuance of the Republican party in power may depend. It will be a very important factor in determining the Presidential campaign.

DEWEY AT HONG KONG

The Hero of Manila Bay Greeted With Cheers of Welcome.

Hong Kong, May 24.—Admiral Dewey arrived at this port aboard the cruiser Olympia yesterday.

As the Olympia steamed into the harbor an Admiral's salute was fired by all the warships lying in port, and by the harbor forts.

The scene as the Admiral reached this first outpost on his triumphal return to civilization was inspiring in the extreme.

Tee tars aboard the British warships took to the rigging, and their lusty cheers could be heard between the thunders of cannon.

Aide Scott was the first to go ashore. He called officially upon Consul General Wildman, his boat leaving the Olympia soon after the cruiser's anchor touched bottom.

The aide in returning to the flagship took the Consul along with him. Mr. Wildman was saluted by the Olympia as he drew alongside.

After a brief conversation aboard, Admiral Dewey entered the boat which was to carry him ashore to pay his duty to the Governor.

The crush ashore to see the men who a little over a year ago had sailed away from Hong Kong almost unknown and had returned the greatest of naval heroes was something terrific.

Every street through which he passed was choked with masses of humanity, which surged back into the side streets as the way was cleared for the Admiral's progress.

Will Build and Sail an Airship.

Baltimore, May 24.—The American Airship and Construction Company has been incorporated with a capital of $100,000 by Louis H. Kromm and four others. Kromm says he has solved the aerial navigation problem and proposes to construct immediately an 80-foot air-ship in which he expects to travel from Baltimore to New York next fall.

COMING EVENTS.

May 25 and 26—Strawberry festival in lecture room of Trinity Reformed church.

A Democratic Chance.

In reviewing the State political news, the Newark News says that: "If the Republicans continue their warring in Somerset county there is great danger of their losing it. Clerk in Chancery Lewis A. Thompson, who for many years has been regarded as the Republican leader in the county, and Senator Charles A. Reed, who aspires to the leadership, are just now in a very perplexing entanglement. They are fighting each other tooth and nail over the Postmastership at Somerville, and the outcome of the contest will be watched with much interest. Meanwhile the Democrats in Somerset county are getting together and carefully going over the ground, with the idea of putting forward a strong candidate.

"Among those spoken of on the Democratic possibilities are former Speaker James J. Bergen and Nelson Y. Dungan, who recently retired as Prosecutor of the county. Senator Reed is very anxious to get the Republican nomination, and there has been sometalk of the possibility of Clerk Thompson going after the nomination in order to defeat Senator Reed.

"Should Monmouth, Salem and Somerset counties join the Democratic column in the Senate, the Democrats would control that body by one majority.

When Councilman Valiant proposed that an additional tax be levied to provide for sprinkling every street in the borough, he urged that the expense would be justified in the fact that the wetting of the roadbeds would serve to keep them in better shape. In connection with this suggestion the New Brunswick Fredonian says: "It is urged that sprinkling the improved macadam roads during dry weather would have a great effect in preserving them from wearing out. At present they are everywhere beginning to snow signs of disintegration, and something should obviously be done to keep them in repair. A fixed policy should be adopted without delay, or the great expenditure made in the constitution of these improved roads will largely be wasted. Sprinkling regularly would not cost much, and would be of great advantage."

SAMOAN COMMISSIONERS AND THE BADGER.

The troubles at Samoa are being investigated and will soon be settled. Commissioners Tripp for the United States, Elliott for England and Von Sternberg for Germany are at Apia now working on the case. The commissioners made the journey on the naval transport Badger, formerly the Ward line steamer Yumuri. She is a steel steamer, 326 feet long, 42 feet wide and has a displacement of 4,784 tons. She can make 16 knots an hour, having triple expansion engines.

In a learned legal opinion the other day Allan L. McDermott told the Jersey City fathers that the municipality is not liable for damages sustained by a citizen who fell into an unguarded trench and was badly injured. The Paterson Press says that "the prevalence of this idea helps to make cities negligent about the care of dangerous pitfalls in the form of excavations or dangerous sidewalks. The highest court of New York disagreed radically with Mr. McDermott in a decision handed down last week in which the contention of the plaintiff in a suit, that the city was liable because of its negligence in permitting a dangerous hole to remain in a sidewalk on one of the public streets, was sustained."

Religious and political circles in Trenton have been stirred up by a sermon preached by Rev. John N. Boswell in which he declared that for a few hundred thousand dollars that are falling into its coffers the State of New Jersey is becoming a party to the trusts and monopolies that are crushing out the poor man's life. He also attacked Attorney General Griggs upon his decision that the army canteen might be conducted so long as no member of the army was permitted to tend bar. Attorney General Griggs, he said, had decided that Congress did not mean what it had said when it passed a law abolishing the army canteen.

The Philadelphia Inquirer remarks that the plan to honor Admiral Dewey is not confined to one city, but is National in its scope, and says: "There is abundant precedent in this country for the proposed popular gift of a home to Admiral Dewey. In Europe the custom has been for the Government to reward such services. The generosity of England to Marlborough and Nelson is familiar. In Europe foreigners have frequently been recompensed for services to countries other than their own."

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The State of Pennsylvania is to get nearly a million dollars as a fee for the incorporation of a single trust—the new Carnegie company, with a capital of $250,000,000. If the incorporation was made in New Jersey the State treasury would get only a fraction of that amount. The income from this incorporation in fact about equals the total received by New Jersey for all the incorporations, aggregating over two billions, during a year. The motto at Trenton is "small profits, quick incorporations and no questions asked."—Newark Advertiser.

Attention was called at the meeting of the Somerset County Board of Assessors Saturday to the fact that the State Board had directed property to be assessed at its real value in Passaic. As a result the Somerset assessors agreed to obey the law without waiting to be ordered to do so. There has been a healthy respect entertained in Somerset for the State Board of Taxation since it demonstrated how effectually the Ocean county people bamboozled the members of the Somerset Board of Freeholders, who went down there to investigate property valuations.—Newark News.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

A great amount of damage often results from the abuse and improper use of closets and other connections with the city sewer mains, and a few incidents along this line have occurred within the past few days. On Park avenue, in the rear of the property owned by Geo. W. F. Randolph, there has been an abuse of the closets that necessitated the tearing up of Park avenve and a cleaning of the connecting pipe. When the pipe was cleaned a piece of corset, coal ashes and a few other things were found there to stop it and prevent its use. On West Second street, on the property occupied by a religious body, another evidence of abuse was discovered, where an umbrella was found in the pipe. These things were discovered by Health Inspector Addis, and he intends keeping his eye open for offenders of the ordinance regulating the use of these pipes.

The children of Plainfield and some of the elders were greatly entertained yesterday by the presence of a dancing bear, performing on the streets. The movements of the bear were unusually easy, the animal being only two years old. When, in response to the foreign patois, the bear walked on his hind legs, readers of Kipling were involuntarily reminded of his story of "Adam Zad, the bear that walks like a man." The French peasants, who acted as showmen, said they stole the bear from the mother's nest when a cub, weighing only six pounds. The capture was made in the south of France in the Pyrenees mountains.

In her benighted New York girlhood Julia Ward Howe was taught to regard Ralph Waldo Emerson as a wicked man, and she would have declined his acquaintance if he had not been introduced to her in a way which made that impossible. But having once been introduced, in the course of a trip between Boston and New York some fifty-nine years ago, and then having had her hard judgment of this wicked man softened a little by seeing him carrying a poor child on his shoulders, she consented to make him the object of a little missionary work, says the Boston Transcript. So she said to him earnestly: "You seem to forget, Mr. Emerson, that the devil is going around all the time, seeking whom he may devour." "Oh, no, Miss Ward," he said, "I don't think I forget it, but don't you think the angel ought to be stronger than the demon?" This question seems to have been in the nature of a "sticker" to the young woman from New York.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

New York theatres are fast closing their doors for a season of summer inactivity, but "The Great Ruby" is still crowding Daly's Theatre with enthusiastic admirers of Mr. Daly's genius for presenting wonderful plays. No one a regular theatre-geer should fail to see this season's success at Daly's. The plot is of absorbing interest, and every act and scene is crowded with incidents that excite nothing but admiration. The two most notable scenes, one beautiful beyond compare and the other weird to the last degree, are those which show the coaching party driven down the stage and up to the country tavern, and the struggle for the stolen ruby in the balloon suspended in cloudland. Nothing presented by New York managers this season has approached in dramatic interest "The Great Ruby," and no theatre has had such appreciation exhibited of a good play as the box office receipts at Daly's testify to.

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich seal brown color and tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about ¼ as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink. 15 and 25c.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 24—Rev. Dr. Jamison, of the Methodist church, has arranged a series of special Sunday night sermons which he will preach this early summer. They are all upon interesting topics. Next Sunday night he will address the G. A. R. men, the Junior Order of American Mechanics and the Daughters of Liberty. The subject for his sermon that night will be, "Our Heroes of '61." The members of the organizations will attend in a body.

Bicycle riding on the sidewalks still continues. The marshal has threatened two or three times to arrest some violator, and when he does there is no doubt but what the recorder will impose a heavy fine on the offender.

J. N. Apgar and brother, Willard, spent Sunday at Pluckamin. When they returned they brought home Mrs. J. N. Apgar, who has been visiting relatives there for a week.

Charles Adolphe, of Hoboken, has come here for the summer in the hope of benefiting his health, and is stopping at Taylor's Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Vanderbilt, of Milford, have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Charles Starker.

If the weather is fair Saturday, the Middlesex County Bowling Green Club will roll a match on the green.

A. R. Ward has taken up his residence at Cedar Cottage for the summer.

Miss Sadie Abbott went to Boston yesterday where she will remain until fall.

Charles Carpenter has recovered from an attack of rheumatism.

Mrs. M. L. Barick has been entertaining her sister from Freehold.

Miss Bessie VanNest has returned from a visit to Raritan friends.

Miss Jane Churchill has been entertaining relatives for a few days.

Willard N. Apgar is erecting a new cottage on Front street.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 24—Fanwood Council, R. A., held an interesting meeting in their rooms last evening. After the regular order of business was over, Orator Collins provided a miniature bowling tournament for the amusement of the members. The contest was amusing to all and a very enjoyable evening was spent. Past Regent Corey won first prize, with Past Regent Kyte a close second.

The borough and township officials have decided to enforce the bicycle ordinance regarding riding on the sidewalks. During the past spring Park avenue has been in very poor condition for wheeling, and those who have been obliged to use this thoroughfare have usually taken to the sidewalks. This has been overlooked by the officials of both township and borough on account of the roadway being in such bad condition. Now the road is once more passable and the ordinance will be enforced.

Miss Susie Stiliger, of Chicago, who has been visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Stiliger, sailed Tuesday for Germany to visit relatives.

An important meeting of the teachers of the Baptist Sunday-school was held in the church parlors last evening.

Scotch Plains, with all its notoriety, seems to remain the same quiet little town it has always been.

Mr. Stegeman, of Stout avenue, is making a number of improvements about his place.

Onward Council, L. A., held a meeting in their rooms last evening.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press)

Westfield, May 24.—Dr. H. K. Carroll, of Plainfield, who has been recently appointed by President McKinley as special United States commissioner to Porto Rico, will be at the Methodist Episcopal church Monday night and deliver an address. Mr. Carroll will visit this place on account of the invitation of the Epworth League.

Woodhull & Martin's Great Enterprise.

That our leading merchants are always on the lookout to secure exceptional bargains for their patrons is again illustrated by the fact that Woohull & Martin are offering the public a rare opportunity of securing the Encyclopedia Britannica at a price that is 30 per cent less than this work in its present form was ever offered before. They have a complete outfit on display at their news depot and we heartily recommend all our readers to call on them and examine this work, which constitutes a library in itself. It is the latest edition of the Britannica and includes five volumes of the New American Supplement, which is not only of particular interest to Americans, but which also brings the work up to date. We understand that Woodhull & Martin have been able to secure only a limited number of sets, therefore anyone interested should investigate at once.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongued coated, pain continually in the back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters;' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50cts., guaranteed, at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store

A TRIFLING OCCURRENCE

But It Eventually Brought India Under England's Control.

How many people are aware that England owes its vast Indian empire to a variation of three shillings a pound in the price of pepper. And yet such is the case, and it throws an interesting light upon the idiosyncrasies of the English character.

In the sixteenth century all the pepper consumed in England was bought by the English merchants from the Dutch, who brought it from India. Owing to racial jealousy, the Dutch traders in 1599 raised the cost from three shillings to six shillings per pound. This petty display of ill-feeling caused considerable annoyance to the English merchants, and aroused in them that feeling of independence which has always been so characteristic of the race.

They determined to import their pepper direct from India in their own ships, and for this purpose formed a company, called "The Governor and Company of Merchants of London Trading to the East Indies," and which in later days became eventually known as the East India Company.

Their first voyages embroiled them in almost innumerable quarrels with the Dutch and Portuguese, and for a time the venture proved a financial failure. It was not until 1615 that the company became successful and obtained lucrative treaties, owing to their decisively defeating the Portuguese.

From this time on their possessions gradually increased, slowly at first, and then very rapidly, until, by the wise and beneficial management of such men as Clive, Warren Hastings and Cornwallis, they exercised sovereignty over the greater portion of India.

In this manner it happened that an increase in the price of pepper momentously affected the history of mankind.

Be Careful How You Sit.

Recently an eminent physician gave utterance to the opinion that appendicitis is more common in this country than in others because of the Yankee custom that men have—and men are more frequently sufferers from the disease than women—of habitually sitting with one leg thrown over the other. This habit, the physician was quoted as saying, restricts the action of the digestive apparatus, and especially the lower intestine, and causes stagnation of the contents and the stretching of the opening of the vermiform appendix, making it possible for obstructions to reach the latter, and thus giving rise to appendicitis. There is no other disease, if we may judge from the attention given to it by current publications, in which the general public takes so much interest as this one, which is comparatively new to medical practice. Probably much of the popular interest is due to the fact that only within a few years what may be called the literature of appendicitis has reached the reading community.

Where the Hotel Keys Go.

"Of all the collecting fads I ever heard of, the key collectors are the worst of all," said one gentleman to another. "There are men traveling on the road who have keys of every hotel they ever stopped in. In order to see that they take no keys, hotel proprietors place large checks, with large brass tags upon them, and even attach them to iron bars; and yet the key collectors put these useless, heavy articles in their valises and carry them away. I know of one collection of keys that embraces a key that represents nearly all the leading American and European hotels. The cost of keys in a large hotel is simply enormous. A few of them are lost or taken by accident, but the most of them are carried off by key collectors."

CLINGING COSTUMES.

The Fashionable Skirt In Different Lengths and Styles.

The only way to attain the extreme of the clinging effect now fashionable is to discard all fullness of underwear, wearing but one petticoat, which, while profusely trimmed below the knee, is tight as an umbrella case above. Combination suits of underwear are sometimes worn to decrease bulk to the utmost.

Double skirts, redingote skirts and skirts with a circular flounce have not succeeded in driving out the plain skirt, which is still used for simple toilets and occasionally for ceremonious ones. All, however, are plain at the top, flaring at the foot and long all around, trailing at the back more or less, except in the case of the regulation walking skirt. No stiffening is used in the edge, the hem or facing, with the inside frill, being quite enough support except in the case of very soft, thin goods. With such goods a facing of stiff muslin may be put between the outside and the lining or silk facing, the muslin being cut to follow the curve of the edge. The lining of a skirt is usually sewed in one with it, but for such goods as foulard and crepe de chine the lining hangs separate.

The gown illustrated is of pearl gray bengaline, the foot of the skirt being cut in scallops over an edge of rose red silk. The scallops are embroidered with silver. The bolero, scalloped and embroidered to match, is cut away in front to show a blouse of white lace. Cut silver buttons close the bolero, and the plain sleeves are embroidered at the wrists. The collar and belt are of rose red silk. The silver gray straw toque is trimmed with white feathers and red roses.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE BICYCLE.

What to Wear For a Riding Costume This Year.

Many women ride a diamond frame wheel, although they do not make as much noise about it as they used to do. Of course for the diamond frame trousers or a divided skirt is required, and if the latter is chosen it is better not to have it gathered in at the knee, although such gathering certainly prevents it from flying up during riding. It is better to wear tight trousers of the same material beneath it, however, to get around this difficulty, than to look as absurd on foot as a woman does who wears the gathered in divided skirt. It appears well when she is mounted, but as she is not a bicycle centaur she must alight occasionally, and when a little breeze is blowing the inflation of the skirt is something ludicrous in the extreme.

For the drop frame an ordinary skirt costume will do perfectly well. It is usually cut rather short, and when it descends no nearer the ground than eight or nine inches it is much safer, as with a long skirt there is always great danger that it will catch in the wheel or be blown behind the chain guard, not to speak of the inevitable flapping it makes in the wind, which looks awkward and retards progress.

The bicycle suit illustrated is of fawn cloth, the short skirt being trimmed with white galloon. The short jacket is cut away over a rounded plastron of the fawn cloth and has a collar of white cloth embroidered with fawn and white. There is a bordering of white galloon upon jacket, plastron and sleeves, and two large buttons close the front. A white shirt waist is worn, with a golden brown cravat and a white straw trimmed with brown.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

WOMEN OUTLIVE MEN.

They May Also Retain Youthful Beauty to to an Old Age.

It is strange, but true, that the most delicate child often outlives his stronger brother or sister. Many instances are on record of the long survival of those who seemed destined to die early. It is said of Voltaire, who lived to be eighty-four years old, that he was so delicate at birth that he could not be baptised for several months. Sir Isaac Newton, the doctor said, would not live a week, but he celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday. Fontanelle lived to be a hundred, although he was so frail at birth that the priest had to go to his home to baptize him.

Even more interesting than this is the statement by Professor Buchner that it is possible for a woman to preserve her youthful beauty even to old age, or, in some instances, to regain it. The Marquise of Mirabeau died at eighty-six with all the marks of youth in her face. Margaret Verdun at sixty-five smoothed out the wrinkles, her hair grew again and her third set of teeth appeared. Cases of this third dentition are not rare.

The Professor has still further hope for the fair sex in the announcement that women live longer than men. One French woman, Marie Prioux, who died in 1838, was said to be 158 years old. Statistics of the various countries on this point are remarkable. In Germany only 413 of 1,000 males reach the age of fifty, while more than 500 of 1,000 females reach that age. In the United States there are 2,583 females to 1,398 male centenarians. In France of ten centenarians seven were women and only three men. In the rest of Europe, of twenty-one centenarians sixteen were women.

Bicycle For Nursemaids.

A nurse maid's cycle is the latest invention in the wheel line. It is a tricycle, the two front wheels of which of which are quite close together. Above these is a passenger seat resembling a small reclining chair. For use in carrying an infant out to air the passenger seat is provided with a hinged bottom, making the bottom part adjustable at a level with the seat in order to form a bed for the infant while sleeping. A foot rest at the bottom serves as the foot of the bed.

The front wheels are pivotal in separate forks and hold the machine upright under all ordinary conditions, thus preserving the passengers from accidents from tipping over. The other parts of the machine, frame, rear wheel, pedals, saddle, &c., are the same as in the ordinary bicycle.

The steering is done with the front wheels. Stability is maintained by the support of the machine being constantly upon three fixed points, by mounting the front wheels in separate pivoted frames and connecting them with the handle-bar so as to turn them simultaneously.

Choosing a Wife for Her Teeth.

One of the most curious and interesting of bridal customs among the Eskimos is the practice of choosing a bride, not for her face, her figure or her fortune, but for the excellence and strength of her teeth.

Up in the polar circle, where a man's blood freezes, and parts of him drop off at the touch of the icy blast, it is a difficult matter to kep the untanned skins from hardening and cracking. There is only one process known to the Eskimo, that of chewing. It is necessary to perform this operation every two or three months, and it is a part of the wife's duties. It is for that reason that an Eskimo selects his future helpmates for the size of their teeth and the strength of their jaws. Of course one wife cannot attend to all the skins, and so sometimes an Eskimo has as many as ten loving helpmates.

Wives are bought, sold and exchanged among the Eskimos. The price fluctuates in similar manner to the price of wheat or corn, or stocks on Exchange. A father with a growing daughter will be approached by a neighbor and offered one, two or three dogs for her, acording to her maxillary powers. Sometimes a blue foxskin or a dozen strips of blubber may enter into the bargain, but dogs are generally the factors used.

Poster Parties.

Do you want something new in the way of entertainment? Then give a poster party. Don't get a lot of posters to ornament your rooms, but request your friends to come representing some familiar poster character. The assembled party of poster persons will certainly have a very jolly time together.

Costume parties are pretty generally approved by those who enter into the spirit of the thing. And the popular posters of the last few years furnish many inviting opportunities for weird dressing and posing. Such costumes are not hard to get up, and no expensive material need be used. If the invited friends are well acquainted and unconstrained no other entertainment need be provided than informal music and dancing and light refreshments, for each guest will bring his or her share to the amusement of all.

India has 25,000,000 widows, and 77,000 of them are under ten years of age. The age limit for marriage is put at 12 years but the law is constantly broken. There is also a law that widows may remarry, but as only sixty have done so in thirty years it shows the power of custom. The widow's life is a very hard one; she is the family drudge, her jewels and clothing are taken from her, and she is in measure held accountable for her husband's death

Oesterreich.

Wien. Bei einer Probe in der Hofoper wurde der Bassist Neidl von dem fallenden Vorhang so unglücklich getroffen, daß er bewußtlos zu Boden sank und in kritischem Zustande nach Hause gebracht werden mußte.—Das seltene Fest des 50jährigen Miethsjubiläums beging eine Familie Insel dahier. Dieselbe ist im Jahre 1849 in das Stubenvoll-Haus in der Neustiftgasse in Baden eingezogen und bewohnt dasselbe noch immer.—Neulich Nachmittags ist der Pfarrer der Brigittakirche in der Brigittenau, Martin Wiesinger, während er den Schulkindern die Beichte abnahm, im Beichtstuhle vom Schlage gerührt worden, sank zurück und war nach wenigen Augenblicken todt.

Arad. Im hiesigen Gefängniß hat der Mörder Peter Jurisinecz in einem Anfalle von Wahnsinn ein Attentat auf den Gefängnißinspektor versucht. Nachdem er überwältigt und in seine Zelle gebracht worden war, rannte er mit dem Kopfe an die Wand und spaltete sich den Schädel.

Bruneck. Dieser Tage feierte der Buchdruckereibesitzer Herr J. G. Mahl, Altbürgermeister, Ehrenbürger der Stadt Bruneck, sein 60jähriges Buchdruckerjubiläum und zugleich seine goldene Hochzeit. Von allen Seiten wurden dem um das Aufblühen Brunecks sehr verdienten Manne die lebhaftesten Sympathien entgegengebracht.

Budapest. In der Karlskaserne, welche gegenwärtig zu Kommunalzwecken umgeändert wird, wurden bei Demolirung des Offizierstrakts im Rauchfang eingemauert drei Skelette gefunden, und zwar die einer Frau und zweier Männer. Das Alter der Gebeine dürfte 30 bis 40 Jahre sein. Die Behörde glaubt es mit den Spuren eines Verbrechens zu thun zu haben.

Landeck. Bei einer Uebung der freiwilligen Feuerwehr gerieth eine 17 Meter hohe Leiter, auf der sich vier Mann befanden, in's Schwanken. Als Steiger Probst, der zu oberst war, den Schlauch auf die Versuchsobjekte richtete, erfolgte durch den Rückstoß der Sturz der Leiter. Der Steiger und der zu unterst befindliche Feuerwehrmann erhielten lebensgefährliche, die beiden anderen leichte Verletzungen.

Prag. Der Stadtrath lehnte die Betheiligung an der Pariser Ausstellung ab, weil der Stadt Prag nicht 400 Quadratmeter allein, sondern nur 40 in dem gemeinsamen Pavillon mit anderen österreichischen Städten eingeräumt seien. Der Stadtrath beschloß Schritte, um zwei Jahre später eine besondere tschecho-slawische Ausstellung in Paris zu veranstalten.

Schweiz.

Bern. Die Pensionen, Hotels und Kurhäuser im Berner Oberland repräsentiren ein Grundsteuerkapital von 38,038,150 Francs. — Zwischen der Direktion der Jura-Simplonbahn und derjenigen der Paris-Lyon-Mediterranee ist bezüglich Ueberschienung des Jura über Vallorbes eine Einigung erzielt worden. Die Arbeiten sollen unverzüglich beginnen.—Das neu erstellte Fremdenhotel Central in Interlaken ist an Herrn Heinrich Haubensack, Restaurateur auf dem Brünig, übergegangen. Der Kaufpreis beträgt 260,000 Francs.

Zürich. Die zur Hebung des Fremdenverkehrs vom Vorort Zürich des Verbandes Schweizer Verkehrsvereine angestrebte Reklame in Amerika kommt nicht zur Ausführung, da die Mittel nicht flüssig wurden. Der Druck der 100,000 kleinen Reklamebroschüren hätte zwar nur 30,000 Francs beansprucht, und dieser Betrag wäre schon erhältlich gewesen; Einige verlangten aber noch 70,000 Francs für Errichtung eines Verkehrsbureaus in New York, was zu manchen Bedenken führte und die Sache für einmal zum Scheitern brachte.

Aargau. Einer der Führer im jüngsten Ausstand der Arbeiter der Elektrizitätsfirma Brown, Boveri u. Co. in Baden war ein gewisser Schäfer, der als Streikesekretär seine Rolle spielte. Letzter Tage ist nun Schäfer, als die Polizei ihn wegen Zechprellerei in Haft nahm, im Besitz zahlreicher aus der Dynamofabrik entwandter Gegenstände betroffen worden.

Thurgau. Der Grenzwächter Meinrad Vogel in Kreuzlingen entlud, vom Dienste heimkehrend, seinen Revolver, wobei ein Schuß losging und ihm die Brust durchbohrte. Er war sofort todt.

Genf. Zu Petit-Sacconex starb jüngst ein 80 Jahre alter Greis, der sehr zurückgezogen gelebt und Niemand um sich gehabt hatte, als eine 70jährige Haushälterin und elf Katzen. Bei der Aufnahme des Inventars fanden die Beamten in einem Schrank ein Häufchen Aktien und Obligationen, die einen Werth von 435,000 Francs repräsentiren, außerdem in drei Portemonnaies 16,000 Francs in Gold und Noten. Ein Testament fehlte. Der Verstorbene galt als sehr wohlthätig.

SWALLOWS AT SUNSET.

With gleaming bosoms lifted high,
And poised on strong exultant wings,
They circle down the sunset sky
To happy twitterings.

With every facile turn and wheel
The rose-gleams paint their amber throats,
And flash a hundred glints of steel
Back from their burnished coats.

Now, in a span that balks the sight,
They sweep o'er hill and marsh and main,
Then, with their swift and joyous flight,
Lo! they are here again!

Or low or high it little recks,
Or far or near it is the same,
Their rapid undulation flecks
The world with hints of flame.

O fair and tireless ones, my thought
Doth chafe within its fleshly bond;
I too would rise, impeded not,
To the serene beyond.

—Julia P. Dabney.

A RASCAL FOILED.

Judge William Richards was putting away his papers one winter afternoon, preparatory to leaving the office for the day, when he was interrupted by the entrance of a tall, well dressed young man, who said he wished to consult him on a very important matter. It was the holiday season, and the judge was the last one left in the large office building, but he acceded to his visitor's request and courteously offered him a chair.

The stranger took a cigar from his pocket and lighted it, glancing sharply about the room meanwhile and spoke in a brisk, business-like manner.

"Judge Richards," he said, "before telling you my name and business I wish to mention a few incidents in your past life and also to touch on your circumstances at present. I see you are surprised, but I wish you to see that I know a good deal about your affairs; then my business with you will be more readily understood."

The judge nodded, wondering.

"At the age of 21," the stranger continued, "you commenced practicing law in this city. A year later you disappeared out west and were gone two years. Almost immediately after you came back you made a great 'hit' with a brilliant speech, and business began to come your way. You settled down, worked hard, and your success was great. You have a big practice, are an ex-circuit judge, and 18 months ago you missed an election to Congress by only a few hundred votes. Another election comes up within six months, and you are sure of winning. Mining investments you made out in Colorado have yielded enormous returns, and you are reported to be worth between $200,000 and $300,000. Your social position is high, and—pardon me—in ten days you are to be married to Miss Holt, the only daughter of Senator Holt, the most distinguished and aristocratic man of this section of the country. I am right so far, I believe?"

"Yes," replied the lawyer, "right enough, but I must say I fail to see how my private history can affect any legal business you may have with me."

The stranger laughed easily.

"Perhaps when you hear my business you may not call it strictly legal. Judge Richards"—he paused to relight his cigar—"I am a little hard up at present, and so I came to you. I want $10,000."

"Oh, you do?" ejaculated the astonished judge.

"Exactly—$10,000. The day before yesterday you deposited $15,000 in the First National Bank. Most of it, I believe, was to go for a certain ornament you are to give to a certain young lady, but I want $10,000 of it and must have it. Blackmail you understand."

"Well, I'll be d——d!" said the judge faintly.

"Yes," laughed his visitor. "You certainly will be, socially and politically, if you do not provide for my necessities."

"Well, you certainly are a cool one," ejaculated the judge, slowly recovering from his astonishment, "but before I turn over this trifling sum to you, perhaps you will kindly enlighten me as to the obligation I am paying off with it."

The judge had recovered enough to be ironical, but hardly very angry as yet.

"That's only fair. Hear one part of my story that I omitted a moment ago. While out west you met a certain May Robbins. Remember her?"

The lawyer made no reply.

"Well, I had a talk with her some time ago, and she says that she is your wife. What do you think of that?"

"Think of it? I think that it is an unmitigated lie."

"Oh, indeed! Well, what do you think of this?" And he took from his pocketbook a folded sheet of note paper, and handed it to the judge.

He read slowly:

My Darling May:—I got to the Point all safe in the night and leave for the coast early in the morning. I will send for you and the little one in a few weeks. The sheriff managed to wing me, but it is nothing serious.

Your affectionate husband,
W. H. R.

The judge looked keenly at his visitor. "Well?"

"This is your writing I believe?"

The judge nodded.

"And the initials of your name form the signature. Now what do you suppose would happen if I showed that note to Senator Holt?"

For reply the lawyer tore it into small bits and tossed them into the fire.

"Oh, that's all right!" said the other cheerfully. "You surely don't suppose I was a big enough fool to give you the original, do you? That was a copy—tracing paper, you know. Now, judge"—and he dropped his bantering tone—"come down to business. You don't want Senator Holt to see that note. Give me $10,000, and in 24 hours the note shall be in your possession, and I will be out of the way."

"Pshaw, man," said the lawyer contemptuously, "don't be a fool! Don't you suppose that a note like that can be explained away? If your woman—what's her name, May Robbins—has any documents, bring them out and I may talk to you, but in the meantime I intend to see that you work out your term in the penitentiary."

"But you acknowledge your writing?" asked the stranger, ignoring the threat.

"Yes, I wrote that note, but if you know anything about it at all you know that I wrote it for that gentlemanly thief and all around scoundrel, Harry Roberts, after the Sheriff had shot him through the hand and he could not write for himself."

His visitor lighted a fresh cigar and gazed calmly up to the ceiling.

"Judge," he said, "I hardly expected you to give in just because of that note, but I thought I might as well try it at first—just as a feeler, you might say. Now listen to me. We are alone here. No one is around to listen. I never like to bluff when I hold a good hand. So I am going to make honest confession, and if my soul don't profit by it, maybe my pocket will. I know as well as you do that that woman is not your wife, but I must have money, and I would not hesitate to swear that she is. Harry Roberts, who afterward married her, saved your life when you first came out to that country a 'tenderfoot.' So when he got in trouble and had to skip out he came up to your cabin on the Point with his hand all smashed to flinders, and you felt called on to write that note to his wife for him and to help him out of the country. He was caught however, and hung afterward, so he is out of the way.

"Now the case stands this way: I am a tolerably well educated man myself, and it was no great trouble for me to take May's marriage certificate and make William Henry Roberts read William Herndon Richards. If you remember May, she is unscrupulous. I had a friend in the clerk's office, and I managed to get in there and change the license the same way. So you see we have documents a-plenty. You'll give me the $10,000 before noon tomorrow or I will show your note to Senator Holt and commence legal proceedings to compel you to provide support for your wife, nee Robbins."

The judge was mad clear through now, and he rose up and started for his visitor with blood in his eye. The stranger sprang behind the table.

"Easy, now," he cried, "or I'll let you have it through the pocket." And the lawyer saw that he was grasping a pistol in the side pocket of his coat. He was by no means a coward, but he did not care to run against a pistol bullet. He took his seat again.

"That's better," commented the stranger. "There is no need of violence in this matter, I hope. I don't want to hurt you. Just cool down a little and consider my proposition for a few minutes; then tell me what you think of it."

"I don't have to consider to tell you that you are the most unmitigated liar and scoundrel unhung!" said the judge, keeping his temper with difficulty. "But I don't suppose that a man who is so shameless as to confess himself the lying blackguard that you have to me can be affected by anything I can say, so I will spare myself the trouble of expressing my opinion of you. But you are as great a fool as liar. Admitting that you have the license and certificate—which I have no proof of except the word of a confessed liar—don't you know that it would be the easiest thing in the world for me to prove by dozens of people in Red Gulch that Roberts and this woman were living together as man and wife and that I lived by myself? Don't you know"—

"Now judge," interrupted the stranger in his turn, "I didn't try any bluff on you, but up and told the whole truth like an honest man, and yet here you are a-bluffing already. Nobody knew whether this woman was married to Roberts or not, and nobody cared. The class of women who lived in a mining town like that was not usually overparticular as to their morals. Besides, Red Gulch is a dead town now, and has been dead for five years. Where would you go to find a single man whom you knew there seven years ago? Now listen to me. Suppose you don't give me the $10,000? What happens? I go to the senator with my proofs; the senator puts his foot down on a certain marriage; you say it is all a blackmailing lie; the senator says my evidence looks pretty strong; that you must prove it a lie. Then you have a nice job on your hands. You have got to hunt up a lot of people that you have not heard of for years, and if you should happen to find some of them not one would be able to swear that the Robbin woman was married to Roberts or was not married to you. All of that would take time and money and accomplish nothing in the end.

"On the other hand, give me the money—and $10,000 is cheap, too, I tell you—and in 24 hours all the documents are in your possession, and I am out of the way. If you don't, think what my little story to the senator means for you."

The judge obediently thought, and it was not pleasant thinking. He did not believe that the woman could win the case with her forged documents, but this fellow was just the kind of a daredevil to go to the senator with his story and then to law. The senator would certainly postpone the wedding, and there would be a long delay. Even though his daughter did not believe the story, she would suffer. Of course there would be endless talk and gossip. The story would be in the papers, old pranks of his younger days would be raked up, and even though he cleared himself finally there would be a bitter sting left. There would be many to say that where there was so much smoke there must be some fire. Then his political aspirations! The election was to come off in six months. Nice campaign material this scandal would make for his opponents!

These thoughts and many more flashed through the judge's mind, and he glared at his visitor savagely. He hadn't a doubt that he meant every word that he said. Through his light bantering tone there ran a vein of earnestness and confidence that was more dangerous than any loud blustering would have been. He was confident that he had a "good thing" whether the judge paid up now or not.

The judge's good thing seemed to lie between paying out $10,000 in cash or having a big scandal on his hands.

Suddenly a smile flashed across his face, and then the lips were compressed tightly. The stranger did not notice the change of expression.

"Well," said the judge, "I must confess that this is a pretty tight place. Maybe we could discuss it better over a drop of liquor."

He arose and opened a handsome mahogany cabinet that fitted snugly over the low mantel. In another minute whisky, water, sugar and glasses were placed hospitably on the table.

"Fill your glass," said the lawyer, graciously. "Ten thousand dollars is enough money to deserve some consideration before being parted with. Bring your chair around in front of the table. It must be cold back there."

He pulled his chair close up to the fire and the stranger did likewise, so that they were sitting right in front of the grate, with their faces not four feet from the smouldering flames.

Anyone looking in would have thought that they were two old friends taking a social evening toddy together.

"Now, then, sir, your scheme is simply to blackmail me out of $10,000, I believe?"

"Exactly so, judge."

"And you think you have a pretty good thing?"

"Sure of it."

"If I understand you rightly, you say I must give you this money, or you will go to Senator Holt and tell him that I have a wife living out west, and then you will go to law to force me to give money to this woman, but if I give you the $10,000 you promise to turn over the proofs to me and leave the country!"

"Yes, that's just it."

"At the same time you admit that all these documents of yours are forgeries and that the letter you have of mine was written for another man who happened to have my initials?"

"Oh, of course I know all that, but if you let it go to law I wouldn't hesitate to swear just the opposite, and I defy you to prove that I am lying."

"Well, you certainly are candid. Aren't you a little afraid to acknowledge all this so boldly?"

"Not a bit of it.

"Maybe you are right," muttered the judge. "Just wait a minute."

He stepped over to the big desk in the corner, and when he turned he was grasping a pistol.

"Now my young friend," said he, pointing it at the visitor's head, "you sit where you are and listen."

He reached in the cabinet over the mantel and touched a spring. There was a phonograph concealed in the back of it. The judge had started it when he got out the brandy. Now he reversed it and attached a funnel-shaped device, and the whole of the conversation came out in tones that could be heard all over the room. The judge sat in his chair, holding his pistol and smiling pleasantly.

The stranger's face was a study. Surprise, rage, fear came and went, and were finally succeeded by a look of comical disgust.

When the last word was finished the lawyer could hold in no longer, and burst into a hearty laugh. The stranger glanced up in surprise, and his look of cool impudence returned.

"Judge, I tell you what we'll do. Give me $100 and we'll call it square."

"Cool as ever, are you, my cheerful liar?" laughed the other. "Now maybe you will tell me why I should not send you to the penitentiary?"

"Oh, you don't want to do that. You are going to be married next week, you know, and you would not like to think that your marriage meant the beginning of a long term of suffering to one of your fellow mortals."

The judge was so pleased at getting out of what a little while before had seemed a tight place that he laughed again.

"Well," said he, "you come back here to-morrow at 9 o'clock and bring all your little documents with you, and we will see what is to be done. In the meantime you need not try to slip out of town, for I am going to put the police to watching you right away, and, my boy, before you try this kind of thing again let me advise you to study up all the latest appliances for thief catching," and they walked down the stairs together.

Just as they reached the street a handsome double seated sleigh dashed up, and a sweet voice said: "Oh, William, we have been looking for you! Come and take tea with us, won't you?"

"Thanks! Delighted!" And the judge threw away his cigar and climbed in.

His late visitor plunged his hands in his pockets and stood looking after him blankly and said, "Just my infernal luck!"

Don't trust your shoeing to any one who has not made a study of the horse's foot, it is too delicate in its construction to be handled by a carpenter or butcher. We are having great success in leveling and balancing horses that have been ungaited by being shod by inexperienced men and boys. Our reference is NOT to people who are out of the State, but to OUR CUSTOMERS, who can be found right here in the city and vicinity. Horses called for and delivered.

TOURISTS HOME.

Honeyman Party Arrived From Their Trip to the Holy Land.

The Plainfield members of the Honeyman party, who have been spending the past three months in a trip through Palestine and the Holy Land, arrived home today, with the exception of Mrs. John G. Foster, who who is ill in Venice.

The steamer arrived in New York at 8:15 this morning, and Rev. Dr. Richards left immediately for home, arriving first. He was followed later in the day by Rev. E. M. Rodman, A. V. D. Honeyman and Mulford Estil. All members of the party are in excellent health, and are browned by their tour through the Orient.

Mrs. Foster's illness is not serious. She was not well enough to leave Venice when the other members of the party sailed, so her physician said, so she was left behind to wait for another steamer.

Converting Cemetery into Park. (Special to The Daily Press.)

Rahway, May 24.—Mayor Holmes is superintending the work of cleaning up the old Quaker burying ground in Rahway. The mayor intends to convert the spot into a small park. The unsightly board fence that encloses it will be torn down and the underbrush together with some of the trees, will be removed. Mr. Pound, a Plainfield Quaker, who owns the old cemetery, has given the Rahway authorities permission to renovate the place, and when it is all fixed up it will much improve the appearance of that particular locality, which is right in the heart of the city.

CIRCUS DAY AT LAST.

LaPearl's Aggregation Greets Plainfield Today—Parade Attracted Attention.

Today is a circus day. Everybody knows what that means—the small boy's delight, the little girl's awe, the big woman's admiration and the men—well, they've got to go, you know, to take the children.

LaPearl has got a very creditable aggregation of arenic talent with him. He carries nineteen cars, a large number of fine-looking horses, several cages of ferocious-looking animals, and a good many performers who do daring things to afford the press agents an inspiration to set his sentiments in pyrotechnic language.

The circus showed in South Bethlehem, Pa., yesterday, which is over sixty miles from Plainfield. They were late in leaving South Bethlehem and did not arrive in Plainfield till after 6 o'clock this morning. The circus employes, however, were out and ready for work as soon as they arrived here. The cars are sidetracked in the yards near the freight-house, and before 10 o'clock nearly all the paraphernalia was on the show grounds at Spooner avenue and West Fourth street.

The street parade took place at 11 o'clock, and attracted a large number of sight-seers along the streets it covered. The wagons and the horses and the riders looked gaudy in their parade dress.

This afternoon the show is in progress with a big attendance. Tonight another big crowd will be present.

Working Their Way to New York.

Three strolling musicians, a husband, wife and little boy, made the tour of Plainfield's streets this morning playing and singing. At the end of each tune the man would pass his hat and take up a collection. He said that he and his wife were members of a dramatic troupe, stranded in Westchester, Pa., and they were taking these means to get to New York. They seemed to be helped liberally.

Interment Made Here.

A few days ago in Philadelphia occurred the death of the daughter of Richard Hanrahan, of this city, and this morning Undertaker P. Casey brought the remains to this city, where the interment will be made. Mr. Hanrahan's daughter has been a resident of Philadelphia for some time. She was a widow and leaves a son six years of age.

TRUST INQUIRY.

Industrial Commissions Invites Information On the Subject.

Washington, May 15.—A public notice issued by the United States Industrial Commission states that the commission, in its investigation of the trusts and industrial combinations wishes to secure the fullest and most trustworthy information on the subject, and to consider carefully the suggestions of those interested in securing wise legislation. To that end the freest communication of facts and views is asked from all persons interested. Communications should be sent to the Secretary of the United States Indusrial Commission, Washington D. C.

The Commission heard Charles C Clarke of Peoria, Ill., formerly a member of the so-called Whiskey Trust, but for the past five years an independent distiller. Mr. Clarke gave a history of the various combinations that had been made among the producers of whiskey, beginning with the agreement in 1870 between the distillers north of the Ohio River to limit production. This was followed in 1881 by the Western Export Association, and this in turn by several "pools," until 1887, when the Distillers' and Cattle Feeders' Trust was formed and $30,000,000 of trust certificates issued. Three years later the trust was incorporated with a capital of $35,000,000. Eighty-one distilleries were included, and others joined later.

Mr. Clarke gave an account of the operations of the trust, including its reorganization and dissolution prior to the annulment of its charter by the Illinois Supreme Court in 1896. The principal distillers, he said, joined the American Spirits Manufacturing Company, which was incorporated in New York. The Standard Distilling and Distributing Company, with a capitalization of $16,000,000, began business bring the two corporations together. last July, and an effort was made to In August last the United States Spirits Company was organized to distribute the entire spirits output of the country. It was a mutual association and not a corporation. Other combinations of different branches of the distilling trade had since combined, and early in the present year an unsuccessful attempt was made to unite them all with a capital stock aggregating $126,800,000.

Mr. Clarke said he went into the first trust because of the profits he was promised. His distillery was closed down and he received $5,000 a year to superintend it. He was also employed for a time as salesman for the trust in California, or rather to induce other distillers to join it. The method employed in this was to offer prices to the special customers of the non-members which the later could not meet. This was usually successful. He sold his trust certificates and then got out of it. He was now operating an independent distillery under a lease. The combination had tried to buy him out, but, failing in that, had purchased the distillery, and he would have to go out of business at the expiration of his lease.

Mr. Clarke thought natural causes would have more effect in breaking up the trusts than would legislation. It would be difficult to enact a law that would control them to any extent, for the combinations could change the form of their corporations faster than laws could be passed to meet the conditions. He did not think injuries to the people by high prices composed by the combinations were as great as those to independent operators, who were forced to dispose of their business. He had no fear that great combinations would control the business of the world, for the reason that the small producers, being experts, would always have certain advantages. The large accumulations of capital were, he thought, beneficial, because they resulted in opening up new industries which would not be developed by individual effort.

Not a Satisfying Reason.

An English officer whose ship was stationed off the coast of Ceylon went for a day's shooting along the coast, accompanied by a native attendant well acquainted with the country. Coming to a particularly inviting river, the officer resolved to have a bath, and asked the native to show him a place where there were no alligators. The native took him to a pool close to the estuary. The officer thoroughly enjoyed his dip, and while drying himself asked his guide why there were never any alligators in that pool. "Because, sar," promptly replied the Cingalese, "they plenty 'fraid of shark."

glass of soda water Sunday, and declared that such conditions did not contribute in any way to make Plainfield better. On the contrary it made too many hypocrites. The flat had gone forth that we are narrow-minded, and this hurt the town severely. It was easy to be orderly without being puritanical, he said. Mr. Martine said that he did not believe in a wide-open town, but he did believe in a more liberal interpretation of the laws than prevails in Plainfield now.

Between addresses Mayor Smalley referred to the fact that when he was running for office in the borough, he stated that if he was elected he would see to it that the tax rate would be reduced in that municipality. He said that some people doubted it, but he was in a position to say last night that such a result would be found this year. Mayor Smalley then introduced the far-famed and irrepressible Silas Dewey Drake, who was greeted with applause.

After telling the audience several funny stories about his own experiences, all with a good moral application to them in conformity to the purposes of the meeting, Mr. Drake said that all that Plainfield needed was advertising. Not advertising in a haphazard way, but publicity that keeps everlastingly at it. He realized that advertising cost money, and that it was a difficult job sometimes to get fund's for such a purpose. Then it was that Mr. Drake made a novel proposition. It was that the Common Council be induced to appropriate $1,000 a year to be used to exploit in the public press of the country, as well as by circulars and other medium of circulation, the advantages that Plainfield possesses as a place for residence or business. Such a sum could be raised with a slight tax, and it would be found to do inestimable benefit to the city by attracting new residents here who would add to the volume of business in all directions and in indirect ways more than return the original expenditure.

Following Mr. Drake David Eastman made a few remarks about real estate matters, the principal point of which was that everyone should speak favorably of the city whenever opportunity afforded.

After this it was decided to form an organization to carry on a work of improvement and advancement in Plainfield, and to that end a committee was authorized to be appointed by Mayor Smalley to take the initiative steps in the matter. It will consist of five members, who will be named later.

DEPRAVITY AT 'PLAINS.

he felt that he could not even intimate what they were until he had verified them. "Her act was undoubtedly the result of a long series of incidents that have been permitted to happen.

"I do not think that any particular action recently would have caused her to do it if she had not experienced things heretofore that she should not have experienced, and probably would not have if the tone of morality among the people of Scotch Plains had been higher. I don't mean by that," said the minister, "that the majority of people of Scotch Plains are bad; on the contrary I think that individually they are quite up to the average, and perhaps a little better than those of many other towns similarly situated, but by sitting idly by and winking at the practices, or by feeling that it is none of their business what others do as long as they try to do right, this impure social system has been creeping into the very vitals of the community until it has resulted in a scandal and almost a tragedy that may, after all, be the cause of reform of a stringent character."

A SCRAPPY BARBER.

Joseph Wilson Accused of Assault by Michael Recca.

Michael Recca, of Richmond street, caused the arrest of Joseph Wilson this morning, and the latter was held in $100 bonds to await a hearing before Justice Nash Friday.

Recca keeps a barber shop on Richmond street and employed Wilson as his assistant and manager. A dispute arose between the two yesterday, in which Mrs. Recca also became involved. Wilson is said to have effectually "wiped up the floor" with both Recca and his mother.

A plea of not guilty was entered and Wilson was allowed to go out and get a bondsman, who will go his security for his appearance Friday.

A Great Slaughter Sale.

Have purchased an extra fine lot of men's and boys' Summer suits at a very low figure of one of the finest clothing manufacturers in the city of New York.

This being the last end of their spring and summer stock we purchased at our own price. We will now place them on sale at such low prices that it will pay you to buy yourself enough clothing to last you for the rest of the summer.

We claim to undersell any house in the world. Let us demonstrate how completely we vindicate that important claim.

One hundred very fine men's blue serge suits, slims, regulars and stout sizes, at 4.75 and 5.75, they are actually worth 12.00 of any man's money.

One hundred men's suits made of cheviots, cassimeres and worsted cheviots and all the latest colorings, style and shape are perfect, other stores in Plainfield will ask no less than 10.00, we will sell them at 3.50 and 4.50.

Fifty extra fine men's black clay diagonal all wool worsteds, coats and vests, 18 ounces in weight, guaranteed fast black and will not gloss, at 4.00, the kind that sells for 10.00 in other stores.

A special sale in men's trousers, 250 pairs all wool guaranteed at 1.00, 1.25; we would consider them bargains at 2.00 and 2.50.

A few specials in men's bike suits at 1.50, 2.00, 2.50 and 3.00, this fine lot of suits will bring in other stores from 3.50 to 7.00. We have hundreds of other bargains to show you if only you will call on us.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS IN MISSIONARY WORK.

Yale Graduates to be Heard in This City.

MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT.

PROMINENT CHURCH WOMEN ARE THE PATRONESSES

The Service Will be Held in the First Baptist Church, and is Expected to Arouse a Great Interest in the Cause of Missions — A Male Quartette to be There to Give Appropriate Selections.

The churches, pastors and young peoples' societies are uniting their forces to render usually interesting the missionary meeting to be held tomorrow evening in the First Baptist church under the auspices of the missionary department of the Plainfield Christian Endeavor Union. Never before has Plainfield been visited by the Yale Missionary Band of Student Volunteers, and their presence on this occasion will undoubtedly bring together a large and appreciative audience. The speakers, Yale graduates and volunteers for the foreign field, cannot fail to arouse in their audience a deep and lasting interest in the cause of missions. Yale has many staunch friends in Plainfield, and a royal welcome awaits these students who are devoting their lives to the spreading of the Gospel. A male quartette will render two appropriate selections.

The following are the patronesses of this meeting:

Mrs. Charles L. Goodrich, Mrs. William B. Wadsworth, Mrs. Edward L. Suffern, Mrs. Joseph E. Morse, Mrs. Alexander Miller, Mrs George S. Raynolds, Mrs. William VanAlstyne, Mrs. Anthony LaBoyteaux, Mrs. Joseph A. Robinson, Mrs. Cornelius Schenck, Mrs. Charles P. Leggett, Mrs. William A. Woodruff, Mrs. Diabrow, Mrs. O. W. ### PRICE OF MEAT GOES UP.

Cost of Cattle to Butchers Affects the Retail Market.

An unexpected rise in the price of meats is now confronting the local butchers, as well as the people who buy from them. Within the past few weeks a great change has taken place in the market. A couple of weeks ago cattle could be purchased for about $1.50 less than it can today, and the chances are that the price will rise still higher. A few weeks ago sheep and lamb cost about 6 and 7 cents, now it is 11½ and 12½ cents. This, of course, will send the price up with the retail butcher and the consumer will have to pay more. Just where the price will settle has not yet been decided, and in fact cannot be told.

Arrangements for Commencement.

At the regular meeting of the Borough Board of Education next Monday evening the members will transact some important business, and no doubt arrangements will be about completed for the commencement exercises to be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall in June. The new school building will probably be accepted at this meeting and several other matters of interest will be considered.

A New Central Office.

The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company are now located on Park avenue in their new building. The change was effected Tuesday evening and many of the subscribers scarcely knew that the change was made.

WANT TO SETTLE ON Q. T.

POSTMASTER CORIELL'S HEARING WAS ADJOURNED.

Efforts Being Made to Have the Charges Disposed of Without Serious Consequences — Likely to be Successful.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Newark, May 25—Postmaster Charles Coriell, of Dunellen, who was arrested recently on the charge of misappropriating $535 of the government funds received through the postoffice, was to have had a hearing before United States Commissioner Jones yesterday afternoon. Postmaster Coriell was present at the time set for the hearing, but Commissioner Jones decided to adjourn the meeting to Monday, June 5th. Mr. Coriell thereupon returned to his home in Dunellen.

It is understood that strenuous efforts are being made by the postmaster's friends to have the matter settled up in a quiet way, and that it is likely to succeed. His friends claim, and those who know his character and past record believe it. that he had no intention of doing anything wrong in his official position. If there were any irregularities, as alleged by Inspector Benjamin B. Sharp, who made the investigation, it is not regarded that Mr Coriell's intentions were bad.

It was said yesterday that ample restitution had been made to the Government by the postmaster's bondsmen. Dr. Brakely, one of the bondsmen, is still in charge of the office, and will remain so till the charges against Mr. Coriell are disposed of.

'TWAS A GHASTLY JOKE.

INSENSIBLE COLORED BOY PLACED IN A COFFIN.

The Negro's Face Painted White—Coffin Left on a Front Stoop and a Woman Was Terribly Frightened by the Sight.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 25.—An attempt made Tuesday night to play a ghastly joke on Lewis A. Bellis, a well-known horseman of this place, may end seriously. Shortly after midnight a crowd of masked men deposited a coffin at the front door of the Bellis residence in Doughty avenue, rang the doorbell violently and disappeared. Bellis was away from home and his wife went to the door. The sight that confronted her nearly made her faint. Lying in the open coffin was a boy with a white upturned face. She screamed and ran for a policeman. On her way down the street she overtook the crowd that had left the coffin on the doorstep. The crowd ran and she gave chase, but they escaped.

Policeman Holmes, who responded to the call, went to the Bellis house and removed the body from the coffin. A white coating was scoured from the face of the apparently lifeless form, which was then recognized as Walter Johnson, Bellis' negro stable boy. Detectives who have been investigating the case today find that Johnson was either drugged or made drunk by a number of young men and two young women, whose names they refuse to disclose. After he became unconscious he was painted white and placed in a stolen coffin. Johnson has been in a stupor since his removal from the coffin. It is stated that a number of arrests will be made.

To Be Sent to Reform School.

Bruno Tablet, the nine-year-old lad who stole a gold watch and chain from the coachman for Mrs. Ely M. Conway, of 920 West Seventh street, has been apprehended by the police and taken before Justice Nash. The boy lives with his parents, who are in destitute circumstances, and as several ladies who have interested themselves in the boy's condition urged Justice Nash to do all in his power to have him committed to the Reform School, the lad was sent down to Judge Vail with that recommendation. Constable Moffett took him down yesterday.

A Bad Gash.

Lewis Peterson, who is employed by W H. Rogers, cut a deep gash in his right hand yesterday which will prevent him from doing much with that member for several weeks. While sharpening a huge carving knife the blade slipped, and entering the palm of the hand, cut nearly through to the bone. Peterson went to a drug store and had the wound dressed, and is working today with only one hand.

Nearby Towns Heard Alarm.

When the fire-alarm blew last Tuesday evening several nearby towns could distinctly hear it on account of the clearness of the night and the general quiet. At Metuchen it was very plain, and the same is said at Bound Brook. From several of the surrounding towns people came in squads to see the fire, using their wheels as a modus operandi.

WANT TRANSIT OUT ARLINGTON AVENUE

People are Wondering Why Franchise is Not Asked for.

CONSENTS WERE SECURED.

BUT STREET RAILWAY COMPANY SEEMS IN NO HURRY.

When They Secured Extension to Scotch Plains They Agreed to Build Out Arlington Avenue as Soon as the Right of Way Could be Got—Board of Trade Not Satisfied With Slow Way of Doing it.

The question as to whether the people of this city are to have trolley service out Arlington avenue towards Metuchen is one that is now agitating their minds to some extent. It will be remembered that when the Common Council granted the Plainfield Street Railway Company a franchise to run to Scotch Plains, the company agreed to construct and operate another line through Arlington avenue to the Crescent Oval, golf grounds, etc., within one year from the time the proper number of consents were obtained, and for the faithful performance of this work a bond of sufficient amount was given by the company. Now that the proper number of consents have been secured, according to the word of Lawyers Chas. Moffett and Harry C. Runyon, who secured them for the company, residents are wondering why the company does not apply for a franchise.

At the Board of Trade meeting this week it was stated by a certain member that in his opinion the trolley company was holding the long end of the stick, and to substantiate his statements he said that it is optional with the company when they apply for a franchise, and in fact if they choose they need never apply if it suited their purpose, and the Council would be helpless in the matter.

In view of these facts the members of the Board thought it advisable to look into the matter and see what can be done. The advantages of having a trolley running in an opposite direction from the one now in operation would be many. It would carry a great many people to the baseball grounds, golf links, and would likely be a means of carrying people from this city to the Lehigh Valley Railroad station at South Plainfield, and would in some manner reach Metuchen; besides it would bring people from the outlying districts into the city, and the local merchants would benefit.

With this end in view the members of the Board of Trade have taken an interest, and if they are assured that the Plainfield company does not intend to build the proposed line they will see what can be done toward getting the Brunswick Traction Company to come to Plainfield from Metuchen. It is believed by a majority of the people of Plainfield that trolley connection in the above-named direction would be of as much value in Plainfield as any they now have, and for that reason strong efforts are now being made to bring the matter to a focus.

PAST FOUR SCORE POINT.

Death of Mrs. Adeline P. Newton in Her Eighty-second Year.

Mrs. Adeline P. Newton, in her eighty-second year, died this morning after a short illness at the home of her son in-law, G. H. Goddard, East Ninth street. Her son, Rev. Edward P. Newton, of Pueblo, Col., is now on his way east, but will not arrive until Saturday morning. Mrs. Newton is survived by three children, Mrs. John M. Whiton, Mrs. George H. Goddard and Rev. Edward P. Newton.

The funeral will be held in Grace P. E. church Sunday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock.

Lewis Drake Home.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Lincoln, May 25.—Lewis L. Drake, son of the Mayor, who was so ill in Chicago with appendicitis that his life was despaired of, stood the operation well, and has returned to his home with every chance in his favor for speedy recovery.

A Wedding Reception

General and Mrs. Hugh H. Abernethy, of 816 West Seventh street, corner Grant avenue, have issued invitations to the wedding reception of their daughter, Nettie Brakeley, and Frederick Knapp Fish, Jr., Wednesday afternoon, June 7th, from 5 to 7 o'clock.

LAYING THE RAILS NOW.

TROLLEY TRACKS SOON TO BE IN SHAPE FOR CARS.

Contractor Serrell Put a Gang of Men at Work Laying the Tracks in Cranford Today—The Cars May Run in July

Contractor L. W. Serrell, of this city, who is constructing the Elizabeth and Westfield Street Railway and the Scotch Plains extension of the Plainfield Street Railway Company, put a gang of men at work this morning at the dividing line between Cranford and Roselle laying the rails for the trolley line between Plainfield and Elizabeth. The company has twenty-six cars of rails at Plainfield, Westfield and Cranford and will push the work of putting down the track as rapidly as possible.

The readbed is nearly finished between Cranford and the Plainfield city line, although in some places there is a small amount of grading to do before the rails can be laid. If there are no serious obstructions encountered it is expected that the rails will be down and cars running between Plainfield and Cranford by the middle of July, so an official of the road stated this morning.

To celebrate the laying of the first Edgar Serrell, who is engaged in supervising the work for his uncle, the contractor, broke a bottle of champagne over the first rail laid in position. William H. Grogan, of Westfield, was allowed the honor of driving the first spike, which took place at 10:40 o'clock.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

MISS RITIE POLHEMUS WEDDED AN ELIZABETH MAN.

Ceremony Performed by Rev. Cornelius Schenck—Only the Immediate Relatives Were Present—A Great Sendoff.

A pretty home wedding took place last evening at the home of Miss Lizzie Dunlap, of East Fifth street, when Miss Ritie Polhemus, of Weston, Somerset county, was united in marriage to Frederick Reister, of Elizabeth, in the presence of about twenty-five relatives and friends. Owing to a recent death in the family of the bride the wedding was a quiet one and the invitations were limited.

The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. James Pangborn, and by Olive Dunlap, who acted as flower girl. The bride wore a gown of white organdie, trimmed with lavender ribbon and fine lace. She also wore a veil and carried a bouquet of bridal roses.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church. After the marriage an informal reception was held and supper was served. The coach that conveyed the happy couple to the railroad station for the 11:26 train for Elizabeth, was richly decorated with satin ribbon, while a large dinner bell was much in evidence. On a satchel carried by the groom was a large sign on which was printed the words "Just Married." This was not discovered until the couple boarded the train.

Mr. and Mrs. Reister will reside in Elizabeth, where the groom has an excellent position at the Singer Sewing Machine Works.

FIRE BROKE OUT AGAIN.

Flames in Wrecked Icehouse Were Not Entirely Out.

This morning a telephone message was received at fire headquarters informing Assistant Chief Jennings that the fire had broken out again in the debris of Brady Brothers' icehouse, and that it should be attended to, as adjoining property was in danger. Mr. Jennings ordered hose wagon No. 1 to the place.

The wagon was in charge of L. M. Dunavan, Joseph Clark and James Daley, under the direction of the acting chief. The men worked for three hours on the fire and finally put it out effectually. About 800 feet of hose was used and a great quantity of water. It was about 10 o'clock when the firemen concluded their work, and then enjoyed their breakfast at the home of Mrs. Harry Bush, who very kindly invited them to partake of her hospitality.

To Talk Temperance.

Rev. S. D. Davis, of Westerly, R. I., will speak for the Women's Christian Temperance Union next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the Sunday-school room of Trinity Reformed church. Mr. Davis is a well-known temperance speaker.

TITLE OF MARTIN ACT SALES IS DOUBTFUL.

Fidelity Trust Company Will Not Guarantee Them.

IS IT CONSTITUTIONAL?

PRESIDENT OF BOARD OF TRADE ASKS A QUESTION.

Fred C. Lounsbury Writes a Letter to Trust Company About Guaranteeing Titles of Property Bought Under the Martin Act—They Reply That They Will Not Agree to do This.

The following correspondence between Fred C. Lounsbury, president of the Board of Trade, and the Fidelity Trust Company explains itself:

Plainfield, N. J.,
May 23d, 1899.

The Fidelity Trust Co.,
Newark, N. J.

Gentlemen:—

There will be sold in Plainfield in the near future, more or less real estate under the "Martin Act" with which you are doubtless familiar. I would like to know whether your company will guarantee the title of property bought from the city when sold under this act, provided the title is otherwise found to be good and if so, what would be the average cost.

Awaiting the favor of your reply.

Yours very truly,
Fred C. Lounsbury.

Fidelity Trust Company,
Newark, N. J.
May 24th, 1899.

Fred C. Lounsbury, Esq.,
President Crescent Embossing Co.,
Plainfield, N. J.

Dear Sir:—

Yours of the 23d inst., in regard to guaranteeing properties in city of Plainfield, about to be sold under the Martin Act, received, and in reply would state that it has not been the custom of this company to guarantee titles obtained under this act, as there has been a question as to the constitutionality of the law under which said sales are held. There is a suit now pending to establish the validity of the law, and we are of the opinion that it will be several months before a decision is handed down.

We will, therefore, have to decline to guarantee all titles obtained from this source until said decision has been rendered.

Very respectfully yours,
Fidelity Trust Company,
By Edward W. Campbell.

THEIR FIRST ENTERTAINMENT.

Shepherds of Bethlehem Had a Pleasant Time Last Night.

The Star of Plainfield Lodge, No. 25, Shepherds of Bethlehem, gave their first entertainment and sociable last night in Red Men's hall on West Front street. A programme of music and recitations was presented and this was followed by refreshments and dancing, music for which was furnished by Professor O'Reilly.

There were vocal solos by Mrs. Manley, Mrs. Stiglitz, Miss Reynolds and Mr. Drake, the latter from New Brunswick. George Leigh and Miss Murphy entertained them with recitations and there was a piano solo by Miss Benner. A drill, in which twelve children took part, was a pretty feature.

The committee in charge of the entertainment consisted of Mrs. R. Mattis, chairman; Mrs. Andrew Cox, Mrs. Lighthauser, William Grey, David Bowden, George Blythe and George Eddy.

Miss Curry's Good Work.

Miss Sarah Curry, matron of the Fresh Air Camp at Westfield, will give the annual birthday party of "The Little Missionaries' Day Nursery" at 255 East Tenth street, New York, tomorrow night. Miss Curry is interested in this nursery, and outside of her work at Westfield, her whole time is devoted to it. There will be exercises and recitations by the little ones beside other features.

Expected Home This Week.

Rev. C. E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, is expected home this week from Minneapolis, where he has been attending the sessions of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church. Rev. J. C. McKelvey, of the borough, was also in attendance, and he is expected to return in a few days.

Young Veterans to Meet.

The soldiers and sailors of the late war are going to hold a meeting tonight in the G. A. R. rooms to complete their plans for the Memorial Day parade. A large attendance is requested, as tonight some important matters will come up for consideration that require the vote of the whole company.

NEW SHOOTING GROUNDS

SCHEUTZEN CORPS SECURED HEADQUARTERS FOR THE SUMMER.

Located on the Dunn Property on Johnston's Drive—Opening to Take Place Decoration Day—Prizes for Winners.

As briefly stated yesterday, the Independent Scheutzen Corps has secured grounds on the Dunn property on Johnston's Drive, where they can hold shooting contests. For a long time the membership of the Corps has been dwindling until there are only seven on the roll at the present time. Of the few members remaining there are two or three that have been working very hard for some time to secure a suitable place. Now that the place has been found and the members have the assurance that they can use the grounds as long as they like, there are good prospects of a revival in interest and an increase in membership.

There is about $400 in the treasury of the corps and the members are planning to hold several prize contests. The new grounds will be opened Decoration Day in an auspicious manner. Stages will be run from this city to the grounds, and the committee in charge, of which Rudolph Speigel is the chairman, will provide every convenience for those who desire to attend.

The grounds are located in a beautiful spot and have every advantage for shooting contests. No one can be disturbed by the shooting. The Saengerbund Society held their May day festivities on the grounds, and in this way they learned that they could be secured for the Scheutzen Corps.

WANT A MACADAM ROAD.

FREEHOLDERS INSPECTED MOUNTAIN AVENUE YESTERDAY.

Property Owners in the Vicinity of Scotch Plains Anxious for the Improvement to be Made by Union County.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 25.—The Board of Freeholders of Union county visited Scotch Plains yesterday and inspected the section of Mountain avenue that lies in Union county, a distance of less than a mile, which the property owners of that section want macadamized at county expense. Two years ago the Somerset County Board of Freeholders expended $10,000 in macadamizing the roadbed of the avenue from Somerset street, North Plainfield, to the Union county line. When the avenue reaches Scotch Plains it connects with the Springfield road, which is macadamized all the way into Newark. Ever since the Somerset Freeholders made the improvement on the road in their county the Freeholders have been urged to follow their action over the short stretch of the road in Union county.

In order to secure the macadamizing of the road by the Freeholders it would have to first be accepted by them as a county road. At present it is maintained by Fanwood township. It was with a view of accepting the road in this connection that the road committee went over it yesterday. There was quite a crowd of interested property owners on hand, and they did their best in trying to impress the Freeholders with the importance of having the road improved.

If the improvement is ordered it will make a continuous macadam road between Newark and North Plainfield and thence through to Somerville.

After going over the road the Freeholders went to Hand's Hotel where they enjoyed a spread and social time. The matter of making the improvement will come up at the next meeting of the Freeholders.

VANDALS IN THE BOROUGH.

Contractor Mills Says That They Disturbed His Property.

J. B. Mills, the contractor, made a complaint to Mayor Smalley this morning that some thieves have been visiting property on Brook avenue, where he is erecting a house. They stole a quantity of valuable lumber and otherwise disturbed the stock on the property being used in the construction of the house. Mayor Smalley promised to give the property proper protection, and an effort will be made to learn who stole the lumber.

Train to Stop at Cranford.

Arrangements have been made with the Central Railroad to have the 7:39 train from Plainfield stop at Cranford this evening to let off the Epworth Leaguers of this city, who will attend a rally given by the Cranford League.

Deputy State Councilor.

Lillian R. Irwin, state councilor of the D. of L., has made William W. Stratton deputy state councilor for councils in Elizabeth known as Nos 10, 18, 92 and 106.

PARK GOLFERS WILL PLAY FOR CUPS.

Tournament Schedule for the Season is Announced.

SEVERAL PRIZES OFFERED.

PLAY FOR THE E. S. HOOLEY CUP WILL COME FIRST.

One of the Big Events of the Season Will be the Decoration Day Handicap Tournament—Other Prizes Offered by Mrs. C. W. McCutchen and W. J. Buttfield—Competitors Must Furnish Past Records.

Now that the tournament schedule for the season has been issued by the Park Golf Club the members will take more interest in the game and will soon be striving their best to secure a place at the top in the various competitions. Announcement is made of four prominent events to take place during the season, but there will be other prizes and special competitions that will be announced later.

The first event will be the junior scratch tournament. E. S. Hooley has offered the two cups as prizes for lady and gentlemen juniors for the lowest average score for three days. Eighteen holes, medal play. Competition for these two prizes will be on the mornings of Saturdays, May 27th, June 3d and 10th. Already a number have signified their intention of competing for these prizes.

The next big event will be the Decoration Day handicap tournament. The golf committee has offered a prize for the lowest net score made by lady members, also for the lowest net score made by gentlemen. Eighteen holes (continuously) medal play.

Two very important events have been arranged that will excite a great amount of interest. The first one is the contest for the Mrs. C. W. McCutchen cup, who has offered the prize for gentlemen. The contest will be eighteen holes, handicap, medal play, and the cup will be played for each Saturday through the season, beginning May 27th and ending October 28th, 1899, and will be won by the member making the greatest number of points in these competitions; the member making the best score each Saturday to be credited with three points, the second best, two points and the third best, one point.

The next event of equal interest will be the contest for the W. J. Buttfield cup. This cup is offered for ladies' handicap, medal play, nine holes to be played for each Saturday through the season, beginning May 27th and ending October 28th, 1899. Points to be credited the same as in the gentlemen's competition.

All members who wish to compete are requested to send to the secretary their three best scores made this season for nine holes.

THREE ALLEGED ROBBERS.

Plainfield Young Men, Indicted by Grand Jury, Arraigned in Court.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 25—Frank VanNest and Wm. VanHorn, of Plainfield, who were accused by Harry Dennis, of robbing him after they had dosed him with drugged whiskey, were indicted by the Grand Jury on the charge and arraigned before Judge Vail in court yesterday. Both pleaded not guilty. Bail was furnished for VanNest, but VanHorn was unable to furnish it and was remanded to the county jail to await trial.

Robert M. Markey, the eighteen-year-old boy accused of theft by Editor Frank W. Runyon, was also indicted, and when arraigned pleaded guilty to the charge. He will be sentenced next week.

Looking for Subscriptions.

The soldiers' monument committee is now sending out circulars to Plainfield people asking for contributions to the monument fund. So far as possible every person in the city will receive a circular and blank and it is earnestly hoped that each person will respond to some degree. Any amount will be thankfully received by the committee, however, small or large, and the members hope that the matter will receive the attention of all patriotic people in Plainfield.

Petitions for Macadamizing.

At the next meeting of the Borough Council there will probably be two petitions received for macadamizing. One will come from residents asking to have Orchard place, between Rockview and Willow avenues, macadamized and the other one will be to have Watchung avenue, between Grandview and Codington avenues, treated the same way. Both of these thoroughfares need macadamizing and if the Council grant the permissions it will be appreciated greatly.

PLEASED TO DO IT

Plainfield Citizens Gladly Speak Publicly On This Subject

A public statement
Given to the public for the public good.
A citizen's experience,
Truthfully told for humanity sake
Should find ready appreciation,
Plainfield people are pleased to do it
Pleased to tell their friends and neighbors.
Tell them about the "Little Conqueror."
The good deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills
Are spreading o'er the city.
Lifting burdens from aching backs,
Curing the pains of kidney ills.
Read the proof in a Plainfield man's words:

Mr. Jepp Zensen, of 728 West Front street, Pattern Maker by trade, says:—'For a year I had symptoms of kidney trouble. A sort of grinding pain across my back at times extended up to my shoulders and there was a lameness over my kidneys and severe headaches. When I stooped I always felt dizzy and sometimes was fairly blinded. In the mornings I felt stiff and sore until I got some exercise. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in my city paper and so highly recommended for kidney complaint that I went to L. W. Randolph's drug store and got a box. They did me a great deal of good. From my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I cannot do otherwise than endorse them."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

NATIVES AGAIN WORSTED.

Eight Hundred of Them Put to Flight by the American Troops.

ENEMY'S LOSS IS HEAVY.

Many Prisoners Captured and Twenty American Soldiers Wounded in the Skirmish.

General Otis Sends His List of Casualties to the War Department at Washington—One Corporal and a Private Killed—Americans Fired Upon From Trenches—Several American Soldiers Drowned.

Manila, May 25.—Gens. MacArthur and Funston, with the Kansas and Montana Regiments and the Utah Battery, have dispersed eight hundred natives who were intrenched on the railroad beyond San Fernando, near Santa Arita.

The American scouts were fired upon from the trenches unexpectedly, and withdrew. The firing was heard at San Fernando and Gen. MacArthur assembled his troops and marched quickly after the enemy.

The Montana Regiment flanked the trenches on the left and the Kansas Regiment attacked the enemy's right flank, Gen Funston leading the charge at the double quick.

The enemy's loss was large, many prisoners were captured and it is reported that twenty Americans were wounded.

A raft which was being used to transport the Twelfth Infantry across the Pasig River was overloaded and capsized in midstream. Five of the soldiers were drowned.

The accident was due to the large quantity of heavy ammunition on the raft.

Gen. Otis's Casualty Report.

Washington, May 25.—The War Department has received the following casualty report from General Otis: Wounded—Twenty-first Infantry, May 14, E, Private Leonard Edling, nates, moderate; Twelfth Infantry, 22d, I, Private John Pender, skull, severe; Ninth Infantry, C, Private Charles H. Knepker, thumb, slight; Fourth Cavalry, K, Privates Joe Costello, breast, severe; Thomas Turner, thumb, moderate; Hans C. Mathieson, thigh, severe; Twenty-second Infantry, K, Private Robert V. Cassidy, severe; L. Simon Schulter, nates, severe.

Killed—First Idaho, G, Corpl. George Scott; First Colorado, 23d, C, Private Harry L. Boxsee.

Deserted Her Aged Husband

Frederick, Md., May 25.—John Fox, 86 years old, has filed a bill for absolute divorce. He married on May 15, and his wife at the end of a week disappeared. Her name was Kitty Zimmerman before her marriage and her age was 21 years. Fox says the girl was recommended as a good housekeeper, and she consented to marry him if he would hire her friend Anderson, to work on the farm. He accepted, gave his bride $130 and married her. Tuesday she and Anderson disappeared about the same time. Now Fox wants a divorce. He names Anderson as co-respondent.

For Yale's Presidency.

New Haven, May 25.—The sole topic of conversation here is the election for the Yale Presidency. There are signs that the strength of Prof. Arthur T. Hadley is waning. He has been decidedly the leading candidate, but for two days the candidacy of Prof. George Vincent of the University of Chicago has been booming. Prof. Vincent's strength is now regarded as nearly equal to that of Prof. Hadley.

Newport Arrives at Manila.

Washington, May 25.—The War Department has been advised by Gen. Otis of the arrival at Manila of the Newport, which sailed from San Francisco April 20 with fifteen officers and 260 enlisted men of marines; Light Battery F, Fourth, and F, Fifth Artillery, under command of Major Tiernan, eight officers and 223 enlisted men. No casualties occurred during the trip.

Gives Up Sunday Edition

London, May 24.—The Daily Telegraph, which was the pioneer among the great London dailies in issuing a Sunday edition, announces that it will discontinue the publication of a Sunday paper, thus following the example set by the Daily Mail. It is believed that this will be the last attempt for a long time to establish a first-class Sunday newspaper in London.

Fears For Overdue Vessels

Philadelphia, May 25.—Fears are entertained for the safety of the barkentine Anita Berwind, the Portuguese bark Industria and the tanker Allegheny, all of which are long overdue. The Berwind has been out 83 days. Her crew consisted of 12 men. She was valued at $30,000.

His Pipe Caused His Death

Brooklyn, May 25.—William Sullivan was burned to death in a fire that drove nearly a dozen persons in their night clothes out of the three-story frame building, 851 Kent avenue and did $1,500 worth of damage. Sullivan's pipe is supposed to be responsible for the fire.

Yale May Win.

Cambridge, May 25.—Judging by the speed shown by Harvard's crew in a four-mile time trial yesterday Yale will win when both eights meet in their dual race at New London. The crew was in good form and the boat travelled fairly well at times. There seemed to be a stop on the recover from the strokes.

Plague Increasing in Hong Kong.

Hong Kong, May 25.—The bubonic plague is increasing here. There have been 313 cases and 254 deaths from the disease within the last twenty three days.

The Supreme Court of California ordered the submission of all appeals in the Fair will case be set aside and that they be resubmitted to the full court.

ANTI-IMPERIALISTS.

More Additions to the Number of Vice-Presidents—Another Resolution.

Boston, Mass., May 24.—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Anti-Imperialist League, the following additional Vice-Presidents were elected: Donoldsen Caffrey, Louisiana; W. Bourke Cockran, New York; William H. Fleming, Georgia; Henry U. Johnstone, Indiana; President David Starr Jordan, Leland Stanford, Jr., University; Herbert Welsh, Pennsylvania; the Rev. Dr. Leonard Woolsey Bacon, Connecticut; Prof. Hermann von Holst, Chicago University; Col. Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Massachusetts; Albert E. Pillsbury, Massachusetts; Prof. W. G. Sumner, Yale; Charlton T. Lewis, New York; Austin G. Fox, New York; Gov. Andrew E. Lee, South Dakota; Patrick Ford, New York; Edwin Burritt Smith, Chicago; Senator B. R. Tillman, South Carolina; George C. Mercer, Philadelphia; President Henry Wade Rogers, the Northwestern University; Dr. Emil Pretorius, St. Louis; C. J. Bonaparte, Baltimore; Col. Patrick Farrell, Washington; Dr. Felix Adler, New York.

It was decided to promulgate the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Anti-Imperialist League should take immediate steps to establish and encourage close relations with all associations and individuals throughout the country who are opposed to the imperial policy, with a view to organizing all the elements of opposition to this policy for the most effective and united political action at the proper time."

THE LATEST NEWS.

Defender's Mast Stepped.

Bristol, R. I., May 25.—The new steel mast has been successfully stepped in the Defender. The steamboat Archer arrived from Fall River and running up between the Herreschoff piers, took on board the mast. The Archer's big steam derrick lifted it high in the air, and it was carried out to where Defender was enchored.

With the assistance of the crew the mast was slowly brought to the proper position and stepped without accident. The sails will be bent at once, and in a few days the Defender will be ready to leave Bristol.

Charged With Counterfeiting Labels.

Lancaster, Pa., May 25.—John Burkholder of Martindale and L. W. Frankhouser of Terre Hill have been arrested on the charge of counterfeiting the labels of the Cigarmaker's International Union.

It is alleged they have been engaged extensively in this counterfeiting business for several years, and supplied a large number of factories in this city and Sounty, among others that of William M. Jacobs, the alleged head of he big revenue stamp and silver certificate counterfeiter scheme exposed recently.

Was of a Fighting Family.

Washington, May 25.—The War Department has been notified that Lieut. Pearce C. Foster, Third Infantry, has died of typhoid fever. Lieut. Foster was twenty-one years old, the son and grandson of soldiers. His father, Col. Charles F. Foster, was retired in 1891. The young man was graduated from West Point in the class of 1890, and was immediately sent to the Philippines.

He Helped Lynch Indians.

Muskogee, I. T., May 25.—Andrew J. Mathes, the second of the thirty defendants in the celebrated Seminole burning cases, has been found guilty in the United States Court. Mathes is a preacher and at the time of the burning of the Indians was present and prayed loudly to God to save the souls of the boys, but made no effort to save their bodies from his fellow men.

Trolley Cars Burned

Red Bank, N. J., May 25.—Fire burned down the car-house near Shrewsbury of the Red Bank Atlantic Highland and Long Branch Electric Railway Company. Only two trolley cars were saved out of the eighteen which were housed in the building. The loss is estimated at about $45,000, fully covered by insurance.

Sent the Austrians Home

Philadelphia, May 25.—On board the Red Star liner Switzerland, which sailed for Antwerp yesterday, were eighty Austrian laborers who came here on that steamer's previous trip. The men were to work, it is said, in the shops of the Illinois Steel Company. They were deported under the Contract Labor law.

French Duelist Dying

Paris, May 25.—M. Catulle Mendes, the French author and dramatic critic, who fought a duel with swords Tuesday on the Ile de Grande Gatto with de Vanor, and who was seriously wounded in the abdomen, is in a grave condition, suffering from internal hemorrhages. He cannot recover.

Largest Stamp Mill in the World.

Tacoma, Wash., May 25.—The largest stamp mill in the world has been opened at Lass Island, Alaska. The Treadwell and its associated mines now have 880 stamps in operation.

EPIGRAMS.

The center of rational government is the home. Its growth is centrifugal; its radius, humanity; but its circumference is the eternal.

Labor is the only true standard of value.

Some persons are of such credulous fiber that they permit vanity to clothe with reality the shadowy forms of a fictitious arcestry.

Ananias was a saint compared with the man who manufactures statistics to prop a weak argument.

Politics beckons the good man but is embraced by the rascal.

When a misister of the gospel decks truth in the trappins of the vaudeville stage he should not use the Bible as a prompt book.

When matters touching the public are discussed in secret between public servants and private interests honesty grows nervous and equity is in extreme jeopardy.

WOULD LIKE BETTER PAY.

Mail Carriers Will Ask Uncle Sam For an Advance in Their Salary.

WANT $1.200 PER YEAR.

Postmen in All Parts of the United States Unite in the New Movement.

An Immediate Victory Not Looked For by Those Interested—A National Board of Trustees Elected to Aid in Pushing the Matter to a Successful Termination—Why They Ask For the "Raise."

Washington, May 25.—Twenty thousand letter-carriers in the big cities, believing that their services are worth $1,200 a year instead of the present pay of $1,000, have decided to try for legislation to that end by means of organization and money.

Organizations have been perfected all over the country. A national board of trustees has been elected, the local organizations have pledged themselves to contribute $10 per member to the working fund, and Chicago has swung into line and unanimously voted to contribute $10,000.

The men do not look for an immediate victory, but there is much confidence expressed that the new payroll will go into effect July 1, 1900.

This movement originated in New York City where the offices of the National Association are located.

The carriers have an excellent argument. They point to the fact that they are the trusted custodians of letters and packages often of great value; that their work is hard, their hours long; that they are forced to face all sorts of weather without the protection granted to policemen and firemen, and that the Government offers them neither help in time of illness nor pensions in old age, which police, firemen and soldiers enjoy.

The public fully indorses the application, but what is to be done with the $200,000 is a question which no one seems able to answer.

Negro Made White With Electricity

London, May 24.—The Westminster Gazette prints a remarkable story of the changing of a negro's color by electricity.

The subject is a Sudanese negro named Lacho, who was brought to Vienna by an Australian traveller. The negro was stricken with a nervous disease, and a neuropathist advised treatment with electricity. The treatment was successful, but as Lacho regained health, his color gradually changed to white and to-day he presents a curious picture, with a fair skin and the bushy hair and other racial characteristics of the African.

She Climbed From Death

Ellenville, N. Y., May 25.—Tina, the little daughter of John Stoll, of Wawarsing, went to the well, accompanied by her brother, to get a pail of water. There is no curb to the well, which is about twenty feet deep. The circumference is small and the water is drawn up by an old fashioned sweep. As Tina pushed it down the pole broke loose from the sweep and dropped her in the well. The father was sitting in the house when he heard the girl scream. He ran to the well, but Tina was crawling out without a scratch or bruise.

Punishment Will Cause His Death.

Derby, Conn., May 25.—Johnny Tripp, into whose mouth his school teacher forced red pepper to punish him, is dying. While the boy writhes in agony in his deathbed, Miss Mary Connery, the young teacher who inflicted the dreadful punishment, is wellnigh out of her mind. Remorse for her thoughtlessly cruel act is deep and bitter, but that cannot save the unhappy boy's life. The boy's parents will prosecute the teacher, they say, whether he recovers from the punishment or not.

Alleged Bank Robber Arrested.

Boston, May 25.—John T. Roach, of Montreal, alleged by the police to be an all-round crook, has been arrested here on the charge of being implicated in the robbery of the Dominion Bank, Napanee, Ont., Aug. 28, 1897, when $32,000 in cash and notes was taken. Roach is fifth and last on the list of suspected Napanee robbers.

Rewards Offered for Baby Clark.

New York, May 25.—Rewards to the total amount of $4,000 have been offered for the child Marion Clark, kidnapped from Central Park, Sunday, May 21. No reliable clue as to the whereabouts of the baby have yet been obtained, but there are more than 2,000 officers searching for the little one and those who carried her away.

Big Silver Mines Drained.

Creede, Col., May 25.—The unwatering of seven great silver mines here was begun unexpectedly when a diamond drill which was being operated in the Nelson tunnel tapped the bottom of the Chance shaft. Seven big mines will be drained by the Nelson tunnel, including the Chance, Commodore and New York.

The President Received Them.

Washington, May 25.—The Sheridah Sabres, a military organization of Pittsburg, with its band, was received by the President yesterday at the White House. Last evening President McKinley gave a public reception at the Executive mansion as a part of the peace jubilee celebration.

Rapidly Exhausting Its Funds.

Albany, N. Y., May 25.—The Mazet Investigating Committee is rapidly exhausting the $50,000 placed at its disposal. Lawyer Moss's method of examining witnesses is so productive of words that the money is melting fast in stenographers' fees.

A West Philadelphia watchman, 58 years of age, suffered from a bloating sensation. The doctors told him he had dyspepsia, but their prescriptions did him no good. He at last gave up doctors and medicines in disgust but was induced to try Ripans Tabules. After taking three boxes he writes, "I feel like myself again. I would not be without them, and recommend them to all my friends."

A new style packet containing 12 RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. It contains enough for ordinary occasions, and is the cheapest and the most convenient. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (sixty tabules) will be mailed by the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York, on receipt of forty-eight cents. Or a single carton containing twelve TABULES will be sent for five cents.

SHERMAN IS BITTER.

Scores McKinley for Philippine War and Muzzling of Atkinson.

Pittsburg, May 24.—"The war that is being waged by this Government against the Filipinos is as cruel as it is unnecessary. We promised them independence and instead gave them merciless and devasting strife," said John Sherman while here on his way to his old home in Mansfield, O.

"The United States should have withdrawn from the islands the moment peace with Spain was assured," he declared. "When the Filipinos had looked forward toward the same independence which our own forefathers had won, their subsequent action in taking up arms against their former allies is not unusual or unprecendented. History is full of such examples.

"The order issued by our postal department for the excluding of the Edward Atkinson pamphlets from the Philippine mails is an outrage. Mr. Atkinson was only exercising the right of every American citizen. I do not look for the expansion question to be a living issue in the next Presidential campaign. A year hence will see the matter settled, no matter how unsatisfactory it may be for many of the American people."

Novel Street-Car Strike

Wheeling, W. Va., May 24.—The strike of the Wheeling street railway employees is now in its seventh week. The managers of the road declare that the strike may continue for a year, so far as they are concerned, and the strikers say that they are not anxious to return to work. The citizens are using wagons to ride from one end of the town to the other, and stages carry them to suburban points.

Although the company has operated its road ever since the strike began, running from twenty-seven to forty cars per day, the receipts rarely amount to more than $5. Frequently a car runs an entire day without a single passenger riding on it. While the company is losing thousands of dollars weekly, and the merchants more thousands, the road is operated just as if there were no trouble whatever. Business men are now inserting notices in the daily papers informing their customers that they have not patronized the cars "as reported."

Men whose wives have ridden on the cars are marked. The father of a merchant ventured aboard a car a few days ago and trade at the son's establishment fell off so that he resorted to the newspaper to make clear his position on the strike. A wealthy merchant tailor got on a car, thinking the strike had been settled because he saw a crowd aboard. The crowd was made up of new employes and a number of United States deputies. A few days later the merchants did the customary explanatory advertising in the daily papers. The fight has settled down to one of endurance between the public and the street railway company. To add to the troubles of the street car company, a rival concern is applying for a franchise, intending to parallel the lines of the present company.

Small-Pox in Philadelphia

Philadelphia, May 24.—The Health authorities have discovered many cases of what is supposed to be small-pox among the negro population of Nicetown, in this city. The settlement in which the small-pox was found has been doubly quarantined. The entire neighborhood is terrified by fear of the spread of the disease. Sixteen cases all negroes, were taken to the Municipal Hospital yesterday, the assistance of the police being required in removing the patients, who resisted the attempt to isolate them. The hospital authorities express the belief that the cases are indeed small-pox of the gravest form.

Knowledge of the outbreak did not reach the Health authorities till Monday evening, although it is said that the disease has prevailed in the neighborhood for weeks, and one of the persons taken to the hospital, is said to have had it for twenty-five days. A deacon of a negro Baptist church complained to a physician that negroes whose faces were covered with ugly blotches were attending the services of the church. The disease is thought to be brought here from near Richmond, Va.

Queen Victoria Celebrates.

London, May 25.—Queen Victoria's eightieth birthday was the occasion of a celebration yesterday that exceeded in enthusiasm the pageantry of the memorable jubilee fetes. The Lord Mayor, Aldermen and other city officials attended thanksgiving services at St. Paul's. The Archbishop of Canterbury officiated and the Cathedral was thronged to suffocation.

Will Be Used by Alger and Brooks.

New York, May 25.—The transport Ingalls, which was used to convey Secretary Alger to Cuba recently, is now lying off Liberty Island, newly painted and decorated, at a cost to the Government of $30,000. It is said that the boat is hereafter to be devoted to the exclusive use of Secretary Alger and Major-Gen. Brooke.

Will Be the Carnegie Steel Company.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 25.—The Carnegie Company, which made application to the State Deparment recently for a charter, has filed notice of an amendment of its title to the Carnegie Steel Company. The proposed corporation is capitalized at $100,000,000, which amount will be increased to $250,000,000.

France Will Investigate.

Paris, May 25.—The French authorities are going to inquire into the conditions under which the American line steamship Paris left Cherbourg on Saturday with a view of ascertaining whether there was anything therein which would throw light upon the cause of her stranding on the Manacles.

Hanged Himself to a Transom

Chicago, May 25.—Joseph Brickner, a traveling man in the employ of Joseph Liebling & Co. of No. 42 East Twelfth street, New York, attempted to commit suicide here by hanging himself with a piece of wrapping cord to the transom beam of the bath room in his room at the Palmer House.

Will Make Another Scientific Trip.

Philadelphia, May 25.—Alfred C. Harrison, Jr., Dr. W. H. Furness and Dr. H. M. Hiller, who in November returned from a long exploration of Borneo, are preparing for another scientific trip through Asia and Australia.

RELIEVED OF SEA DUTY.

Captain Coghlan Ordered to Command Puget Sound Naval Station.

AT BREMERTON, WASH.

The Battleship Raleigh to Go Out of Commission and Placed in Dry Dock at Portsmouth.

Captain's Speeches Said to Have Something to Do With His Transfer—Orders Issued Detaching Other Officers of the Raleigh—Some of Them Sent Home and Placed on Waiting Orders.

Washington, May 25.—The supply ship Glacier, has arrived at Fort Monroe and the gunboat Nashville sailed from New Madrid for Friars Point, Miss.

Captain Joseph B. Coghlan has been detached from the cruiser Raleigh and ordered to command the Puget Sound naval station at Bremerton, Wash. He will assume his new duties on June 30.

The Raleigh will be placed out of commission immediately at Portsmouth, N. H.

Orders detaching other officers from the Raleigh have been issued also. Lieutenant Commander T. S. Phillips, her executive officer; Surgeon E. H. Marstellar, Passed Assistant Surgeon J. M. Moore, Ensign H. A. Pearson, Ensign F. L. Chadwick, Lieutenant C. B. Morgan and Paymaster S. L. Heap are ordered home and placed on waiting orders.

Lieutenant W. Winder will go to the Michigan as executive officer. Ensign P. B. Babin is ordered to the Texas. Lieutenant H. Rodman is granted a month's leave and will go to the Albatross.

Captain Coghlan's detachment from the Raleigh when she goes out of commission and assignment to Puget Sound naval station indicate the appreciation felt for that officer's services by the President. Having served his term at sea, shore duty, as soon as the Raleigh goes into dry dock, is given Captain Coghlan.

An inferential reprimand would have been an assignment to waiting orders, which was expected in some quarters and which would have reduced the Captain's pay. While the Puget Sound station is remote from the East it is regarded as a most desirable billet.

Captain Coghlan, for his "Hoch der Kaiser" pleasantries received a private reprimand, but has not forfeited the President's good opinion and has not been made to suffer.

Lovers Agreed to Die Together

Springfield, Mo., May 24.—Because their parents would not consent to their marriage Benjamin Wilhite and Miss Lulu Ford of Doda county agreed to kill themselves. They drove out to a lonely spot six miles northeast of Walnut Grove. Leaving the wagon, they stepped to the side of the road and kissed each other. Then Wilhite sent a bullet through his heart. Miss Ford picked up the pistol, placed the muzzle against her breast and pulled the trigger, but the cartridge failed to explode. The girl dropped to the ground unconscious, where she was discovered by some farmers and taken home. Wilhite and Miss Ford had been boy and girl lovers at school. The dead boy was but 18 and Miss Ford is 17.

Will Be a Big Day For Norfolk.

Norfolk, Va., May 25.—The former Spanish cruiser Reina Mercedes will be released from Quarantine on Saturday and will immediately proceed for Norfolk in tow of the Merritt Wrecking Company's tug I. J. Merritt. The Merritts contracted to deliver the Mercedes at the Norfolk Navy Yard and will tow her directly there. Owners of all tugs and steamships in these waters have been requested by the Business Men's Association to have their vessels meet her, and in procession escort her to the navy yard.

Pingree's Bill Turned Down.

Lansing, Mich., May 25.—The House has passed a railroad specific tax bill which provides for an increase in the annual revenue of about $500,000, or one-half of the amount asked by Gov. Pingree. It is ten times the increase provided for by the Wagar bill passed by the Senate last week. The Governor has declared that he will veto any bill that does not make an annual increase of $1,000,000.

Says She Shot in Self-Defense.

Peru, Ind., May 25.—Charles Hutchinson, a young man, was shot by his wife in the course of a family quarrel at Arcadia and insantly killed. The woman says she acted in self-defence. She is 26 years old, and Hutchinson was her fifth husband.

MAY LYNCH A WOMAN.

Serious Trouble Ahead For Two Negroes in Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., May 25.—News has reached here that Frank Evans, a prominent young citizen of Cameron, South Georgia, was killed by Sam Perry, a notorious negro, late yesterday afternoon. E. K. Proctor, an aged and wealthy citizen, was also fatally injured and cannot live.

The shooting was the result of vile language used by the wife of Perry to Mr. Proctor's children.

Evans resented the insult to the children before the father arrived on the scene, and Perry began shooting, cursing "white folks" in an indiscribable manner.

He shot his way through the crowd that gathered and escaped. Posses quickly formed in several parts of the county, and hundreds of people are on the negro's trail.

The community for miles around is greatly excited, and it is said the negro will be burned as was Sam Hose. His wife is also held, and it is probable she will be lynched.

DEMOCRATS WILL CONFER.

Call Issued For Meeting of National Committee in St. Louis.

St. Louis, May 25.—The call for a conference of members of the National Democratic Committee at St. Louis soon, has been made public by Committeeman Wall of Wisconsin. The call is signed by W. J. Stone of Missouri and J. G. Johnson of Kansas, acting Chairman and Secretary of the committee respectively. After announcing that these gentlemen are acting on the suggestion of Senator Jones, the call says:

"We are of the opinion that the time has come when the work of organization for the campaign of 1900 should be begun in earnest and actively prosecuted. We believe this work should be carried on, not in two or three States, but throughout the Union, to the end that we may be prepared to fight the battle next year with well-grounded hope of success. We believe the members of the National Committee should meet at an early day for conference, with a view to reaching some understanding as to the operations. We have no authority, of course, to assemble the committee in regular meeting, but we have thought it would be proper and wise to write to members of the committee individually and suggests an informal conference.

"It so happens that the Jefferson Club of St. Louis, representing the Missouri Democrats, will give a dinner in this city to which 1,500 persons will be invited. Mr. Bryan and other leading men, of the party will attend this dinner, and formal invitations will be sent to each member of the National Committee. As St. Louis is a central and convenient point, we have concluded to write members of the committee and invite them to meet us here at the Planters' House, where we can spend the day in discussing party affairs and arrange our future work. There are a number of important matters which ought to deserve the attention of the committee, and we believe great good would result from such a conference as we propose."

It is also reported that Chairman Jones of the National Committee will resign, but this is not confirmed. If his resignation comes his successor is likely to be William J. Stone of Missouri or Judge Johnson of Kansas the present acting secretary of the National Committee.

Gen. Merriam' Instructions

Washington, May 24.—The following letter has been sent to the Central Federated Union of New York in reply to a resolution protesting against Gen. Merriam's treatment of the striking miners in Idaho, and asking if "the War Department is responsible for Gen. Merriam's insults to workingmen":

"Washington, May 24, 1899.

"Dear Sir:— The Secretary of War directs me to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of May 18, transmitting a resolution adopted by the Central Federated Union on the 14th of May, asking if the Secretary of War or the 'War Department is responsible for Gen. Merriam's insults to workingmen.'

"Gen. Merriam was ordered to Coeur d'Alene on request of the Governor of Idaho to preserve peace and to protect life and property. He had no other instructions except as above given, and these, of course, it has been his duty to carry out. Very truly yours,

"V. L. MASON, Private Secretary.

"To Ernest Bohlin, Esq., Corresponding Secretary, Central Federated Union, New York."

He was appointed Solicitor-General in 1868, was Justice of Common Pleas 1868-75; Judge of the High Court of Justice 1875-76; Lord Justice of the Court of Appeal 1876-83 and Master of the Rolls during the latter year. He resigned in October, 1897.

Report Will Cover Dreyfus.

Paris, May 25.—It is understood that the report of M. Ballet-Beaupre, the President of the Civil Division of the Court of Cassation, on the Dreyfus revision proceedings states that the demand for revision has been fully made out, adding, however, that if the quashing of Dreyfus's conviction had been demanded it would not have been granted.

Changed the Charge to Murder.

Greenwich, Conn., May 25.—The charge of assault with intent to kill, made against William Smith, Fred McCann, Clarence Green and Wilbur Adams, four neighbors of Postmaster Close, of Stanwich, was changed to murder, when the four men were arraigned before Justice Burnes in the Borough Court.

Death Reports Received.

On the Eve of an Awakening.

The spirit of earnestness and aggressiveness evidenced at the meeting of the business men Tuesday night to discuss the needs of Plainfield with a view of improving the condition of business here, means a thorough awakening of all interests if the work is carried out in the scope suggested by the several speakers. The trouble with Plainfield, in relation to such a movement, is that she has several times before witnessed just such enthusiastic interest and talk, but before the outcome has ripened into results of a material character the tenacity to purpose has weakened and finally faltered and lost its grip. The several Boards of Trade which Plainfield has possessed, though they have undoubtedly accomplished some good things during their careers, have undergone very much this same experience.

There is one encouraging point in this respect in the present situation. That is, just as it was expected that the present Board of Trade was "going up the spout," if the expression describes the situation, sufficient interest in the general welfare of the city has asserted itself in a way that indicates a change for the better. The renewed interest in the Board of Trade meeting Monday night evidenced the fact and the gathering of the business men Tuesday, which was fully reported in The Daily Press yesterday, added further emphasis to it. As has been stated frequently of late Plainfield is ripe and ready for a thorough awakening of its people in a business sense.

The only thing that has been needed is just such a movement as is under way now. It does not require a multitude to start the thing in motion; but it does necessitate the active and thorough interest of a few who are willing to assume the brunt of the work in taking the initiative and crystalizing the latent energy of the townspeople into a desire to do something more than sit idly by and let the other fellow do it all. The first class of men seem to be at hand and it remains to be seen whether or not they can accomplish their purpose of interesting the majority. It is to be hoped that they can.

MAJOR MARCHAND, FRANCE'S HERO.
Paris is intensely excited over the return of Major Marchand from his African campaign. He is expected to reach the city early in June. The Cercle Militaire will hold a great military fete in his honor, the major having sent his acceptance of the invitation extended by the Cercle. Marchand is the hour's hero in France.

Summit's Sewage.

Summit is situated a good deal like Plainfield in relation to the disposal of sewage. She has a sewerage system that has cost her $80,000. The sewage is filtrated through a series of sand beds into the Passaic river opposite Chatham. This has been opposed by people of the neighboring boroughs of New Providence and Chatham, but the courts have decided that the disposal beds near the river do not constitute a nuisance.

Notwithstanding the fact that the city is backed by the courts in its position, President Day, of the Common Council, has appointed a committee to investigate the matter of a trunk sewer to tide water for the purpose of ascertaining if it would be advisable to change the system of sewage disposal.

The action of the Council in appointing a committe to consider the advisability of joining in the trunk sewer now favored by townships east of the city of Summit has a twofold purpose—first, to stop any litigation in the future concerning the pollution of the Passaic river—second, to afford East Summit a means of disposing of its sewage, it being prevented from joining the present sewer system by natural obstacles, which it would cost too much to overcome at present.

It was fortunate, perhaps, that both Senator Reed and James E. Martine were induced to speak at the meeting of the business men Tuesday evening, and to point out some of the faults of local municipal life and how they contribute to injure Plainfield's commercial advancement. They are both conspicuous in the Republican and Democratic parties, but both alluded to very much the same condition of affairs and urged that there ought to be a change. If either one had spoken alone, there would have been some who would have put a political construction on what was said, but as Senator Reed and Mr. Martin echoed about the same sentiments in relation to the faults of the city gonernment, without political purport to their remarks, it proved a combination that should have a healthy effect upon the powers that be.

The New Jersey editor of the New York Press offered the following interesting bit of political news this morning: Clerk in Chancery Thompson said yesterday that while his friends wanted him to get in the race for the Republican nomination for Senator in Somerset, he was content that some other good Republican should win the honor.

"The Republicans can and will carry the county," he said, "if they nominate the right man."

The Rockville (Conn.) Journal, of which Charles S. Greer, a former Plainfield newspaperman, is editor, has blossomed out into a semi-weekly. Mr. Greer has been producing an enterprising newspaper once a week but with a twice-a-week edition his field will be enlarged. Undoubtedly he will keep up with the procession.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

While the Plainfield Home Trade and Improvement Association is devising plans to prevent Plainfielders from availing themselves of the advantages offered in Newark and elsewhere, the Board of Trade of that city is working to enlarge trolley connections so as to attract the people of New Brunswick and other nearby towns.—Newark News.

* * * * *

Somerset County Freeholders are being beseiged to build stone roads. That new law whereby the county assumes a road which has been partly paid for by the State does not take well in Bergen as so many roads have been built by the taxpayers. But in Somerset it is different and the soil is of an entirely different character from the sand which largely prevails in Bergen. In good dry weather the roads in Somerset are superb but when the frost is coming out they are an abomination. The Freeholders in Somerset county have been doing some splendid road work in grading and macadam work.—Hackensack Record.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Baxter has notified the Ocean Grove Board of Education that the new High School has been selected as one of the ten model school buildings in the State, photographs of which are to form part of the State's educational exhibit at the Paris Exposition of 1900.

* * * * *

For an apparatus that has to go out at every alarm of fire the chemical engine certainly has too much brass work about it, and the time consumed in cleaning it after a fire scarcely pays for the fine showing it makes. It has been a subject of comment for some time past that it would be a good idea to paint the tanks on the engine some dark color, and thus a great deal of trouble would be averted.

Central's Decoration Day Excursion.

It should not be forgotten that the Central R. R of New Jersey will run the first of its low-rate 1899 excursions to Mauch Chunk, Glen Onoko and the Switchback Railroad on Tuesday next, as a popular attraction for Decoration Day. The conditions are not the same as in former years as the all important feature of reduced cost of tickets now enters into consideration. This year these reduced rates have been inaugurated. Adults round trip ticket, $1.50; children, $1.13. This very popular outing that has attracted so many Plainfield people in the past will surely have a stronger claim on them next Tuesdey when the cost is so much less. The ride on the Switchback is a drawing card, while the ever beautiful Glen Onoko, with its waterfalls and grottoes is a resort that the visitor leaves with regret. Special excursion train, with lunch car attached, leaves Plainfield at 9:30 a. m., and returns about 8:15 p. m. Tickets now on sale at railroad station.

Plainfield Stores

in every line, compare favorably with stores elsewhere, if the woman—men too—in this vicinity would do more of their shopping in Plainfield. These stores with more patronage—your patronage—could be the best stores anywhere.
Here expenses are less for doing business than in larger Cities—that means a saving to you on your purchases. Quick selling means new merchandise—always the new—means larger variety—smaller profits.

The New Store

was started with that thought, it gathered an extensive variety of merchandise in several lines—the best of its kind—and priced it for active selling. The response has been so generous that we will continue to make great efforts to serve you—great efforts to hold you as customers. Our store, our stock, our service, we think superior to all others. We'll improve it, though, whenever or wherever possible.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 25—Rev. A. I. Martine is confined to the house by a bad accident he met with Monday. While walking over the floor beams of the new house he is erecting on Front street, his foot slipped and he fell, striking his side and sustaining a severe strain. Mr. Martine was only up one story, but had he been higher, and had he fallen all the way through, he would have been fatally injured. This injury will confine him to the house for several days as he is under the doctor's hands.

Miss Ella Boice, the music teacher, gave a musicale to her pupils at the home of C. A. Coriell Monday evening. There were about fifty pupils present, and a pleasant evening was spent with music. Before the night was gone Miss Boice was presented with a handsome alligator skin music roll from her pupils. Miss Josie Dealaman, who accompanies Miss Boice when she plays, was also remembered.

At the entertainment to be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church tonight, the Ladies' Orchestra will take a prominent part, assisted by the Banjo Club. An elocutionist from Cranford, and a male vocal soloist will assist also. Mrs. C. V. Corie and Mrs. G. Saums will render a violin duet.

William H. Cole's horse undertook to run away yesterday afternoon but was so long making up his mind which way to go that that he was caught before he had gone three blocks.

The fire in Plainfield Tuesday night was plainly seen by the residents here, and many of them thought the blaze was in the borough.

Street Commissioner Staats and Councilman Snyder were in New Brunswick yesterday.

Mrs. William H. Hamilton, of Westfield, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bodine.

Miss Minnie VanMiddlesworth entertained company from Jersey City early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Randolph have returned from a visit with Somerville relatives.

Miss Addie Fenner, of Pluckamin, has been visiting relatives in the borough.

Mrs. J. G. Taylor has returned from a visit with her mother in Plainfield.

Miss Elizabeth Wilcox, of Elizabeth, is visiting her brother, Fred Wilcox.

Miss Jennie Stelle has returned from a visit with Flemington friends.

George Schenck has returned from a visit with friends in Somerville.

Jesse Dalrymple is spending a few days with his sister at Pittstown.

Morris Barrick's father, of Chester, is visiting him for a few days.

Mrs. A. I. Martine went to Newark today to spend a few days.

Joel Giddes is now working again for the Central Railroad.

Henry Garretson was in Seawaren Tuesday on business.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Daily Press

New Market, May 25—Miss Lulu Davis has issued invitations for a birthday party tonight, which will be an elaborate affair.

Miss Jean Cousin, of New York, is visiting Miss Edith Wilson.

Miss Lillian Huff has returned from a visit to Flemington.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 25.—Dr. J. Ackerman Coles has received from President William Preston Johnston, of Tulane University, New Orleans, a letter acknowledging the receipt of his offer to the university of a lifesize portrait bust of Cicero, cast at the Barbedienne foundry in Paris, and a copy of the original in the Louvre.

Mrs. Elias Hymans and daughter, Miss Ella, who have been spending several weeks as the guest of Miss Susie Parse, have returned to their home in New York city.

The patches of rough crushed stone from Farrell road to Leland avenue, have been covered with a coating of sand. This makes a decided improvement.

Wm. Day, of Plainfield, was in town last evening as a representative of the G. A. R. making arrangements for the Decoration Day exercises.

The Misses Hayes, of Fanwood, who have been making a tour of the Holy Land with the Honeyman party, are home again.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Emery, of Bayonne, are visiting Mr. Emery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Emery.

A large stageload of the boys of the village attended the circus in Plainfield last evening.

Mrs. Albert Darby, of Plainfield, visited her mother, Mrs. John R. Marsh, yesterday.

Mrs. Skinner, of Plainfield, spent yesterday with Mrs. John R. Haskard.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press)

Westfield, May 25 — The baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of the Lincoln High School will be delivered this year by Rev. Chas. Fiske, rector of St. Paul's church.

The members of Central Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., have accepted an invitation from Twilight Council, of Scotch Plains, to take part in the presentation exercises Decoration Day, when that council will give to the town of Scotch Plains a handsome American flag.

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY.

ENTERPRISINGLY GATHERED AND CONCISELY TOLD BY REPORTERS.

Newsy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for the Ready Reference of Press Readers

—Our seafood will be of the finest for Friday. Order early to insure prompt delivery. Rogers.

—Mr. Ball, of West Front street, has been making a number of improvements about the property he occupies.

—There will be a rally of Epworth Leaguers at Cranford tonight, and a large delegation will go from this city.

—Tomorrow evening a sociable will be held at the Plainfield Business College under the auspices of the various classes.

—A strip of Somerset street near the bridge is being macadamized and the work will be appreciated when completed.

—Chief Marshal Campbell, of the borough, is now kept busy notifying delinquents to settle up their taxes or take the consequences.

—An electric light has been placed over the entance to the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church, which is a great improvement as it was always very dark at that entrance.

—A number of the members of the East Third Street mission, under the direction of L. W. Randolph, went to Coontown last Tuesday evening and attended a service held at that place under the leadership of Rev. George Bowers.

PEOPLE COME AND GO.

PERSONAL MENTION OF INTEREST TO PRESS READERS.

Some Come to Enjoy Pleasures of Plainfield, Others Journey to Either Mountain or Shore for Recreation.

Miss Addie Fenner, of Pluckamin, has been visiting Plainfield relatives.

Former Sheriff Wyckoff, of Somerville, has been visiting friends in this city.

Victor Christofferson, of Passaic, is visiting relatives in town for a short time.

Mrs. Hugh Hastings, of this city, has gone to Harrisburg, Pa., for a time.

Mrs. Paul Symons, of East Third street, is entertaining relatives from Bellville.

David E. Titsworth, of West Seventh street, left town yesterday on a business trip.

Miss Moynihan, of Bound Brook, has been visiting relatives on Sandford avenue.

Peter Huff, who has been visiting his brother here, has gone to his home in Somerville.

W. D. Murray, of this city, is in Grand Rapids, Mich., attending a Y. M. C. A. conference.

Memorial Day exercises will be held in the public schools on Memorial Day and not on the Friday preceding, as previously stated.

Mrs. E. S. Miles, of Hyde Park, N. Y., returned home yesterday after a pleasant visit with Plainfield relatives. Her daughter, Miss Miles, will remain in the city for several days.

Mr. Trimbley, of West Fourth street, whose condition has been critical for sometime, is reported to be growing worse, and the physicians express little hope for his recovery.

Paul Symons, of East Third street, has recovered from the effects of the accident he had a few days ago at the North Avenue station, and is now able to attend to business in New York.

Charles Westphal and wife, of Brooklyn, who have been visiting in town for several days, returned home today. Mr. Westphal recently met with a severe accident at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, where he is employed, but will soon be able to return to work.

Decoration Day Excursion to Niagara Falls Via Lehigh Valley Railroad.

Good to return on all trains, (except the Black Diamond Express), to and including May 30th, 1899. Inquire of Lehigh Valley Ticket Agents for further particulars. 5 20-23 25 27-c

In Gymnastic Drills.

The turning section of the Gesang and Turn Verein met last night in the hall on Somerset street and under the direction of the instructor, Mr. Metzer, spent a profitable evening in going through the various gymnastic drills. This section is growing in membership and a high degree of proficiency is being secured.

—In another part of The Press will be seen the advertisement of George F. Brown, of Somerset street. Mr. Brown's place is headquarters for awnings, window shades and wall papers of the latest style and pattern. His prices are right and his work first-class, as hundreds of customers can testify.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongued coated, pain continually in the back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters;' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50cts., guaranteed, at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store

HAS A BRIGHT FUTURE.

Edward Dawson, a Theological Student, Heard in Plainfield.

New Brunswick has in its theological seminary a young student named Edward Dawson whom, it is predicted, is destined for a bright future in the ministry. Last night Mr. Dawson addressed a large gathering in the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church. He laid the foundation of his remarks on the Christian Endeavor pledge—"God's Covenant and Ours." The able arguments that he offered during the course of his remarks to substantiate the subject he selected for his talk, convinced his hearers that he is a bright young light in the cause of Christianity.

Mr. Dawson is also a pleasing vocalist, and during the offering rendered "There is Never a Day so Dreary" in an effective manner. H. J. Martin, president of the Endeavor Society, presided over the meeting and introduced Mr. Dawson.

Mr. Dawson is superintendent of the First Reformed church, of New Brunswick, which celebrated its centennial last Sunday.

Taken Sick While Cycling.

Miss Jessie Little, of East Ninth street, was taken violently ill yesterday afternoon while wheeling on her bicycle in front of the Public Library on Park avenue. She fell from the wheel, and had to be helped to a place in the library yard. Dr. Endicott happened to be passing and attended to the case, sending the young lady home later in a wagon which he pressed into service.

Work Among the Jews

B. A. M. Schapiro, superintendent of the Christian Mission to the Jews, in New York, was present last evening at the prayer meeting services in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, and gave a very interesting talk about the work being carried on among the Jews in New York. There was a good attendance at the meeting and at the close a collection was taken for the work.

Talk Took Them Around the World.

Last evening E. R. Ackerman gave an illustrated description of a trip around the world to an appreciative audience at Mt. Pleasant chapel. The pictures shown were very fine, and, together with Mr. Ackerman's description, made the entertainment a very enjoyable one.

Realty Changes.

The following real estate transfers have been recorded in the Somerset county clerk's office: Newton B. Smalley, et ux., to Benj. Durr, North Plainfield, $50; borough of North Plainfield to Katherine Ruppert, North Plainfield, $8 74.

That Throbbing Headache.

SPECIAL MASTER'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between the Montclair Building and Loan Association, complainant, and David Eastman et als., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias, to me directed and delivered, I will expose for sale at public vendue, on between the hours of twelve and five o'clock in the afternoon of said day, that is to say, at two o'clock P. M., at the lower main hall of the Court House, in Elizabeth, Union County, New Jersey, all the following described lots, tracts or parcels of land and premises;

First Tract—Situate lying and being in the township of North Plainfield, in the county of Somerset and State of New Jersey, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a stone in the old road leading from Plainfield to the mountains (sometimes called Factory road,) and on the line of lot formerly known as Jacob Manning's mill lot, opposite wagon house formerly of T. Stead; thence south fifty-five degrees thirty-four minutes west thirty-four feet and three hundredths of a foot to a stone or a stake one link west of the south corner of T. Stead's wagon house; thence nearly parallel with the said road north three degrees five minutes west one hundred feet; thence north seventeen degrees west seventy-seven feet and five hundredths of a foot to a point opposite a stone in the middle of said old road, the northwest corner of the water cure lot and near a spring in the line of land formerly of Thomas Stead; running thence north to said stone at northwest corner of the water cure lot and along the north line of said water cure lot and said lot formerly of Thomas Stead north fifty-eight degrees four minutes east two hundred and thirty-four feet and eight hundredths of a foot to the end of a stone wall, being also a corner of said Thomas Stead formerly; thence south sixty eight degrees thirty-five minutes east two hundred and fifty-five feet and two hundredths of a foot along the land formerly of said stead to a stake and stone heap making a corner formerly for said stead and Benjamin Jennings; thence north sixty-one degrees ten minutes east seventy-eight feet along line of the mine lot and land formerly of said Jennings, more recently of Susan M. Smalley; thence south fifty-nine degrees twenty-four minutes east two hundred and sixty-three feet and three hundredths of a foot through land formerly of said Susan M. Smalley, and before that of said Jennings, to a point opposite the southeasterly line of said water cure lot; thence south thirty-eight degrees fifty minutes west four hundred and forty-one feet and six hundredths of a foot through said land of said Smalley, formerly of said Jennings, to said southeasterly line of the water cure lot at a stone, being a corner of land formerly of Randolph Dunham, and along said southeasterly line of the water cure lot and land formerly of said Dunham to a cedar tree in the line and passing the south side of a persimmon tree to a stone in the middle of the old raceway; thence with the middle of said raceway north fifty-seven degrees west two hundred and thirty-eight feet and seven hundredths of a foot to a stone in the middle of said raceway and line of land formerly of Manning, now or recently of Coddington; thence north forty-six degrees two minutes west one hundred and thirty-two feet and sixty-six hundredths of a foot; thence south fifty-five degrees thirty-four minutes west one hundred and eighteen feet and fourteen hundredths of a foot to a stone in the said Mountain or Factory road, and formerly Jacob Manning's, now or recently Coddington's corner; thence north three degrees eight minutes west ninety-nine feet and sixty five hundredths of a foot through said road to the point or place of beginning. Being the same premises conveyed to said Arra B. Eastman by Ann Sophia Chace and husband by deed of even date herewith and not yet recorded, this mortgage being given to secure a part of the purchase money in said deed mentioned.

The Second Tract—Situate, lying and being in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and the State of New Jersey, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the intersection of the northeasterly side of Netherwood avenue with the southeasterly side of Front street, as laid out and opened; thence running in a magnetic course of north thirty-three degrees twenty-seven minutes east along said southeasterly side of Front street a distance of three hundred and fifty-three feet and ninety-two hundredths of a foot ($53,92) to a point and corner of property formerly owned by Elias Cole (the third tract herein described;) thence along said Cole's line south forty-four degrees fifty-nine minutes east four hundred and thirty-five feet and thirty-five hundredths of a foot to a point in the northwesterly side of a new street as shown on map; thence south forty-four degrees fifty-five minutes west along said northwesterly side of said new street three hundred and forty-six feet and nine hundredths of a foot to a point in the northeasterly side of Netherwood avenue aforesaid; thence along said northeasterly side of Netherwood avenue north forty-five degrees five minutes west three hundred and sixty-five feet to the southeasterly side of Front street and place of beginning. Together with all the right, title and interest of the parties of the first part of, in and to so much of the public streets as lie in front of said premises to the centre lines thereof, being known and designated as block "A" on a map of lands of the Washington Fire Insurance Company.

The Third Tract is also situated in the city of Plainfield aforesaid, beginning at a point at the intersection of the centre line of East Front street and Leland avenue; thence running along the middle of Leland avenue in a course of south forty-seven degrees nineteen minutes east five hundred and seven feet and sixty-two hundredths of a foot to a stake and making a corner; thence south fifty-five degrees twelve minutes west two hundred and fifteen feet and seventy-five hundredths of a foot to a stake and the line of the tract last above described; thence along the line of said tract north forty-four degrees forty-three minutes west four hundred and sixty-eight feet and sixty-six hundredths of a foot to the centre line of East Front street at the corner of the tract last above described; thence along said centre line of East Front street north thirty-three degrees fifty-five minutes east one hundred and ninety-six feet and sixty-eight hundredths of a foot, more or less, to the place of beginning.

Together with all the right, title and interest of the said parties of the first part of, in and to so much of the public streets as lie in front of said premises to the centre lines thereof. Said second and third tracts being the same premises conveyed to said David Eastman by Felix Marx by deed dated June 30 1897, and recorded in book 323 of deeds for Union county, on pages 459, etc.

Dated May 12, 1899.

OUT OF DOOR ATTIRE.

Bicycle Gowns and Other Costumes For the Open Air.

Bicycle skirts are not lined, as that would increase their weight, and are made rather scant. On the inside of the hem a facing of leather is often placed. A deeper facing of silk may be employed when the skirt has a tendency to slip upward and cling there, as is sometimes the case with rough fabrics. For summer denim or heavy duck makes a cool and serviceable bicycle suit, which does not become wilted and stringy, like crash.

Trousers of the same color should be worn beneath a bicycle skirt, or tights of thin jersey cloth may be adopted instead. No petticoat is required—in fact, petticoats are to be avoided as useless and cumbersome.

The bodice for outing gowns is more varied than the skirt. It may be a bolero, which is frequently adopted now, or it may be a very short jacket, close at the back and sides and straight in front, or it may be a tight corsage, with the briefest possible basque, opening slightly at the throat to show he masculine collar and cravat. This last style is exceedingly fashionable, although unsuited for warm weather.

CLOTH CAPE.

The cape shown in the cut is of silver gray cloth, the shoulders and the part over the top of the arms being heavily corded. The seams are so arranged that sleeves are simulated, and lines of silver cord border the edge of the cape, above which is a vine of black and silver embroidery. The ruffled collar and the cravat are of black satin, and there is a trimming of black satin choux fastened by jeweled ornaments. The lining is of gray satin.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE WARDROBE.

Some of Its Leading Features This Season.

Berets, toques and hats of all sizes are seen, and there are symptoms of a revival of the directoire hat, with its high crown and large brim.

The bolero takes precedence of both coat and jacket in tailor made gowns and is preferred for the most elegant of this class of costume.

In spite of the general adoption of trailing skirts, the walking skirt of ordinary length is still worn, for its proper purpose, in Paris by the most fashionable women, who are fully aware of the inelegance of a trained skirt for active pedestrian exercise.

Many double skirts are seen, but they retain the clinging tendency and follow the lines of the figure closely. The ambition of the fashionable woman of the day is to suppress all feminine contours, decreasing the hips and flattening the bodice as much as possible, and then to incase herself in a costume which renders the absence of those contours noticeable. The result of such a course is to give a naturally thin figure the aspect of that of a saint in the worst of the pictures by the old masters, but a beautiful form will emerge triumphant from the trial, although it is not improved by such ascetic treatment.

CREPE GOWN.

The gown illustrated is of sulphur crepe de chine, the skirt having a band of white lace insertion over blue silk arranged in points. The stretched bodice is gathered at the waist and opens over a plastron crossed by bands of insertion over blue silk. The collar and revers are in one and are bordered with a ruffle of lace and a band of insertion over blue silk. The sleeves have little plaits at the shoulders and a frill of lace at the wrists. The belt is of blue silk.

TRAINING THE VOICE

DEVELOPMENT OF THE VOCAL CORDS A MATTER OF GYMNASTICS.

Instructions Which If Followed Will Ensure Good Results—Too Much Work Is Injurious—Something to be Avoided—When and How to Study.

The training of the voice is a question of gymnastics—even of pathology, says a well-known singer. The development of the vocal cords is as much a matter of gymnastics as the development of the arm or the leg or any muscle of the body. It would be impossible to give in detail a method that would fit all cases. You might as well try to train a painter by correspondence or expect a great doctor to treat and cure an illness without having ever seen the patient. The method of training must be modified in its application to each case. It must be adapted to special conformations in the individual.

But there are eternally true and important principles that must be observed in the training of the voice. I have seen them tried since my childhood in my mother's work. Through them I have heard small voices increased ugly voices made agreeable, broken voices saved, fine voices made marvellous and all trained to sing forever—unless some great illness rendered the singer entirely incapable.

What are the main rules that must be observed. First there is the emission of the sound. This must be by a precise but not shocked way of closing the vocal cords—what we call the attack of a single note. The sound must be definite, but not abrupt in its utterance.

In the second place there must be diaphragmatic breathing. The girl must breathe from the diaphragm. There is breathing from the upper part of the lungs, there is lateral breathing and there is diaphragmatic breathing. In the last method a full breath is taken, the diaphragm is pressed down and all parts of the lungs are inflated and the air is emitted in a full, firm column. The proper method of breathing is one of the very first things a girl must master.

A third important point is the training of the three registers in a woman's voice except in the case of contraltos, in which the third or upper register sometimes has not to be employed at all.

Nasal sounds must be avoided in singing. So must guttural sounds as well.

A girl must never practice one register or some notes separately. This does not give uniform and proper development. She must never work quickly, but all work must be done slowly and with a full voice. The exercises in this respect must be exactly like every other muscular exerno effort. The thing desired is to get a happy medium.

The pupil must not work much at a time. She must at first work by minutes, gradually increasing the time, but never singing more than half an hour a day with the full voice. Everything that can be done to improve can be done in half an hour's practice. Anything more merely tires, and a tired muscle never improves.

Always work with a full voice. Never hum and never shout.

The musical part of the work should be with the brain only. Never study a piece of music with the voice. Study it with the mind only until you know it thoroughly, then apply the voice, and always the full voice.

Remember that the voice is not a wooden box, like a piano, but a marvellous instrument created by God, of our own flesh and blood, of the essence of our brain and heart, and that with it we can best give expression to the feelings of the soul.

Trousseau in a Wishbone.

Probably the brightest idea of the holiday season was a brownie penwiper of a new type. The idea came clear from Wisconsin, where it was found at a rural fair.

The foundation for this novelty was a wishbone from a hen. A little black wax was added to the sides of the top to add symmetry to the head and to each end of the bone to make it stand level. A ballet skirt was then adjusted, hanging straight down from the neck and embroidered around the edge. A poked hat of the same material, edged with beads, was fastened to the head, two beads stuck into the wax for eyes, and the whole bone painted black.

The appearance of this wishbone brownie is then of a hen in the face, and a broad white binding ribbon bow or necktie finishes it off nicely. The young woman who conceived the idea added much to its popular sale by pasting this little verse on the front as a sort of breastplate:—

Once I was a wishbone
And grew upon a hen;
Now I am a little slave
And made to wipe your pen.

WISHBONE TROSSEAU.

She put about half a dozen of these upon the market about two weeks before Christmas, and there were so many demands for them she had to get help, and finally sold more than a thousand, with large profit to herself. The girl with the bright idea made enough money to buy herself a trousseau.

Berlin. Die Kriminalpolizei verhaftete einen unter dem Namen eines Lieutenants v. Bredow sich hier aufhaltenden Buchhalter, Willy Sehnisch, der zuletzt Buchhalter der Schweizerischen Baugesellschaft in Zürich war und von dort mit 23,500 Francs durchgegangen war. Von dem veruntreuten Gelde wurden nur noch ungefähr 4000 Mark bei ihm vorgefunden. — Ein wahnsinnig gewordener Auswanderer, ein Ruthene, der auf dem Bahnhof Ruhleben und später im Ruhlebener Gefangenhause im Zustande der Tobsucht arge Verwüstungen angerichtet hat, ist schließlich unter Begleitung von drei Wärtern nach der Grenze zurückgeschafft worden.—Im Grunewald, zwischen dem Wannsee und der Försterei Wannsee, ist beim Stubbenroden ein Geldschatz kleiner Leute, bestehend aus 361 Stück Groschen und Halbgroschen, gefunden und von der Regierung theils dem Münzkabinett, theils dem Märkischen Provinzialmuseum, gegen Zahlung des Finderlohnes an die betreffenden Arbeiter, überwiesen worden. Die Gepräge sind aus den Jahren 1771 bis 1786, die Vergrabung muß demnach um das Jahr 1790 erfolgt sein.

Alt-Heide. Fünf Maurer, welche von hier von der Arbeit kamen, wollten bei Karolinenhof über die Dahme setzen. Sie benutzten dazu in unvorsichtiger Weise ein kleines Boot, das alsbald kenterte, so daß die fünf Insassen in's Wasser fielen. Zweien gelang es, sich durch Schwimmen zu retten; die drei anderen jedoch ertranken. Es waren dies die Maurer Otto Schulz, Wilhelm Streichert, Hermann Wipke. Die Verunglückten waren sämmtlich Familienväter.

Rathenow. Hier, wo das Husaren-Regiment von Zieten (Brandenburgisches Nr. 3) in Garnison liegt, ist dieser Tage ein Denkmal des berühmten Reitergenerals Friedrichs des Großen, Hans Joachim von Zieten, enthüllt worden.

Stettin. Der von der Neptunwerft in Rostock für die Stettin-Rigaer Dampfschiffsgesellschaft Rud. Chr. Gribel gebaute neue Dampfer „Sedina" wurde unlängst in die Tourfahrt Stettin-Riga eingestellt. Die auf der Probefahrt erzielte mittlere Geschwindigkeit belief sich auf mehr als 12 Knoten, die Maximalgeschwindigkeit auf etwa 14 Knoten. Der neue Dampfer ist aus bestem Schiffsbaustahl erbaut, mit Eisverstärkung, fünf wasserdichten Querschotten und in der ganzen Länge mit doppeltem Boden versehen, hat Dampfsteuerung und durchweg elektrische Beleuchtung. Passagiereinrichtung ist für 35 Passagiere erster und 12 Passagiere zweiter Klasse vorhanden.

Stolp. Auf Anregung aus Bürgerkreisen wird dem verstorbenen Generalpostmeister v. Stephan hier in seiner Geburtsstadt ein Denkmal errichtet werden.

Provinz Posen.

Posen. Die Stadtverordneten bewilligten für die 1900 hier stattfindende Wanderausstellung der Deutschen Landwirthschaftsgesellschaft 10,000 Mark, für die heurigen Generalversammlungen der Gesellschaft zur Verbreitung der Volksbildung und des Deutschen Fleischerverbandes je 2000 Mark.—Die polnische Bank „Przemyslowcow" kaufte das Wilhelmsplatz 18 belegene Grundstück für 550,000 Mark. Es soll dort ein polnisches Vereinshaus erbaut werden.

THE PARISH SCHOOL.

GRAND AND NOBLE WORK OF THE CHRISTIAN BROTHERS.

The Praiseworthy Mission of the Order Founded by the Great Abbe La Salle—The Benefits of a Good, Practical Christian Education.

The work which has been done by the brothers of the Christian schools in the United States is certainly praiseworthy. Many of the clergy know full well what help the brothers have been in many of th larger parishes of the city. Their work of education has kept abreast with the public schools. Moreover, their labor in teaching the Christian doctrine has gone hand in hand with the priests and greatly assisted them in preparing the children for their first holy communion. The brothers not only give the boys a practical, solid education, but they send them forth into the world to grapple with the problems of life as conscientious, moral citizens. By work and example they embellish the minds and hearts of their pupils and prepare them for business, society and the home. Not a few of our citizens, too, have they fostered on the road of vocations to the church and the liberal professions.

No doubt the idea of this grand organization, the axiom of their rule—to do a great good to the greatest number of people—is surely grand and noble. Wherever the Christian brothers are established they generally succeed in educating both mind and heart. Though the work in many places is arduous, yet when persevered in success crowns their efforts.

To curtail the good work of such an excellent order would be wrong. Moreover, to deviate from the guiding star of their rule is certainly incompatible with the object of their founder, the great La Salle. Looking to the amelioration of the people, he conceived the idea of forming a brotherhood of Christian scholars, under the auspices of the church, to elevate the standard of education and morality. Rallying to his cause men of erudition and zeal for the honor and glory of God and the salvation of souls, La Salle established the main house of the new order in France, about the year 1679. The order was sanctioned by the sovereign pontiff, Benedict XIII. The object of the brothers of the Christian schools is not the teaching of the higher branches of science and literature—the classics, philosophy or theology—but the ordinary branches of education and the knowledge of Christian doctrine which are so necessary for the good citizen. The days of expansion have been growing ever since the foundation of our republic, and, though in a geographical point of view we might deem our growth sufficient, still in regard to the education of the masses we believe that the principles of La Salle will best subserve the needs of the people.

The various orders of the church, such as the Jesuits, the Benedictines and others, are amply able to carry on successfully the higher institutes of learning, which can only come within the reach of the minority. The larger field, and by far the most necessary for the people, is that tilled by the brothers of the Christian schools. Blessed be the memory of Abbe La Salle, who gave to us such a holy and wholesome order! To perpetuate his work every effort ought to be put forward to keep the order where it belongs—the rightful place for which it was established by its holy founder.

In these days of overeducation thousands are graduated every year from our public schools and have very little religion and no technical knowledge. Many of the schools aim very high, and the children grow up imbued with too lofty ideas. When they take leave of their alma mater, they consider themselves prepared for the higher positions of life. The fact is that many of our public schools cram the pupils with too many studies, and hence the little knowledge obtained is a dangerous thing.

The benefit of a good, practical and Christian education cannot be overestimated. Such a school is a necessity, together with the church, in every community. We send missionaries abroad and spend hundreds of thousands of dollars for the enlightenment of the heathen, while millions of people are within our very doors famishing for knowledge and the gospel. It appears to me that a propaganda could be established here at home with much profit. Our Catholic fellow citizens of the more wealthy classes could build monuments to their honor in the hearts of the people and before God by erecting schoolhouses in the country and placing them in charge of the Christian brothers. How much better Christians and citizens then would our boys become! They would be more loyal to God and country.

It makes my heart sad, yet it is an undoubted fact, that thousands of our Catholics are falling away from their holy faith for the want of a practical Christian education. I dare say that in some of the cities and in almost every country district throughout the continent of America there are many, very many, persons whose names indicate their Catholic ancestry, but they themselves have departed from their ancient holy religion. The words of the Saviour, "Go forth and teach all nations," should be better understood and obeyed right here at home. Moreover, the prelates of the American church in council assembled enjoined upon all the obligation of parish schools. What is being done to carry out this good work? Many zealous pastors, indeed, with the aid of some Catholic laymen, are doing very well and having flourishing schools. The majority, however, in some cities and in most of the country districts have no schools at all. While the higher institutions of learning are fostered and flourishing we should not neglect to provide schools for the poor.—Rev. J. J. Kennedy in Donahoe's Magazine.

NEW POEM BY THE POPE.

Pope Leo XIII on the occasion of his ninetieth birthday, just before his recent severe illness, wrote some beautiful hexameters in Latin, addressed to the nuns, of which the following are the original and a translation:

IN VIRGINES DEO DEVOTAS.

Christus adest—dulcique suas vos nomine spensas
Dicere Christus amat, sancto sibi fœdere junctus.
Is, procul a strepitu, fida statione quietam,
Insontem vobis tribuit traducere vitam;
Vos ibi, ceu septo fragrantia lilia campo,
Floretis, large donis cœlestibus auctæ.
Instruat insidias satan, artesque malignas,
Terreat objecta dubias formidine mentes;
Præsens e cælo properat succurrere Jesus;
Ad pugnam trepidas divino robore firmat.
Tum vos Ipse novo ferventius ardet amore;
Intima reludit sacri penetralia Cordis.
Mira demulcens animos dulcedine. Tandem
Emensas cursum feliciter atque fideles,
Dum iam mors instat, festivus et ore benigne
Obvius occurrens, supremo munere donat:
E tristi exilio cœlestibus inserit oris,
Æternamque fabet divina laræ beari.

THE MAIDENS CONSECRATE.

Lo, Christ is nigh, and his delight it is
To greet you as his spouses—sweetest name—
Who by a holy pact to him are pledged.
Far from the clamor he has given you
Within the peaceful precincts of your cells
To lead a blameless life. You blossom there
Like fragrant lilies in a garden close.
Let satan spread his nets and baleful arts,
And with his frown the timid mind o'erawe;
Jesus, who ever guards, shall fly to aid
And make the weakest powerful in the fray.
Then shall he make your love more ardent glow
And shield you closer in his sacred heart,
Your souls with wondrous sweetness gladdening.
And when at length your happy course is run,
And to you faithful ones death shows himself,
All beaming and with visage mild and kind,
Our Lord shall give you his supremest gift;
From your dear exile he shall lead you then
To the celestial shore and bid you there
Be ever blessed with the light divine.

When Faith Is Lost.

In Italy they are lamenting the fact that the carnival has died out. The circumstances of Italy may to some extent account for its disappearance. Where there is great want there cannot be much gayety of heart. But this extinction of joy is not confined to Italy alone. It may be said in truth that wherever the simple, earnest Catholic faith has suffered there gloom has set in. England is no longer "Merrie England." The records of the people tell of dissatisfaction with life, of crimes, of anything but genuine pleasure. Light hearted, pure enjoyment cannot be purchased by money. In the United States it is the same tale. There is vast wealth, but terrible discontent, taking all the sunshine out of existence. Even Ireland is fast losing its happy jollity. Here is matter for the philosopher and the sociologist. Why is the race becoming more solemn and unhappy? It seems to us it is all because life is becoming more earthly and material. With the loss of faith the golden hues are fading from the horizon.—London Catholic Times.

Live For Something.

Thousands of people breathe, move and live, pass off the stage of life and are heard of no more. Why? They do not a particle of good in the world, and none was blessed by them; none could point to them as the instrument of their redemption. Not a line they wrote, not a word they spoke, could be recalled, and so they perished—their light went out in darkness, and they were not remembered more than the insects of yesterday. Will you thus live and die? Live for something. Do good and leave behind you a monument of virtue that the storms of time can never destroy. Write your name, by kindness, love and mercy, on the hearts of the thousands you come in contact with year by year, and you will never be forgotten. No; your name, your deeds, will be as legible on the hearts you leave behind as the stars on the brow of evening. Good deeds will shine as bright on the earth as the stars of heaven.

Politeness Costs Nothing.

Every one who is trying to lead a good life should also try to lead a winsome and a courteous one. By abandoning gentleness of disposition and graciousness of word and deed he throws away a means of growth and an effective weapon. Coarse Christians little know how often they play into the enemy's hands.

The Best Possession.

Since in possessing you we possess all, if we had nothing else, and in not possessing you we have nothing if we had all the rest, O my God, I will love you that I may possess you upon earth, and I will possess you that I may love you one day in heaven!—Abbe Joseph Roux.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Bishop James A. Healy of Portland, Me., has just celebrated his seventieth birthday.

Bishop Silas Chatard of Indianapolis is at the home of his brother, in Baltimore, recovering from a recent stroke of paralysis.

The Right Rev. William Henry Elder, archbishop of the Cincinnati diocese, recently celebrated the eightieth anniversary of his birth.

The Rev. Thomas H. Shahan, rector of the Church of the Sacred Heart, Malden Center, Mass., will on July 2 observe the fiftieth anniversary of his priesthood.

The Rev. James T. O'Reilly, O. S. A., rector of St. Mary's church, Lawrence, Mass., celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood on April 5.

The Rev. James F. Loughlin, D. D., chancellor of the archdiocese of Philadelphia and vice president of the Catholic Summer school, near Plattsburg, N. Y., has received the title of monsignore.

The Rev. Father John J. McDonnell, rector of St. Peter's Catholic church of Saratoga, N. Y., and one of the prominent clergymen of the Albany diocese, dropped dead of heart disease on the floor of his study in the church rectory on April 12. His nephew, Rev. Father Greene, who was with him at the time, administered the last rites of the church.

COME BACK.

"Won't you change your mind, Maud?"

"It is too late to change. The dogcart is at the door."

"What does that matter? It can go back to the stables. I wish you would."

"My dear Jack, do not add inconsistency to my other faults. Goodness knows the list of them is long enough in your estimation."

The speakers were a man and a woman, both young, and both good to look upon. She was very pretty and very young, but her mouth was set in a hard line and there was defiance in her eyes. The man stood in front of her, looking at her anxiously, and mingled with the cawing of the rooks overhead came the sound of a horse's hoofs, impatiently pawing the gravel in front of the hall door. Truly the dogcart was waiting.

Jack Rodney gave a sigh which was almost a groan, then drew himself up and squared his shoulders with the involuntary action of a man who has to say something unpleasant and who hates the task.

"Very well, Maud. I can say no more. It is evident we cannot go on like this. Our lives are burdens to us, and soon people will begin to notice that we are not on friendly terms. Perhaps when I am away you will think better of me. I may not irritate you so much. You know, I only speak to you for your own good."

"You preach—you don't speak."

"Maud!"

"Oh, don't let us argue. I am sick of it."

"And of me, too, I suppose? Well, then, good-by, if you will have it so. I have left a note for you on the boudoir table. Will you kiss me?"

"No. It is stupid to be hypocritical, and there are no onlookers."

With another sigh the man turned away, and without one backward glance walked to where the dogcart stood in readiness, took the reins and in a minute the sound of a horse's swift trot was heard down the gravel drive.

Maud Rodney sat quite still where her husband had left her until the faintest sounds had died away. Then she rose and pulled a rose from a tree as she passed, but it fell to pieces as she gathered it, and a thorn scratched her finger. After all, it was as well that Jack had gone to Norway. They were always quarreling, and he never let her do as she liked. She had been so spoiled at home that she could not brook the slightest contradiction; besides, she wanted to show him how independent she was and how well she could do without him.

It was getting cold, and she shivered. Where was her warm cloak, which Jack always wrapped around her when the dew was falling. The maid would bring it. She went to the house to summon her. As she passed through the open French window into the boudoir she thought of the note left for her by her husband.

"Another lecture, I suppose," she muttered, as she broke the seal. It contained a blank check and a short note, which said:

"My Darling Wife—You can fill up the inclosed for any amount you like. Do not deny yourself during my banishment, and try to recall me as soon as you can. You know how much I love you. Yours ever, JACK."

She twisted the letter about in her fingers, and the corners of her mouth drooped as those of a child about to cry, but she forced back the tears and tried to tell herself she was a woman of spirit.

Wrapping a shawl round her, she went again into the dusky garden and wandered down a long green alley, with tall white foxgloves bordering it on either side. They looked uncanny in the dim light, and the groups of pale blossoms in the distance seemed to take queer shapes and to bend and wave like fantastic spirit forms made misty by the darkness. It was so horribly still and yet the throb of the night beat like a silent pulse in the air. Two white owls flew over her head and startled her with their mournful cry, and surely—yes surely—there in the distance under the shadow of the trees was the crouching form of a man. Mrs. Rodney's heart sank into her boots, and with a cry of "Jack, Jack!" she turned and fled. Footsteps followed fast behind her, and like a flash the thought went through her mind that she was left defenceless.

"Jack, come back! Oh, come back!" was her voiceless cry as she felt her strength going and feet flagging, but as she turned the corner she saw a maidservant running toward her. She paused to gain breath, and then went on. A happy thought flashed through her mind. Her husband had returned. She would never be wilful again.

"Your master—has he come back?" she gasped.

The woman nodded, but said nothing.

At the hall door a group of people were standing, and their faces looked pale and terrified. She heard murmurs of "The horse fell," "pitched on his head," "all over in a moment," and with an icy fear in her heart she rushed into the hall. A man held up his hand for silence.

On a low couch lay a still form, with a handkerchief over the face. With trembling hands she lifted it and saw her husband, quite white, quite still. He had come back, yet not he, but a lifeless form, an outward semblance only of the man she had loved, yet banished. And then she knew that she was indeed alone. And yet the world would go on just the same, the flowers bloom, the birds sing and morning and night dawn and darken, making up a round of weary years, while only God and her own heart would know the despairing bitterness of her cry, "Come back!"

STEWART ARRESTED.

His Company Duped Calvary Baptist Church Out of $240.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New York, May 25—G. Percival Stewart, the apparent head of the Financial Agency Company at No. 145 Nassau street, was again arrested last night. A detective from this city, assisted by three Hoboken policemen, made the arrest at Meyer's Hotel, Hoboken, on a charge of swindling.

With him were taken in three men who gave their names as Robert A. Cameron, a lawyer, of 325 Carlton avenue, Brooklyn; Daniel J. Pierce, a druggist, of No. 675 Quincy street, Brooklyn; and Edwin C. Barr, a real estate agent, of No. 51 Pierrepont street, Brooklyn.

Pierce and his companions are the ones who secured the $240 from the Calvary Baptist church, of Plainfield, in anticipation of a loan of $5,000 being made to the latter. Doubtless some action will be taken by the church and those connected with negotiating the loan to secure restitution from Steward now that he has been apprehended.

Suing for a Balance.

Annie Staunton, a servant, formerly employed in the family of George L. and Adelaide Howard, of the borough, has sued her former employers for a small balance she claims due her on her wages. Miss Staunton went to the Howard place April 22d, and stayed a full month. She says she was to receive $16 a month, and that when she left Mrs. Howard only paid her $10. The case is returnable before Justice Mattison. Murphy & Blatz are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

Hurt Getting Off a Train.

John Gallagher, aged 40 years, a farmer, is now detained at the hospital on account of a few cuts he received in attempting to get off the 1:17 train yesterday morning at the North Avenue station. Gallagher was coming from Elizabeth to Plainfield to look for work. His injuries are not serious and he will leave the hospital in a few days.

PICKPOCKETS AT WORK.

RELIEVES SEVERAL PEOPLE OF COIN AT THE CIRCUS.

One Man Lost $65 and Two Others $14 and $18 Each—Police Were Not Notified — Thieves Not Apprehended.

There were several persons who attended LaPearl's circus last evening, that are poorer today than they were previous thereto, as the pickpocket got in his good work in a slick manner. Among those who suffered losses were former Chief Marshal J. W. VanHorn, of the borough, and Samuel Moore, of this city. The former lost $18 and the latter $16. They did not discover their losses until after they had left the circus and were on their way home. The heaviest loser was a Plainfielder who had $65 lifted from his pocket.

There were a number of others, but they did not report their losses to Captain Grant. This morning inquiries were made among the police about the matter and they stated that the matter had not been reported to them. It is not likely that the thieves will be captured.

DEATH OF MISS DOYLE.

Consumption the Cause of Death—She Was 25 Years of Age.

The many friends of Miss Delia Doyle will be shocked to learn of her death which occurred last evening at 11:30 o'clock at her home, No. 601 Richmond street, after an illness covering a period of several months. Death was due to consumption.

Miss Doyle was about 25 years of age, and since her illness she was not confined to the house all the time. Only yesterday afternoon she was sitting on the porch at her home. She was a young woman of many excellent qualities and she had a host of friends who will mourn her death. For several years she was employed at Mr. Thorn's laundry on East Third street.

She leaves a mother, Mrs. William Dagnall, three sisters, Mrs. Wm. Townley, Mrs. Fred Breem, Miss Nora Doyle, and two brothers, Larry Doyle and John Doyle. Larry Doyle is a student at Seton Hall College. The other relatives reside in this city.

The funeral will be held from her late residence Saturday at 8:30 a. m. and from St. Mary's church at 9:30, where a requiem high mass will be said for the repose of her soul.

Worked the Chiefs' Degree.

The chiefs' degree was given to eight men at the meeting of Paughcaughnaughsinque Tribe of Red Men last night. Past Sachem Holstein, of Central Lodge, was present, and spoke. He also assisted in the ceremony of raising the chiefs. An invitation has been received from Ahander Tribe, of New Brunswick, to visit them June 2d. The invitation will be accepted. Two propositions for membership were also received.

An Improved Residence.

One of the most noticeable improvements made in the borough is at the home of Henry A. McGee at the corner of Orchard place and Willow avenue, where Mr. McGee has had his fence removed and four heavy stone tiers erected at the entrances to his grounds. The work is done in an expert manner and has attracted considerable attention. The stone was furnished by Henry Rogers, of Washingtonville, and is of the best.

Fun Enough for All.

A visit is expected tonight at Central Lodge, A. O. U. W., from Deputy Grand Master Workman Cadmus, of Bayonne. The good and welfare committee has made preparations for a good time, and as six new members will be received and two more will be initiated, there will be fun enough for all.

On the Streets Too Much.

Ruth Moore, aged fifteen years, was arrested last night at 7 o'clock because she spends too much time on the streets. This morning Judge Runyon gave her a severe lecture on the need of behaving herself better, and letting her go.

Improved Church Grounds.

Stone flagging has been laid in front and about the new parsonage of Grace M. E. church, and the improvement is a notable one. The grounds about the new parsonage have been graded and put in fine condition.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard street, Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." So will everyone who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1.00. Water Strata Near the Surface.

The cause of water filling up the sewer pipes on Richmond street was not the leakage from the water supply pipes, but the nearness of the water strata to the surface of the earth.

A THRILLING EPISODE.

Story of the Famous Expedition Against the Sioux.

When the committee of Porto Ricans met Gen. Guy V. Henry in the palace at San Juan, the members saw that the face of their new Governor bore many scars. There was a bullet hole through each cheek, the bridge of the nose was broken, and the left eye seemed dull and colorless. To them it was possibly a disfigurement, but to the men who served with Henry in '76 each scar spoke of a thrilling episode in that famous expedition against the Sioux in the Big Horn and Yellowstone country, when the "troopers of the yellow stripes" taught the hostiles a lasting lesson.

In that expedition Col. Guy V. Henry was in charge of the second battalion of the Third Cavalry, which formed part of Gen. Crook's command. One June morning, while the troops were camping for breakfast in a little ravine, the outpickets rushed back with the startling announcement that the Sioux were coming in force. There was barely time to sound "Boots and Saddles" when the heights about the valley swarmed with the savages. Within twenty minutes a pitched battle was in progress, the Indians, of whom there were several thousand, coming down from the ridge in a series of desperate charges.

During the height of the combat one portion of the American line under Captain Vroom was pushed out beyond its support, and was being punished severely, the hostiles getting between it and the main body. Col. Henry, seeing the peril threatening his brother officer, sent his command pell-mell to the rescue. Just as they swept upon the Indians with uplifted sabres, a flying bullet struck Col. Henry in the face, tearing through both cheeks, breaking the ridge of the nose and completely severing the left optic nerve.

The force of the wild rush carried him on, but he was seen to sway in the saddle. A trooper near him called out hoarsely:

"Are you struck, sir?"

Gripping the pommel tightly with one hand Col. Henry tried to wave his sword.

"On, on!" he gasped. "Charge"——

Then he lurched, and in an instant he was lost to sight in the swirling dust. The loss of their leader caused a temporary panic among the soldiers, but they soon rallied, and, after driving off the Indians, they searched for their Colonel. He was found covered with blood, but as they picked him up they saw that life still remained. He was placed upon a blanket in the shade and everything possible was done to aid him. It was then that one of the other officers condoled with him, saying:

"Colonel, this is too bad. It is too bad!"

And it was then that Henry, suffering agony and barely able to articulate, whispered simply:

"It's nothing. It's what we are here for."

TRAINED NURSES ARE GRADUATED.

Exercises Held in the Crescent Avenue Chapel Last Night.

THE TRAINING OF A NURSE.

AN INTERESTING PAPER READ BY MISS STEWART.

Samuel Huntington, President of the Board of Governors of the Hospital, Presided, and Spoke of the Growth of the Institution—Short Address by Dr. Carman K—Badges Presented by W. M. Saunders.

The writer of a recent magazine article says: "By taking up the profession of nursing, woman has made herself the 'ministering angel' of humanity, in a higher, a nobler and more truly helpful sense than she ever was in the days before her emancipation." That the people of Plainfield agree with this statement is shown in the general interest taken in the training school for nurses connected with Muhlenberg Hospital; and one more proof of it was given in the large attendance at the graduating exercises of the training school class of '99, which were held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, last evening.

The platform of the chapel was hung with American flags and decorated with flowers. The graduates and a number of the other hospital nurses, together with the matron, Miss Moss, entered in the procession and took their seats on the platform. Samuel Huntington, president of the Board of Governors of the hospital, presided.

The programme began with a selection from the cantata "Belschazzar," "O God of Our Father," sung by Elmer E. Runyon and a number of the members of Grace P. E. church choir, accompanied by Mrs. Freeman, after which Rev. A. H. Nickerson, of All Souls' church, led in prayer. Mr. Huntington then spoke briefly of the work and the needs of the hospital. He said that since its foundation it had steadily increased in usefulness, but that the limit of its usefulness under the present conditions was almost, if not quite, reached.

A violin solo, Haendel's "Largo," by Miss Cornelia Hyatt, accompanied by her sister, Miss Emma Hyatt, was the next number on the programme. Miss Nettie Elsie Stewart, one of the graduating class, was then introduced, and read an interesting paper telling something of the training of a nurse and giving reasons why better training be received in a small school than in a large one. With regard to the training received in Muhlenberg Hospital, she said that the work of the first year was somewhat elementary, consisting chiefly of hard work; the second year the students were given the care of private patients, and assisted in the dispensary and in preparing supplies, the third year came work in the operating room and private work. In a small school, she said, the student receives more all-round work than is possible where there is a very large class, and is therefore better fitted for taking all kinds of cases.

The two graduates, Miss Nettie Elsie Stewart and Miss Louisa Olive Gould, were now presented with their diplomas by Mr. Huntington. They also received a large number of bouquets and other gifts. Another selection from "Belshazzar," "Brightly Gleaming," was sung by Harry Messersmith, soloist, and a quartette composed of Miss Clara Woodward, Miss Eleanor VanDeventer, Laurens VanBuren and Arthur Freeman.

Dr. Carman, as a representative of the medical staff of the hospital, then delivered a short address. He spoke of the narrow field once open to women obliged to earn their livelihood, and contrasted it with the present, when women are succeeding so well in law, theology, medicine and many other professions. Of the noble work of a nurse he spoke in the highest terms, and ended with a tribute to the earnestness, diligence and spirit of service shown by the students at Muhlenberg. The trained nurses badge was then presented to the graduates by W. M. Saunders, on behalf of the Board of Governors, with a few words of congratulation, closing with the hope that the red cross on the badge might prove always the trade mark of a good nurse.

The exercises were closed by another selection by the choir, "We All Give Thanks," also from the cantata. An informal reception was held, at which the graduates received many congratulations from their friends. Refreshments were then served in the tea-room on the lower floor.

Dr. Hecht, of Somerville, was in Plainfield yesterday on business.

A STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL

SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR GIVEN IN THE TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.

Church Rooms Arranged in a Pleasing Manner—Many Attractions—The Affair Will be Continued Tonight.

What's in a name? is a question that is often asked, but when the announcement was made that the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church was going to give a strawberry and ice cream festival it implied more than the name. This earnest body of Christian women, ever ready to respond to a call for assistance in the church, do so nobly whenever a request for financial assistance is made. The festival was planned for yesterday afternoon and evening and this afternoon and evening to be held in the lecture room of the church, and the usual grand success is attending the efforts of the members. With an eye that is trained for artistic design and hands that can produce the desired effects, the women are accomplishing in part the object for which the affair is held. This society is an indispensable one in the church, and those who have the management of it appreciate beyond the expression of words the value of this body of women.

The rooms where the festival is held are made very attractive in a plain, but effective manner. In the main room there are arranged in a pleasing and convenient way ten tables. These tables are decorated in a simple style through the use of potted plants and ferns, while here and there is to be seen a banquet lamp that adds additional brilliancy to the general effect. At these tables strawberries that are delicious, ice cream that is cooling, cake that is toothsome, and coffee that is refreshing, is served by the waitresses in charge, who are the Misses Grace Emmons, Jeanette Simpson, Maude E. VanDyke, Grace Rowland, Jennie Quick, Nettie Young, Bessie Martin, Martie Anthony and May VanFleet.

In addition to this feature there are other attractions. There is a candy table where the finest home-made candies are sold. The demand for these sweets are great and Miss Minnie Williams, assisted by Miss Grace Smith, were kept busy last night attending to their customers. The cake table is also a centre of attraction, and here the best of home-made cakes are sold by Mrs. Paul, Mrs. P. A. Emmons, Mrs F. VanLiew and Mrs. Seaman Williams.

Naturally, after having been to the refreshment table, and partaken of the candies and cake, one is thirsty, and a good place to go is to the lemonade table, where Mrs. Henry VanName, Mrs. B. B. Rogers and Mrs. Hall are ready to serve lemonade, which is attested to by those who have tried it.

Another attractive place is the flower table, where a choice assortment of beautiful flowers are displayed for sale. Mrs. J. C. VanDyke is in charge and she has no trouble in disposing of her stock. There is one table that is eagerly sought by many, and that is where aprons are sold. Mrs. O W. Dunham succeeds admirably in selling the various kinds.

Still another attraction is the music. Last evening Andrew Carpenter's orchestra, consisting of Mr. Carpenter, Martin Korff and Nathan Guttman was present and rendered pleasing selections which added greatly to the enjoyment of the affair.

The attendance last evening was large, and many attended during the afternoon. As stated the affair will be continued this afternoon and evening when it is hoped the attendance will be large.

To the general committee in charge of the festival is due great credit for the success attained. Mrs. E. H. Bird is chairman, and her corps of assistants are Mrs. P. M. Demarest, Mrs. John H. Krymer, Mrs. Robert Clark, Jr., Mrs. S. C. Baker, Mrs. H. W. Marshall, Mrs. Frank A. Church, Mrs. Seaman Williams and Mrs. Edward VanWinkle.

Improving the Landscape

The handsome new residence of E. H. Ladd, Jr., corner of Field and Stelle avenues, is attracting a great deal of attention on account of the somewhat expensive work of grading about the grounds which is now about completed. The work includes the laying of sidewalk, curb and gutter stone, while the grounds around the property is laid out in the more artistic manner. The work was done by John Wierenga, the landscape gardner, and adds greatly to the general attractiveness of the handsome property in that vicinity.

No Contagious Diseases.

According to the statements of the borough and city health inspectors there is not a contagious case of disease in either place.

BICYCLIST CRASHED INTO TROLLEY CAR.

A Wonder That George Bartle Was Not Killed.

WAS BADLY HURT, THOUGH.

SPURTED OUT FROM BEHIND LOAD OF HAY INTO CAR.

It Was Thought at First That the Bicyclist Had Been Killed, but an Examination of His Injuries Showed That They Were Not so Bad—Suffered From the Shock—Bartle Was to Blame.

What might have been a fatal accident was narrowly averted yesterday afternoon on West Front street opposite Liberty street. Geo. Bartle, 24 years of age, was riding east on his wheel toward home. He was behind a load of hay and was travelling fast when he decided to pass the load of hay. He had just started to pass the hay when a trolley car going west appeared and the rider and the car came together with a terrible crash.

It was thought at first that the young man was killed and people nearby who saw the accident shut their eyes with fear and trembling, thinking surely that the rider was killed. The car was stopped as quickly as possible, and assistance was rendered the young man. He was carried to one side and his wheel, almost a wreck, was taken care of. Bartle was carried to his home, and Dr. Buchanan, of the borough, was immediately called. He found upon examination that Bartle's head was cut in several places which necessitated the taking of a few stitches. There were also a few cuts about the face and a cut on the knee. So far as the physician was able to determine he did not think that the scalp was fractured, and he did not think the young man's condition serious. He suffered greatly from shock and it was sometime before his condition in this respect grew better.

Those who saw the accident are inclined to blame Bartle for using such poor judgment and in not knowing that the road was clear before trying to pass the load of hay. That he was not killed is considered miraculous by those acquainted with the facts in the case.

CAME ON THE "ANNIE R."

Merry Party of Brunswickers Enjoyed a Dinner at the Revere House.

A merry party from New Brunswick came over here in the parlor car "Annie R," owned by the Brunswick Traction Co., last night, and took dinner at the Revere House. There were about twenty in the party, and they alighted from the car at Fourth street, and walked from there to the hotel. The car was taken to the car house, where it waited until 12 o'clock when the party returned home.

Those in the party were Albert R. Montalvo, W. D. Morrison, W. D. Rice, Benjamin F. Coriell, G. Johnson, Dr. Benjamin Guttman, William Morrison, J. E. Clayton, the Misses Voorhees, Painter, Morrison, Weishman, Hunt, Barr and Whitlock.

A Pleasant Evening.

The home of Mr. Burroughs on Clinton avenue was the scene of youthful gayety last evening when a number of young people, responding to the kind invitation of the host, assembled and were musically entertained with violin solos by Mr. Burroughs. Schumann's nocturne, "The Breathings of Spring," was feelingly rendered by Miss Miner, who is a member of the First Presbyterian church choir. C. M. Hummer was unanimously considered a most efficient accompanist.

Willing to Celebrate.

At the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., last evening, a committee was appointed to confer with the general committee that meets June 6th to arrange for the Fourth of July celebration. The council also accepted an invitation to Scotch Plains Decoration Day to attend the flag raising at that place.

Fountain to Cost $400.

The members of the Loyal Temperance Legion are now busily engaged in collecting money with which they expect to erect a public drinking fountain that is to cost $400 when completed.

Over $500 Profit.

The net profits of the "Mother Goose" sale, given by the Guild of the Church of the Redeemer last week, is announced as over $500, a very gratifying amount for the ladies and all who labored so hard for the success of the sale.

MRS. WALZ DEAD IN SWITZERLAND.

The News Causes a Shock to Her Relatives.

WAS THOUGHT TO BE WELL.

TRAVELING WITH HUSBAND FOR BENEFIT OF HIS HEALTH.

The Untimely End Occured Yesterday at Vevay, Switzerland—Her Son, Fred Walz, Will Sail Tomorrow to Join His Afflicted Relatives—Mrs. Walz Was Active in the Crescent Avenue Church Circles.

The community was shocked this morning when the sad news of the sudden death of Mrs. E. L. Walz, of LaGrande avenue, reached this city from Vevay, Switzerland, where she and her husband and daughter were travelling for the benefit of Mr. Walz's health. Death, which occurred yesterday, was due to asthma, from which disease Mrs. Walz had been a great sufferer. The news of death was received late yesterday afternoon by a son, Fred Walz, who informed the relatives and friends. Tomorrow Mr. Walz will sail for Bremen, where he expects to join his father and sister, who are prostrated by the passing away of Mrs. Walz. The family expect to return home as quickly as possible and the remains will be brought to this city for interment.

The death of Mrs. Walz removes from this city a woman of rare quality and influence in a large circle in which she moved. She was a person greatly devoted to charitable enterprizes, and in the Crescent Avenue church, where she was a member, she was deeply interested in every department of the church work. Her sympathies were always with those less fortunate than others, and she was always ready and willing to give to the needy. She was a woman of rare devotion in the home, where she exhibited the greatest possible love for all.

Mrs. Walz's death was very sudden, and although she had suffered from asthma her death was entirely unexpected. In fact, when the news reached Plainfield it was at first thought there was a mistake, for Mr. Walz's health was very poor and it was for that reason the family went abroad. The latter has been in extreme poor health for sometime, and the death of his son, Carl Walz, greatly affected him. It is now stated that since travelling abroad his condition is not much improved. The death of his wife no doubt will be a severe blow to him, and his relatives fear that he may break down.

Mrs. Walz was 54 years of age. She was formerly a Miss Abbie M. Lewis, daughter of William B. Lewis, of Brooklyn. She was born in Brooklyn, and has been a resident of Plainfield about twenty-five years. A husband, E. L. Walz, a daughter, Miss Gertrude Walz, and two sons, Frederick Walz, of this city, and Rev. Louis Walz, a missionary who lives in the south, include the immediate family that survives her. There are also two sisters, Mrs. Frank A Barnaby, of this city, and Mrs. VanAgied, of Roselle, and a brother, Daniel F. Lewis, of Brooklyn

THE BULLET FOUND.

Piece of Lead Followed the Rib for Thirteen Inches.

The physicians in charge were successful this morning in locating and extracting the bullet that entered Miss Alida Messler, the attempted suicide. It was found between the muscles in the back nearly opposite the wound made in the chest. An examination showed that the piece of lead had followed a rib for a distance of thirteen inches to the lodging place in the back. Miss Messler still continues to improve, but it will be several days before she will leave the hospital. She does not have anything to say, and expresses no opinion one way or the other.

Young Veterans to Parade.

The soldiers and sailors of the late war held a meeting last night in the G. A. R. rooms and made their final plans for the parade next Tuesday. They will be divided into two platoons, one of which will be in charge of Charles Peterson and the other in charge of George Bolsterle. Just what position the men will be given in line of march is not known yet, but there was some talk of placing them behind the Sons of Veterans.

Been Here Half a Century.

John M. Schorb, of East Front street, is celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of his arrival in this country from Barden, Germany, when only about thirty years of age. Mr. Schorb is still active and smart, and is celebrating the day quietly surrounded by his family.

TOUR TO HOLY LAND WAS A PLEASANT ONE.

It was Severe at Periods, but Withal Very Enjoyable.

BOOK TO BE WRITTEN ON IT.

EACH MEMBER OF PARTY WILL WRITE A CHAPTER IN IT.

Italian Trip on the Return was Especially Pleasant—Some of the Party Left in Europe—Mr. Honeyman Says the Party was Most Genial One He Ever Arranged—A Fine Ocean Voyage.

The memers of the Honeyman party, who arrived home Wednesday by the steamship Aller, have been kept pretty busy letting their friends know of the incidents of their homeward trip, and summing up their impression of the tour as a whole.

The ocean voyage home was pleasant for the first five days, and exceedingly unpleasant the seven following days, when there were gales, cross-seas and rains, and when the Aller constantly pitched and rolled. Some of the more timid expected the ship to go to the bottom, but there was no period of real danger. There were only sixty first and second cabin passengers, and about 805 in the steerage. As a consequence there was plenty of upper deck room and no delay in service.

The return Palestine party consisted of twelve, six having been left in Europe, two in Italy and four in Venice. Of the twelve two only—two ladies—were seasick. Besides the usual amusements on deck, the party had with them a selected library of books of descriptive travel and history on the lands they had visited, some seventy volumes, and these were read and digested and aided to fix permanently the impressions.

To a Press reporter Mr. Honeyman stated that he had never taken out a party whose personnel was more pleasant or whose social intercourse more delightful than this. There was not a fault found, nor a harsh word spoken by one to another so far as he can recall during the entire trip. Each one found a place in the other's heart, and all were loathe to separate at New York.

The Italian tour on the return was especially pleasant. The weather was fine and Venice and Florence were seen at their best. The archæological lecturer at Rome, Prof. Reynaud, was at their disposal during all their visit there, and few things concerning the Palatine Hill, the Forum, or contiguous historical spots were left unseen or unexplained. The party had the rare good fortune to hear the Pope's bull, proclaiming the year 1900 as a year of Jubilee, read by a Cardinal in the vestibule of St. Peter's—the first bull issued within twenty five years; and saw for the first time in that period the great bronze doors opened to mark the Jubilee and walked through them.

The members of the party have divided up the work between them of preparing chapters for a book which will describe the whole trip. Such a book has been usually issued annually after each summer trip. This will relate solely to the '99 Palestine tour. It is to be printed only for private ciruiation among the party and their friends.

Mr. Honeyman's next tour is June 29th to Europe.

CHASE FOR IMAGINARY BURGLAR.

Things Found Wide Open at Loizeaux's Lumber Yard.

Roundsman Frederickson, Patrolman McCarthy and Thomas O'Gorman had a hot chase after an imaginary burglar last night around the Loizeaux lumber yard near Richmond street. The watchman in Fred Chase's factory notified the officers about 11 o clock that he saw some one prowling around the yard and office, and this caused a sudden exodus to the vicinity of the yard.

What was their surprise, when reaching the office, to find all the windows and door open, and the key of the safe still in the door, where it had evidently been left at night. They did not suspect at first that Mr. Loizeaux had left the place open, but suspected that burglars had broken in and were even then hiding near.

A search of the entire yard showed no trace of them, however, and the searchers concluded that the proprietor had gone away and left things wide open himself.

A Mistake in Names

It was Sheridan Jones, of the borough, who was arrested a few days ago for being drunk and disorderly, and not Caesar Taylor, as published. The latter says he has never been arrested.

THREE WOMEN FRAUDS.

ORGANIZED AID ASSOCIATION GIVES WARNING.

Pitiable Stories They Tell, but They are Said to be Fictitious and Only Designed to "Work" Soft-hearted People.

The Organized Aid Association has been informed of the presence in Plainfield of three or more women who have become a nuisance to citizens. Public begging is both illegal and unnecessary, as all worthy cases of destitution are assisted through the legitimate channels. The public is therefore notofied to be on its guard against a heavily built woman, between forty and fifty years of age, having brown eyes and hair, and generally pleasing face. She asks for money with which to pay her fare to Westfield or Cranford from whence she purposes to proceed to Newark. She has worn recently a dark wo len hood or nubia. He record suggests a habit of pilfering.

The public is warned against encouraging a tall woman of medium build who limps and whose hair is streaked with grey. She asks for money with which to go south, or to buy a sewing machine, or to secure admission to a home. Her age is about fifty. She is charged with obtaining money on false pretenses.

The last beggar to guard against is also a woman of about fifty. She usually dresses in black, has a nervous quick gait, and a bowed form. She is quite a familiar figure on our streets. All these persons have been reported to the police, but so far their movements are quite unstated.

MISS TAYLOR'S FUNERAL.

Dr. Yerkes Officiated and Paid a Glowing Tribute to Her.

The funeral services of Miss Edith Greene Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Mary S. and the late Morgan S. Taylor, were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the family residence, No. 10 Rockview Terrace. Her death occurred Sunday, May 21st at Omaha, Neb., en route for Belmar, where it was hoped she might derive benefit from the sea air. A large number of friends gathered yesterday at the family home on Rockview Terrace, opened for the last sad rites of burial. Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which Miss Taylor became a member when a very young girl, conducted the service. A single sentence gives the pastor's estimate of Miss Taylor's worth. "Beautiful with the adornments of Christian character and sweet with Christian hope."

A quartette from the choir of the First Baptist church, Mrs. Samuel Case, Mrs. Ward, Charles W. McCutchen and Mr. Holmes, sang two selections, "Oh Paradise" and "Abide With Me."

Interment followed the service in the family plot at Hillside Cemetery.

CONSENTS NOT ALL SECURED.

Lawyer Moffett Corrects a Wrong Impression About Trolley Extension.

Lawyer Chas. Moffett informs The Press that all of the consents thus far secured for the extension of the Arlington avenue trolley are locked up in his safe, and that the required number is not yet obtained. The consent to run over property owned by the Hillside Cemetery Association has yet to be secured. The Plainfield Street Railway Company, Mr. Moffett says, is willing and anxious to build the line just as soon as they can secure the required number of consents and that of the Common Council.

Y. M. C. A. Cyclers Went to Rahway

Twenty members of the Y. M. C. A. from Plainfield, fifteen from Summit and six from New Brunswick, made a merry party which met at the association building in Rahway last night, there they were entertained in the way promised, and enjoyed the hospitality of their hosts immensely. The Plainfield boys were headed by Captain Eagen, and took with them color bearer Eggerding, and secretary and treasurer Van Aistyne. The run both ways was made in an hour.

New Telephone Subscribers.

Among those who have recently had telephones placed in their homes are Leonidas Dennis, of Stelle avenue, and A. D. Cook, of East Seventh street. L. M. French has one at his place of business. J. T. Vail, of North avenue, will have a pay-station located at his place of business. This will be a great convenience for those who want to use a telephone and happen to be at the railroad station or nearby, and it will in a small measure make up the loss of the "central" office on North avenue.

A Big Reward.

A. M. Wilcox offers a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who poisoned his Irish setter dog.

SEVENTH-DAY BAPTISTS MEET IN THIS CITY.

Annual Convention of the Eastern Association.

MANY DELEGATES PRESEN

WORK OF THE CHURCH IS OCCUPYING ATTENTION.

Sessions Commenced Yesterday and Will Continue Till Sunday — Committees Named—Sermon on "Christianship Citizenship" Preached Last Night—Sabbath-School and Educational Work Discussed.

The sixty-third annual convention of the Seventh-Day Baptist Eastern Association, which comprises all of New England, New York State east of the Hudson river and New Jersey, is being held in the church of that denomination here. The sessions began yesterday morning, and will continue until Sunday night. The attendance of delegates was large at all yesterday's services, and the visiting delegates number nearly a hundred.

The officers of the association are Henry M. Maxson, of Plainfield, president; A. W. Vars, of Dunellen, vice-president; Rev. Martin Sindal, of New Market, recording secretary; Arthur J. Spicer, of Plainfield, assistant recording secretary; Asa F. Randolph, of Plainfield, corresponding secretary; and George J. Crandall, of Ashaway, treasurer.

The session opened yesterday morning with devotional services conducted by Rev. L. E. Livermore, of Lebanon, Connecticut. President Maxson and Rev. A. E. Maine joined in an address of welcome, and Rev. Martin Sindall, of New Market, preached the introductory sermon.

The announcement of standing committees was made as follows: On nomination, Albert S. Babcock, Rockville, R. I; A. E. Maine, Plainfield; and Ira L. Cottrell, of Shiloh.

On petitions: W. L. Clark, Hopkinton; W. H. Satterlee, of New Market; A. C. Prentice, New York.

On finance: O. V. Whitford, Westerly; George Seely, Berlin; D. J. Spicer, Plainfield. This closed the morning service.

At 2 o'clock a devotional service was led by Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, of Plainfield. Communications were read from other associations not represented in the gathering, and the delegates reported. A sermon was preached by Rev. H. D. Clarke, of Minnesota, and the afternoon session closed.

An address upon 'Christian Citizenship" by Rev. S. H. Davis, of Westerly, was the feature of the evening. His subject was such a timely one that he drew a large audience, and what he said was listened to with marked attention. Mr. Davis believes in the christian citizen taking an active part in politics. It is his duty to do so, he says.

"The christian man should vote. No man has a right to neglect that duty. If a bad man has been elected, and you did not vote at all, you are in a measure responsible for the result. The christian citizen should vote as his judgment dictates or as he prays. No vote cast for a good man against a bad one is wasted."

"The christian should aspire to hold office. There is no position in the land that a christian man is not able to fill as well as a bad one, and if you do not want it, your duty may be to accept it. But the christian candidate will not slander his opponent to win, neither will he buy his election, or resort to the whiskey treat."

"Government cannot be run without money; those who receive the benefit of government ought to pay for it. It is all right to try your hardest to change existing laws in regard to what you consider unjust taxation, but while the law is in force, what it imposes, you should pay.

This morning's session began at 10 o'clock with a few items of routine business, after which a devotional hour was conducted by Rev. Arthur E. Main, pastor of the convention church. The Sabbath-school hour followed, conducted by Rev. Ira Lee Cottrell, of Hornellsville, N. Y. Mr. Cottrell spoke on several points of Sabbath-school work; assemblies and conventions; the cradle roll; the home department; house-to-house visitation; supplementary work and personal effort. Rev. Mr. Main also spoke on graded schools.

Three addresses were included in the educational hour which was held at 11 o'clock. The first was on "Our Schools For Our People" by President Theo. L. Gardiner, of Salem, W. Va. He spoke strongly in favor of sending Seventh-Day Baptist students to Seventh-Day Baptist colleges. "The Financial Needs of Our Schools" was

Kautz's Actions in the Samoan Incident Upheld by Commissioners

HIS COURSE COMMENDED

A Warm Letter of Welcome Sent to the Commissioners at Apia, by Mataafa.

The Natives Still Remain Outside of the Lines Established by Admiral Kautz—Only a Few of Them Wounded by the Shell Fireing—Germans Are Preparing Compensation Claims

Apia, Samoa, May 17 (via Auckland, N. Z., May 26.—The Samoan Commission (consisting of Bartlett Tripp, ex-United States minister to Austria-Hungary; Baron Speck von Sternberg, representing Germany, and C. N. Eliot, C.B., of the British Embassy at Washington, representing Great Britain) arrived here on May 13. The first sitting took place May 16.

The Commissioners were engaged all that morning in conferring with the Chief Justice, William L. Chambers. Nothing was disclosed regarding the deliberations, but it is reported that they will uphold the action of Admiral Kautz, the American naval commander.

ADMIRAL KAUTZ.

Mataafa sent the Commissioners a letter of welcome, and expressed the hope that they would satisfactorily end the trouble in Samoa.

Mataafa will obey the unanimous order of the Commissioners though it is doubtful whether he will order his followers to disarm.

The Mataafans will probaby disperse to their homes if they are ordered to do so, but they will never recognize Malietoa as King, and, doubtless, there will be further trouble in the near future if the Kingship is maintained.

Only one or two cases are known of the wounding of natives by the shell fire of the warships and, as they have not realized the strengh of the Europeans, they may go to further extremes if war arises again.

The natives remain outside the lines indicated by Admiral Kautz and have strongly fortified a new position, while the Loyalists are being drilled and have fortified Molinuu.

Half the male adults are awaiting action on the part of the Commission in order to support Malietoa.

The Germans are preparing compensation claims. It is understood one German firm claims $50,000, and that other German subjects claim $20,0000.

To a correspondent Mataafa said it was the head chiefs and not himself who began the war, and they did so because they were angered at power being taken from them by violence and also because they were made angry by the Chief Justices's unjust decision.

Mataafa claimed he had upheld the treaty, and said his orders throughout were not to fire upon the Europeans, and that but for this order the whole party of bluejackets could several times have been shot down by the natives concealed in the bush.

Armour Is Improving

London, May 26.—P. D. Armour, the Chicago millionaire, is still at Nanheim in Germany taking the waters.

A dispatch to his representative here says that the packer is suffering fromcardiac affection due to hardening of the arteries. Its symptoms are heart sinking with intense pain. The cause of Mr. Armour's sickness s overwork. He is now looking much better and a cure will soon be affected.

$25,000 Verdict Against a Bank

Boston, May 26.—W. O. Wiley, a Charlestown coal dealer, got a verdict of $25,000 against the Bunker Hill National Bank. He said that he was injured that much in his business because the bank dishonored checks of his at a time when he had an amount on deposit sufficient to meet them. The bank's contention was that at the time the checks were drawn he owed that institution more than his amount on deposit.

She Robbed a Count

Philadelphia, May 26.—Detectives have been looking for a woman with fair hair and sparkling eyes and a winning smile. Count Frnk Makleskow of Russia arrived in the city on May 5, and went to a theatre that night. There he met the girl and after a dinner escorted her home. The little trip cost him $3,900 and he complained to the police.

Will Navigate the Air

Burlington, N. J., May 26.—For the purpose of navigating the air a machine is being built here, under the supervision of Prof. Charles King, the aeronaut. The machine is the invention of Prof. Hite, who was with the Peary Arctic expedition. The airship is a navigable balloon, which is to be operated by diminutive engines.

French Tax Bill Passes Senate.

Albany, May 26.—The Franchise Tax Bill, as amended to suit Governor Roosevelt, passed the Senate by a vote of 30 to 18. Three Democrat voted with the Republican Senators for the passage of the law. They were: Senators Mackey and Ramsberger, of Erie, and LaRoche, of Kings.

WAS LOOKING FOR BLOOD.

Doctor Tries to Settle His Grievances With a Gun

Grafton, W. Va., May 26.—Dr. E. L. Love, ex-Mayor and manager of the Daily Sentinel, attempted to shoot P. C. Preiss in his store. Preiss runs a hardware store on Main street, and the doctor, who had been drinking, entered the store and began shooting, but without effort. Preiss succeeded in getting possession of the revolver and pounded the doctor's head severely. Love was then arrested, waived an examination and gave bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at court.

An old feud, growing out of divorce proceedings two years ago by which Love was separated from his wife, was the cause. Love married shortly after, another woman and Preiss married the woman from whom Love was divorced. Everything from outward appearance was going along smoothly until this occurred. The trial is expected to bring out new developments.

They Must Produce the Girl.

Fall River, Mass., May 26.—Judge Morton, of the Supreme Court, has issued a writ of habaes corpus directing the parents of Francisa Consoo de Cosk to produce her. The writ writ was secured by Joseph Vierra Comaro, her sweetheart. He says the girl is twenty-one years old, but to keep her from him her parents keep her locked in an attic. Comaro does not dare to go near the house, as the parents have threatened to kill him.

Dug His Brother's Eye Out

New York, May 26.—Vincenso Milan, a crazy youth of seventeen, not long released as cured from an insane asylum, attacked his brother, Joe, with a fork and dug out one of his eyes. The whole thing was done in the space of a second or two. There was no provocation, the brother says. Nothing was said or done to excite the daft lad. He was simply seized with a sudden impulse, and had worked the terrible mischeif before his brother realized that he was dangerous.

Will Wear Bicycle Skirts if They Like

Lynn, Mass., May 26.—Short skirts and bicycle suits may no longer be worn by the teachers of the public schools of this city, says the School Board. Many of the teachers say they will continue to wear bicycle suits, refusing to be dictated to as to their dress in or out of school. About sixty of the teachers ride wheels to and from school.

THE LATEST NEWS.

His Confidence in Otis.

Washington, May 26.—The reports of friction between Major General Otis and the civil commissioners in the Philippines are the occasion of much regret to the President. He believes them to be much exaggerated.

The President expressed himself very forcibly in favor of General Otis and his conduct of affairs in the Philippines, and said that he has now, and has had all along, every confidence in the General's ability to carry out the wishes of the administration with perfect satisfaction.

Should Have Killed Himself First.

Joplin, Mo., May 26.—In and near a tent in the southeast part of town were found the partly decomposed bodies of J. E. Moss, his wife, an infant child, a girl of 7 years and a boy of 9. The heads of all save Moss had been smashed with a hammer. He had been killed by a shot in his head and a revolver was clasped in the hand. He apparently had killed his family, then committed suicide. The motive is a mystery.

Cubans Disband Without Pay.

Havana, May 26.—General Lee, Military Governor of the Havana-Pinar del Rio Department, wired Governor General Brooke at El Vedado that 200 Cubans, commanded by General Mayia Rodriguez had dispersed after resolving not to take the $75 offered to each man. Some of them sold their arms and others took them to their homes.

Killed 12, Wounded 50

St. Petersburg, May 26.—Further advices from Riga, capital of the Baltic province of Livonia, say that the military in suppressing the rioting between Lottish and Lithunian workmen at that place killed twelve persons and wounded fifty.

Steam Yacht in Distress.

New Haven, May 26.—From the New Haven lighthouse signal station on the steam yacht American of the New York Yacht Club was sighted slowly trying to make the New Haven harbor. The American was evidently in distress.

Made Blind by a Fall.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., May 26.—Ed Johnson, the son of J. F. Johnson, a hardware merchant, was running down some steps when he slipped and fell, striking the side of his head, instantly making him totally blind.

Father and Two Sons Lynched.

Houston, Tex., May 26.—A telephone message from Bazzotte says that Jim Humphreys and his two sons have been found hanging to a limb of a tree. The Humphreys lived two miles west of Athens.

NO PLATFORM ARRANGED.

Democrats Decide to Perform This Duty at Chicago in July.

MEETING IN ST. LOUIS.

Over 1,400 in Attendance at the Anti-Trust Dinner—Ex-Gov. Altgeld Among Them.

Hon. W. J. Bryan Declares That the Silver Question Will Not Be Relegated to the Rear in the Next Presidential Campaign—How the Prospects Are Considered By Democratic Leaders.

St. Louis, May 26.—When the conference of members of the Democratic National Committee adjourned it had taken no action regarding the policy of the party in the coming Presidential campaign, and planks for the platform were not even discussed. The meeting from first to last was one of discussion regarding methods of work for next year and the ways and means by which this work could best be accomplished. The questions of "anti-trust," "anti-imperialism" and silver were not touched upon. No action was taken regarding them and no recommendations were made.

The next meeting of the conference will probably be held in Chicago on July 20, and Chairman Jones of the National Committee has been asked to call a formal meeting for that date. It is expected that at this meeting definite action will be taken and the question of what is to be the rallying cry of the Democracy in the fall of 1899 will be determined. Mr. Bryan attended the meeting as a proxy

Among other things Mr. Bryan said at the close of the meeting were:

"I am satisfied that great good has come from this meeting, and that the Democracy will be in a better position to make the fight in the coming election than it has ever been. It was not designed that any action should be taken at this meeting.

"What action will be taken by the Democracy regarding its platform it is too early to discuss, but I am sure of one thing, and that is that silver will not be relegated out of sight. It cannot be. It is an issue that has come to stay, and the people will not allow it to be put in the background."

Ex-Governor Altgeld expressed his views similar as to those of Bryan.

Circular Displeases Them

Antwerp, May 26.—The American and English residents of Belgium are highly incensed at a Ministerial circular issued by Minister Vandenpeereboom forbidding town clerks to register the births of children bearing Christian names not found in the Roman calendar. The attention of the ministers is to be called to the matter in a petition by these residents who will appeal to them for assistance.

The probate question is seriously involved in cases where families have observed the custom of giving to their children a family name as abaptismal names. Meetings of protest against this order will be held in Brussels, ntwerp and Ghent.

Plead to a Murder Years Ago

Waynesboro, Ga., May 26.—Crawford Mobley, a negro, who was hanged here for the murder of his stepfather, Ed Lovett, confessed before his execution. Mobley declares he planned his stepfather's death when a child, and watched his chance after growing to manhood. One night Lovett was dozing in his chair by the window, when Mobley sneaked behind him and blew his brains out with a revolver.

Fanning May Be a Trustee.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 26.—The local lodge of Elks will present the name of Joseph T. Fanning, of this city, as a candidate for Trustee at the meeting of the Supreme Lodge at St. Louis next month, and a campaign committee has been organized, headed by ex-Congressman William English. An address in Mr. Fanning's behalf has been sent to every Elk in the country.

Took His Bible to Prison.

Indianapolis, May 26.—Jefferson H. M. Thompson, of Hammond, this state, has been forwarded to the Columbus (Ohio) prison to serve 15 months for trying to get a pension for Civil War services, to which he was not entitled. Thompson claims to be a preacher, and he left here with handcuffs on his wrists and a Bible under his arm.

Roots Wants to Be Governor.

Indianapolis, May 26.—Representative Francis T. Roots, the wealthy manufacturer of Connersville, while here announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. This leaves a clear field for Senator Newby in his race for Lieutenant Governor, for which Mr. Roots has previously been a candidate.

One of the Oldest Masons Dead.

Portland, Ind., May 26.—A telegram has been received announcing the death of S. Knowlton, at Oskaloosa, Iowa, at the age of 86 years. He was the third man in the State of Ohio to take the Thirty-third Degree in Masonry, and spent $20,000 perfecting himself in the mysteries of the order.

Movements of Warships.

Washington, May 26.—The Vixen has passed Jupiter, Fla., on the way to Bluefields to relieve the Detroit. The Chicago has left Ismailia for Aden and the Glacier left Fort Monroe for Gibraltar. The Vicksburg has been ordered out of commission at Portsmouth.

Negro Democrat Dead

Atlanta, May 26.—S. H. J. Taylor, one of the most prominent negroes in the United States, died here suddenly. He was a leading negro Democrat and held important positions under President Cleveland's Administration. His family resides in Baltimore.

Castelar Is Dead.

Madrid, May 26.—Senor Emilio Castelar, the Republican leader, who has been ill for some time with pulmonary trouble, is dead. He was sixty-seven years old and one of the most eloquent orators of the day.

A pretty Philadelphia belle, when preparing for her summer vacation touring, declared that one of the most important things that she put into her trunk was a package of Ripans Tabules. "Last summer," she said, "in spite of the heat and weariness of travel, I always found a Ripans Tabule would help me when I felt depressed. After any unusually hearty meal at the Atlantic City hotel, where I remained a large part of the summer, a Tabule invariably did away with any tendency to indigestion. During the winter I always use a Tabule after a dinner or theater party that has been followed by a luncheon or supper such as are usually injurious because they lead to the eating of rich food and too much of it at late hours."

A new style packet containing six Ripans Tabules and 125 in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR THE POOR AND THE ECONOMICAL. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (60 Tabules) can be had by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York, and a single carton (six Tabules) will be sent for five cents.

A TOLEDO MAN DISAPPEARS.

Armour & Co.'s Agent Thought to Have Been Foully Dealt With.

Toledo, Ohio, May 26.—There is much anxiety here over the mysterious disappearance of Harry D. Robinson who has been employed for some time as city salesman and financial agent of Armour & Co. in Toledo and surrounding towns.

His work required him to go around among the various Ohio towns within a radius of 50 to 75 miles of Toledo at intervals, to collect sums of money from the meat dealers. At times he carried thousands of dollars on his person. The last seen of him was in Defiance, on a Monday afternoon, about four weeks ago. He had just completed his collections and was getting ready to start back to Toledo in a few minutes. He had collected about $2,000 in Defiance that day and more in outside places, having on his person anywhere between $2,500 and $4,000. His business took him through the tougher sections of the cities. The authorities think he was foully dealt with here.

Mr. Robinson comes from an old and aristocratic family of Boston. He was a graduate of Yale, and for some years was engaged as editor and special correspondent on the Boston Globe. His accounts are straight.

Soldier Will Keep His Office.

Harrisburg, May 26.—Secretary of the Commonwealth Griest, acting on the advice of Deputy Attorney-General Fleitz, has just decided to withhold the commission of Charles S. Vance, elected a Justice of the Peace for the borough of Oakdale, in Allegheny county. Vance was elected last February for a full term of five years. J. C. McEwen was elected Justice of the Peace in 1898, and on the opening of hostilities with Spain entered the volunteer service as an officer in the 14th Pennsylvania, serving until the regiment was mustered out a few weeks ago. Returning home he discovered that in his absence Gov. Hastings had appointed J. W. Guy to fill the vacancy in the office of Justice of the Peace, and that still later Vance had been elected for a full term.

McEwen at once filed a protest against granting of a commission to Vance, and the matter was submitted to Deputy Atorney-General Fleitz who advised the Secretary of the Commonwealth that he would not be justified in issuing a commission to Vance. He holds that the office was not vacated by McEwen's service in the army.

New Orleans's War Against Trusts

New Orleans, La., May 26.—At a meeting of the representatives of the New Orleans Board of Trade, Sugar Exchange, Lumbermen's Exchange, Maritime Association, Produce Exchange, and Wholesale Grocers' Association, a permanent organization was formed to fight trusts. It was decided to invite the merchants and manufacturers of Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas to form an anti-trust convention and suggest legislation against them. Invitations were extended to the Cotton Exchange, Chamber of Commerce, and other commercial bodies to join in the movement which is wholly commercial and not political.

May Raise the Price of Sugar

New York, May 26.—The speculation now going on in raw sugars in Paris may soon advance prices one fourth of a cent, or possibly three eights of a cent. This speculation is said to be based upon the fact that the visible supply is now nearly 400,000 tons less than at this time a year ago. It is also said that the sowing of beets this spring is only 10 per cent larger than last year, and four fifths of the increase is said to be in Russia, from which country no sugar is exported. Short crops are expected in Cuba and the Philippines. As a matter of course, a rise in raw sugars will be followed by a corresponding advance in the price of refined.

It Makes Jeffries Smile.

Asbury Park, N. J., May 26.—Jim Jefferies smiled when he read that his opponent-to-be, Fitzsimmons, intended to enter the ring at the middle-weight limit. He expressed the opinion that the champion would have a difficult task in administering to him a knock-out blow. Those who have seen the boilermaker go through his routine of training here are inclined to believe that he will prove himself more than enough for Fitzsimmons. He has a speedy left hand, and many are willing to bet that a body blow or two will give Fitz his quietus.

The Bicycle Lamp.

The law compelling cyclists to carry lights at night is often violated, but only by riders not having proper regard for their own safety and that of others.

The bicycle, unlike other vehicles, is called the "silent steed;" it approaches quickly, noiselessly, and being small, is practically invisible on a dark thoroughfare, unless carrying a lighted lamp. A bell does not always answer the purpose, as the rider invariably waits until he is nearly on top of an obstacle before sounding his bell. A broad well reflected light enables the rider to avoid all obstacles and bad places in the road. Bicycle policemen are very careful to enforce this lamp ordinance, but it is impossible for them to detect every offender.

GO BACK TO AGUINALDO.

The Enemy's Envoys Return to Report on Their Negotiations.

WITH COMMISSIONERS.

Prisoner Suffering With a Bayonet Wound Begs Americans to Rescue Him From the Natives.

Volunteers Being Gradually Withdrawn From the Field and Regulars Fill Their Places—Typhoon Prevents California Infantry From Sailing for San Francisco—Gen. Henry in Washington.

Manila, May 26.—The Oregon volunteer troops on the north line have returned to Manila. The other volunteers are gradually being withdrawn, leaving three regiments of regular troops, probably the 3d, 17th and 22d Infantry, to guard the north from Balinag to San Fernando.

Gen. Rios, the Spanish representative in the Philippines, is preparing to visit Bales to negotiate for the liberation of the Spanish garrison which is besieged there by the Filipinos.

The 1st California Infantry has as yet been unable to leave for home, owing to the typhoon, the violence of which smashed four cascoes which were engaged in loading their transports with supplies.

The Filipino Commissioners have returned to the insurgent headquarters to report the result of their mission to Aguinaldo. They expect to come back to Manila soon.

David Brown, a Canadian who has been imprisoned at Malolos since last January, has communicated with the American authorities through a Filipino friend, begging the Americans to rescue him. He says he is suffering greatly from a bayonet wound.

Gen. Henry at the White House.

Washington, May 26.—Gen. Guy V. Henry, former Governor-General of Porto Rico, visited the White House and the War Department. Speaking of the conditions in Porto Rico, he said that nearly everybody in the island desired to become American citizens and adopt American customs. The people, he said, were quick to grasp American ideas, and be thoroughly Americanized.

"Commerce is at a standstill because of the high duties," said Gen. Henry. "With a revision of the laws these conditions will be changed."

Gen. Henry said that at least 14 per cent. of the inhabitants can neither read nor write. This, though, was not strange, considering their long subjection to Spanish rule.

Overrun by Finlanders

Houghton, Mich., May 26.—One of the first efforts of the Czar's policy of depriving Finland of its ancient rights is being felt here. Finns are arriving in the copper district by dozens and scores every day. Houghton county is the centre of the Finnish settlement in the United States, and already has 10,000 Finns. The policy of proscription now in force in Russia will probably bring 50,000 Finlanders to America this year.

Spaniards Whipped in Sham Battle

Terre Haute, Ind., May 26.—It is estimated that 30,000 people witnessed the sham battle that preceeded the Indiana Encampment of the G. A. R. The Spanish fort was commanded by Captain Allen, of Frankfort, Ind., and the American attacking party was under the command of Captain Rich, of Indianapolis. The Spaniards, of course, were whipped.

Laundry Trust Ready for Business.

Chicago, May 26.—With a capitalization of $7,000,000, the Chicago Laundry Company is about to become a factor on the local stock market. The prospectus of the new concern has been issued. It is claimed that 75 out of the 100 steam laundries in Chicago are under contract of purchase. The remainder, the promoters say, will be compelled within a short time to come into the consolidation.

Reformers Meet in Ohio.

Tiffin, Ohio, May 26.—The General Synod of the Reformed Denomination convened its thirteenth triennial session in the Second Reformed Church of this city. Pastors and delegate elders from all parts of the country to the number of 300 were here. The denomination has 350,000 adherents, and many visitors accompanied the delegates.

New Oil Field Discovered

Muncie, Ind., May 26.—A new oil field was discovered near Mt. Summit, about nine miles south of Muncie, and the community is wild with excitement. The find was made while digging for natural gas. The flow of oil was so strong that it could not be controlled, and work on the well had to be abandoned. The well is the property of Muncie capitalists.

Fast Has Restored His Sight.

Norway, Me., May 26.—William Littlefield has completed a fast of forty days, which he has been undergoing for defective eyesight. When he began his fast he was nearly blind, but now his eyesight is nearly as good as it ever was. During his fast he took nothing but spring water.

There is a "comfortable feeling" that comes after a bath with Ivory Soap which is conducive to a good night's rest.

KILLED ON A STEAMSHIP.

Captain Evans Fires a Bullet Through a Negroe's Head

San Francisco, May 26.—Officers of the steamship Australia, just arrived from Honolulu, state that serious trouble occurred just as she was leaving the harbor. Bad feeling existed between two men employed in the galley named Wade (colored) and Hall. Wade had threatened to kill Hall and commenced a hunt for him shortly after leaving the dock.

Another employe named Gillespie saw Wade with his pistol in his hand and tried to take the weapon from the negro, and in the struggle Wade shot Gillespie in the leg and abdomen, Captain Evans, of the Honolulu police, who was waiting for the pilot to take him off, demanded Wade's gun, but the negro refused to give it up and threatened to shoot any one who tried to take it from him. Captain Evans got a rifle from one of the staterooms, and when Wade refused to throw up his hands dropped the negro with a bullet in his head. The wounded men were taken back to Honolulu on the pilot boat. It is thought Gillespie will die, but how serious the wounds of the negro are could not be determined.

To Test Liquid Fuel in Naval Vessels

Washington, May 26.—In order to test the practicability of liquid fuel on naval vessels, the Navy Department has decided to conduct experiments with the torpedo boat Talbot, now at the Norfolk Navy Yard. The Talbot will be put in condition for the tests at once, and then taken to New York, where the experiments will take place. Twelve moths will be consumed in conducting practical trials with different burners and the several systems recommended to the department. Lieut. J. C. Leonard will be assigned to the command of the Talbot and will conduct the tests.

A Child's Miraculous Escape.

South Bend, Ind., May 26.—Nellie Murray, aged two and one half years, was playing on the Vandalia tracks at Loxeville when a freight train approached, but the little one gave it no heed. The fireman walked out on the cowcatcher and grabbed for her, but her dress tore and the engine and 19 cars passed over the child. The bystanders were horrified and expected to find the mangled and scattered remains, but the child escaped without a scratch.

Mercer Heirs Will Meet.

Chicago, May 26.—It has been arranged that the heirs of Gideon Mercer, a millionaire who died in New York ninety years ago, shall hold a meeting in Chicago on June 25 to consider the condition of the estate. The property in litigation, which involves fully $200,000,000, consists of valuable land in Scotland, a large amount of money deposited in the banks of England, real estate in Mercer street, New York city, and a large tract of land in New Jersey.

The Certificate of Deposit is Void.

Omaha, Neb., May 26.—The District Court here has decided that a certificate of deposit issued by the Union National bank as an accommodation to the Supreme Treasurer of the Woodmen of the World for $30,000 is void. The certificate turned up in the hands of an innocent holder, who sought to collect it. The certificate was used as an evidence of cash deposit, and was so accepted. Banks throughout the country were interested in the case.

Another Victim of Christian Science.

Rochester, N. Y., May 26.—The medical profession and public in general are greatly stirred up over the death of little Earnest Carney, of Lockport, with typhoid pneumonia, after a sickness of three weeks, during which he was attended by Christian Scientists only. An hour before the child died his parents sent for a physician, but he informed them that the patient was past medical treatment. The parents are well educated and highly respected.

Soldiers Will Get Their Pay

Albany, May 26.—Gov. Roosevelt has signed Assemblyman E. C. Brenan's bill, which authorizes the State Departments to pay salaries of all employes who volunteered for army service and were absent from their posts during the war with Spain. The bill affects some forty-eight State employes and the amount involved is between $14,000 and $15,000.

Professional Ethics.

"Say," says the gentleman with the check shirt, plaid suit and thunderous diamonds, "if you will go in with me, I've got a guy that we can work for a couple of thousand in a poker game, and you can have half."

"Sir!" replied the young lawyer, "this is a personal insult!"

"Excuse me," continued the wily tempter. "Of course, I didn't mean this here as a personal affair. We will call it retaining you professionally."

"Er—how much did you say he had?"
—Indianapolis Journal.

Died at the Age of 110

Pasadena, Cal., May 26.—Senora Francesca de Lugo is dead in her little hut at Linda Vista. She was one hundred and ten years old. In the archives of San Juan Capistrano the date of her birth is given as Oct., 23, 1789. She was born a subject of Charles V. of Spain, and during the war with this country acted as supply agent for the Mexican troops, ofttimes spending days in the saddle.

Lightning's Queer Freaks

Americus, Ga., May 26.—During a thunderstorm here lightning struck the residence of Charles Putnam, instantly killing Mrs. Putnam. At Jackson the residence of Mr. J. T. Lancaster was struck by lightning and Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster knocked senseless to the floor. The lightning tore every garment from their bodies, even tearing their shoes to pieces. They are not expected to live.

Collins Bicycle Bill Signed.

Albany, May 26.—Governor Roosevelt has signed the Collins Uniform Bicycle Ordinance bill, which provides that the municipal officers and boards in the several cities, towns and villages of the State shall pass only such ordinances relative to the use of bicycles and similar vehicles as relate to the use of lamps and their candle power, bells, speed, coasting and the use of sidewalks.

Child Mangled by a Hog.

Portland, Ind., May 26.—A ten-year-old daughter of L. H. Trehearne was going to the home of a neighbor, and in crossing a field was attacked by a savage hog. The vicious animal tore the child's clothing almost off, inflicted several large gashes in her side and hip and tore her ear almost completely from her head.

Yellow Fever in Mexico.

Laredo, Texas, May 26.—United States Marine Officer Hamilton, of this city, has received a report from the United States Marine Service representative at Vera Cruz, Mexico, which shows that the yellow fever prevailing there is of a very malignant type. From May 1 to May 20 there were 148 cases, of which 67 proved fatal.

To Meet in St. Louis Next Year.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 26.—The next Presbyterian General Assembly will be held at St. Louis, as a result of the adoption of the report of the Committee on Location. It was decided to continue publication of the new Assembly Herald as official organ, and the publication was put into the hands of a committee of three.

Oklahoma Outlaw Killed.

Guthrie, O. T., May 26.—In a fierce fight here between Deputy Sheriffs Carpenter and Runnells and a number of desperadoes, Bill Martin the outlaw, was killed, and his brother, Sam Martin, fatally wounded. Over twenty-five shots were fired.

Indians Threaten Trouble.

Miles City, Mont., May 26.—There are indications of Cheyenne uprisings. Armed Indians drove Mrs. Loraine's child from home, burned haystacks and killed some cattle. A posse has gone to Lame Deer, and will undertake to arrest the Indians.

Remains of Soldiers Landed.

San Francisco, May 26.—The remains of eighteen soldiers who died in the Philippines have been landed from the transport Sheridan and will be sent for burial wherever relatives or friends may desire.

Died From the Effect of Paris Green.

Morristown, N. J., May 26.—Victor Piola, a German silk weaver, employed in the silk mill at Stirling, died in the county jail here from the effects of a dose of Paris green taken with suicidal intent.

A City's Right to its Streets.

A decision of interest and importance to every city in the country was handed down by the United States Supreme Court this week in the case of the city of Richmond, Va., vs. the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. The controversy involved the right of a telephone company to locate its poles and wires in the streets and alleys of the city regardless of the protest of the local municipal authorities, the claim of the telephone company being made under the act of Congress of 1866 granting such right generally to telegraph companies. The decision was favorable to the contention of the city and adverse to the telephone company, the court holding that the concession to telegraph companies could not be made to include the telephone companies.

The Paterson Press makes the following comment on the decision:

"The decision, if right in law, is certainly right in equity. Manifestly a municipality should have the control of its streets to prevent general defacement or injury to private property and to compel a fair return for franchises before rights are granted. Cases may occur where such law will do injustice to new seekers for such rights, such as an undue influence by strongly intrenched concerns determined to prevent healthy competition, but such instances are the exception, not the rule. It is a general bane of our municipal government that the States rob the cities of many of their powers and the Supreme Court decision restores at least some of the home rule of which they are deprived."

Hundreds of postmasters will have their salaries increased July 1st. Every year the salaries of the Presidential postmasters are readjusted, and this year the phenomenal increase in the postal receipts will result to the advanage of many postmasters. The increase this year can be estimated in the millions, and the total receipts will range between $90,000,000 and $100,000,000. The returns so far received from the postoffice indicate that as the result of the coming adjustment in the neighborhood of 100 postoffices will be lifted from the fourth class to the third, the lowest class of Presidential offices. About the same number will go from the third to the second class, and quite a number will be promoted into the first. Every year a few offices drop back into the next class below, but this year such wil be very few.

The letter-carriers of the United States are organizing to demand an increase of salary, and 20,000 of them are expected to contribute $10 each to a fund to push their claim. The letter carriers better leave this matter alone, that is so far as raising $200,000 to push their claims.

NEW SPANISH MINISTER AND WIFE.

The arrival at Washington of the Duke d'Arcos, Spain's new minister, is an event of unusual interest, as it marks the re-establishment of diplomatic relations between the two countries. The Duke d'Arcos is a member of one of the oldest families in Spain. The Duchess d'Arcos is an American. Before her marriage she was Miss Virginia Woodbury Lowery, of Washington.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

It is a pleasure to note that in Plainfield common sense and broad views have won a decided victory over prejudice and provincialism. Plainfield has so long boasted of its modern, up-to-date ideas that it was a painful shock to learn that some of its business men had organized to work for measures which would tend to isolate the city from the outside world. It seems that this exhibition of narrowness was as repellent to the majority of Plainfielders as it was surprising to outsiders, and they have lost no time in ranging on the side of progress and enterprise. Instead of fewer trains between Plainfield and the remainder of the earth they declare they want more, and instead of a policy of isolation they propose to make it an object for outsiders to come to Plainfield. Everything that has been said in derision of Plainfield needs to be retracted with apoligies.—Newark News.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

Dr. B. Van D. Hedges, of Muhlenberg Hospital staff, who has been giving lectures on physiology and hygiene before the Young Woman's Club, has cast a chill over his fair hearers by declaring that kissing is a dangerous enjoyment in the light of the microbe theory, says a Newark Advertiser correspondent. While the young ladies have enjoyed the past lectures with eager relish and were gaining an insight into the mysteries of the "house we live in," they had now almost rather he had not touched upon the microbe theory if he could not have done so without upsetting their sentimental views about custom which is old as the old. The doctor is one of the two unmarried physicians in Plainfield and his popularity has never been questioned until now.

* * * * *

Sam Jones, the evangelist, has his own ideas about preaching the gospel. In a sermon at Louisville the other day he sold: "There will be deaths in Louisville within thirty days that will startle the town from centre to circumference. God will punish you, and the awful words I now speak will come back to you with shocking vividness!" Then a woman in the church fainted and fell, injuring herself so badly that the police had to send for an ambulance.

BLASTS FROM RAM'S HORN.

A clean man will not live in a dirty house.

Too many make a god out of the majority.

Adversity tests faith, and prosperity tests love.

Every humbug puts a pious motto over his door.

You may backslide, but you can never up-slide.

We are made by our enemies and marred by ourselves.

The arm that is swift to strike may be strong to succor.

A blunt tool with a man behind it is better than a Damascus blade without one.

The way to watch, is to work.

It requires abundant grace to withstand abundant prosperity.

Your position in life to-morrow, depends on your character to-day.

A high ideal is a standing invitation to reach a more exalted position.

The man who loses his life in love, sows the seed of untold noble lives.

The sermon on the mount is higher than some church members care to live.

The man who will not suffer for the truth, will have to suffer for neglecting it.

Let the world mold your opinions, and it will soon squeeze all religion out.

The miser who is able (but unwilling) to relieve want, is truly a miserable man.

The exasperating trivialities of life are little lead lines led down to fathom our religion.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

Every love has infatuation in it, but every infatuation hasn't love in it.

A woman is never quite so happy as when she can be happy in a sad way.

Lot's wife probably looked back to make sure she hadn't forgotten to lock the back door.

There never was a woman who looked anything but red-eyed and snuffy when she cried.

A woman never trusts a man she doesn't like, but she often likes a man she doesn't trust.

You can generally tell about how a girl felt when she got up that morning by the way her hair looks.

Every girl thinks some man would be surprised if he only knew how she could love him if she only tried.

When a man makes up his mind that he has married the wrong woman, the trouble generally is that he is the wrong man.

A girl's idea of politics is generally shaped like something to beat eggs with.

When a girl is so anxious for a man that she will take up with anything, she is said by the women to be very "susceptible."

GREAT THOUGHTS.

Hope is the gas in the balloon of ambition.—Schopenhauer.

The greatest man is he who chooses the right with invincible resolution.—Channing.

Difficulty is a nurse of greatness.—a harsh nurse, who rocks her foster children roughly, but rocks them into strength and athletic proportions.—Bryant.

A nation may establish a system of free government, but without the spirit of municipal institutions it can not have the spirit of liberty.—De Tocqueville.

If you lend a person money it becomes lost for any purposes of your own. When you ask for it back again you find a friend made an enemy by your own kindness.—Plautus.

Hatred is the madness of the heart.—Byron.

Fidelity is seven-tenths of business success.—Parton.

Haste trips its own heels, and fetters and stops itself.—Seneca.

There is an oblique way in reproof which takes off the sharpness of it.—

GIVE THE CHILDREN A DRINK

called Grain-O. It is a delicious, appetizing, nourishing food drink to take the place of coffee. Sold by all grocers and liked by all who have used it because when properly prepared it tastes like the finest coffee but is free from all its injurious properties. Grain-O aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. It is not a stimulant but a health builder, and children, as well as adults, can drink it with great benefit. Costs about ¼ as much as coffee 15 and 25c.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 26—There are un claimed letters in the postoffice for Mrs. William Winch, Mrs. Louis Pollaeck, Mrs. Blauvelt, Hugh Faucett, L. B. Young, Mrs. Mary F. Willard, John Fuchs, H. L. Taylor, Mrs. Isaac Stevenson, Mrs. A. Swartz, Henry Slater, Michael Sterce, J. Smith, John Smithson, Alice S. Pierson, G. Gaddis, Miss Eva Johnson, Luther S. Davis, Anna Diubres and Mrs. William Dunn.

Rev. A. I. Martine's injuries, which he received in a fall on the beams of the new house he is building, proved to be more serious than was at first apparent. When the physicians came to examine him, they found that one of his ribs was broken, and this will confine him to the house for several weeks. It is not known yet who will preach for him Sunday, but notice will be given tomorrow.

The pipes to be laid on North avenue are all in place and ready to be put down. The street commissioner, however, has notified the company not to lay them until the road has been macadamized by the Brunswick Traction Company, according to their agreement.

There will be no service in the Seventh-Day Baptist church tonight or tomorrow, as the members of the congregation will attend the convention, which is meeting in the church at Plainfield.

C. D. Taylor, who was in Easton Tuesday, saw John F. Burke, who formerly lived here, but who is now with the Buffalo Bill show.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor have returned from a visit to Morris Plains. They drove there and back.

Miss Minnie VanNest has returned home from a two weeks visit with Jersey City relatives.

Blanchard Randolph, of Westfield, called on friends in town yesterday.

Mrs. Joseph Maier spent yesterday with her mother in Cranford.

Mrs. William E. Terry is visiting with friends in Glen Gardner.

Miss Anna Titsworth is spending a few weeks in Bound Brook.

William H. Terry spent yesterday with relatives in Metuchen.

A. N. Randolph spent yesterday with friends at Oceanic.

Miss Angie Craig has returned from a visit to Asbury.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 26.—Interest in the five-mile bicycle race to be held by the boys Decoration Day afternoon is growing each day. Quite a large entry has been secured and the little fellows are promising their friends that they will put up a fine race. No doubt a large turnout will be on hand to encourage them.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., have purchased a new flag, 15x25, which the Council will present to the township Decoration Day. Appropriate exercises have been arranged. The flag pole is to receive a new coat of paint and altogether it will be a gala day in the town.

The electric lights were all out on Bartle avenue Thursday evening. The trouble was caused by the burning out of a fuse. The linemen from the electric light station will remedy the matter today and the lights will be buring tonight again.

The Courier is in error when it says extra seating capacity has been provided for Sunday at the Baptist church. The church will probably hold the congregation, as the seating capacity of the church is 500.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held in the school parlor last evening. Business relating to the fixing of salaries for the ensuing year was transacted.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongued coated, pain continually in the back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters;' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50cts., guaranteed, at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store

Don't trust your shoeing to any one who has not made a study of the horse's foot, it is too delicate in its construction to be handled by a carpenter or butcher. We are having great success in leveling and balancing horses that have been ungaited by being shod by inexperienced men and boys. Our reference is NOT to people who are out of the State, but to OUR CUSTOMERS, who can be found right here in the city and vicinity.

VIOLET ALL THE RAGE.

The Perfume of the Season—Many Have Their Own Formula.

Violet is the perfume of the season. From the tips of her fingers to the heel of her kid boot the well groomed woman suggests this flower's sweetness.

It is quite common for dainty women to have their own individual perfume formulated as they fancy it should be—for there are violets and violets. Some like one combination and others another, so it is easy to take one's perfumer into one's confidence and have a secret formula agreed upon. Ever after that perfume is known by its owner's name and no one else can steal its sweetness.

For the bath, dainty femininity has violet water, and after the rubbing a delicately scented violet powder is used, and there is violet in the tonic for the hair. Violet tooth washes are used, and there are even perfumed bon-bons, while a tiny rouge pencil for the lips is violet scented.

From the walls of a woman's wardrobe hang tufted pads breathing blossom whiffs of violets, and every least nook for feminine finery holds a suggestion of violet fragrance. Tiny sachet bags are tacked here and there in frocks, perfumed flannel goes in strips into the tailor made gowns and in hat linings, while violet tablets are tucked into Ascot ties and the glove palm and loosely thrown into coat pockets.

Curious Cosmetics.

Even in the unhappy ages when people knew nothing of the bath and its rejuvenating properties, noted beauties found out the secret of preserving their loveliness by ablutionary aids. Isabeau of Bavaria heard that chickweed was good for the skin and had enormous decoctions brewed from it, in which she bathed daily. Diana of Poitiers was another cleanly coquette, and plunged into a tub of rain water every morning.

The eighteenth century beauties likewise believed in bathing; but they put all sorts of odd infusions into the water to improve the skin—such as the bullion in which the veal had been boiled, water distilled from the honey extracted from roses, a preparation of almonds, melon juice, the milky juices of green barley, linseed distilled with Mexican balm dissolved by the yoke of an egg. These remarkable decoctions were freely used by the ladies at the courts of Louis, before the Revolution.

Queen Marie Antoinette made liberal use of the bath, putting into the water wild thyme, laurel leaves, marjory, and a little sea salt.

Marie Czetwertynoska, the Russian beauty who exercised so great an influence over Czar Alexander I., used to bathe in Malaga wine

The Marechal Devoust, Princess Eckmuhl, was at eighty-five renowned for her queenly carriage, superb eyes and beautiful color, her skin being so white as to rival the snow of her abundant locks. She had never used anything but pure water on her face, and always kept to a very simple diet, even when her table was loaded with good cheer for her guests

She remained equally attractive to her last hour, although in her youth she had been one of the prettiest women of her time. Her daughter, Mme. de Blocqueville lived to be just such another white-haired beauty and was noted in her old age for dressing with consummate taste and elegance.

Ideas in Ladies' Neckwear for the Spring.

Where Care Is Required.

A woman who wished to have an old gown stiffened with hair cloth engaged to do the work a general utility woman who could do anything in the way of sewing. There was nothing she could not do, and do very well. She put in the haircloth, put fresh velveteen on the gown, and the owner thereof congratulated herself that it was so well done. The haircloth was put in smoothly, the bottom of the skirt was not pulled out of shape, and the velveteen was not drawn in a way to make the skirt gather, faults that incompetent individuals frequently commit. But the after results were not so good. Before long the skirt began to show here and there a black hair on the outside, sometimes a long one, sometimes a short one. It was untidy, and they were pulled out. Then there were more and more which were also pulled out until a good part of the haircloth was gone and at last most of that remaining had curled over and lay in a wrinkled bunch between the lining and the skirt. Haircloth should be put in most carefully and every edge stitched or bound, and the whole firmly fastened into place, or there is sure to be trouble in the end, and more than double the work that might have been put in in the first place.

Two Bright California Girls.

California has two shepherdesses—not of the Dresden china variety but clad in overalls, boots and jumpers, with guns instead of crooks. The two are Gussie and Louise Lahm, aged respectively eighteen and nineteen. They have always lived in Mendocino County. Their father "took up" 10,000 acres of land there and started a sheep ranch. He taught his daughters to ride, shoot, tend sheep and perform other arduous pioneer duties. On his death the girls assumed sole charge of the great sheep ranch, now valued at $50,000. Despite their rough life and many hours a day spent in the saddle engaged in man's work the girls are gentle and thoroughly feminine in manner and are held in the highest respect throughout the whole county.

Erfurt. Die hiesige Kommunalverwaltung hat nun auch ihrerseits die Bekämpfung der hier herrschenden Wohnungsnoth in die Wege geleitet, indem sie bei einem Verkaufe städtischen Baugrundes für neun der veräußerten Parzellen die Bebauung mit Arbeiterhäusern vorgeschrieben hat, die nur kleine Wohnungen enthalten dürfen. Die Verletzung dieser Bedingung ist mit einer Geldstrafe von 3000 Mark in jedem Falle bedroht.

Halle. Die Strafkammer verurtheilte den Redakteur des hiesigen „Volksblattes," Swienty, zu einmonatlicher Gefängnißstrafe, weil er die vierjährige Gefängnißstrafe des Redakteurs Müller in Magdeburg als „unmenschlich" bezeichnete.

Provinz Schlesien.

Breslau. Der schlesische Verein für Fluß- und Kanalschifffahrt faßte eine Resolution gegen den Mittellandkanal, welcher eine Schädigung des gesammten wirthschaftlichen Interesses Schlesiens bedeute, und verlangt prinzipaliter Ablehnung der Vorlage, eventuell gesetzlich festzustellen, daß ein Ausgleich durch Verbesserung und Erweiterung der ostdeutschen Wasserstraßen und durch Erleichterungen im Eisenbahnverkehr geschaffen werde.

Beuthen. Das Schwurgericht verurtheilte den Schmied Rangoll, der bei seiner Verhaftung den Amtsdiener Kantzia niederschoß, zu fünf Jahren Zuchthaus und zehn Jahren Ehrverlust.

Gleiwitz. Wegen Urkundenfälschung sowie wissentlich falscher Anschuldigung wurde der Amtsrichter Kubetzko aus Ratibor von der hiesigen Strafkammer zu sechs Monaten Gefängniß und fünf Jahren Ehrverlust verurtheilt.

Provinz Schleswig-Holstein.

Kiel. Das Feuer, welches kürzlich den größeren Theil der Krupp'schen Germaniawerft zerstört hat, wird auf Kurzschluß der elektrischen Leitung zurückgeführt. An der Rettung der wichtigen Zeichnungen und an der Löschung des Brandes betheiligten sich Offiziere und Mannschaften der Marine in hervorragender Weise. Ein Theil der Arbeiter der Germaniawerft wird auf der kaiserlichen Werft beschäftigt. Der Brandschaden soll 2,000,000 Mark betragen.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 28—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Established in heart.—Ps. cxii, 1-10; Rom. i, 11, 12.

To be established in heart, according to the psalmist, is to trust in God rather than in self. The blessedness of heart establishment is apparent. The psalmist declares that the righteous shall not be afraid of evil tidings because "his heart is fixed, trusting in the Lord. His heart is established. He shall not be afraid." Fearlessness is a characteristic of one who has his heart established. He fears neither evil tidings nor his enemies, knowing that the destiny of his life is in the hand of God. God keeps those in perfect peace whose mind is staid on Him.

The need of the establishment of the heart in God lies in the fact of the treacherousness of the human heart and of its tremendous influence on the life. The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked. It is naturally at enmity with God, and therefore before it can be trusted it must be changed by the power of God, by faith and trust in God. Furthermore, as a man is in his heart, in his inward life, so is he. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." The heart not only directs the speech, but also the life. A pure heart makes a pure life; an impure heart makes an impure life. How necessary and important, therefore, that the heart should be right; that it should be divinely established; be filled with love to God and directed and controlled by the will of God.

An established heart is not conformed to this world. It is not fashioned after worldly patterns, but is transformed. The heart is changed, and it is arraigned against sinful worldliness rather than being conformed to it. This transformation in the human heart is accomplished only by the power of the Holy Ghost. "Be not conformed to this world," says the apostle, "but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind."

This renewal of the mind, which is equivalent to the changing of the heart, is the work of the Holy Ghost. It is the regeneration of the soul, of which Christ speaks to Nicodemus.

Amid the trials, tribulations, evil bodings, oppositions of life, let us keep our minds and hearts established in God. Then we need fear no evil, "though the earth be removed and the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea."

Bible Readings.—Gen. vi, 5-7; I Sam. x, 1-9; xvi, 7; I Kings iii, 5-14; iv, 29; Ps. xxviii, 7; xlvi, 1-5; cxix, 11, 80; cxxxix, 23, 24; Prov. iv, 23-27; xxiii, 7; Jer. xvii, 9, 10; Ezek. xviii, 31, 32; Luke x, 25-27; Rom. x, 10; Heb. xiii, 9; I Pet. iii, 15.

The Missionary Cause.

Lack of knowledge is responsible for lack of interest in the missionary cause. The romance and heroism of missions are absolutely unknown to the vast majority of our church members. They are ignorant of the very names which ought to thrill every Christian heart with inspiration to self sacrifice. No wonder they do not give! And this lamentable lack is the result of the want of family training. When fathers and mothers are interested in missions, when they talk of missionary achievements, when they set the example of giving regularly and systematically, when they invest the whole subject with the thought of heroism and speak of missionaries as personal friends, to be prayed for and helped, then the children will receive the missionary impulse, be trained in the missionary spirit, and we shall have a generation of givers.—Rev. E. F. Snow in Congregationalist.

A Higher Education.

The sunlight of true education alone can disperse the gathering clouds of materialism, of envy, of discontent, of irreligion—not a narrow training of the mind, not concrete study alone. Such an education would merely awaken the laboring masses to a stronger and more misguided conception of the injustice of the present order of things.

Such an education, the higher it is carried, the more it unfits them for their surroundings. It would make them, like George, in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," still more discontented with their lot. Such an education breeds socialists and anarchists.

No, it must be a broader, a higher, a truer education.—American Hebrew.

A Spiritual Tramp.

The church is not an ecclesiastical boarding house, but a spiritual home. Family life is there and the fellowship of kindred minds. He who takes up lodgings in a Lutheran house today, in an Episcopal house tomorrow, in a Presbyterian house the day after, is a spiritual tramp and has never known what it is to have and love a home.—Lutheran.

Point the Way.

God's laws are signboards on the Christian highway.—William T. Ellis.

Into the Depths.

The tempest is over, the breakers are singing—
Are singing a song from the depths of the sea—
And this is the message the glad waves are bringing:
From the depths of His love, my God loveth me.
Yes, my God loveth me,
As sung by the sea.

The sun on those depths is shining the brightest;
The silvery waves roll in peace o'er the sea.
So Thy love seems the deepest, my heart is the lightest
When I read that my sins are hidden by Thee—
Yes, hidden by Thee
In the depths of the sea.

As the stones on the shore like snowdrops are lying,
Overwashed by the waves from the depths of the sea,
So wash me, so cleanse me, may I ever be crying,
From the depths of Thy love, my God, wash me—
Yes, my God, wash me
As those gems of the sea.
—Philadelphia Ledger.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 28, "Established In Heart"—Text, Rom. i, 11-12; Ps. cxii, 1-10.

"His heart is fixed, trusting in the Lord."

Doubt gives the death stroke to all resolution. Confidence alone is strong. He that hesitates is lost for any enterprise. Conviction, assurance, firm faith and trust—these drive the wheels of progress. What one believes firmly he is apt to regard with feelings intense in proportion to his trust. Things once settled definitely do not often allow of much after debate. The mind has come to clear ideas, the heart is fixed, and the course of action decided upon—then how much easier it is for one to live!

Distressing doubts find no place for entrance; vacillation is banished, strength of purpose and joyousness of soul grow, because the course is clear and consistent.

Most of the discontent of life, the unhappiness and misery, would be banished if only each person would settle for himself once and forever his belief in God and purpose to serve Him obediently. It would require will power and submission, but it would give liberty and contentment. It would change sighs into songs and weariness into restfulness.

The expressions of supreme and unquestioning trust in God heard from aged saints often sound strange to half hearted disciples, but they are true to fact and should be natural to all followers of Christ. If He is the Saviour, trust Him fully, obey Him absolutely, love Him devotedly.

Many wish they might have more love for Christ, but never use the means of increasing the love they do have. Serve Him diligently, and love will increase. Trust His word, and faith will grow. Rest in His promises, and the heart will be fixed.

Our Schools.

The public schools are justly the pride of the republic. But they cannot supply all our need. The conference seminary, college and university are needed also. Whatever the coming years may bring we shall need for a long time our denominational schools. The associations formed during the stay of the young people at the academy and college shape their whole future life. The advantages which our own schools offer to the children of Methodist homes outweigh all the benefits to be found in those of other churches or of the state. It is of vast importance that our young people choose their life associates from those who have been trained under similar influences to their own. If Methodist principles are right, then it is unwise to neglect to teach them to our young people.

Every church should have a deep regard for its young people who are away from home attending any of our schools.

Our young people can find no better schools than those of their own church. The Woman's college of Baltimore is the leading institution of its kind in the world. Our new university at Washington is destined to take like high rank.

Ten Years of Growth.

May 15, 1889, in Cleveland, O., the Epworth League had birth. The story, so often told, of the delegates from the five Young People's societies of Methodism meeting to effect a union, never grows wearisome. The difficulties were seemingly insuperable. The solution was unexpected and providential. The League was phenomenal in its growth. Ten years have served to bring it to a solid basis. Its powers and limitations are better known than ever before. It is not to be expected that it can increase in numbers so rapidly in the future as in the past years, because all parts of worldwide Methodism are now well organized, and there is not much room for new chapters. But the age of consolidation and upbuilding and development has come.

Whatever may have been the misgivings of some as to the usefulness of the League and the wisdom shown in its organization, it is now clear that it has been of immense benefit to the church in bringing the young people into fuller knowledge of religious and churchly life and training them in Christian activity.

A Wise Answer.

A bright young man of wealth and social position, but with bad habits, recently asked a young woman to be his wife. Many girls would have felt flattered and have accepted him. Her answer was sharp and decided. "You say I have qualities you wish in the woman who is to be your wife. I do not know as to that. But there are habits I do not have, and I cannot accept a husband who has them. I do not smoke, nor swear, nor indulge in wine. I am not in debt. I do not spend my days in idleness or walking the streets with silly, unthinking girls nor my nights with questionable associates. As you have most of these habits, I am not willing to become your wife. Nothing but misery could come of such a union." It was wisely thought and bravely spoken.

Resistance.

It needs power to resist the influences at work for sin around us on every side. Young Christians are especially subject to these allurements. An attitude of firm determination based on fixed principles carefully wrought out in hours of calm thought is the essential safeguard against the attacks of worldliness. The higher one gets in social circles the more difficult it becomes to live the humble, consistent life followed in days of poverty and obscurity. The late Secretary Windom said: "You don't know what pressure is brought to bear on us here in Washington to live the same life all the days of the week, but I never have and I never will accept any kind of an invitation on Sunday. The world crowds me hard six days of the week, and I cannot afford to let it have this one."

A MUCH MIXED UP CASE.

The Jury Was Unable to Reach an Agreement After Deliberation.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 26.—In the town rooms yesterday afternoon was tried the case of Luther Whitaker against Michael Powers, of Plainfield. The case grew out of a suit recently won by Powers against Adam Hoffman. The former won the action and when he went to attach goods belong to Hoffman, Mr. Whitaker appeared and claimed that he was the owner. Walter Hetfield, of Plainfield, appeared for the defendant and Paul Q. Oliver for Mr. Whitaker.

From the evidence submitted it would seem that Hoffman had purchased a car load of flag stone and that Powers had gone to him and threatened him with a suit for a bill that he owed him unless the bill was paid at once. Hoffman then, or as claimed by him before that, went to Whitaker and said that he would sell him the car load of stone and let it go on a bill which he owed Whitaker.

Mr. Whitaker was the only witness called to testify that this sale was ever made and he could not tell when it took place except that it was within a week or two from April 20th, which would make it after Mr. Powers had been to see Hoffman.

Mr. Whitaker claimed that the stone walks were to be laid for him by Hoffman but John Darsh, W. S. Welch, and Martin Wells testified that they had made the deal with Hoffman and that they knew nothing of Whitaker in the case. Justice of the Peace Joseph E. Mosher, of Plainfield, was one of the witnesses. The jury went out at 5 o'clock but could not agree, three being for the defendant and three for the plaintiff, and they were discharged at 7:40.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Governor Voorhees to Welcome the Veterans—Commander Contest.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, May 26.—Governor Voorhees has informed Colonel E. C. Stahl that he has accepted his invitation and will be present at the opening session of the Annual State Encampment of the New Jersey Department of the Grand Army of the Republic, which will be held in this city Wednesday, June 7th. The Masonic Temple has been secured for the business sessions of the encampment, and Colonel Stahl has invited the members of the Women's Relief Corps and the Ladies' of the Grand Army, who will be in annual session in the city at that time, to be present and meet the Govenor, who will deliver an address of welcome.

In the evening Colonel Stahl and the committee on welcome will entertain the visitors with an old fashioned compfire in the Temple.

A spirited but good-natured contest is now going on for the place of department commander. Those already in the field are Oscar Gifford, of Newark, ex-Sheriff George Barrett, of Camden, and Captain Parsons, of Red Bank. Captain Parsons was a candidate at last year's encamptment at Long Branch, but was defeated by a narrow margin. The encampment will be in session two days.

L. A. W. PLUMS GIVEN OUT

Executive Committee Holds a Secret Session in New York.

T. J. Keenan, Jr., of Pittsburg, the gentleman who was recently elected President of the League of American Wheelmen, together with the members of his Executive Committee, held a prolonged meeting at the Astor House, New York, recently, at which plums in the shape of offices were doled out to some of those who had done faithful work for the League in the past.

League of American Wheelmen national officials present at the secret session besides the President were: Vice-President H. W. Foltz, of Indianapolis, Ind., and R. T. Kingsbury, of Keene, N. H., comprising the Executive Committtee, and Treasurer J. C. Tattersall, of Trenton, N. J.; Secretary Abbott Bassett, of Boston, and Sterling Elliott, of Boston. Later I. B. Potter and the local League of American Wheelmen handicapper were in attendance.

Among much other business done at the meeting, it was decided to establish a touring department to furnish necessary information as to cycling routes throughout the United States. P. Aldrich, of Boston, formerly a League handicapper, was placed in charge of this department at a salary.

It was decided to increase the Racing Board to six or more members, and G. E. Stackhouse was appointed the member for New York. It was announced that in order to better fight the National Cycling Association Frederick Gerlach, Chairman of the Board, will shortly open up headquarters in New York.

Otto Dorner, of Milwaukee, was named to succeed himself as Chairman of the Highways Improvement Committee.

Effect of Wheeling on the Heart.

Dr. Schott, of Nauheim, Germany, who has devoted considerable time to the study of bicycling from a hygienic point of view, gives these facts as the result of his studies:

Bicycling, just as mountain climbing, accelerates the action of the heart, and thus quickens the pulse. This naturally tends to enlarging the heart during action, a process which during rest takes a backward turn, and the vital organ resumes its natural state. By violence, or, say, excessive exercise on the wheel, when the pulse beats at 140 per minute, the conditions change. The expansion of the heart does not fall back to the normal, as is best proved by the "used up" look of the cycle racers after a tournament. Should this strained exercise continue the enlargement of the heart continues with it, and fatal results are inevitable.

The older the wheelman the easier do the muscles of the heart assume undue proportions, and, the arteries becoming less elastic with age, the life of such a man is greatly endangered. There is a certain note in breathing which is an infallible warning with turners and climbers, which, however very often fails its purpose with the cycler, for in his case the great draught used by his runs supplies him with more oxygen than is necessary.

All these things should be taken in due consideration by ardent wheelmen. Bicycling as an exercise should be taken only by persons whose heart and lungs are in the best natural condition.

Fred Dunavan, of East Second street, has purchased a Remington wheel of the 1899 pattern.

the subject of an address by Dr. L. E. Livermore, of Lebanon, Conn. "The Effect of College Training on the Religious Life of Young People" was a strong address by Rev. Clayton Burdick, of Brookfield, N. Y., said to have a larger proportion of college students in his church than any other pastor in the association. Mr. Burdick is highly in favor of college training, saying that it teaches system in work, gives a deeper insight into spiritual things, and makes a young person easier and more influential in society.

MISS MILNE'S DEBUT.

Made Her Formal Entrance Into Society Yesterday at a Reception.

Mrs. Isabel Milne, of 33 Willow avenue, gave a reception yesterday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock, at which time she introduced her daughter, Miss Susie Milne, to society. During the hours there were about two hundred guests present and in every particular the affair was a brilliant one.

Those who received with the debuntante were Mrs. Isabel Milne and Mrs. Alexander Milne In the dining room Mrs. Henry A. McGee and Mrs. W. J. Roome presided, and they were assisted by Miss Sadie Buck, of New York; Miss Agnes Hutton, Miss May Rae, Miss Florence Dunkley, of Brooklyn; Miss Florence Serrell, Miss Bessie Valiant and Miss Elsie Brokaw, of Washington Park.

In the decorations pink roses were used chiefly and the general effect was pink, combined with ferns, and a few other varieties of choice flowers.

In the evening after the hour of receiving the young people enjoyed a dance which was one of the features of the affair.

An Epworth League Rally.

A delegation of Epworth Leaguers from this city went to Cranford last night to attend a rally there. They were from the First, Monroe Avenue and Grace M. E. churches. Taking the 7:39 train, they were accommodated in the parlor car, and rode to the little town in state. There the visitors furnished the programme, while the home people provided the refreshments and the reception. Among those who took part from here were Robert Davis, who rendered cornet solos, and Miss Bertha Whitney and Miss Conroy, who gave recitations.

Hackmen in Trouble Again.

William Callahan and John Guinea, two hackmen, were arrested and tried this morning before City Judge Runyon for alleged violation of the hack ordinance. Roundsman Flynn was Callahan's accuser, and Peter Seader the complainant in the Guinea case. Guinea in turn made a counter-charge against Seader. Callahan's case was dismissed, and Guinea's case was laid over until next Wednesday.

Died at Soldiers' Home.

PLAINFIELD NEEDS TO BE ADVERTISED.

Great Benefits May Be Derived From Publicity.

A SCHEME IS PROPOSED.

SECURE $1,000 WORTH OF SUBSCRIPTIONS FROM CITIZENS.

And With That Money Bring the Advantages of Plainfield to the Attention of the World by Photographs, Circulars, Statistical Information on Envelopes and Advertising in Newspapers.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—

I am deeply interested in the advancement of Plainfield, trust that those who attended the meeting of business men on the evening of May 23d may organize an association that shall have for its purpose the permanent improvement of this city, and that, putting aside petty jealousies, they may evolve some plan which shall accomplish the above object.

It is a well-known fact that the town is at present at a standstill, and the only way to invite prosperity is to infuse new blood into the community by inducing people from other cities to come here and establish their residences.

It is stated as a fact that there are about 300 vacant properties in this place, and we wonder why this is so. The reason lies in this, that all the present inhabitants are provided with abodes, and the vacant properties are untenanted because there is none to occupy them.

A very simple but effective remedy for this condition of affairs is at hand, viz.: advertise.

We have in this city many natural and artificial advantages that will appeal to any outsider if brought to his notice.

Plainfield is so situated on the side of the Watchung range that good climatic conditions and natural drainage are at hand. It has water and sewage systems, gas and electric lights, good roads, trolley system, unexcelled schools, churches for almost every sect, creed or faith, hospital, fire departments, banks, department stores, library, etc., and is within easy distance of New York.

The question now is how shall the above facts be advertised so that they will be brought before the outside world? I would offer these suggestions.

In the first place there are about one hundred and fifty merchants and manufacturers and perhaps about fifty professional men in business in this city who use letter heads, etc. The combined correspondence of all these people will probably reach every town and city in this land. If every professional and business man would have printed upon the left hand side of his envelopes a short succinct statement of the advantages to be found in Plainfield, this city would be very thoroughly advertised at a very small cost.

In the second place have six, eight or ten of the pretty locations of this city photographed and having framed groups of these pictures, place them in the more important stations along the line of the railroad from New York to Philadelphia.

In the third place have a book of small and convenient size prepared, treating of this city, have placed therein if you please copies of the above pictures and place such books or pamphlets in the various stations along the line of railroad.

In the fourth place select on each Sunday a different metropolitan newspaper and place therein an advertisement of the city with a cut of some pretty part of the town.

I have also noticed that the Westfield Board of Trade has placed in the surface cars and elevated systems of New York and Brooklyn, an advertisement of that town. It might be a good plan to adopt this method in conjunction with those above stated.

To advertise as above set forth would probably cost from a thousand to fifteen hundred dollars. This fund could be raised, I believe, by subscription.

If each of the one hundred and fifty merchants and fifty professional men would contribute five dollars each, a fund of one thousand dollars, for advertising purposes would immediately be created.

I feel certain that if a committee were to canvass this city that there are enough public-spirited men outside of the merchants, etc., to contribute another five hundred dollars.

There are perhaps some who will say that this scheme will only aid the real estate men of the town in renting and selling property. It is true that

CHANGES FOR BETTER

OBSERVATIONS OF DEAN RODMAN ON HIS FOREIGN TRIP.

What He Saw in the Different Lands Was Very Encouraging for Christianity—Dr. Richards Was Highly Pleased, Also.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—

Returning from a three months' tour which embraced some part of Italy, Greece, Egypt and the Holy Land, I am requested to give very briefly the impression left upon my mind by what I saw and heard: This must be done, of course, in a very general way. Much was seen that was very offensive, but that we will not dwell upon. Notwithstanding the many signs of poverty and wretchedness that presented themselves, it is evident to the visitor of Florence and Naples, Cairo and Beyrout that forces are at work which have already effected changes for the better in the condition of their inhabitants and which inspire the hope that before many years roll by these changes will widen the circle of their influence and take in the whole population. A gentleman whom I met in Naples told me that he had been there ten or fifteen years ago and that the improvements which he saw on every hand was most marked and encouraging. One of our party said that if he could not live in the United States he would prefer Cairo as his place of abode. Mr. W. D. Howells, in his "Tuscan Cities" says that next to New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Helena, Montana, he would prefer Florence. We have come back home with the conviction that, looking at the condition of the countries visited by us, from a Christian or political standpoint, there is good ground for hope of the advancement in all things that go to make a nation. The recovery, after long years of war and desolation and oppression, must be slow, but it seems to be gaining ground.

Yours Truly,
E. M. Dodman.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—

Your request reaches me that I write a word or two as to my impressions of our recent journey in the east. We have all confessed to each other a feeling of amazement that it has been possible to accomplish so much in so short a time. Absent from home not quite three months, and compelled to travel long distances by sea, we have yet been able to visit many of the places that would be most interesting to us in three continents.

We were on the water almost half the time, eighteen nights on the Atlantic and nineteen on the Mediterranean, yet we find our minds charged with interesting memories of the four great cities, Rome and Athens and Cairo and Jerusalem; while we made shorter visits in many of the smaller cities of Palestine and of Italy. We feel that these three months have been most profitably employed.

Yours Truly,
W. R. Richards.

SOFA FRINGE ON FIRE.

Children Hunting for Marbles With Lighted Matches.

About 9:30 o'clock last evening an alarm of fire was sent in from box No. 142 corner of Somerset street and Manning avenue, by Julius Stahl, in reponse to a request sent from the home of Mrs. E. E. Hann, of Somerset place, at whose house the fire occurred. Her children were playing in one of the rooms with some marbles, when a few of them rolled under a sofa. The children anxious to secure the lost marbles, went under the sofa with lighted matches The fringe caught fire and in a few minutes the entire sofa was in a blaze. The fire department responded in time to throw the blazing sofa outdoors, and one extinguisher was used to put the fire out. There was only slight damage otherwise.

Pastorate Anniversary.

The first annual anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. E. E. Jackson, pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist church, will be celebrated next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Speakers in and out of the city will be present. Dr. D. J. Yerkes will be present to speak a word of good cheer. Rev. Jackson has just returned from Asbury Park where he has been arranging for the great Baptist Spiritual Harvest, which will begin about the 20th of June, when ministers from different sections of the country will be present.

Tunis for Census Supervisor.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, May 27.—Congressman Howell has received a letter from William R. Merriam, Director of the Census, informing him that he had decided to send in to the President the name of Charles S. Tunis for Supervisor of the Fourth Census District. The district comprises the counties of Middlesex, Hunterdon, Somerset and Union.

REFORMATION FOR SCOTCH PLAINS.

Movement to Be Inaugurated By Rev. Mr. Shott.

HOT SHOT FROM THE PULPIT.

HE WILL PREACH ABOUT THE TOWN'S MORALS TOMORROW.

The Minister Says That Already He Has Had a Great Many Offers of Assistance to Undertake a Movement for a Maintenance of a Higher Plane of Morals in the Community There.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 27—The sensation which was caused in Scotch Plains when Miss Alida Messler tried to kill herself in the hallway of the Codington building in Plainfield a week ago yesterday afternoon, and which was followed Sunday by a denouncement of the town's morals by Rev. James Shott in the pulpit of the Baptist church, still prevails in a subdued, expectant form as a result of the anticipation that the minister will refer to the matter from the pulpit again tomorrow.

Rev. Mr. Shott was seen by a Press reporter yesterday and he stated that he intended to have something to say about the morals of Scotch Plains tomorrow, at both the morning and evening services. On just what line it will be he did not say, although he intimated that it would be based on his investigations made during this week.

Rev. Mr. Shott did say, however, that steps were now being taken to form a movement among the people of Scotch Plains and immediate vicinity who would undertake to cause a reformation there in the way vice and crime prevails. Since he had publicly announced himself in favor of a higher plane of morals in the community Mr. Shott said that he had a large number of the best citizens of the community call on him and offer their services to start a movement to bring about a change. Not only has he had the offers of personal assistance, but he said that one man of wealth who lives in the immediate suburbs of Scotch Plains had come to him unsolicited and said that he would be glad to furnish him with what financial assistance was needed to make a clean sweep of the immoral features of the place.

In view of his announcement that he will have something to say about the matter from the pulpit tomorrow it is expected that there will be a large attendance at the services, and at that time he will endeavor to stir up the sentiment and energy of his parishoners that will result in the formation of some kind of an organization to prosecute the work of reformation in a thorough manner.

One thing that Rev. Mr. Shott is particularly apprehensive of in the near future, in relation to the morals of his town, is that when the Scotch Plains extension of the Plainfield Street Railway Company gets into operation it will mean the bringing of a great gang of drunkards and disorderly characters from Plainfield, who will make the conditions ten times worse than they are now. It is the intention, if possible, to get his reform movement underway before the trolley gets in operation from Plainfield.

A PIANO RECITAL.

Pupils of Misses Marsh Acquit Themselves Creditably.

The pupils of the Misses Marsh, of Madison avenue, gave a delightful piano recital yesterday afternoon. The large audience which attended was enthusiastic over the skillful rendering of the programme. Clearness of touch, combined with freedom and expression, characterized all the numbers.

A very enjoyable feature of the programme was the ensemble playing. An Adagio and Allegro from the first Symphony, by Haydn, and a selection from Cavelleria Rusticana were rendered on two pianos by a class of four young ladies — The Misses Boone, Millar, Chapman and Titsworth.

The other numbers of the programme, which were played from memory, were rendered by Marguerite Lee, Dorothy Fisk, Charlotte T. Finch, Marie L. Finch, Adelaide Carney, John Phillips, Frank P. Simons, Elizabeth E. Phillips, G. Stuart Simons, George L. Babcock, Bessie Millar, Margaret P. Mead, Annie L. Jennings, Virginia Hegeman, Grace Kaufman, Nellie Valiant, Annie Boone, May D. Thompson, Esther S Thompson, Bessie J. Valiant and Saidee Mae Howell.

FISHES TO AID HIS MINISTERIAL WORK.

Rev. A. J. Potter Converts Sinners and Catches Fishes.

THE SEVENTH-DAY BAPTISTS

TODAY, THEIR SABBATH, IS GIVEN UP TO DEVOTION.

Many Routine Matters of Church Work Were Transacted Yesterday Morning and Afternoon, and in the Evening a Sermon Was Preached by the Preacher-Fisherman—More Business.

The sessions of the Seventh-Day Baptist convention continued through yesterday afternoon and evening and all today. Important sessions will also be held tomorrow, closing the convention.

The devotional service that opened yesterday afternoon's session was led by Rev. O. D. Sherman, of Mystic, Conn. This was followed by a missionary hour conducted by Rev. O.U. Whitford, of Westerly, R. I., who also delivered the first address on "General Needs and Duties of Mission Work." He was followed by Wm. L. Clark, president of the missionary society, of Ashaway, with a talk on "The Origin and Need of Consecration for Work," after which S. H. Davis, of Westerly, explained new plans for raising funds for mission work. D. E. Titsworth, president of the Sabbath Evangelical and Industrial Association, presented the needs of the African Industrial Mission, Rev. O. D. Sherman, of Mystic, Conn., offered prayer, then the sermon of the afternoon was preached by Rev. W. D. Burdick, of Nile, N. Y. His text was "We are laborers together with God." The sermon emphasized the need of consecration, and told of the great achievements possible to those who work consecratedly with God.

The evening service was opened with a service of song conducted by Rev. Martin Sindall, of New Market. Then the meeting was given over to the charge of Rev. A. J. Potter, of Niantic, Conn., who is known as the "Fisherman Preacher." He conducted a praise and conference service.

Rev. Mr. Potter is a peculiar man to be in the pulpit. Brought up as a fisherman, and used the sea all his life, he became converted and studied for the ministry. But he did not give up his occupation. He fished and preach. Even when he was called to the pastorate of the Seventh-Day Baptist church at Niantic, which is near New London, he still clung to the sea.

The church is small and does not pay Mr. Potter a very large salary, and much of his support comes from the finny dwellers of the Atlantic. He is a forceable speaker, and his anecdotes used to illustrate his meanings were to the point.

The speaker used the first three verses of the 40th Psalm for his text. In them David thanks the Lord for raising him up out of the bottomless pit. Using them for a heading, the speaker urged his hearers to do as David had done, and if they were in the pit to seek a way out.

The meeting that followed the pastor's remarks was full of interest. Prayers, remarks and exhortations followed each other in quick succession and it was plain to be seen that the words of the "Fisherman Preacher" had sunk deeply into their hearts.

This morning the regular Sabbath morning service was held, with a strong sermon by Rev. Boothe C. Davis, of Alfred, N. Y, and a joint collection for the missionary and tract societies.

This afternoon the Bible school and Christian Endeavor meetings are being held as usual, the former conducted by D. E. Titsworth, and participated in by many delegates; the latter led by Miss May Dixon, of Shiloh. Tonight there will be stereopticon views of industrial mission life, and tomorrow three sessions, including business, conference and addresses, the convention closing with the evening session.

Thankful to Their Friends.

The strawberry and ice cream festival in the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church came to a close last evening. There was a good attendance, everything was disposed of and the Ladies' Christian Work Society are rejoicing over the fact that about $75 was realized, after paying all expenses.

Divorce Granted.

Last Wednesday a decree of absolute divorce was granted in the New Jersey Chancery Court in the case of May M. Johnstone, of East Fifth street, against William C. Johnstone. The decree was in the wife's favor. The wife being under age, the suit was brought in the name of her father, E. C. Mulford, as her next friend.

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD POLITICAL PICNIC.

An Effort to Stir up Interest for Fall Campaign.

TO ATTRACT STATE LEADERS

OUT OF IT A LOCAL ORGANIZATION MAY BE FORMED.

It Has Been a Good Many Years Since the Democrats of This Section Have Met Together, and This Picnic is Designed to Arouse Interest in the Approaching Fall Campaign

Quite a good deal of quiet talk is being indulged in by local Democrats about holding a political picnic within a few weeks in order to arouse an interest in party affairs in anticipation of the campaign this fall. Since the fiasco that the Democrats experienced last winter in their endeavor to secure the nomination of a straight party ticket, there has been little interest evidenced in the organization that was started with good prospects, but which was finally dropped when it was stampeded for a citizens' movement by a few men who were anxious to get some sort of an office.

Now, however, some of the members of the late lamented association, as well as others who were not affiliated with it in its short career, are discussing plans for stirring up an interest in the local Democratic ranks so that when the fall campaign comes Plainfield will be in a position to take an active and aggressive part in the political conventions.

It is suggested that one of the best ways to do this is to hold a political picnic sometime next month, or the following month, where the members of the party who take an interest in its affairs can get together for a confab and a good time, out of which, it is thought, a strong organization may be born. Such an affair would undoubtedly be a success. The expense of it would be shared equally among those who attended, tickets being sold for an amount sufficient to cover the aggregate expense.

It has been a good many years since the Democrats of Plainfield have got together so that they could come in touch with the leaders from other sections, and such an affair would probably bring about such a result by an attendance of some of the State and county leaders from other sections. As there are to be many important nominations made this fall, and candidates will be plenty, a gathering of this character would be attractive and interesting in a great many ways from the political standpoint.

Instead of making it a strictly Plainfield affair, in which Union county politics would figure the most conspicuously, it is the thought to arrange it with a view of taking in North Plainfield and Somerset county Democrats, too. This would make a larger crowd, give more importance and make the success greater. Politics is bound to be lively among the Somerset Democrats from now to election time, and a gathering of the political spirits of the section would be a great attraction for the leaders.

It is expected that sometime next week a meeting of those interested in the matter will be held and the project discussed and steps taken to carry it out.

DEATH OF MISS COMPTON

A BAPTIST CHURCH WORKER DIED THIS MORNING.

Unable to Withstand the Ravages of Consumption—Mrs. Malay and Mrs. Messerschmidt Succumb to Long Illnesses.

The death of Miss Kate Compton, aged fifty years, occurred this morning after a long illness with consumption. The deceased was the daughter of the late Nathaniel R. Compton, who died in this city in 1868, and she was well known among a large circle of friends. She was a member of the First Baptist church, where she was a faithful and regular attendant when able. One sister, Mrs. George Cornwell, survives her. The funeral services will be held from the house, 407 Park avenue, Wednesday morning next at 10 o'clock.

Yesterday evening Mrs. Sarah Messerschmidt, wife of Nicholas Messerschmidt, of 80 Jackson avenue, passed away after a long illness, the result of a cancer. Mrs. Messerschmidt has been a resident of this place for many years and was well known. Her death was somewhat unexpected, as the seriousness of her illness was not thought of by the relatives. The funeral services will be held from the house Monday afternoon next at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Bridget Malay, of 553 South Second street, aged 75 years, died last evening after a long illness. Mrs. Malay was born in Ireland and resided in Plainfield for many years, where she was respected by all who knew her. Fifteen years ago her husband died. She is survived by two daughters, one of whom lives in Newark and the other in this city. There is also a son, who resides at Orange and is an engineer on the D. L. & W. Railroad. The funeral services will be held Monday morning next at 8:30 o'clock from the house and at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church. Interment will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

THE TROLLEY IN ROSELLE.

Company Will do Work Costing $20,000 to Get the Franchise.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Roselle, May 27.—The public hearing on the application of the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company for a trolley franchise at this place was continued at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen held last evening. Colonel E. W. Hine, secretary of the company, and A. A. Gaddis were in attendance at the meeting. Colonel Hine stated that the railway company had a sufficient number of property owners' consents to accomplish the work of widening Second avenue from 60 to 80 feet. His company were willing to do the work and pay for it to secure the franchise through the borough. This work, it is estimated, will cost between $15,000 and $20,000. T. H. Berry and C. W. Conklin, two residents of Second avenue, were the only objectors and it now looks more favorable for the trolley at this place. Further consideration of the franchise was adjourned till the next meeting which will be held June 2d, at which time it is expected the application will at last reach its second reading.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIABLE.

An Annual Event of the First Methodists Much Enjoyed.

The annual sociable and entertainment of the senior members of the Sunday-school of the First M. E. church was held last evening in Vincent chapel. J. W. Jackson, superintendent of the Sunday-school, was in charge of the programme, which consisted of several pleasing recitations by Miss Mary Luckey, a cornet solo by Robert Davis and a vocal solo by Harry Messersmith. There was also several vocal solos by Miss Etta Raybert, accompanied by Miss Sharp, which were greatly enjoyed by all. Miss Bessie Valiant very kindly gave a piano solo that was a featture of the entertainment.

Toward the close of the evening the committee in charge, under the direction of Harry Gee, served those present with ice cream and cake, and thus an evening of profit and pleasure came to an end.

A Counter Charge.

Joseph Wilson, of Richmond street, who was charged by Michael Recca, before Justice Nash, with assaulting him, went to Justice Mosher yesterday and swore out a warrant for Recca's arrest, charging him with the same offense. It seems, from Wilson's story, that Recca was to sell him the barber shop, and when the time came to pass the bill of sale, a dispute arose in which Recca got the worst of it, and went down to the justice and had his clerk arrested. The constable has been unable to arrest Recca, and it is thought he is out of town.

C. V. VICKERY, OF NEBRASKA, THE SPEAKER AT THE MEETING.

He Described the Terrible Needs of Missionaries in Foreign Lands—It is the Supreme Duty of the Church to Aid in Evangelizing the World—Urged That Societies Support Workers.

Christian Endeavorers and their friends were present in large numbers last night to attend the missionary meeting held in the First Baptist church under the auspices of the Plainfield Local Union. This meeting was one of four arranged for by the Union County Union, and held simultaneously in Plainfield, Westfield, Rahway and Elizabeth. The speakers at all these meetings were members of the Yale University Mission Band of Student Volunteers, who have been arousing so much interest in missions in New York and many other places. Plainfield was the first of the four towns to arrange for a meeting, and it was at first thought that it would be the only one, in which case there would have been five members of the Band present at the one meeting. As it was decided to hold the four the speakers were divided among the different meetings, C. V. Vickery, of Nebraska, being the speaker for Plainfield.

During the opening exercises Miss Florence Genevieve Hawkins, president of the Plainfield Union, presided. Frederick H. Andrews conducted a short service of song, Mr. Vickery read a chain of Scripture texts showing the duty of Christians toward missions, and Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes offered prayer.

After the singing of a missionary hymn by a quartette, composed of Horace J. Martin, Charles Hummer, Louis Hummer and Mr. Moore, Mrs. Alice Spangenberg Runyon, superintendent of the missionary department of the Union, introduced Mr. Vickery, who, without notes or even a text, spoke directly from his heart to the hearts of his hearers. His address was very simple and practical, but exceedingly impressive and earnest, reminding many of the audience of Robert E. Speer.

"Suppose," said Mr. Vickery, "that you had a friend whom you loved better than your life; that you should be in great danger and your friend should save your life, but at the expense of his own. As you said a last farewell to him, bending over him for the last time, he makes a dying request of you, a request that is perfectly reasonable, and fully within your power. If, after he is dead and buried, you allow yourself to be so taken up with other things that you forget all about it, and neglect it year after year, what sort of a friend do you call yourself? And yet, this is but a faint type of the condition of the Christian church for nearly twenty centuries."

Mr. Vickery went on to tell of the terrible need of missionaries in foreign lands, saying that if the United States were supplied with preachers at the same rate as China, it would require fifty towns the size of Plainfield to be entitled to one. The supreme duty of the church should certainly be to obey the last command of its Lord; but it should be regarded as really a privilege, rather than a duty. That it is so regarded by the thousands of young people enrolled under the banner of the Student Volunteers was shown by Mr. Vickery's description of large parties of students pleading with the officers of missionary boards to send them to the field, and going away broken in spirit because there was no money with which to send them. Their watchword is "The Evangelization of the World in Our Generation," and, said the speaker, this would be no impossible thing if the people of this country would give to this great fight half the enthusiasm and help they gave to pushing the Spanish War. "What would have been said," asked he, "if our soldiers could not have gone to Cuba because there was no money for transports? Yet the conflict in which we are engaged is infinitely greater." The army of advance is ready; the speaker pleaded earnestly for an army of support. He urged especially that societies and individuals support workers on the field; $30 supports a native preacher, and many Christians could support more than one. He told of one factory girl that supported seven, and one

Indisputable Facts.

Disease, fermentation and decay are caused by microbes and germ life; when these organic pests are destroyed there can be no sickness.

Antiseptics are so called because they destroy microbes; surgeons always use antiseptics in performing dangerous operations.

Carbolic acid is a common antiseptic, but is poisonous if taken into the system strong enough to destroy the germs of disease.

Radam's Microbe Killer, composed of GASES, is an antiseptic, perfectly harmless to the human body, but doubly powerful in destroying disease if faithfully applied. Physicians frequently use Microbe Killer in treating Cancers, and recommend it for Catarrh, Tuberculosis, etc.; others know it to be invaluable in Bright's Disease and Bladder Troubles.

Fermentation of food in the stomach causes Dyspepsia, Sourness, etc.; Radam's Microbe Killer destroys the CAUSE and sweetens the stomach.

Impoverished blood is the home of germ life; when pure it is the fountain of life, the source of all health and vigor.

Radam's Microbe Killer is the only rational remedy for all diseases; its antiseptic power eradicates every disease from the human body.

These facts are incontrovertible, and we invite the fullest investigation by all interested people, professional or otherwise.

We would like to mail you, absolutely free, a book containing testimonials and advice.

HE IS ARMED TO THE TEETH.

Captain Marks Strongly Intrenched in an American Schooner.

TROUBLE LOOKED FOR.

Says He Will Defend Himself With Weapons of War Until He Gets His Pay.

The Governments of the United States and Great Britain Defied by Marks and His Crew—Helvetia's Commander Barricaded in the Boat at Valley Field, in Canadian Waters.

Washington, May 27.—Capt. Marks, of the American schooner Helvetia, intrenched and barricaded on his ship and armed to the teeth, like a pirate of old, is defying the government of Great Britain and the United States at Valley Field, in Canadian waters, not far from Montreal. An attempt to capture the ship under the United States consul has been ordered by this government with the consent of Great Britain, and blood may flow before its purpose is accomplished.

Early last fall the Atlantic Transportation Company of New York chartered several schooners at Cleveland, O., intending to lease them to the Government, and ordered them to the Atlantic. When they reached Valley Field the river was frozen and all the vessels were tied up for Winter.

Meanwhile a receiver was appointed for the Atlantic Transportation Company and the schooners were ordered back to Cleveland. When the river opened all the schooner captains except Captain Marks, of the Helvetia, obeyed. He said he would hold his craft until he was paid for his services, and the crew decided to stay with him.

The owners of the vessel offered to give bond to pay any debt found against them, but the captain refused to give up the ship. Instead he barricaded the schooner and prepared for war.

The Canadian Government refused to act, because the schooner had an American register. Attempts made through this Government to get Marks to yield, failed. Then the United States consul asked for authority from the Canadian Government to act on his own score in arresting Marks. The Government consented, but the United States Government objected until the owners of the vessel should give bond to indemnify the consul.

This has been done and orders have gone forth from Washington and Ottawa to seize the Helvetia and arrest Marks. But the seizure has not taken place yet and the authorities here are looking for some stirring news of a fight from Montreal.

Fire Sweeps Coney Island.

New York, May 27.—Coney Island was visited by the most disastrous fire in its history. For four hours the flames baffled the efforts of an army of firemen, and when the blaze was brought under control, eight blocks from Kensington walk to Feltman's Casino, and from the sea side of the Bowery to the water's edge, were a mass of smouldering ruins. In all about 150 structures had been swept away. While no loss of life was reported, the police believe that there must have been some fatalities. The property loss is estimated at $1,000,000.

Lost $1,250,000 in Iron.

Glasgow, May 27.—A great sensation has been caused by the failure of Neilson Bros., an important firm engaged in the iron and steel trade.

They had long heared Glasgow pig-iron, and were heavily oversold when the corner in warrants was engineered. It is calculated that the concern lost $1,250,000 during the past year. The total of the liabilities is unknown, but will reach the millions. Neilson Bros. were the largest dealers and exporters of ship-plates in Scotland.

Bad Fire in Cleveland.

Cleveland, May 27.—Fire destroyed the Ohio Sash & Door Company's factory on Central flats. The loss amounts to $85,000. A brisk breeze added to the danger, threatening property surrounding the burning factory. The factory was filled with the finest quality of kiln-dried lumber and there was a large quantity of turpentine stored in the building. The building and stock were insured for $80,000. It is not known how the fire started.

Harrison Reed Dead.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 27.—Harrison Reed, the first carpetbag Governor of Florida, is dead. He was born at Littleton, Mass., in 1813. He was editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel and other Western papers, and founded the town of Neenah, Wis. He was Governor of this State four years and a half, in stormy times, and was impeached three times, but unsuccessfully.

Banks Must Pay License.

Frankfort, Ky., May 27.—Warrants have been issued against the banks of this city for failure to pay their annual license tax of $125 each, which was due April 30. The penalty is $20 per day for each day the banks are delinquent, which, if assessed, will cost them about $1,800.

Judge Grosscup Will Recover.

Chicago, May 27.—United States Judge P. S. Grosscup, who has been ill of fever for the last five weeks, is now announced by his physicians to be safely over his troubles. With careful nursing he will soon recover.

Brown's New President Chosen.

Boston, Mass., May 27.—Rev. Dr. W. H. P. Faunce, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, New York, is said to be the man chosen for President of Brown University, and it is said that he has accepted.

Elected to Succeed His Brother.

New York, May 27.—At the regular quarterly meeting of the Directors of the International Paper Company, Anson R. Flower was elected to the board to succeed the late Roswell P. Flower.

DEWEY NAMES THE DAY.

Sends Word That He Will Arrive in New York About October 1.

Washington, May 27.—Admiral Dewey will arrive at New York about Oct. 1.

Two or three days ago Secretary Long cabled Admiral Dewey at Hong Kong asking him to state about when he would arrive in the United States. Admiral Dewey was informed that he was to govern himself entirely by his own wishes in the matter of coming home. he Department desired that he feel no official restraint whatever. The hero of Manila was to take his time, if he desired, and stop wherever he wished. Of course the official despatch to Admiral Dewey conveyed this information very briefly, but enough was said to let him feel that he was to govern himself according to his individual desires.

He cabled from Hong Kong the announcement that he would stop at various places on his way home. Lieut. Ward, of the Navigation Bureau, then made the following official announcement:

"Admiral Dewey telegraphs that he will stop at various places on his way to the United States, and will reach New York about Oct. 1

Distributing the Cash.

Havana, May 27.—The distribution of the $3,000,000, which the United States Government has offered as a gratuity to the Cuban troops on disbanding and surrendering their arms, has begun at the Prado. Under the swollen muster rolls prepared by the Cuban Military Assembly the Americans are curious to see what proportion of the numbers listed will actually appear. There are only 400 on the list for Havana, and Lieutenant Colonel George M. Randall, of the Eighth Infantry, the Commissioner superintending the distribution here, does not expect any trouble. That the rolls are regarded as unreliable is plain from the official report of George H. Chadwick, the clerk who has had charge of them. He says that lists aggregating 1,324 names were received from several department commanders, representing men engaged in civil employment. The organizations in the Cuban army to which these men belong were not definitely stated in more than 200 cases, leaving 1,124 names to be searched for on rolls containing 40,000 names.

Uncle Sam May Retaliate.

Washington, May 27.—There is little doubt that our Government is inclined to retaliatory measures against Canada in view of the discouraging results of the negotiations in London looking to the clearing of the field for the reassembling of the Joint High Commission. It is gathered that the British Foreign Office, which had seemed desirous to meet Mr. Choate's advances in the spirit of compromise that promised well, has been again influenced by Canada's refusal to agree to anything less than a concession of all of their demands. This has stopped all progress.

The Department of State has referred to the Treasury Department the arrangement of a plan to protect the interests of the United States, and a decision from Secretary Gage is expected soon.

Heath Will Not Resign.

Washington, May 27.—A statement published in some of the New York newspapers that the First Assistant Postmaster General, P. S. Heath, was about to resign to become President of the Seventh National Bank of New York City is positively denied by Mr. Heath. In conversation about the report Mr. Heath acknowledged that he and his brother has acquired a considerable block of the stock of the Seventh National Bank, but he did not anticipate any material change in the personnel of the bank.

He Sold the Stamps Too Cheap.

Whitesburg, Ky., May 27.—George Thomas, aged 23, of Joseph, a country hamlet west of this city, was arrested and arraigned for trial before United States Commissioner John W. Combs at Hindman, Knott County, on a charge of unlawfully selling and using postage stamps. It is stated that Thomas exchanged stamps for merchandise and sold them at one half less than the face value. The postoffice at Joseph was recently robbed.

Wants the Troop to Decide.

Washington, May 27.—The Secretary of War has sent the following cablegram to Gen. Otis:

"Many petitions are received to have Washington and Oregon troops sent direct to Puget Sound and Portland. This can be done if the men wish it. It will deprive them of the $25 to $35 each for travel pay from San Francisco. Let a vote be taken with this knowledge by the regiments and advise me."

Our Colonial Rule.

Washington, May 27.—The text of the Executive order for the government of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines issued on May 8, has been given out. Auditors and treasurers are created for each possession, all to be under the Governor-General. All the islands are under identical governments.

An appeal is allowed to the Governor-General.

George W. Watkins Passes Away.

Washington, May 27.—George W. Watkins of Washington, one of the oldest clerks in the Pension Office, died of heart failure at his home. Mr. Watkins was born at Leesburg, Va., in 1829. He served as a scout with Gen. Geary at one time during the War of the Rebellion, and afterward joined the 1st Wisconsin Heavy Artillery.

Minister's Wife Insane.

Racine, Wis., May 27.—The wife of Rev. G. A. Adkins, of Peytona, is violently insane and tried to drown her six-months-old infant in the well, and subsequently tried to take her own life. She says she "will have to kill somebody."

Must Take Off Their Hats in Church.

Dayton, Ohio, May 27.—The Board of Trustees of Raper M. E. Church has decreed that at all meetings at the church the women attending shall remove their hats. The action is in accordance with the terms of the state law on the subject.

INDIAN OUTBREAK FEARED.

Mutterings Among the Nez Perce Tribes, Around Lewiston, Idaho

THEY HOLD A COUNCIL

Redskins on the Reservation In State of Excitement and the Young Braves Favor War.

Over Two Thousand White Settlers Scattered Over the Indian Reservation, Many of Whom Have Fled to Lewiston for Protection—Railway Right of Way Causes the Storm Cloud to Gather.

Spokane, Wash., May 27.—Grave fear exists that the scenes of the Nez Perce Indian war of 1877, in which fifty whites were massacred, thirteen volunteers and 105 officers and soldiers killed and 120 wounded, are about to be repeated about Lewiston, Idaho. For three days past 200 Nez Perce Indians have been holding council on the reservation, in almost the exact spot where, twenty-two years ago, seventeen whites were massacred. Because of a split in the tribe there is great excitement in the council. The young braves, headed by several Carlisle Indians, demand war on the whites, it is said, to right their wrongs. The older chiefs advocate an appeal to the courts.

Scattered over the Nez Perce Reservation are about 2,0000 white settlers. Twenty families of these, alarmed by the threats of the Indians, and the excited condition of the tribe, have fled for safety to Lewiston, and others have taken up a straggling march from their homes.

Formerly the Nez Perce Reservation comprised 10,000 square miles. Nine-tenths of this territory was taken by the Government under a treaty in 1863. The war of 1877 was terminated by the surrender of Chief Joseph to Gen. Miles. In October, 1895, the reservation was thrown open to settlement, as the result of a treaty made in 1893. This left the Indians only allotments in severalty and gave them $3 an acre for the lands taken.

The Northern Pacific Railroad wishes to build sixty five miles of railroad up Lapwai Creek. Without obtaining a right of way from the Indians, the company secured permission from the Government to build across Indian farms, cutting down orchards and desecrating graves. When the road is completed the Commissioner will come from Washington to assess the damages to be paid the Indians by the company. This state of affairs is responsible for the present council of war and the threatened outbreak.

Asks for Removal of General Merriam.

Binghamton, May 27.—At a meeting of the Central Labor Union in this city resolutions were adopted asking President McKinley to remove and court-martial Gen. Merriam. The preamble recites that the miners working for the Standard Oil were underpaid, that Merriam declared unions to be criminal societies and arrested the members; therefore the resolutions declared that his actions were tyranical and outrageous, contrary to the spirit of the Constitution, which guarantees life liberty and the pursuit of happiness to citizens, and the secretary was requested to write President McKinley asking his removal.

Defied a Federal Injunction.

Norfolk, Va., May 27.—Notwithstanding an injunction granted by the Federal Court, the ortmouth Street Railway Company laid tracks over the Port Norfolk Railway's line, and when a force was sent to remove the rails it was overpowered. Both sides were accompanied by constables, and the Portsmouth Company's constable arrested the other officers.

Texas Anti-Trust Law.

Austin, Tex., May 27.—Gov. Sayers signed the Anti-Trust bill. It will go into effect on Jan 1, 1900. Many trusts that are now doing business in Texas are preparing to leave the State. One cash order for a million dollars worth of steel rails sent to an Eastern manufacturer by a Texas railroad builder a few days ago has been called back, it is said.

Judge Buskirk Insane.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 27.—Edward C. Buskirk, ex-Judge of the Criminal Court, and one of the best known Democratic politicians in the country, was declared insane, the result of excessive grief over the condition of his wife, who is lying alarmingly ill at the Deaconess Hospital.

Gen. Bancroft Refuses a Chicago Offer.

Boston, May 27.—Gen. William A. Bancroft, general manager of the Boston Elevated Street Railway Company, has declined the flattering offer from the Chicago West and North Side surface lines to become general manager of the system.

Fired by Incendiaries.

Morristown, N. J., May 27.—The paperboard mills of McEwan Brothers at Whippany were destroyed by fire causing a loss of fully $75,000. The buildings were fired in three places by incendiaries. The loss is covered by insurance.

A man, at present a resident of Knox County, Maine, worked several years ago for a considerable time in the mines of Colorado. His meals were irregular and in consequence he became a terrible sufferer from indigestion and has been ever since. He had tried many patent medicines without realizing any benefit until his brother Charles advised him to try Ripans Tabules. "I thought it useless," said he, "to waste any more money in medicine, but as he urged me I bought a supply and deriving such benefit therefrom I purchased more." He recently said of himself and his condition: "I can now eat all kinds of vegetables, mince pie, cheese and baked beans, which I have not dared to eat for many years."

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (TEN tablets each) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

TORNADO IN NEBRASKA.

Many Persons Injured and Much Property Destroyed.

Hastings, Neb., May 27.—A tornado passed diagonally across this section of Adams county and struck the southern limits of the city. Damage to houses and farm property is large, but no lives were lost. The storm passed on into Kansas. A number of persons were hurt by flying debris. John Hall's frame house, in the path of the storm, was torn to pieces and two children of the family thrown from their beds into an adjoining field and badly hurt.

H. W. Gales, a farmer living near town, was caught by the tornado and suffered a broken back. The roaring of the passing storm awoke everybody in the city. Considerable property of the St. Joseph & Grand Island Railroad here was destroyed.

Warm Time for a Bigamist.

Toledo, Ohio, May 27.—Two wives of the same husband have joined issues in the Common Pleas Court in order that Wife No. 2 might secure a divorce from a man giving the name of Emil Walter. Wife No. 1 testified that she married the same man under the name of Ed Waltz. Judge Morris refused to grant a divorce on the oral testimony, but directed the women to appear before the grand jury in order to have Walter or Waltz indicted for bigamy. The two wives, who appear to be on the most friendly terms then made for the grand jury room to give their testimony.

Hawks Put Up a Hard Fight

Johnstown, Pa., May 27.—Jacob Mathias while driving along in his wagon came across two chicken hawks engaged in a fierce battle. He left his team and picking up a stick from the ground went to where they were fighting. Much to his surprise both of the birds attacked him and clawed his person before he could beat them off. He succeeded in killing one with the stick, but the other continued the fight until Mathias was reenforced by a man from a field, when he succeeded in killing it also. Mathais was painfully injured.

Holliday Makes a Novel Proposition.

Charlestown, W. Va., May 27.—G. H. Holliday, who owns a store and range foundry plant at Manchester, Ohio, has made a proposition to the City Council for the removal of his plant here if the city will for a term of ten years buy all the cinders produced by the foundry, paying therefor $3,000. The City Council is willing to devote $500 a year to it for six years providing that Holliday guarantees to locate his plant here for ten years and keep it in operation six months out of every year.

Another Counterfeiting Plot.

Philadelphia, May 27.—John L. Semple, counsel for Taylor and Bredell, the engravers under indictment for making counterfeit notes and revenue stamps, had a two hours' talk with Brockway, the counterfeiter, now a convict in Trenton Penitentiary. The result of it was that Semple and ex-Governor Pattison, his associate, made a proposition to District Attorney Beck which, it is said, involves their exposing another counterfeiting plot.

Bill Now Becomes a Law

Albany, May 27.—Gov. Roosevelt signed the amended Franchise Tax bill. After the bill had been signed and it was a statute of the State, the Governor said that it was too early for him to discuss what plan would be adopted in enforcing its provisions. He said that a conference would be held within a short time by the members of the State Board of Tax Commissioners.

Object Lessons Win.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 27.—The judges in the educational exhibit, which will be a feature of the National Y. M. C. A. Convention have finished their work. In the junior department Detroit won the award in elementary carpentry, Cleveland in sketch club and also camera club, and reprinted matter. In cities over 25,000 Dayton, Ohio, won the award on its congress.

Wants to Be a Nurse in the Philippines.

Washington, May 27.—Miss Carrie Danford, daughter of Congressman Danford, of Ohio, has applied to the War Department for a place on the staff of nurses with the soldiers in the Philippines, and, having her father's indorsement, fully expects to get the desired appointment. She served as nurse in the Southern military camps and in Cuba last year.

Thought to Have Been Drugged

South Bend, Ind., May 27.—A stranger giving the name of John Litchfield, of Talma, Ind., was found in a park in convulsions and was taken to the hospital, where he died. All he said was that he had drank pop somewhere and gave his name. His entire possessions were 58 cents and a beer check. It is thought he was drugged.

Child Buried in a Posthole.

Owensboro, Ky., May 27.—Some boys at Pellville, seeing a post planted in an unusual place, concluded to investigate, and, pulling it up, found the dead body of a child buried in the posthole. The child had evidently come to his death from natural causes, but suspicion is rife as to why it was so disposed of.

Shot by Accident

Harrisburg, Pa., May 26.—Charles Johnson, second sergeant of Company M, 9th Immunes, was accidentally shot and killed in the Union station. Johnson was in company with Charles of Company F, of the same regiment, and was on his way to his home in New Highberry, La.

Said to Have Starved to Death.

Evansville, Ind., May 27.—It is stated that the little child of Jonathan Lee, living in the manufacturing district of the city, which died several days ago, starved to death. The parents are poor and proud, and would not ask for aid. The case will be investigated.

Defeat Drove Him Insane.

New Holland, Mich., May 27.—B. F. Tanguary, a Justice of the Peace of this place, was declared insane by the Probate Court at Circleville. He has been Squire for 20 years, and was defeated this spring. Insanity followed.

DOES OTIS NEED MORE MEN

Critics at Manila Declare that Our Force at Present is Much too Small.

LOSSES ARE TOO LARGE

Claimed That Recent Events Demonstrate the Urgent Need of Much Larger Army in Philippines.

Much Territory Taken by the Americans is Abandoned Because of Insufficient Number of Troops to Hold It—Enemy Returns and Re-Establish Themselves in Abandoned Towns.

Manila, May 27.—The events of the past week have emphasized the need of a much larger army here, without which, according to the best authorities in Manila, it would be attempting the impossible to expect to establish American supremacy in the Philippine Islands.

The inadequacy of the American forces is said to be responsible for the large total loss in the number of small encounters, without material results as a compensation.

Most of the fighting has been in territory which the Americans had swept, but have been compelled to abandon because they could not spare troops to hold it.

The forces commanded by Gens. MacArthur and Lawton hold two important lines of communication, and command the railroad to San Fernando and the Rio Grande River, but much of the country they have swept, including scores of the smaller towns and some of the larger ones have been left uncovered, simply for want of men to hold them, and the insurgents have returned and are occupying the towns the Americans abandoned and are camping in the jungles and woods outside others, on he watch for chances to harrass the garrisons and attack scouting parties or detached companies with greater forces.

Americans Occupy Jolo.

Manila, May 27.—The steamship Leon Trece, which transported the 23d Infantry to Jolo, has returned with the Spanish garrison stationed there. She reports that the American occupation was peaceful. She also reports the death of the Spanish General Montero, from the effects of wounds received in the recent fighting at Ballomero.

Aguinaldo is visiting Mariano, where he has endeavored to revive the flagging insurrection in the Covite province.

Gen. Rios, the Spanish Commander in the Philippines, who returned from Jolo, denies the rumors of his settlement with the Filipinos for the liberation of the Spanish prisoners by depositing $3,000,000, payable when peace is declared.

The remainder of the Oregon Infantry and the 4th Calvary have returned to Manila.

Pleases Captain Barker

Manila, May 27.—Capt. Barker, who relieved Admiral Dewey here when the latter started on his return trip to the United States, said in an interview that it gave him great pleasure to know that the American people are preparing to give the Admiral so royal a welcome when he gets back to the native land of the stars and stripes, and that he believed that the demonstrations being planned are of the proper sort for our people to show their appreciation of the modest little hero of Manila Bay.

Will Marry an Indian

Appleton, Wis., May 27.—A marriage license has been issued here to Alexander Skanadore, a full-blooded Oneida Indian, and Miss Mabel Bennett, a young and pretty white girl. Skanadore is a resident of the Oneida Reservation and Miss Bennett went there two years ago from South Dakota and has been teaching the Indian school. The bridegroom was educated at Carlisle, Pa.

Collected Tuition and Left Town

Xenia, Ohio, May 27.—About twenty-five students of the Xenia Business College are highly indignant over the disappearance of Prof. A. C. Parsons, President of the college, and his brother Elmer, a teacher. They had collected tuition in advance in sums as high as $50. They owe various amounts here and the furniture was removed from their rooms by the dealers.

Sues His Father for $100,000.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 27.—The largest suit for damages ever entered in the local Courts was brought by Dr. S. K. Hissom against his father for $100,000. The junior Hissom sues his father, who is a wealthy oil operator, on account of having him (S. K. Hissom) incarcerated on a charge of lunacy. The entire matter is of a most sensational family affair.

Creditors Attack Rhea's Estate.

Paris, May 27.—Mlle. Rhea, the actress, who died May 16, willed her estate to her housekeeper. Her creditors have filed claims for $6,000 against the estate, and her house has been attached.

Two Brothers Drowned.

Starbuck, Wash., May 27.—Charles W. Whitney and Frank Whitney, brothers, were drowned at Palouse Rapids, Snake River. They were shooting the rapids.

A Candidate for Senator.

The bitter factional fight that exists in Somerset county Republican ranks between Chancery Clerk Thompson and Senator Reed's respective supporters gives an encouraging outlook for the Democrats in the approaching fall election. For the last few years, as the election results show, the Democrats of the county have not been pulling together in a manner to bring victory to themselves. But the Republican fight seems to be tending to stir the Democrats more, and realizing that at no time is the county overwhelmingly favorable to either party they feel that with a long pull and strong pull together they are likely to capture some of the offices to be filled at the next election. Of course, the most important consideration among the elective offices in the county is the Senatorship now filled by Mr. Reed.

Among the Democrats there are several candidates who are mentioned in connection with the nomination for Senator. One whose name has been suggested as an available candidate for Senator is Assessor Elston M. French, of North Plainfield. We understand that Mr. French has consented to enter the race, and his friends are already bestirring themselves in an effort to secure favorable consideration for him in the county convention when it is held.

It is felt by his friends that Mr. French has certain elements of strength that would make him a strong candidate in Somerset. Within the last few years Mr. French has taken an active part in the affairs of his party, and has come to be recognized as a healthy influence in its councils. He is young, active and aggressive, and in this respect appeals to a great many Democrats who have the interests of the party at heart and who would like to see a man chosen for the principal legislative office that would be alert to advance the party's interest whenever occasion offered; or, better still, who would aim to bring about such conditions with success.

His friends point out that beyond the party view of his nomination and election, however, is the one in respect to the public service he would give to the county. As is well known Mr. French is especially well-informed on the taxation question, both theoretically and practically. His recent selection as chairman of the Somerset County Board of Assessors evidences the esteem and consideration in which his colleagues hold him. The matter of taxation offers a prolific field for endeavor in the Legislature, and if Mr. French should be honored with an election to the Senate he would doubtless improve every opportunity to bring about some needed reforms in New Jersey. He is also conversant in a through manner with insurance matters and might well be expected to give the public exceptionally good service in this respect.

There is not a little humor in much that the newspapers are saying about Plainfield as a result of the agitation that has taken place recently about home trade. The humor in most instances lies in the assurance that some of the newspapers exhibit in putting Plainfield retail establishments in a class with ordinary country stores. Today's New York Hearld devotes nearly a column to a rehash of the rivalry between the Plainfield and Newark merchants. The writer assumes that Elizabeth is drawing a large amount of trade from Plainfield, and that the former is apprehensive of Newark's bid for business from this city. What tommyrot!

In his contention with Mr. Thompson Senator Reed seems to be favored by the leading newspapers of the State. Yesterday's Newark News had the following comment in its editorial columns: "It may be that all is again harmonious among the Somerset county Republicans, but there is good reason to believe that as far as Chancery Clerk Thompson is concerned it is the kind of harmony that follows after a man has begun to realize that he isn't in it any more."

In fixing the valuation of a pipe line in Hunterdon county the State Board of Taxation is said to have taken the actual cost of construction as the basis for the valuation. Is that the real value of the property? pertinently asks The Tribune. "If John Jones buys a piece of property for $500 and spends $1,000 in improving it, would $1,500 be the 'true value' or would its market value be taken as the proper basis for the assessment?"

The New Jersey editor of the New York Press indulges in a political suggestion for Union county Republicans that is all right. He says: "If Union county Republicans are in any sort of quandary over the bestowal of the nomination for Senator, they can pin their faith to Charles C. McBride, the brainy editor of the Elizabeth Journal. Mr. McBride would make his mark in the Senate quite as easily as he did in journalism."

Business men and citizens who dedesire to see Plainfield make greater strides in advancement should read the communication printed in today's Press, in which the advertising idea is dwelt upon. There are some mighty good suggestions made by the correspondent and if a plan was followed out along the line suggested in the letter we are confident that the results would be perfectly satisfactory.

The Detroit Street Railway Commission proposes, in the event of an adverse Supreme Court decision, to form a corporation controlled by the city for the ownership of the lines.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comments From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Plainfielders are showing much opposition to increased traveling facilities over the Central to Newark, fearful that they will lose purchasers. For a place with no more inhabitants we think Plainfield's stores will make favorable comparison with any in the state. Newark, when having twice the population of Plainfield had no business blocks to compare with the Babcock building or the Jackson or Stillman buildings. Besides, no place that we know of has more gentlemanly business proprietors or salesmen than has Plainfield.—Dunellen Call.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

The statician has been at work again and he calculates that Andrew Carnegie's income from the proceeds of the sale of his interests in the Carnegie establishments will be $5,000,000 a year, which is at the rate of $13,000 a day, $570 an hour, $9.50 a minute, or about 16 cents a second.

* * * * *

"I have noticed," said former Councilman Spangenberg the other day in conversation with a Press reporter, "that a good many bicyclists ride dangerously near a trolley car when the latter is in motion. It is a poor judgment on the part of the cyclists and some one of these days a bad accident will be caused by the habit. Suppose that the bicycle should strike a large stone just as the rider and the car reached the same spot, and the wheel should swerve and hit the car. What would be the result? Why it is more than likely that the cyclist would be thrown from the wheel with a good deal of force. And it might be even worse than that. They might fall so that their feet struck on the rails and the car wheels pass over them. It would be just as easy for the bicyclist to ride a few feet further away from the car, and then that danger would not be there.

SACRED THOUGHTS

UNANSWERED PRAYERS.

Like some schoolmaster, kind in being stern,
Who hears the children crying o'er their slates
And calling, "Help me, master," yet helps not,
Since in his silence and refusal lies
Their self-development, so God abides,
Unheeding many prayers. He is not deaf
To any cry sent up from earnest hearts;
He hears and strengthens when He must deny.

He sees us weeping over life's hard sums;
But should He dry our tears, and give the key,
What would it profit us when school were done
And not one lesson mastered?

What a world
Were this if all our prayers were granted! Not
In famed Pandora's box were such vast ills
As lie in human hearts. Should our desires,
Voiced one by one, in prayer, ascend to God,
And come back as events, shaped to our wish,
What chaos would result!

In my fierce youth
I sighed out breath enough to move a fleet,
Voicing wild prayers to heaven for fancied boons
Which were denied; and that denial bends
My knees to prayers of gratitude each day
Of my maturer life. Yet from those prayers
I rose alway regirded for the strife
And conscious of new strength. Pray on, sad heart!
That which thou pleadest for may not be given.
But in the lofty altitude where souls
Who supplicate God's grace are lifted, there
Thou shalt find help to bear thy future lot,
Which is not elsewhere found.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Good wearing shoes for women, boys, girls, 98c. Doane & Edsall.

—Next Monday before Justice Smalley the case of Vail against Miles will be tried.

—A number of people are wondering when the city is going to macadamize Sycamore avenue this side of the brook.

—Next Friday the regular June meeting of the Borough Council will be held to consider many important matters.

—The residents of Washington Park appreciate very much the repairs made to the various streets in the Park, and the roads are now in fine condition.

—Monday evening next there will be an important meeting of Washington Camp, P. O. S. of A., when arrangements will be made for the celebration of Fourth of July.

—This evening the Rand stock of stationery, etc., will be closed out at the store in the Thorn block on Somerset street. There are many bargains left, but everything will be sold this evening at the auction.

—Doane & Edsall say in their new ad today that the exhibit of fine shoes as shown in their show window marked at such popular low prices, is a strong argument in favor of home trade, and that there is absolutely no advantage to go to New York to buy shoes if you could go free on palace cars every twenty minutes in the day.

Learning.

A little learning may be a dangerous thing but there is one little bit of learning that will do you a power of good, and that is to learn how to care for your eyes, the first step thereto being to call at Collier's and have your eyes examined; it will be an expert test and cost you nothing.

—Men are employed cleaning away the debris the result of the destruction of Brady Bros.' icehouse Wednesday evening last.

GRAIN-O BRINGS RELIEF

to the coffee drinker. Coffee drinking is a habit that is universally indulged in and almost as universally injurious. Have you tried Grain-O? It is almost like coffee but the effects are just the opposite. Coffee upsets the stomach, ruins the digestion effects the heart and disturbs the whole nervous system. Grain-O tones up the stomach, aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. There is nothing but nourishment in Grain-O. It can't be otherwise. 15 and 25c. per package.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 27.—A grand Christian Endeavor rally is to be held Sunday night in the First Baptist church, New Market, to which will be invited all the societies of the Christian Endeavor as well as the Epworth League. Rev. Mr. Dorwood, of Stelton, president of the Middlesex county society, will speak. There will be special music, and other features.

The Decoration Day exercises were held yesterday in the schools. Rev. Frank Fletcher was the orator of the day, and made two brilliant addresses. In the morning he spoke in the Lincoln School, and in the afternoon to the Whittier School pupils.

Rev. Martin Sindall, of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, will preach for Rev. A.I. Martine tomorrow, as the latter will be prevented from occupying his pulpit on account of his injuries.

Mrs. Deats, of Flemington, is a guest of Mrs. Samuel VanArsdale. She will probably remain here for a month.

Mrs. A. N. Randolph and Mrs. Joseph Apgar spent yesterday with friends in Bound Brook.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles VanArsdale, of Flemington, are visiting Mrs. Emily Apgar, of Front street.

Miss Ethel Jamison rode on her wheel to Newark today. She will be gone until Thursday.

The Dunellen base ball nine have a game set down for this afternoon with the Lincoln nine.

Mrs. William Milliken, of New York, is visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Elias Milliken.

Leonard Dorsit, of Elizabeth, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Sheppard, of High street.

W. H. Cole and Mrs. Winfield Hetfield, will spend Sunday in Landstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Carman and family are visiting relatives in Somerville.

Joseph Apgar has presented his wife with a fine upright piano.

Mrs. Emily Apgar is entertaining friends from Bernardsville.

Miss Jessie Manning spent yesterday in New Brunswick.

William H. Terry is spending the day in Brooklyn.

Harry Dodwell is riding a new Eagle bicycle.

William Carman is painting his house.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Daily Press

New Market, May 27—Bert Apgar, while riding his wheel on Main street Thursday night, slipped and fell directly in front of a horse being driven by Joseph Hill. Hill pulled up the animal so quickly that Apgar was not hurt at all, but it was a narrow escape.

The engagement is announced of Miss Jennie Smith, of Brooklyn, daughter of the late Rev. A. B. Smith, of this place, to H. P. McAllister, assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A., of Worcester, Mass.

The Father Light Society will meet today in the chapel of the Baptist church and elect officers for the coming year.

Landlord Casterline is about to open a parlor where ice cream can be served.

C. T. Rogers has added to his flotilla of boats this month.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 27.—It is quite probable that steps will shortly be taken to break up the nightly gathering of boys who make a habit of blocking up the sidewalk through the centre of the village, and even going so far as to pass remarks about those who are obliged to pass that way. Especially is this so in the case of ladies, who sometimes cross over to the other side of the street rather than run the gauntlet and listen to some of the language spoken.

Decoration Day exercises were held in the assembly room of the Public School yesterday afternoon. A short programme was rendered by the children after which addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Shott, Dr. F. W. Westcott, president of the Board of Education, and Commander Smith, of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., of Plainfield.

Twilight Council, Jr., O. U. A. M., held an important meeting in their rooms last evening. Final arrangements were made for the Decoration Day exercises Tuesday morning. The council expects to entertain several visiting councils, who are coming to take part in the exercises of the day.

The assessors of the borough and township, together with Counsel W. R. Codington, met last evening to settle a difference of about $8 due on the school assessment from the borough to the township. The matter was settled amicably to both sides.

A century run, which is expected to be 500 strong, passes through town Sunday morning about 11:30. A fifteen minutes rest will be enjoyed at Emery's Hotel, after which the riders go to New Brunswick for dinner.

Ernest Marsh, who recently won second place in the Naval Reserves examination, is onjoying a two days' yachting trip with a number of his comrades who were fortunate enough to pass a creditable examination.

Richard Robison entertained a few of his friends at his home Thursday evening in honor of his twenty-first birthday.

The Christian Endeavor Juniors of the Baptist church held a meeting in the church parlors Friday afternoon.

Jacob Humes, an old resident of the village several years ago, died at the Soldiers' Home in Newark Thursday.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 27.—The Children's Country Home will be open for inspection on Decoration Day when the annual festival for the benefit of the home will be held. The home has been repainted inside and out and has had other improvements added. The first party of twenty children will be brought to the home June 1st.

All members of the G A. R. living in Westfield are invited to attend the Methodist church Sunday evening when Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson will deliver a special sermon appropriate to Decoration Day. There will also be special music, both vocal and instrumental.

Rev. H. C. Thompson, of Cranford, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the Children's Day exercises in the Methodist church June 11th.

—Edward Baker, of this city, has accepted a position in Smalley & Crane's butcher shop.

—John Hand Camp, No. 28, S. of V., will meet next Tuesday evening and a full attendance of the members is desired.

—There was a meeting of the Watchung Silk Mill Company Tuesday evening and it is likely that the mill will start up next week.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongued coated, pain continually in the back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters;' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50cts., guaranteed, at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store'

ITEMS BRIEF AND BRIGHT

GATHERED ALL ABOUT THE TOWN BY ALERT PRESS REPORTERS.

News in Short Paragraphs That are Interesting to Read During the Spare Moments of Many Busy Plainfielders.

—The report that Constable Van Horn had his pocket picked at the circus last Wednesday, was erroneous. Mr. Van Horn was out of town that day.

—Monday next at 8 p. m, Rev. Christian C. Menges, of Philadelphia, will conduct Danish Lutheran services in the German Reformed church on Craig place.

—If your ice cream is made from Debele's sweet cream it surely will be good. You can get sweet cream at all times from Debele's creamery, 111 Somerset street. Telephone 1113.

—At the meeting of the Plainfield Primary Union next Monday afternoon, the lesson will be taught By Miss Watson, of Cranford, and the topic for discussion will be "Junior Work." Orra T. Rogers will give an illustrated talk, and Mrs. W. L. Lowry will lead in a general discussion of junior work.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Rev. Martin Sindall, of New Market, will deliver a sermon appropriate to Memorial Day at the Wilson Memorial chapel tomorrow evening.

J. Herbert Case is confined to his home, 83 Duer street, by an attack of cold in his eyes, so that he has been in a dark room for the past two days.

Sociability Among Students.

An entertainment and sociable was given last evening at the Plainfield Business College, under the direction of the principal, Miss Phelps, and the members of the various classes. During the evening the young men and women enjoyed themselves playing several games, and this was interspersed with musical selections by Mrs. Carson, guitar, and Miss Nelson, banjo. Miss Elizabeth Hoagland also recited one of her best selections, and in conclusion Miss Phelps gave a humorous recitation, assisted by Prof. Roberts.

Crosby & Hill's Hoisery Show.

A very attractive display of woman's hoisery is offered today by Crosby & Hill. The sample lot of a very celebrated German manufacturer. Every conceivable color and combination of colors is to be seen in the lot in a great variety of stripes and plaids. The firm put forth the very strong claim that this particular lot of goods is put on the bargain counter at less than half the original cost of importation.

Watchung Court to Entertain.

Watchung Court, Independent Order of Foresters, will hold an entertainment for the members and their friends on the second regular meeting night in June. At the next meeting of the Court arrangements will be perfected for the affair.

To Start Sewer Work Monday.

Next Monday morning Patsy Christmas will start the work of laying the Park avenue storm sewer, as by that time all the material necessary for the work will be received.

BODY BLOWN 75 FEET.

Sawmill Wrecked and Two Lives Lost by a Boiler Explosion.

Martinsville, Ind., May 27.—A defective boiler in Henry Myers's sawmill near Hinesdale blew up, killing Virgil and Herschel Myers, his sons, and Perry Morrison.

The mill was entirely wrecked. The upper portion of Morrison's head was torn away and his body was blown 75 feet from the engine. Herschel lit in a fence across the road in another direction, and Virgil's body was found in a third direction amid fallen timbers of the mill. Pieces of the boiler were found 100 yeards from the scene of the explosion.

Rate War in Prospect.

Toledo, May 27.—Important developments are expected within the next few days in the war between J. P. Morgan and President Burke, of the Ohio Central, who is holding out against the selling of the latter road. If a compromise is not effected, it is stated the connection between the Central Passenger Mileage Bureau and the Ohio Central will be severed. The break may result in general demoralization of passenger rates in Ohio and the South.

THE MONEY QUESTION

RESPONSIBLE FOR WOMAN'S RELUCTANCE TO MARRY.

A Man Should Carefully Instruct His Wife Regarding the Value and Proper Use of Money—A Trusted Woman Is Proud of Her Husband's Prosperity.

However advanced the world may be said to be, however quickly we may grasp and adopt new fads, fancies and notions, and however much we may think we have improved upon old times and former usages, there are yet a great many things that are susceptible of decided betterment.

Among these the management of household affairs stands out prominently, especially that phase of it that involves the financial understanding between the husband and the wife.

For a great many years it was thought that women were not capable of managing their domestic concerns as far as money matters went. There was, to an extent, some show of reason in this idea, and in some instances there is yet, but, as a rule, the existing state of things is just about as bad as civilized people are capable of making it. A little analysis of the situation will readily discover why this is so.

A man of more or less mature years, who has made or is making a competence or a good living, marries a young woman, sometimes scarcely more than a child. She has been in school almost all her life, and has never assumed any responsibility in money matters other than to be expected to make her allowance buy candy and other petty luxuries. If the money were all gone she went without confectionery and trinkets until next time, and it was just as well, perhaps better. This constituted her limit of financial experience. Her bills were paid, her necessities provided for, incidentials were looked after and shortage was made up. Whatever she wanted in excess of this she coaxed or cried for until she got it, or maybe was sulky, sullen or disobliging until the coveted article was forthcoming as the easiest way out of the unpleasant state of affairs.

Fairly launched upon the sea of married life, that condition in which young people feel at liberty to do as they like, her natural inclinations, untrained and unguided in the bud, blossom out into extravagant and unreasonable demands, and feeling a perfect right to call for whatever she desires trouble comes sometimes suddenly and without warning. It is safe to say that money matters are responsible for more domestic infelicities than all other causes combined. The man is not long in discovering that his wife manages badly, and he tightens the purse-strings. Instead of carefully instructing her in the use of this necessity of life, he becomes arbitrary and often unreasonable, insisting, in many cases, that all articles shall be bought on credit and the bills sent to him to overlook.

There are few things in the world more annoying than a systematic espionage of this sort, and the knowledge that even the most trivial purchase has to be accounted for. It is humiliating and puts the mistress of the house on the level of an irresponsible child. How much better it would be to arrange at the outset some fixed method in which forbearance on both sides forms an important part. Honorable, straightforward, honest men have very little reason to fear the knowledge which their wives may have of their business. It is only when illegitimate pleasures and indulgences are to be provided for that there is any occasion for such secrecy.

A woman who is confided in and trusted will, as a rule, feel quite as much pride in and interest in her husband's prosperity as he himself does, and it is almost always possible, when business is depressed, for a well-informed woman to curtail expenses and suit her demands to the exigencies of the situation. But where there is no understanding or confidence, where money is literally doled out and that, too, in the most grudging manner, a feeling of resentment springs up, and the idea prevails that there must be just so much contention anyway in in order to get what is required. Under such circumstances there is no wonder if the demands are excessive and infelicities follow fast upon one another's heels.

The money question, more than any other, is responsible for the reluctance of women to marry and their ambition to provide a competence for themselves.—By N. S. Stowell.

Stylish Corsage.

The illustration shows a corsage the front of which is mousseline de soie, embroidered all over with an irregular undulated pattern cut out of guipure, or large meshed tulle spangled with steel beads or jet, and also edged with spangles. These undulated designs are lined with colored silk, as is also the small yoke, which is embroidered with a design composed entirely of spangles. The next trimming is of mousseline de soie trimmed with narrow back ribbon and with a gather of mousseline de soie and tulle.

Ornament For the Newel Post.

A charming finish for the newel post of a country house staircase is to have a china jar fastened upon it by means of scrolls of bent iron.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON IX, SECOND QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, MAY 28.

Comments by Wm. E. Fisher—Subject: Christ Before Pilate, John 18: 28-40—Golden Text: I Find No Fault in Him, John 19: 4. (Commit Verses 38-40—Compare Matthew 27: 11-26.)

The Sanhedrim, under the leadership of Caiaphas had condemned Jesus to death, but under the Roman law they were unable to execute the sentence without the aid of the Roman authorities, so they led Jesus from Caiaphas to the hall of judgment, or, according to the marginal reading, the Pretorium, which, we are told, signifies the house of the pretor, or governor.

Keim says: "The man before whom he was arraigned we know as one of the most unjust, violent, cruel and dangerous of scourges, one who was truly what his name signified, a "slaying Javelin of the unhappy nation." By the word "early" in the original is meant "the fourth watch from 3 to 6 a. m."

They went into the judgment hall lest they should be "ceremonially" unclean. Clark says: "It was not the divine law, but Jewish tradition which taught that a Jew became ceremonially unclean during the passover by entering the house of a Gentile, because it might not be properly cleansed of leaven." They feared to do anything that would prevent their participating in the entire passover season, with its peace and thank-offerings. This has been well called a curious illustration of conscience; "they feared defilement from entering the house of a heathen, but none from their endeavor to secure by fraud and violence the condemnation of their Lord."

"Pilate seated himself on his chair of state, with his secretaries beside him, and behind him no doubt numbers of bronzed Roman soldiers with their stolid looks and upright spears. The accused would have to ascend the platform too, and over against him stood his accusers with Caiaphas at their head."—Stalker.

Lacking grounds for a definite charge, they made it in a general sense, by declaring him to be an evil doer. They wanted to act as accusers, judge and jury, and really desired Pilate to pronounce the sentence as they should demand.

"Take him yourselves (R. V.), and judge him according to your law," was not what they wanted Pilate to say. They did not desire judgment meted out to him; they wanted him to die, and knew it was not lawful for them to put any man to death.

To have Pilate believe Jesus guilty, of treason meant the satisfying of the desire that he be put to death, and thereby, also, the fulfilling the saying (or word) of Jesus: "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me."

Biblical students call attention to the fact that in all four of the Gospels the first words of Pilate to Jesus are the same, and that special emphasis in all four is laid on the word "thou," indicating that Pilate spoke with astonishment and scorn that the meek and lowly Nazarene should even pretend to be the King of the Jews.

Pilate attempted to rid himself of the responsibility and in the question "Am I a Jew?" he disclaims any knowledge of the matter. The reminder that Christ's own nation and the chief priests had delivered him up, was placing the responsibility upon the Jews. The question "What hast thou done" was an invitation for Jesus to give his own version of the affair.

The word "fight" in the 36th verse has really the same meaning in the original as our word "agonize" or "contend for," or "contest in favor of." Peloubet says no one could be earthly king at that time without fighting.

"Art thou a king then?" it is supposed, was asked by Pilate with bitter sarcasm, and Jesus in responding "Thou sayest that I am a king," practically said, "What you say is true; I am a King."

Jesus thus preached to his Judge. He who fishes must use many angles; and on this occasion Jesus uses a rare one."

Had Pilate been true to his verdict, "I find in him no fault," he would have released Jesus; instead of that, "he went out again unto the Jews," and said:

"But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews?"

Pilate knew Jesus should be released and this must have been an attempt to quiet his conscience; fearing the consequences of doing what he knew was right.

Barabbas was a robber and also a murderer.

The dream of Pilate's wife, it is supposed, was related to him while the people were making their choice, and his conscience smote him severely; he was moved to do right, but lacked the courage, and so went through the mockery of washing his hands of the responsibility.

Wood Pulp and Quick Action.

Wood has had an important influence on the papermaking industry. Young saplings which before were not worth cutting down for fuel, can now be converted into pasteboard. A tree was cut down in Galveston, Tex., at 10 o'clock in the morning and converted first into pulp and then into paper by 6 o'clock in the evening. At 6 o'clock the next morning it was being distributed as a daily paper. Car and tram wheels have been made of wood pulp, and it is taking the place and slates. Even the "patent" leather boot is sometimes not patent leather at all, but wood pulp in a high state of compression.

When the Arab Tunes His Lyre.

Arab music has been described as the singing of a prima donna who has ruptured her voice in trying to sing a duet herself. Each note starts from somewhere between a sharp and a flat, but does not stop even there, and splits up into four or more portions, of which no person can be expected to catch more than one at a time.

The passion flower, which grows in the South American forests, can only be enjoyed where it grows, as it fades almost as soon as it is picked

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Sachsen.

Dresden. Die hiesige städtische Sparkasse hat in den letzten drei Jahren ganz enorme Koursverluste gehabt. Sie betrugen im Jahre 1896 558,000 Mark, 1897 203,000 Mark und 1898 nicht weniger als 812,000 Mark. Durch diese Verluste ist der Sonderreservefonds der Kasse auf 120,000 Mark zusammengeschmolzen. Würde die städtische Sparkasse mit ihren Geldern die hier wie überall so nothwendige Errichtung kleiner Wohnungen unterstützt haben, so hätte sie, trotz dieser segensreichen gemeinnützigen Thätigkeit, jedenfalls keine Verluste zu verzeichnen.

Bösdorf. Die rege Bauthätigkeit, die sich in den letzten Jahren hier gezeigt hat, trug zur Vermehrung der Bevölkerung wesentlich bei. Jetzt hat sich herausgestellt, daß die Schule zur Aufnahme der vorhandenen Kinder nicht ausreicht; deshalb ist bereits ein Anbau an das neue Schulhaus, das allerdings nur für ein Klassenzimmer eingerichtet war, in Angriff genommen worden. Ein zweiter Lehrer soll noch im Laufe dieses Jahres angestellt werden.

Leipzig. Der Berliner Bankier Rudolf Riese, Mitinhaber des Bankhauses Rudolf Pohl, der nach Veruntreuung von circa 400,000 Mark Anfang vorigen Monats mit seiner Geliebten Jennie Fechner aus Berlin verschwand, ist hier verhaftet worden, hat sich aber dem irdischen Richter dadurch entzogen, daß er mittelst Gift Selbstmord beging.

Olbernhau. In dem Kalkwerke Lengefeld ließ sich der 40jährige Arbeiter Schönherr aus Lauterbach an einem Seil nach seinem Arbeitsplatze hinunter. Plötzlich riß das Seil und Schönherr stürzte etwa 10 Meter tief auf das Gestein hinab, wobei er mehrere Knochenbrüche und so schwere Verletzungen am Kopfe erlitt, daß alsbald der Tod eintrat.

Rochsburg. Die Schleiferei der Pappenfabrik von Braun ist während der Nacht total niedergebrannt; nur das Fabrikgebäude und das Wohnhaus konnten gerettet werden. Die Entstehungsursache des Feuers ist unbekannt. Der Schaden ist, wenn auch durch Versicherung gedeckt, enorm.

Zwickau. Im hiesigen Stadtverordneten-Kollegium ist die Errichtung von Kinderspielplätzen angeregt worden. Für Errichtung eines solchen Platzes hat bereits der in Tharandt wohnende, aus Zwickau gebürtige Freiherr von Miltau ein großes Gartengrundstück gespendet.

Thüringische Staaten.

Meiningen. Drei hiesigen Nachtschutzleuten, die gelegentlich eines rechtzeitig bemerkten Diebstahls nicht den Muth gehabt haben, auf der Leiter in die Wohnung einzusteigen, um den Dieb zu fassen, ist ihr Amt sofort gekündigt worden; sie sollen fernerhin nicht mehr im Polizeidienst verwendet werden.

Neustadt a. O. Der Verwaltungsausschuß der hiesigen Sparkasse hatte 3000 Mark zu einem Bismarckthurm bewilligt. Wie jetzt bekannt wird, hat der Großherzog als Protektor der Sparkasse diesen Beschluß nicht genehmigt, da die Ueberschüsse nur zu gemeinnützigen Zwecken zu verwenden seien.

Weimar. Für die Geistlichen des Landes ist eine neue Kleiderordnung eingeführt worden. Der Großherzog hat bestimmt, daß die Geistlichen bei Hofe nicht mehr wie bisher im Frack, sondern in einreihigem schwarzem Rock mit Stehkragen und weißer Halsbinde erscheinen sollen. Außerdem hat der Großherzog den Wunsch geäußert, daß die Geistlichen diesen Rock bei besonderen Anlässen tragen möchten, wo sie bisher den Frack getragen.

Freie Städte.

Hamburg. Der Senat beschloß eine hydrologische Untersuchung der Umgebung Hamburgs vornehmen zu lassen. Die Kosten sind auf 200,000 Mark veranschlagt.—Durch den Bau des Centralbahnhofs hat sich die gänzliche Beseitigung der seit Jahrzehnten unbenutzten, alten drei Kirchhöfe vor dem Steinthor nothwendig gemacht. Die bezüglichen Arbeiten wurden bereits in Angriff genommen.—Um seine Pensionirung ist der Lootse P. H. tom Suden eingekommen. Derselbe ist seit 1862 als Cuxhavener Staatslootse thätig, war aber schon vorher längere Jahre im hamburgischen Marinedienst angestellt. Bemerkenswerth ist, daß tom Suden während seiner 36jährigen Lootsenthätigkeit niemals einen Unfall erlitt.

Bremen. Fräulein Anneliese Braun, Tochter des Oberlehrers Dr. Braun, ist die Rettungsmedaille am Bande verliehen. — Die Bürgerschaft beschloß in Uebereinstimmung mit dem Senat die Einführung einer Fahrradsteuer.

FACTS ABOUT FLIES

ADMIRABLY CONSTRUCTED FOR THE PURPOSES OF THEIR CREATION.

Theory of Its Ability to Walk on the Ceiling Explained—Of Great Value to Humanity as a Scavenger—Has Seven Thousand Eyes.

The humble housefly is one of the oldest and always has been one of the most distinguished of insects. He was worshipped by the ancients and placed as a constellation in the heavens. The Philistines sacrificed to Beelzebub as god of flies and the Cyreneans to Achor. The Greeks offered an ox every year to Zeus Apomyios in honor of the god of flies, and the Romans sacrificed yearly in the temple of Heracles Victor in Rome. The Syrians, too, tried to appease the troublesome god. The Koran of the Mohametans promised that "all flies shall perish except one, and that is the beefly."

Despite their antiquity, flies are still something of a mystery, and it was not until 1884 that Dr. J. E. Rombout, a French entomologist, discovered and advocated the correct theory of how a housefly walks on a ceiling. Dr. Rombout proved that the fly clings to a smooth surface by capillary force, the molecular action between solid and liquid substances. The insects' feet are covered with many thousands of fine hairs, each of which terminates in a bulb. Through these hairs runs a thin liquid that seeps through in a tiny drop at the end. When several thousands of these drops have been fastened to a window pane or ceiling there is no difficulty at all for the fly to hang on and no difficulty for him to release himself instantaneously.

This is the theory of Rombout, obtained after some fine calculations. A once popular idea was that the feet of the fly, being cup-shaped, enabled him through what is called suction to cling to the ceiling. But Blackwell puts flies in a glass vaccum, where they climed the sides as easily as in the open air. Hooke next tried to prove that the fluid the feet of the fly sent out was viscous, and held the insect to the surface like mucilage. This theory was exploded by Rombout, who proved that the fluid was not viscous. And if it were, said he, it would be absurd to suppose that a fly, after resting in one position for an hour and giving the thick liquid time to harden, could release himself instantaneously when alarmed.

Then Rombout set about formulating his own theory. He examined the tracks of flies on a window pane, and the idea of capillary force impressed him. He dipped the end of a hair in oil of olives and succeeded in suspending the hair from a clean glass pane. Water brought the same result as oil of olives. By a series of fine calculations Rombout found that a fly could walk upward on a vertical glass pane supporting an increase over his own weight of .02 of a grain. He then weighed down flies with papers attached to their backs and found by experiment that his reckoning was correct.

Rombout, in the course of his experiments, discovered other interesting things about the fly. Each of the two wings of the insect is provided with hairs on the undersole that serve as a fine brush to clean the feet. When a fly rubs his legs he is not always washing his body, but is often removing the dust particles from the hair in his feet that the fluid may run better. The feet must be kept clean or the fly cannot cling to a surface. He finds it impossible to walk across a pane covered with dust, and oily surfaces cause the liquid from his feet to run together, so that he is apt to slip.

Under the wings of a fly is a pair of balancers, little threads that terminate each in an oval button. When the fly is on the wing these buttons expand and guide the flight. A fly has no lungs, but breathes by spiracles or breathing pores that lie open all over his body and connect with an intricate system of air tubes. These spiracles are protected from the dust by networks of fine, filmy, fibres that look something like exquisite lace-work.

The chief value of a fly lies in his scavenging qualities. Indeed some scientists say that without his assistance man would not be able to live in the temperate zone. The fly feeds on both liquids and solids. His mouth is shaped something like a pump, and he sips perspiration and saliva, his favorite foods, through fine and cunning tubes. Solids he reduces to liquids before he swallows them by a process of secretion. He is a voracious eater, and lives largely on the juices of decaying meat, fruit and vegetables. Linnaeus, the Swede, asserted that three flies with their progeny could devour a dead horse as quickly as a lion could. It has been estimated by scientists that a fly can multiply himself 200 times every twenty-four hours. Each new-born fly becomes full grown in four or five days.

Nature has provided well for the fly in his powers of flight and ability of escaping from danger. He is supplied with 7,000 separate eyes that never sleep and can look either in front or behind. Each eye is separate and of peculiar construction, shaped like a hexagon. When alarmed the fly leaps swiftly from his resting place into the air, detaching his legs with no apparent difficulty. After the first bound he is generally out of danger, and resumes his leisurely flight. If he chooses, however, he can fly twenty-five or thirty feet in a second.

Entirely Safe.

A Boston woman selecting a hat at a milliner's asked cautiously, "Is there anything about these feathers that might bring me into trouble with the Audubon Society?" "Oh, no, madam," said the milliner, who was from London; "these feathers, madam, are the feathers of a howl; and the howl, you know, madam, is more of a cat than a bird."

Muscles of the Head.

The head has 77 muscles—8 for the eyes and eyelids, 1 for the nose, 8 for the lips, 8 for the jaw, 11 for the tongue, 11 for the larynx, 11 for the ear, 1 for motions of the head and neck, 1 to move the hairy scalp, 1 for the eyebrows.

On motion of Freeholder King the board took a recess of one half hour.

Upon roll-call after recess all members were present except Freeholder Higgins.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

By the County Physician:

May 9, 1899.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: I submit to your honorable body my annual report ending May 1, 1899.

I have been called to investigate 160 cases during the year.

Of this number 53 died from natural causes, 48 from railroad accidents, 12 suicides, 9 from alcohol, 1 from criminal abortion, 1 from judicial hanging, 4 from burns, 12 from drowning, number of still births 7, and 13 from other accidents.

Signed,
Frank W. Westcott, M. D.,
County Physician.

On motion of Freeholder Farrel received and placed on file.

By the Stationery Committee:

Elizabeth, May 9, 1899.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: Your committee on stationery would report that the amount expended during the year was $1,179 85, which was for stationery, books of records, and account books for the several court officers, who, by law, are entitled to secure their stationery from the Board.

Signed,
Respectfully submitted,
Benjamin King, John F. Wahl, Joseph McCandless, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Robison received and placed on file.

By the Public Buildings Committe.

Elizabeth, May 9, 1899.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: Your committee on public grounds and buildings would respectfully report that during the year ending May 9, 1899, the amount expended for various purposes is as follows:

For the painting and making of general repairs on public buildings, and repairing of boiler and steam heating apparatus; also the supplying of fuel, gas, water, electric lighting, telephone service, and for all other purposes, incidental to the proper conduct and condition of public ground and buildings, the sum of $5,145 53. Signed.

John Farrell, John H. Tier, M. M. Scudder, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder King received and placed on file.

By the committee to settle with the Sheriff:

Elizabeth, May 9, 1899.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: Your committee to settle with the Sheriff respectfully report that they have audited bills to the amount of $12 519.79; of the above amount the Sheriff has paid to the county collector the sum of $1,375 for prosecutor's fees and fines. Signed,

John Robison, John H. Tier, M. M. Scudder, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Miller received and placed on file.

From the Committee on Jail Inspection:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 9, 1899.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: In compliance with the rules of the Board, the committee on jail inspection herewith respectfully submit the annual report for the year ending May 1st, 1899, together with what is a carefully prepared report by the warden of the receipts, expenditures, number of prisoners, ages, sexes, nationalities, commitments, discharges and cost of maintenance for each prisoner per day, etc.

Receipts amount to four thousand two hundred and thirty-one dollars and thirteen cents ($4,231 13). The expenditure for all purposes, viz: Salaries, provisions, medical attention, clothing, supplies, miscellaneous, etc., four thousand two hundred and thirty-one dollars and thirteen cents ($4,231.13) Number of prisoners in custody at beginning of year, 50; committed during year, 563; whole number in custody during year, 613; discharged, 572; remaining, 41; average number in custody each day, 50; total number of days' board of prisoners, 18,247; the average cost per prisoner is twenty-three cents per day.

During the year the prisoners are daily employed about the buildings in cleaning and attending the furnance, sawing coal and being generally useful. The very limited expenditures and good management of the county jail is wholly due to the efficient services of the warden, matron and deputy warden, who have conducted proceeding agreeable to the entire satisfaction of your committee.

It affords your committee great pleasure to say that the management and general condition of the jail has been highly commended by State Charities Aid Association, through its efficient secretary, Mrs. B. William son, and also by the Grand Jury of the county as expressed in a very complimentary resolution, dated January 20th, 1899. This condition in the opinion of your committee, is highly creditable to the county, and no doubt gratifying to the board.

Your committee would further report that at their meeting on May 4th Dr. Frederick R. Bailey was unanimously appointed physician to the county jail at the usual compensation.

Signed,
Respectfully submitted,
John H. Tier, John F. Wahl, Committee.

Attached to the foregoing was the following report from Chas. W. Dodd, warden:

Report of Charles W. Dodd, warden:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 9th, 1899.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

In connection with my report I would like to state that the general health of the prisoners has been good during the year and the jail physician, Dr. F. R. Bailey, was prompt in his attendance and in every way satisfactory. With many thanks to the committee on jail inspection for their cooperation in the discharge of my duties as warden, and with especial thanks to the director, J. Frank Hubbard, for his assistance and advice in all matters pertaining to the general good management of the county jail,

I am, respectfully yours,
Chas. W. Dodd, warden.

On motion of Freeholder Adams both of the foregoing reports were received and placed on file.

By the Committee on County Roads:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 4, 1889.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County, N. J.:

Gentlemen: Your committee on county roads would respectfully report that during the past year the work of repairs on county roads is as follows: 7½ miles of road has been repaired with 1½ inch stone, 11½ miles top dressed with fine stone; 18 miles of gutters have been cleaned; the total cost of this work is $14,284 56. During the past winter the cost of opening snow drifts on county roads was $353.87. In many places on county roads the frosts and snows damage the road, making it necessary to repair such damaged places, the cost of which was $225 10. Total expenditures during the year, $14,863.53.

J. Martin Roll, James A. Burnett, W. H. Hulskamper, Benjamin King, W. H. Swain, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Robison received and placed on file.

By the Committee on Discharge of Prisoners:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen — Your committee on discharge of prisoners beg leave to report that they held regular meetings during the year for the purpose of granting a deduction in the sentence of prisoners for good conduct while under confinement in the jail, upon the recommendation of the presiding judge of the Common Pleas, as provided by law, and in each case when the allowance was asked it was granted. The number discharged was 267 all of which is respectfully submitted.

Signed.
John F. Wahl, John Robinson, Committee.

Elizabeth, N. J., May 9th, 1899.

On motion of Freeholder Hulskamper received and placed on file,

By the Committee on Legal Questions:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 9, 1899.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: Your committee on legal questions would respectfully report that all matters referred to the committee during the past year have received the attention of the committee and county attorney, and a satisfactory disposition made of all such cases.

Signed, Chr. Ehrlich, John Robinson, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Miller received and placed on file.

By Committee on Publication:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 9, 1899.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

Gentlemen: Your committee on publication would respectfully report that they have expended during the year for printing the collector's annual report, publishing the minutes of the board, and for such other work as authorized by the committee, the sum of $1,491.75.

Signed, W. H. Hulskamper, W. H. Swain, E. K. Adams, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Brucklacher received and placed on file.

By the Lunacy Committee:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 9, 1899.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: Your committee on lunacy most respectfully report that they have visited the New Jersey State Hospital during the last year, according to law, and they find that the patients of Union county are well taken care of.

The county has at present two hundred and thirty seven patients at the hospital; 7 patients died during the year and 16 patients were discharged as cured. The appropriation for the year was $38 000 There was expend $38 746 03 leaving a deficiency of $746 03.

Signed, Frederick Miller, W. H. Swain, John H. Tier, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder King received and placed on file.

By the Committee to settle with the County Collector:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 9, 1899.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: Your committee to settle with the county collector respectfully report that they have examined his books, showing his receipts and disbursements, together with his vouchers, bonds and coupons paid, and bank books, and we find the same agree and are correct in every particular. His total receipts from the date of the last fiscal year to the present time were $482.719.53; total disbursements, $464,228 20; balance in banks, $18,491 33.

Signed, J. Martin Roll, Benjamin King, Jacob Brucklacher, Comittee.

On motion of Freeholder Adams received and placed on file.

By the County Collector, his annual record for year ending on May 9, 1899, in part as follows, viz:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to herewith submit my report of the moneys received and disbursed by me as county collector for the year ending May 9 1899. Total amount of receipts, $481,719 53; total disbursements, $464,228.20; balance, $18,491.33, which is on deposit in the banks to the credit of the county collector.

CHASTISED WITH BROOM HANDLE.

John Nelson Said He Was Hurt By Mrs. Marie Vetello.

Whether John Nelson was to blame for an assault Mrs. Marie Vetello made upon him yesterday could hardly be determined this morning in the City Court, when both the parties were up before City Judge Runyon. Nelson and the woman occupy the same neighborhood on West Fourth street, and the cause that led to the assault was a clothesline which Mrs. Vetello wanted to put up on one of Nelson's posts.

When he objected she used the broom handle on him, so Nelson says, but Mrs. Vetello claims that Nelson first used vile language to her, and hit her in the eye. The City Judge suspended sentence on Mrs. Vetello and warned all hands to behave themselves in the future.

FORTY DAYS IN JAIL.

Result of a Raid Made on a Disorderly House by Police.

Roundsman Frederickson and Patrolman McCarthy raided a disorderly house on Cottage place last night, and arrested Mary Walker and two men. One was a well-known character known as "Uncle Tom Rowes," and the other a tall lanky individual, who gave the name of Edward Glasgo, of Dunellen. The women was sent to Elizabeth for forty days in lieu of a $60 fine, and sentence was suspended on the men. Mary Walker now owes the city $3 on an unpaid fine.

Another song by the quartette, and the formal meeting was closed by a congregational hymn. After this, the Endeavorers assembled in groups according to their churches, and Mr. Vickery conducted a vigorous and practical committee conference on methods of missionary work in the Endeavor Society. He urged systematic giving, the formation of missionary libraries, the appointment of the best possible committee, the use of a missionary prayer cycle, and other equally practical and helpful plans.

TEACHERS ENGAGED.

Borough Board of Education Secures Instructors for Next Year.

Last Thursday evening there were a special meeting of the Borough Board of Education, at which time all of the present corps of teachers were engaged for another year with the exception of Miss Hetfield, of Dunellen, who taught Grade A, of the Primary Department, and Miss Cora Mooney, who now teaches Grade G. These two teachers have positions elsewhere for another year.

Dr. J. H. Carman was reappointed physician to the schools, to attend to the various duties that are prescribed for that position. While Miss Glass has been principal of the High School by consent, she has never been elected to the position by the Board. This action was taken at the last meeting. The Board also decided upon the time for opening the schools for the fall term which will be Tuesday, September 12th. The balance of the evening was devoted to routine business.

TROUBLE BETWEEN EXPRESSMEN.

Joseph Farley Alleges That Walter Thompson Assaulted Him.

It has been known that intensive rivalry exists between the hackmen and expressmen at the North Avenue station, but the feeling of jealousy seldom leads to blows as it did yesterday afternoon. Joseph Farley, an expressman, and Walter Thompson were in the City Court this morning, the latter as defendant in a charge brought against him by Farley.

Farley claimed that Thompson assaulted him yesterday, and struck him four times about the head and face as the result of a few words they had had over Farley's boy Joe, who, Thompson claimed, ran a truck over his foot. Thompson pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $5, which he paid.

CHURCH CONVENTION COMES TO AN END.

Seventh-Day Baptist Business Finished Yesterday.

NEW OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN.

NEXT MEETING PLACE OF CONVENTION AT BERLIN, N. Y.

Edgar R. Green, of Berlin, Elected President of the Association in Place of H. M. Maxson, of Plainfield—Much Routine Business Transacted--Sacrament of Baptism Administered to Presbyterian

With last night's session the convention of the Seventh-Day Baptist Eastern Association, which has been held in this city during the last four days, came to an end.

The session of Saturday evening was a very interesting one. A song service was conducted by David E. Titsworth, and devotional exercises by Rev. W. D. Burdick, of Nile, N. Y., after which the young people's hour was led by Miss L. Gertrude Stillman, of Ashaway, R. I. Miss Stillman made a report of the number of young people in the Endeavor societies of the association. In the senior societies there are 309 active members, in the junior, 127.

The congregation listened to an interesting talk on "Industrial Mission Life in Africa." by Henry M. Maxson, illustrated with stereopticon views.

Yesterday morning's service opened with a business session, at which the following officers were elected: President, Edgar R. Green, of Berlin, N.Y.; vice president, George B. Shaw, of New York; recording secretary, Martin Sindall, of Dunellen; assistant recording secretary, Frank J. Green, of Berlin, N. Y; treasurer, Arthur J. Spicer, of Plainfield; engrossing clerk, Martin Sindall, of Dunellen; corresponding secretary, Miss Winifred Curtis, of Westerly, R. I., committee on ordination, A. McLearn, A. H. Lewis, S. H. Davis; committee on missionary work, J. D. Spicer, C. A. Burdick, N. M. Mills; delegate to Southeastern Association, George Seeley; alternate, A. J. Potter; delegate to Central, Western and Northwestern Associations, O. D. Sherman; alternate, S F. Randolph. A resolution was passed expressing the sympathy of the association with the Peace Conference now in session at the Hague, and their earnest prayer that complete success may crown its efforts. It was decided to hold the next meeting of the association at Berlin, N. Y.

The business session was followed by the Woman's Hour, conducted by Mrs. Anna Randolph, of this city. Mrs. Randolph spoke generally of women in denomination. Miss Harris, of Shiloh, read a paper on "Loyalty," and Mrs. Henry M. Maxson one on "Be of Good Cheer." The sermon of the morning was to have been by Rev. Theodore L. Gardiner, of Salem College, West Virginia, but he was unexpectedly called home by a fatal accident to a member of his senior class, and his place was taken by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, of this city, who preached a strong sermon from the text "Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid; yea, we establish the law," Romans, 3, 31. The sermon was a plea for the authority of the law of God, as given in the Scriptures.

The afternoon session began at 2 o'clock with devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. Theophilus A Gill, of New York. A layman's hour followed, Henry M. Maxson presiding. J. Arthur Wilson, of Dunellen, spoke on "Success," Miss Elizabeth A. Fisher, of Marlborough, on "Some Tendencies to be Avoided," and Alfred C. Prentiss, of New York, on "The Sacredness of the Medical Profession." Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis then conducted a Tract Society hour.

An unusually large attendance crowded the church at the evening session. A service of song was conducted by David E Titsworth, after which came a sermon by Rev. Clayton A. Burdick, of Brookfield, N. Y. His text was Romans 8, 31: "What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us?" His theme was the overcoming of obstacles in the Christian life, and his prescription for this purpose was formed of the three ingredients prayer, obedience and faith.

At the close of the sermon, the sacrement of baptism by immersion was administered by Rev. A. H. Lewis to Dr. Littell, of the University Settlement, New York. Dr. Littell was brought up in a Presbyterian family, was made an unbeliever by sorrow, but at last became a true Christian, and desired to acknowledge her faith. Her experience was given publicly

SAYS HE SWORE AT HIM.

ADAM FRITZ ARRESTED FOR USING PROFANITY.

O. F. Pierson the Complainant—Councilman Hetfield, Who Made Similar Charges a Year Ago, Will Defend Him.

For the second time within a year Adam Fritz, of Somerset street, has been arrested in this city for using profane and indecent language. The complainant this time is Oscar F. Pierson, the painter, and the alleged offense occurred Saturday afternoon on West Front street, just after Fritz and Pierson had returned from a drive together.

The last time that Fritz was arrested the complainant was Councilman Walter Hetfield, who up to that time had been his warm friend. Fritz pleaded guilty to the charge and paid a fine of $3. Now Fritz and the Councilman are friends once more. So friendly are they that Hetfield is Fritz's lawyer in this new trouble.

Sometime ago Pierson bought a horse of Fritz, in payment for which he gave a note, it is said. Saturday afternoon the two men met on West Front street and Fritz invited Pierson to take a drive with him.

Upon their return Fritz let Pierson out where he had picked him up and stopped a few minutes to talk. Just what was said is not known, but Pierson claims that without any provocation Fritz suddenly began to call him vile names and use insulting language toward him.

Pierson went directly up to Counsellor McClure's office and had him to make out a complaint against Fritz, and later Pierson swore out a warrant for his arrest before City Judge Runyon. The paper was placed in an officer's hands, but in some way Fritz heard of the matter, and instead of waiting to be placed under arrest, gave himself up to the Judge. It is likely that his trial will come off Saturday morning.

SERMON TO VETERANS.

PATRIOTIC DISCOURSE PREACHED BY DR. YERKES.

The Service Attended by Civil War Veterans, Sons and Wives and by the Young Veterans of the Spanish War.

The annual sermon to the G. A. R., the Women's Relief Corps and the Sons of Veterans was preached by Rev Dr. Yerkes at the First Baptist church last night With the old veterans and the young descendants this time were several soldiers and sailors of the late Spanish-American War, to whom Dr Yerkes also addressed a few remarks.

All four organizations marched to the church in a body and were given seats in the front. Many of the G A.R. men, the Sons of Veterans and the soldiers and sailors were in full uniform.

The service at the church consisted of a special sermon to the visiting organizations, with special music. Dr. Yerkes took his text from Second Timothy, fourth verse of the second chapter, "Now therefore endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ."

Dr. Yerkes said that the good soldier must be willing, and therefore the best soldier is the volunteer. He is the man who is willing to make great sacrifices. There were no better soldiers in the world than those who left the shop or farm to fight in the Civil War. They were good soldiers, too, on the other side, the doctor said.

"When an army is made up of volunteers," the speaker said, "it is an invincible army. The men who fought in Cuba and Porto Rico showed what our regular army can do. The mercenary soldier is never a good soldier, for example there was the Hessian soldier who fought for King George against the patriots.

"We who stay at home are too apt to think only of the great achievements of our men, and forget the hardships they went through to accomplish them. To those mothers tonight who have sons in the Philippines fighting, war is a real thing.

"These qualities, willingness, endurance and love for one's leader must be possessed by the soldier of Jesus Christ as well as by the soldier of this earth. We must fight a constant battle in this fight, there are no leaves of absence and no substitutes."

A New Paper.

The first issue of the Saturday Tribune, the latest candidate for journalistic honors in the local field, made its appearance Saturday. It is edited and printed by R. M. Keller, of Plainfield avenue. Its contents are selected in a careful and interesting manner and the typographical appearance is excellent.

Endeavor Meeting Tonight.

The monthly consecration meeting of the Trinity Reformed church society occurs tonight, and you are invited to be present.

FISK CUP WAS WON BY GEORGE RICHARDS.

Some Exciting Golf Events on the Hillside Links.

PARK GOLFERS ACTIVE, TOO.

BEAUTIFUL WEATHER BROUGHT OUT MANY PLAYERS SATURDAY.

Preliminary Round for the Chapman Cup Played on Hillside Links—Twenty-five Entries, But Only Eight Qualified—Principal Event on the Park Club Links Was for the McCutchen Cup.

Saturday was an interesting day on the course of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. The event of the morning was the final play for the Fisk cup, junior handicap, between George Richards and Parker W. Mason. After a spirited contest Mr. Richards won the cup by 3 up, thus giving him the permanent ownership of the cup.

The largest crowd was present in the afternoon. The day was a trifle warm, but at the course a breeze kept everyone in good spirits and play was a delight to all who indulged. Tea was served in the clubhouse and in the evening many remained for dinner.

The event of the afternoon was the preliminary round for the Chapman cup. There were twenty-five entries, and out of that number there were only fifteen who came under the 100 score. The rule is that the best scores made by eight persons shall qualify for play in the other events for the cup. Those who qualified Saturday were Morris Dumont, 91; Geo. T. VanBoskerck, 91; A. R. Fisk, 92; Frank Talmage, 92; C. W. Fisk, 93, Parker W. Mason, 94; E. J. Waring, 95; H. R Stockton, 95.

The semi-final play for the cup will take place tomorrow and the final play will come of next Saturday afternoon. The playing Saturday was up to the standard and the contest should be one of great interest.

A noticeable feature Saturday was the presence of so many ladies on the course, and everyone took a great deal of interest in playing the game.

There was a good deal of life on the Park Golf Club course Saturday. The junior scratch tournament started in the morning but there were but few players to take part in this opening event. The contest will continue for three weeks, when some good scores are expected.

In the afternoon there was a much larger attendance at the course, and a number commenced play for the Mrs. C. W. McCutchen cup, eighteen holes, handicap, medal play, to be played for throughout the season. Among the scores turned in Saturday are the following: A. C. Crowe, 93; F. P. Taylor, 100; Augustus Faber, 110; Arthur Peck, 112; C. S. Boome, 116; W. J. R. Thiers, 118; S. S. Squires, 122; M Townsend, 123; J. H. Howell, 138; Vaughn McGee, 145.

There were a few women who played for the W. J. Buttfield cup, but their scores were not turned in. A large number were on the course learning the game and getting in practice to enter some of the contests.

During the afternoon tea was served in the clubhouse by some of the ladies, and the social features were much enjoyed by all who stopped in the reception room.

Tomorrow there will be prize play for the lowest net score made by lady members, and one for lowest score made by the men, eighteen holes, medal play.

DEATH OF MISS CATHERINE MARTINE.

Had Been Confined in the Elizabeth Hospital for Several Months.

The death of Miss Catherine M. Martine, aged fifty-five years, occurred yesterday at the Elizabeth General Hospital, where she had been confined for several months. Miss Martine was first attacked with the grip, which developed into a general wasting away of her vitality She was the daughter of the late John H. Martine and brother of the late C. L. W. Martine, of Scotch Plains, who was director of the Union County Board of Freeholders for several years. The funeral services were held this afternoon and were private. The interment was made in the North Plainfield cemetery.

Since the death of her brother Miss Martine made her home with her cousin, James E. Martine, of "Cedar Brook" farm, in this city.

Raising Money for Monument.

June 22d the members of John Hand Camp, No. 28, Sons of Veterans, will give a picnic at Mountainside Park for the proposed monument to be erected for the soldiers.

ATTEMPTED KIDNAPPING.

STRANGE ITALIAN TRIED TO COAX ELSIE TIER AWAY.

Offered Her Sweets to Take a Little Walk With Him—She Screamed and Ran Home—Italian Was Locked Up.

An arrest for an attempt to kidnap Elsie, the five-year-old daughter of John Tier, Jr., of Bank place, occurred this morning, the prisoner being an Italian. The little girl was sent from her home to J. F. MacDonald's grocery store on Front street, near Watchung avenue, on an errand by her grandmother. On her return she was accosted by a stranger, who told her that if she would take a little walk with him he would give her candy and peanuts. The stranger took hold of the little girl's arm and tried to lead her off, but the little girl screamed and pulled away from the man. The stranger tried to soothe her fright, but was unable and the child ran away from him and hurried home.

When she got home she told her grandfather, John Tier, Sr., a member of the Union County Board of Freeholders, what had happened, he immediately sent a hired man with the little girl to follow the man and identify him if possible. Between Park and Watchung avenues, on Front street, they came across the stranger and the girl pointed him out as the one who had tried to induce her to go away with him. A few minutes after her father came along and after he was told of the attempt to kidnap his daughter he immediately went before City Judge Runyon and swore out a warrant for the arrest of the man.

At noon the suspicious acting stranger was apprehended and locked up in the city jail.

A WIFE'S DECEPTION.

Had Heard From Her Husband, Though She Told Officials That She Had Not.

A warrant has been out for the arrest of Patrick Doyle, of Cottage place, for several weeks, but the police were unable to find him until last night. He is wanted for non-support and neglect of his family, the complainant being his wife.

Mrs. Doyle gave the police and the overseer of the poor to understand that she had heard nothing from her husband since he left her weeks ago, but at the examination this morning she admitted that she had had a letter from him last week, which she did not tell the Overseer about.

Doyle said he had been away looking for work and meant to support his family as long as he could find it. When the City Judge heard that Mrs. Doyle had deceived the city officials in regard to hearing from her husband he dismissed the complaint against the man, and after warning him to provide for his family let him go.

Finderne Property on the Market.

The Finderne Company has issued invitations to the residents of all neighboring towns to inspect their new grounds tomorrow when an informal opening will take place. The golf links of the Somerset Country Club will also be opened for the first. Parties can take the trolley cars from this city, New Brunswick and other towns nearby. During the day there will be a sale of lots 50x200 feet, all restricted. The street are laid out, and water and sewers will be seon introduced. Lots can be purchased on easy terms, and persons taking two lots can secure loan for the actual cost of a house. This property is located at Finderne and is very convenient to reach.

Wagon Wheel Came Off; Horse Ran Away.

Crosby & Hill's horse and delivery wagon had a lively time of it about 9 o'clock this morning at the corner of Watchung and North avenues. Just as the rig was turning the corner one of the front wheels of the wagon came off and frightened the horse, who started to run away. He ran as far as Chas. Suhr's barber shop on Watchung avenue, when the wagon upset and the driver was thrown out. Bystanders ran to the assistance of the driver and in a few minutes the upset was straightened out. No one was injured, though it was a lucky escape.

Christening of an Infant.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McCarthy, of 303 Central avenue, was christened yesterday afternoon at St Mary's church by Rev. Father Smyth. The given name is Margaret, and those who acted as sponsors were Miss Mary A. Carney, sister, and John Carney, brother of Mrs. McCarty.

Died at Industrial Home.

Colin Jones, colored, one of the oldest residents of the town, died at the City Industrial Home last evening after an illness of the most intense suffering.

HORSES RACED IN FACE OF STRONG WIND.

Fairly Good Time Made at Driving Park Saturday.

FAST CLIP OF AN AGED PAIR.

DRIVER EIGHTY YEARS OLD AND HORSE TWENTY.

Henry Hayes and "Andy" Got There in Good Shape Despite the Fact That Their Combined Age is Over a Hundred Years — Two Scheduled and Several Scrub Races Were Held.

There was more good racing at the Gentlemen's Driving Park Saturday afternoon. Although there were no prizes offered the sport was as keen as the week before. Four races were trotted and some fast time made.

The track had been thoroughly wet the night before, but the high wind that blew Saturday raised clouds of dust and made it unpleasant for the horses and men. The wind also interfered with the starters and judges, and brought the time down on some of the races two or three seconds.

There were not a large number of horses on the track Saturday. Many of the best ones are entered for the races at New Brunswick tomorrow, and their owners wanted to keep them fresh for those events.

Beside the scheduled races there were one or two other events of interest. A. C. Vail came out on the track with his grey "Kenelm" and went a trial mile in 2:36. When three-quarters of the way around "Kenelm" lost a shoe, and this retarded him so that he did not make as good time as he would have, barring the accident.

All the races were a mile. The first one was for the 2:45 class. The following are the summaries:

FIRST RACE.

| | 1 | 2 | 3 |
|---|---|---|---|
| H. J. Martin, bl. g. "Dewey" | 3 | 4 | 0 |
| C. L. Wright, b. m. "Fairmount Maid" | 1 | 3 | 2 |
| Douglass Darby, s. g. "Sunday" | 2 | 1 | 1 |
| N. Smalley, b. g. "Fred. V." | 0 | 2 | 0 |

Time—2:46; 2:38; 2:41.

The second race was a match between Phillip Jenner's bay mare, "Nancy," and Henry Hayes' brown gelding "Andy." Only two heats were trotted. "Andy" won the first in 2:53 and "Nancy" the second in 2:45½.

A remarkable fact about Mr. Hayes and "Andy" is, that the age of the horse and owner together make over a hundred years, Mr. Hayes being over eighty, and "Andy" over a score.

The third race was for the 2:30 class, There were three entries, but only two heats were trotted:

| | 1 | 2 |
|---|---|---|
| W. O. Baldwin, b. m. "Janness" | 3 | 1 |
| John Mantz, s. m. "Chelsea" | 1 | 2 |
| W. A. Coddington, b. g. "Ned Davis" | 2 | 3 |

Time—2:43; 2:28.

The fastest and most exciting event was the fourth race between the brown stallion "Woven Wind," from Woodbrook farm, and Thomas Brantingham's bay mare "Myrtle twig." Two more evenly matched horses than they were Saturday would be hard to find. "Woven Wind" is the faster of the two, but has been worked out much this year, so is a little rusty. He won two heats out of the three, and "Myrtle-twig" the other. In all three heats the two horses went around the track neck and neck, and the result couldn't be anticipated until they had passed under the wire. Both horses can go better than 2:30, although the best time made Saturday by either of them was 2:30¼.

FOURTH RACE. 2:25 class.

| | 1 | 2 | 3 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Woodbrook Farm, br. s. "Woven Wind" | 2 | 1 | 1 |
| T. Brantingham, b. m. "Myrtle-twig" | 1 | 2 | 2 |

Time—2:41; 2:30; 2:32½.

BIDS TO BE REJECTED

Councilmanic Street Committee Thinks Offers to Macadamize Too High.

After considering the bids for macadamizing West Third and Fourth streets, submitted to the Common Council at a recent meeting, the street committee has decided to recommend that the bids be rejected and that new offers be advertised for at a later date. The committee thinks that the bids are too high.

The high bids are caused by the fact that stone crushers have plenty of work on hand now, and the proprietors are in no mood to accept work at a low price such as prevailed last fall when their business was slack.

In considering the matter of expense the committee looked at it in the light that the property owners along the thoroughfares that are to be improved will have to stand a part of it and they are loath to make it any larger than is necessary. If the improvement is not made till next fall it will result in the cost being put in next year's tax bills.

—Craig place is being macadamized by the borough authorities, and it is the intention to make a good job of it.

PRINTER WHO IS MISSING

FRANK WEBSTER MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARS FROM NEWARK.

He Formerly Worked on The Constitutionalist in Plainfield — Chief Grant Asked to Help Find Him.

Frank Webster, a native of this place, whom many will remember, has disappeared. Mr. Webster was living in Newark with his wife, and the police have been notified to be on the lookout for him. In view of the fact that Mr. Webster was born in this city, and worked on The Constitutionalist about fifteen years ago, and has many friends here, his wife thought he might come here, and a search was made. Captain Grant has been notified to look for him.

Mr. Webster has been suffering of late with pains in his head, and his eyesight has been affected, in fact he has been under treatment for his eyes. It is believed that his troubles have unbalanced his mind, and it is feared that he may have done himself bodily injury.

He left his home at 125 East Kinney street last Tuesday, but the next day his relatives found him at Rahway and took him home. He left again Thursday and has not been seen since or heard of. He wore a derby hat, black cutaway coat, vest to match coat, dark striped trousers, small striped sateen outing shirt with collar attached, and no necktie. One shoe was cracked across the toe. Mr. Webster had no money with him. Of late he has grown stout, weighing about 160 pounds. He had a star tatooed on his arm.

Mr. Webster resided when in Plainfield, at the corner of Watchung avenue and Second street. He is about 45 years of age, and is a son of Lewis Webster, who was one of Plainfield's best known citizens.

POOR SUSAN IS CRAZY.

IMAGINES THAT SHE OWNS A LOT OF HOUSES.

Wanted the Police to Turn Out Tenants of New Street Houses—Judge Runyon Sent Her to Jail for 5 Months.

Mrs. Susan Harris is a poor demented woman whe has been giving the police a great deal of trouble lately by following them around and insisting that they aid her in turning the tenants of certain houses on New street out of the dwellings, as they belong to her.

The officers locked her up Saturday night, and this morning City Judge Runyon sent her to Elizabeth for five months, in default of a $50 fine. Susan appeared in the courtroom with a great market basket loaded with clothing and food. She disputed with the Judge, the Chief of Police and even with the bystanders at what they had to say about her, and was led back into her cell muttering.

At the passing of sentence, she said that lodging in jail was better than walking around the streets anyway. Steps will be taken to have her placed in the asylum.

PROF. WIGHTMAN'S PAPER.

It Was Highly Instructive to Somerset Teachers' Association.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Raritan, May 29.—The third and last meeting of the season of the Somerset County Teachers' Association was held Saturday in this place.

The opening exercises, which were held at 10:15 o'clock, were followed by several papers, discussions, and three-minute talks by members of the association. The feature of the day was Superintendent H. J. Wightman's paper on "Recent Advances in Teaching."

The paper was concise and powerful, presenting the best methods in all the primary and grammar branches of school work. The members showed their appreciation of it by voting unanimously to have the paper printed in pamphlet form and sent to all the absent ones. For the benefit of not only those who were unable to be present but for all concerned, it was further voted that Mr. Wightman should read a paper on the same subject at the next pedagogical meeting in November.

President H. C. Krebs, of Somerville, was re elected for another year. The next meeting will be held at Somerville, October 14th.

To Decorate Graves of Veterans.

Houghton Division, No. 1, of the Children's Loyal Legion, auxiliary to Garfield League, of this city, will decorate the graves of honorably discharged veterans of the War for the Union, who are buried in the Presbyterian cemetery, North Plainfield, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

SHARP SERMONIZING ABOUT 'PLAINS MORALS.

Rev. James Shott Stirs up His Own Congregation.

WANTS TOWN REFORMED.

PROPOSES TO FIND OUT IF HIS CHURCH IS WITH HIM.

Declares That the Devil is on Such Good Terms With Some Scotch Plains People That the Bristles of His Beard Can be Felt—Townspeople Have Been too Easy Going for the Past Forty Years.

Recent events have resulted in making Scotch Plains a much-talked of place, and incidents which terminated in a measure with the attempted suicide of Miss Alida Messler, recently in this city, have produced an effect that is not relished by a number of people in the township. As previously stated, Rev. G. M. Shott, pastor of the Baptist church, at that place, has taken up the subject bearing on the sinfulness of his place of residence, and one week ago he announced his intention of investigating the case of Miss Messler, and if fatcs in her case were found to be true he would make them public at the service yesterday. In consequence he was greeted by a large congregation at the morning service and a much larger one in the evening, and noticeable were several who dropped in out of curiosity to hear the pastor.

Pastor Shott took for his text the story of David and Goliah, and as he read the Scripture lesson containing the story in the 17th chapter of First Samuel, he made brief extracts and likened many incidents to those recently enacted at Scotch Plains. In stating his determination to get so close to the devil that one could feel the bristles of his beard. He said that it made his blood boil to hear the way he had been cursed, ridiculed and talked about by different ones for taking a hand in this fight, and if it was any other but the Sabbath day he would be inclined to speak in strong terms.

"It is an awful, shameful fact that with all this wickedness going on nothing has been done to stop it. The devil curled up on a rug is sound to sleep and he will sleep as long as the church does. He only stays as long as the church does, and then he has his emissaries at work. The first thing we want is a moral purification of the church, and without we can do nothing.

"I have organized a system of cottage prayer meetings and they will be held in the camp of the Phillistines, and I want you to invite these Phillistines to these meetings. I would not be as circumspect as perhaps you would suggest, for I intend to plunge into the midst of this awful state of affairs. I would not care if these Phillistines were present now and looking at my guns, and hearing what I have to say.

"I want to know if you will help me. I have received abundant help outside, but I want the church with me. One of the worst men in this place remarked openly a few days ago 'Shott is all right,' and if I should tell you his name it would be like a thunderbolt striking this congregation. Others have said the same thing.

"Members have said 'don't be in a hurry,' and that is what they have been saying for forty years. I will not hold my message back. There is not enough money in my salary, nor in this town to prevent me from delivering this message to you. Some of you cannot be affected. You are callous, dried up and nothing affects you. I am now speaking for this church, which is two hundred years old. There are young men here at this service that will be forever lost if they do not mend their ways. While the parents go to church their boys go to places of sin within gunshot of the average home. These gambing holes, places of vice and cocking mains that have been carried on in this beautiful village must be stopped. I do not care what these wicked men say, and I lose no sleep over their words, but it hurts when I am told that I had better preach to my own people first. That is, however, what I am doing and will do. I could break your hearts with tears if I should tell you of the pleas that I have received from parents. The followers of wickedness jeer and laugh, for they know that the church is not in unison. But I want this church to work together in the suppression of this vice. I would suggest that these places of sin be bought and that the proprietors be asked to leave town and not start again.

"I want your prayers, your influence and money to carry on this

NINE KILLED IN A WRECK.

Washout in Iowa the Cause of a Most Distressing Calamity.

DEATH WITOUT WARNING

Through Passenger Train on Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Thrown Into a Ditch.

Unfortunate Passengers and Splintered Wreckage Piled Together in a Confused Mass—Grade Under Twenty Feet of Track Washed Away—Engineer and Fireman Escape Uninjured.

Waterloo, Iowa, May 29.—The through train from Chicago to Minneapolis over the Rock Island and Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern Railways was wrecked at the crossing of Sink Creek, about four miles southeast of this place. The train consisted if six coaches, including mail and baggage car, two passenger coaches and sleeper. Nine persons were killed and nine injured. The wreck was caused by washing out of track.

A cloudburst had washed the sand and gravel roadbed, leaving the track unsupported for a stretch of twenty feet. The rails and ties held together, and there was nothing to indicate the insecurity of the road. The engine struck the washout and was derailed in the ditch beside the track, and the cars were piled up in a confused heap. The mail car tipped over and was telescoped by the baggage car, while the rear end of the baggage car in turn telescoped the smoker. The roof of the sleeper plowed its way through the day coach, while the lower half of the coach crashed through the sleeper.

The engineer and fireman jumped from the train and escaped with slight injuries.

Treasury Officials Pleased

Washington, May 29.—Treasury officials are delighted with the financial condition as represented in the receipts and expenditures of the Government. The receipts for the month of May up to the present date have been $40,575,543. This is an excess over expenditures of $2,255,543. The expenditures this month have been by no means light, as they include such items as $12,000,000 for pensions, $4,000,000 for interest, over $9,000,000 for the War Department, over $4,500,000 for the Navy Department, and $7,500,000 for civil and miscellaneous expenditures, showing a total of $38,238,000.

Upset the Racing Talent

New York, May 29.—The thirteenth running of the Brooklyn Handicap was an upset, but not so great as it has been in some other years when a rank outsider was the winner, for, in spite of the good work done by Banastar and the fast time in his races this spring, he was not as much fancied as he should have been, and he won all alone. Lanky Bob was second, and the favorite, Filigrane, could do no better than third.

Ten Burned to Death in Their Home

Columbia, S. C., May 29.—Jacob Solomans, his wife and eight children, the oldest a girl of eighteen, were burned to death in their home, near Hardeesville, S. C. The house was in a remote place, and it was three days before the news became known here. The family slept on the upper floor, the house caught from below and the timber being dry they were burned in their sleep.

Kansas Miners Strike.

Pittsburg, Kan., May 29.—The miners of the Hamilton and Braidwood and Crow Coal Company have laid down their tools and refuse to go to work until the proposed agreement is signed by the operators. This takes out about 175 more men. The managers of the Schwab and Durkee coal companies have signed the contract and their men have resumed work.

Presents For the Nashville

Pine Bluff, Ark., May 29.—Citizens of Arkansas City presented the gunboat Nashville with a handsome water service and tray when the boat reached that place. Michael Mallia, who fired the first shot from the boat in the recent war, was given a handsome gold medal by the citizens of Arkansas City at the same time.

Aldrich Reaches New York.

New York, May 29.—Thomas Bailey Aldrich, of Boston, the poet and critic, who sailed from Vancouver, B. C., on September 14, 1898, on a trip around the world, has reached this city on board the Lucania, from Liverpool. Mr. Aldrich spent about two months in Japan, and visited remote parts of India during his tour.

A Texas Town Quarantined.

Denison, Tex., May 29.—Mayor Lebrecht has issued a proclamation quarantining against Sherman in consequence of the smallpox. Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger trains to Sherman have been pulled off. All towns and cities in the county have established quarantine against Sherman.

Mother and Son Killed by the Cars

Columbia, S. C., May 29.—Sallie Patterson and her son Lee, 14 years old, were walking home on the track of the Southern road near Spartanburg. The woman had some whiskey which she had drunk to intoxication, and had given some to the boy, who was also under its influence. The engine struck them and killed both.

Minister Killed by Lightning

Guthrie, O. T., May 29.—The Rev. H. H. Baldwin was killed by lightning while conducting a religious service at Fountain in Dewey county. For a week he had been conducting a revival and the little church was crowded. He was appealing to the congregation to lead better lives when killed.

Prominent Man Gored to Death

Marshall Tex., May 29—T. M. Horton, a wealthy and prominent farmer of Greenwood, La., was gored to death by a Jersey bull. The deceased was well known throughout the southern country.

CAN'T SPARE VOLUNTEERS

Gen. Otis Issues Orders Inviting Them to Re-enlist for Six Months.

NEEDS THEIR SERVICES.

General MacArthur Favors Experiment of Enlisting the Macabebes Against the Enemy.

Those Who Have Assisted Our Troops Ready to Go On and Render Further Aid—Gravity of Situation in Philippines Looked Upon With Much Seriousness—Call for More Volunteers May Be Issued.

Manila, May 29.—Major-Gen. Otis has issued orders inviting volunteers to re-enlist for six months, according to the act of Congress bearing on the subject.

Gen. MacArthur is in favor of the experiment of enlisting the Macabebes against their old enemies, the Tagals.

A delegation of leading Macabebes has visited the General and its spokesman read an address assuring the American commander of the friendship of the Macabebes and of their willingness to transfer their allegiance from Spain to the United States. They complained that the Tagals murdered them and burned their villages, and they asked to be protected and given arms to protect themselves.

The Macabebes have grealy assisted in informing the Americans about the country and the enemy's positions.

Gen. MacArthur would arm a hundred of these men and use them as scouts, and if the experiment proved successful he would enlist more of them.

The Spanish steamer Leon XIII. landed the Twenty-third Regiment of United States regulars on the island of Jolo and took on board the Spanish garrison, the Americans paying the Spaniards the usual honors.

Gen. J. D. Miley, of Gen. Lawton's staff, has been appointed Collector of the Port of Manila.

Manila, May 29.—The transport Morgan City, which has arrived here from San Francisco, has been ordered to Iloilo.

The natives are returning to the outskirts of San Fernando, where they are making persistent attempts to worry the American garrison. Skirmishes are frequent.

The Filipinos are spreading a story which is being widely credited among the natives that the grand celebration which took place on Queen Victoria's birthday, including the illumination of the British cruiser Powerful was arranged by Gen. Otis in honor of the Filipino Commissioners, who are gaining prestige with the Americans.

The American troops are being shifted about preparatory to the establishment of northern garrisons and the reorganization of Gen. Lawton's division south of Manila.

San Fernando is on the northwestern coast of the island of Luzon.

Washington, May 29.—The gravity of the situation in the Philippines is no longer concealed; the feeling of confidence has given way to apprehension. The fact that a strict military censorship exists at Manila indicates that Gen. Otis desires to have it generally known that he wants reinforcements. The withdrawal of the volunteers would weaken his command by about 15,000 men, while he will receive in regular troops less than 9,000. His fighting force will be less than 30,000 men.

Mr. Barrett, ex-Minister to Siam, who has just returned here by way of the Philippines, says it will require at least 50,000 men to pacify the islands. Gen. Lawton's estimate is 100,000.

If a call for volunteers is made it must be made very soon. Army officers believe it will be difficult to get men to enlist in organizations officered by volunteers. Their experience during the war with Spain did not inspire confidence.

Owing to the urgent representations of Gen. Otis, the War Department has ordered the Sheridan to sail June 7 with 2,000 recruits now at San Francisco. These men will be used to fill the regular regiments now in the field. It was the original intention to have the Sheridan take the Nineteenth Infantry on the 15th of June, but the urgency of the occasion was such that the greatest possible despatch is being exercised in sending reinforcements.

All the territory in Luzon Island captured, except a small section immediately around Manila, will soon be evacuated by the American forces, who will go into camp at Manila.

Washington, May 29.—Gen. Greeley has received a cable message from Major Thompson at Manila, reporting that a party landing for the repair of the cable at Escalante, Island of Negroes had been treacherously attacked by natives, and that Capt. George H. Tilley, Signal Corp, is missing, and that the worst is feared. Tilley's services in the Philippines have been marked by such ability, courage and zeal that his superiors place him in the foremost rank of subordinate officers.

Another Motor Company Formed

Bridgeport, Conn., May 29.—Articles of incorporation have been printed here of the National Bicycle and Motor Company, with a capital of $2,500,000. All of the stock is subscribed for by A. W. Paige, Judge George P. Carroll and Phillip H. Holzer, of this city. They represent capitalists, but at this time refuse to divulge their names. The purpose for which the company is organized is to manufacture, buy and sell bicycles, motor carriages, automobiles, auto-trucks, electric vehicles, cars and conveyances and parts thereof, and all other kinds of articles made of wood or metal.

Hermit Found Dead in Bed.

West Chester, Pa., May 29.—William Strickler, a hermit who had lived all his life near Leonard Village, in West Marlborough Township, was found dead in bed by neighbors who broke into his cabin. The old man had been missed for several days, and, fearing that some misfortune had befallen him, his friends concluded to look him up. Deceased was 75 years old.

COAL is for coal, clean, cheery and cheap.
is the order to lay in a heap.
is the atmosphere warmed by its glow.
is the light that starts it to go, and to get the best coal buy of Stevens & Co.

A gentleman who delights in the game of whist and believes in playing it quietly and making it somewhat a matter of business recently, while visiting a sister one evening, took a hand in a family game and had for his partner the said sister, who is his very opposite in temperament and enjoys cracking jokes and making pert speeches. As the game wore on the brother became irascible and almost exasperated by her continued laughter and light talk. He called out emphatically at last, "Come, pay attention to the game, don't laugh so much;" and she answered, "What you want is a Ripans Tabule; take one and you can laugh, too." She thereupon took out of her pocket a vial of Ripans Tabules and gave him one, which he swallowed as a sort of penance for his petulance. A few weeks after a friend who had been present at the card party, meeting him on the street, asked, after the usual greeting, "How about the Ripans?" His answer was, "First rate" and then he said seriously, "That Tabule was swallowed as a joke, perhaps but Ripans Tabules and I have become friends. I perceived a benefit from that one, so I bought some and have continued their use. They have garnished me from top to bottom. I guess I don't talk and laugh as much as Amelia does, but I laugh more than I used and feel in better spirits all the time."

A new style packet containing TWO RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This is a good sort to keep on hand for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (12 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York. For a single carton (TWO TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

STORM SWEEPS THE WEST.

Wisconsin, Iowa and Nebraska Are Visited by Violent Tornadoes.

WORST STORM IN YEARS.

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Property Swept Away and Many Homes Wrecked

Railroad Tracks Washed Out and Traffic Suspended at Several Points—Growing Crops Sustain Great Damage From Rain and Hail—Valuable Stock Killed and Fields Flooded.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 29.—Chippewa and Eau Claire counties, Wisconsin, have been visited by one of the worst storms of rain and hail in the history of that section.

Chippewa Falls reports that two miles of the track on the Wisconsin Central Railway was washed out at Howard, and in Chippewa Falls all railroad traffic has been suspended. Southward bound trains from St. Paul and Minneapolis are tied up at Colfax, and Chicago and Milwaukee trains are held here.

Washouts are reported on the Omaha Railway. The bridge over the Elk River near Howard was carried away. Much damage was done by lightning, both in Chippewa Falls and in the country. Heavy hail fell and many windows were broken.

In Eau Claire and vicinity heavy rains did great damage. A report from Bracket says that the water is a foot over the bridge and all of the country bridges are in danger.

Telephone and telegraph wires are down in all directions.

A large section of the log flume at Eau Claire was carried away by a fall of rock overhanging the Chippewa River. Four bridges south of the city were carried away.

La Crosse, Wis., reports a severe storm, which caused considerable damage to crops.

Omaha, Neb., May 29—Particulars of the storm which passed over the section north of Minden show it to be one of the worst in years. Buildings were wrecked and considerable stock killed in a strip seven miles long and 200 yards wide, but no lives were lost. The progress of the storm was so slow that people had time to take to cellars and some farmers saved themselves by lying down in the furrows of plowed ground. Not a building in the path of the storm escaped, most of them being utterly destroyed.

Omaha, Neb., May 29.—A special to the Bee from Chamberlain, S. D., says: "Word has reached here of a disastrous and fatal tornado which passed over this city in the vicinity of Bijou, twenty-five miles south of this city, resultin gthe death of seven persons and he serious injury of three others.

Chosen, Ia., May 29.—A storm approaching in severity a tornado, passed over this section. At Lamar barns and cribs were wrecked. A deluge of water fell, flooding corn and grain fields and doing much damage.

Prominent Architect Suicides

Kansas City, Mo., May 29.—W. F. Hackney, architect of the School Board, one of the best-known members of his profession in the country, committed suicide by shooting himself in his office. He left a note to the newspapers explaining the reason he took his life was that for several years his income had not been sufficient to meet his expenditures, and that he was in debt beyond his power to pay. Mr. Hackney was one of the architects of the Iowa State capitol building.

Searching for Their Daughter's Body

New Orleans, La., May 29.—Banker George Woodland and wife, of Chicago, are in this city for the purpose of assisting in the search for the body of their daughter, Miss Margie Woodland, who was lost on the Paul Jones. Mr. and Mrs. Woodland have left for Venice, accompanied by Captain A. Thomas. The party will view the wreckage which was found on Bird Island, after which Captain Thomas will make another search of all the islands in the Louisiana marsh.

Indians Publicly Flogged.

South McAlester, I. T., May 29.—John Washtub and Joseph Stark, two full-blood Choctaw Indians, were publicly flogged at San Bois, in accordance with the Choctaw law. The men were sentenced to receive 100 lashes on the bare back as a penalty for stealing cattle. Several hundred Indians and white people assembled to witness the execution of the law. The men were stripped to the skin and made to hug a tree, while a deputy, with hickory switches six feet long, gave the lashes with both hands. The penalty for a second offense is death.

Imprisoned Miners Rescued.

Shenandoah, Pa., May 29.—John Barwich, aged 33 years, after being closed in the mines for ten hours at Knickerbocker Colliery, was rescued alive by the heroic efforts of fellow-workmen. A fall of coal occured, shutting Barkwich tightly in. Rescurers set to work to liberate him. They found him pinioned down by a large lump of coal. He was cut and bruised about the head and body, and almost died from the loss of blood and fear of being buried alive.

Linemen Fatally Injured.

Phoenixville, Pa., May 29.—Nathan Crosby, of Norristown, chief lineman of the new trolley road, was probably fattaly injured by falling through the Pennsylvania Railroad Bridge. He was trying to get on the caboose of a freight train and pitched headforemost through the bridge to the ground, a distance of twenty-five feet. He was removed to he hospital in an unconscious condition.

Think She May Have Suicided.

Williamsport, Pa., May 29.—Mrs. Royal Thompson, who disappeared from her home in this city Saturday, has not yet been found. The belief is gaining ground that she drowned herself in the river.

LYNCHING DENOUNCED.

The Last One in Texas Classed as a Most Brutal Outrage.

Dallas, Tex., May 29.—The development in the triple lynching of the Humphreys, father and two sons, in Henderson county, stamp the crime as one of the most cruel in Texas. The victims of the mob were not killed for suspected of having knowledge of crimes committed and of being undesirable residents in the community where they were executed, without the benefit of a trial or an opportunity to dispose of their belongings and get away. The worst thing ever brought against the men lynched was an indictment against the two brothers charging them with hog stealing, but the offense was not fastened on them. They were out on bond and were awaiting trial. Against James Humphrey, the father, absolutely no charge of crime was pending.

The lynchers have been captured and are now in jail at Athens, an dit is feared that they, too, will be made the victims of mob violence if the jail is not well guarded, as friends of the Humphreys are making strong threats against them.

MUST STOP SPECULATING.

Texas Bill Passed Ending All Speculation in Cotton and Other Products.

Austin, Tex., May 29.—The Senate passed finally the House bill prohibiting all gambling or specuation in cotton futures within this State. The bill went to the Governor for approval. This law will close most of the cotton brokers' offices in Texas. The bill was introduced at he instigation of the cotton planters of the State, who say that the speculation in futures causes a general lowering of prices of the product and makes unwarranted fluctuations of the market. The bill also prohibits the dealing in futures of all kinds of products within the State. The penalty is a heavy fine.

Wisconsin Will Stand by the West

Milwaukee, May 29—Wisconsin Congressmen are gathering here for a conference on the Speakership. Congressman Babcock, speaking of the meeting, said: "All eyes are on Wisconsin, and the action of the delegation will be of the greatest importance in deciding the result. If we agree to support some one candidate and decide to announce our choice, I know personally that three or four Western States will within a week follow our lead, and these announcements would go far toward settling the question of who shall be the next Speaker. Of course, we want a Western man if we can get him. Personally I have not given any one promises."

Another Death From Train Wrecking.

Philadelphia, May 29.—William Ohle, the 18-year-old Tamaqua boy who placed a spike on the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, near Snyder's Woods, which caused a wreck that resulted in the death in Reading of two men, and in which he is now under heavy bonds for manslaughter, must also be arrested and brought to this city to appear at the coroner's inquest in the case of John H. Short, 2075 Orleans street, who was so seriously injured in the accident that he died at the Episcopal Hospital.

Church Rules as to Elopers

Richmond, Va., May 29.—The duty of clergymen in the marriage of eloping couples was discussed by the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterians here. The Assembly decided: "It would be both unwise and inexpedient to attempt to lay down any inflexible rule for the guidance of its ministry in relation to the performance of the ceremony. It, however, urges the greatest prudence and caution by the ministers."

Philippine Ants Are Greenbackers.

Washington, May 29.—Paper money cannot be used in the Philippines, for there is a variety of ants in the islands which eat almost everything and are particularly fond of paper. In a recent shipment of money for the troops was $1,000,000 in paper money of small denominations, and preparations were being made to send more paper in the next shipment, when a warning was given that hereafter nothing but silver and gold coin must be sent to the islands.

Postoffice Robber Captured

Omaha, Neb., May 29.—Deputies Pearsall and Barber, of the United States Marshal's office, aided by detectives, have succeeded in capturing George Bomboy and Otto Noffke, alias Kid Mason, alleged postoffice robbers. Two women with them were also arrested. On the night of April 11 the postoffice at Boulder, Col., was entered and robbed of money and stamps to the amount of $3,500, and it is alleged that the persons named are the guilty parties.

New Court-Martial for Dreyfus

Paris, May 29.—Captain Dreyfus is certain to have a new court-martial. The French Cable Company is the authority for the statement that Procurator-General Manau has received communication from Maitre Ballot Beaupre. The report made by Beaupre recommends a revision of the Dreyfus trial and a new court-martial for Captain Dreyfus.

Wanted for Murder in Illinois

Lee's Summit, Mo., May 29.—The arrest here of Ed Kepka by Constable J. M. Short recalls a tragedy that occurred at a country dance at Atlanta, Ill. It is charged that Kepka and two friends went to the dance for the purpose of settling an old feud. The host, Waldren, was fatally wounded. Kepka is wanted for having caused Waldren's death.

Mrs. Peck Gets a Divorce

Waterbury, May 29.—Judge Roraback, of the Superior Court, has granted a divorce to Emily B. Peck, a Brooklyn society woman, from Frank L. Peck, one of the best-known men in this city, who is wealthy. Mrs. Peck receives $1,500 alimony and resumes her maiden name, Lockwood.

Ex-Police Officer Arrested.

Wilmington, Del., May 29.—Samuel Clonin was assaulted and beaten into unconsciousness by Max Maloney, an ex-police officer, at Third and Adams streets. Clonin was taken to his home in the Phoenix ambulance, where he regained consciousness. Mahony was arrested.

A clean, vigorous shampoo, with an abundant lather of Ivory Soap, is delightful and refreshing. It cleanses the scalp, removes dandruff and leaves the hair glossy and clean.

NINE-YEAR-OLD MURDERER.

Colored Lad Blows the Top of a White Boy's Head Off

Augusta, Ga., May 29.—At the plantation of Col. Frank Towns, on Martintown road, eight miles from here, in Edgefield county, South Carolina, Hamp Davis, a negro, nine years old, shot and instantly killed Arthur Smith, eight years old.

The Smith boy and his little brother were sent past the Davis cabin on a message to their aunt. Davis took some tobacco tags away from Smith, and later told him to come into the cabin and get the tags, and the boy obeyed.

Davis then took his father's gun and discharged it at Smith. The latter fell in the doorway, with the entire upper portion of his head blown away. The young murderer stood laughing until Smith's little brother gave the alarm. A crowd quickly gathered and Davis was taken to Edgefield Jail.

Stock Men Made Happy.

Omaha, Neb., May 29.—The feeding-in-transit rates have been abolished on all Western railroads. Probably no event in the hisory of the West since the completion of the Union Pacific means so much to the Western stock interests as this departure from a policy established a quarter of a century ago. Though a very animated discussion has already developed as to what interest will most lose by the change, there is no difference of opinion as to the material effect the abolition of these rates will have in the way of stimulating the live stock industry generally from Chicago to the Pacific slope.

Contributions for Dewey Home

Washington, May 29.—The informal suggestion that postmasters co-operate in the Dewey Home movement has already brought contributions from Postmasters Canty, at Torrington, Col.; McNeal, at Way Cross, Ga.; Black, at Lowell, Wash., and Weaver, at Rapid City, S. D. Replying to a suggestion from Postmaster Thomas, at Dibble, I. T., that postmasters set aside their cancellation returns for a month as a contribution, Acting Postmaster General Heath says that no official action can be taken upon it, as all contributions must be voluntary.

Cooper Asks for Pardon.

Dover, Del., May 29.—Colonel Ezekiel T. Cooper, having served one year in Trenton Penitentiary for his connection with the Dover Bank scandal, has been made the subject of overtures to President McKinley for his pardon and restoration to citizenship in this country. In addition to his sentence of eighteen months at work and a heavy fine, the Colonel recently suffered disbarment at the hands of the Superior Court of this State, and the condemnation and seizure by the Sheriff of his estate, nearly $10,000, followed.

Two Republican Conventions

Cleveland, O., May 29.—This city of sensational and political activity enjoyed the distinction and novelty of two Republican county conventions, both of which selected delegations to the Republican State Convention, and neither of which accomplished anything in the line of harmony among the Republican factions. Both conventions, however, adopted strong resolutions against the trusts and pledged their delegations to work for an anti-trust plank at the State convention.

Only Eleven Came for the Money

Havana, May 29.—Only 11 Cuban soldiers have applied for their share of the $3,000,000 provided by the United States at the distribution station here. Seven were paid. Three were not on the list and one was not identified. None turned over arms five out of seven having been servants in the army. The other wo stated that they had given thier arms to Gen. Gomez. Colonel Randall took their word for this, asking no receipt.

Seven Miners Badly Injured

Pittsburg, May 29.—Seven men were injured in a powder explosion at Mine No. 2, of the Youghiogheny River Coal Company, at Scott Haven. The men were badly burned, but all will recover except William Baird, Jr., whose injuries are believed to be fatal. The explosion was caused by a match igniting an old stocking filled with blasting powder, which an Italian had carelessly thrown among the powder cans in a mine car in which the men were riding.

THE TROUBLE IS SERIOUS

Several Families Have Been Entirely Wiped Out by Indians

Billings, Mont., May 29.—The trouble with the Cheyenne Indians has assumed a more serious aspect than was at first anticipated, and the probabilities are that much blood will be shed before the Indians are subdued. The report has just reached here that over 300 of those belonging to the Tongue River Agency have donned their war paint and are committing all sorts of depredations.

The families of three ranchmen are known to have been killed and their stock run off by the redskins. At the small town of Longdon, eight miles from the agency, every white family has been driven out by the threatening demonstrations of the Indians and their homes have been destroyed.

Already twenty-eight white people are said to have been killed. These were living close to the reservation and had no time to escape the warriors' fury, as no warning of an outbreak had been given. More serious trouble than that which has already taken place is looked for, as the settlers are not properly protected and can do nothing better than put up a strong fight against overwhelming odds.

THE LATEST NEWS.

Dr. Shield's Ordained

New York, May 29.—Dr. Charles W. Shields, of Princeton, was advanced to the priesthood of the Episcopal Church by Bishop Littlejohn of Long Island, in the Cathedral of the Incarnation, Garden City. Professor Shields is 74 years old. He was one of the best-known clergymen of the Presbyterian Church, but left that body in the fall of 1897, at the time of the Princeton Inn affair. Before that he was widely known among theologians through his writings in behalf of church unity.

A $240,000,000 Mortgage

Washington, May 29.—The largest mortgage ever placed on record in the District of Columbia has been filed. The amount which the mortgage secures is $240,000,000 and covers all the property of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. The mortgagee is the American Trust Company and the documents bear $69,000 worth of revenue stamps. The whole amount is divided into two parts, a prior lien mortgage for $75,000,000 and a first mortgage for $165,000,000.

One Killed, Two Injured.

Paterson, N. J., May 29—One woman was instantly killed and another woman and a man and a child, all of this city, are dying as the result of being struck by a train in Singac. The dead woman is Miss Juliette Rafferty, of No. 572 Main street. The man is her brother, William, and the others are Mrs. Moses Fitzgerald and her infant child. The husband of Mrs. Fitzgerald escaped with a few bruises.

Socialists Meet at Altoona.

Altoona, Pa., May 29.—The State meeting of the Socialistic Labor party met in this city. Fifty-two delegates from all parts af the State were present. Samuel Clark, of Philadelphia, was nominated for State Treasurer; Val Renel, of Pittsburg, for Judge of the Supreme Court, and Donald Monroe, of Dubois, was endorsed for Judge of the Superior Court.

Woman Attacked by a Pet Wolf

Bridgeton, N. J., May 29.—Mrs. Daniel Bozarth, of this place, was attacked by a pet wolf belonging to her husband. The animal was sent to Mr. Bozarth by a Western friend. While his wife was feeding the wolf he attacked her and twice bit her, tearing the calf of the right leg. Her husband heard her screams and beat the animal off, after which he shot it.

Children Kill Their Father

Rapid City, S. D., May 29.—Little Lena Bouts, 14 years old, and her brother Nicholas, 10 years old, were brought here charged with the murder of Frank Bouts, their father. Bouts was a Burlington and Missouri River Railroad contractor. The little girl admits the crime, and the boy adds that he did what he could to kill his father.

Scotch Plains Waking up.

Scotch Plains has been one of those places that can truly be said to have pursued the even tenor of its way for half a century or more, but from what has transpired within the last few days in the historic and picturesque community, nestling serenely under the brow of the stately Watchung range of mountains, it seems to be shaking off its lethargic spirit and rousing up to a sense of where it is at in some respects.

Rev. James Shott, pastor of the Baptist church in Scotch Plains, is doing his share in the rousing. The reverend gentleman is practically a new comer to the place, but it seems that he can see things and say things about the town that the oldtimers have heretofore turned a blind eye and deaf ear to. It is a fact that a live, aggressive minister can do more towards stirring a community to a stern, quick realization of what is transpiring in their midst in the way of sin and iniquity than most any other agency, providing he goes at it in the right way. And experience proves that the right way is to be aggressive rather than defensive about the town's moral status. It would appear that the average Scotch Plains citizen has not troubled himself with either one of these qualities since time immemorial. He has been satisfied to let well enough alone.

Rev. Mr. Shott is not of this class, however. Already we know that he believes in saying things; and we shall soon see whether he is able to do what he says he will. In the meantime we imagine that he will find it a hard job. As he said of the people of the town yesterday: "The trouble with the people of this town is that they have become calloused about these matters." To get down a tender spot will require a lot of perserverance and not a little diplomacy. But Rev. Mr. Shott seems prepared for whatever may transpire. His agitation, even if it dees not accomplish all that is set out to accomplish, will result in some good anyway.

The Jersey City News observes that Chancery Clerk Thompson has two years yet to serve in his position, but there is an unseemly scramble already for appointment as his successor. The News says that "To such proportions has this struggle grown, that Mr. Thompson has taken alarm and is now endeavoring to retain those same shoes for another five years at $6,000 per year. Judging from the comments of the newspapers which support Mr. Thompson, it appears that the gentleman himself is beginning to fear that the Governor will not reappoint him, and there seems to be some ground for that belief. Among those of the party who are not scrambling for the office, but whose name is mentioned in connection therewith, is Judge Joseph Cross, and a better man could not be named."

Councilman D. F. Collins, of Elizabeth, has been honored with an election as major of the Second New Jersey Regiment. Major Collins was one of the captains in the old National Guard, being in charge of Company E, of Elizabeth. Several Plainfield boys served under him during the early days of the Spanish War and are able to attest to the fact that he is a good military man and one popular with those under his command. His selection as a major is a deserved honor.

The idea of holding a Democratic political picnic strikes a responsive chord among many members of that party in Plainfield and North Plainfield who would like to see it obtain some influence in the councils of its own clan.

It is not an epigram now to say that Scotch Plains people are receiving hot Shott from the pulpit.

Tomorrow being a holiday The Daily Press will not be issued.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

A house divided against itself cannot stand is as true today as the eternal hills. This is why the Republicans of Somerset county are making efforts to get together. It is to be hoped that they will succeed, or they will put on sackcloth and ashes before the snow of another winter.—Trenton Times.

The Whitehall Street ferry, recently opened by the Central Railroad of New Jersey, appears to be in temporary peril, to just what extent is not generally known. It is to be hoped that no action on the part of the New York city authorities that will interfere with the Central Railroad Company's continued use of this ferry, for it is one of the greatest accommodations the company could provide its passengers. Not only local but through passengers are given unusual facilities for reaching every part of the city and connecting with all the other railroads running out of New York. The Whitehall Street ferry is fast becoming one of the most popular of all the ferries which the Central provides, and the public will hope that it may in no way be interfered with.—Elizabeth Journal.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

The absence of street signs is very noticeable in this city. To a stranger coming into town there is nothing to guide him in his way about. Even those signs that are still left are so disfigured that no one except a native can make them out.

The last issue of the Mail and Express Saturday Illustrated Magazine has a fine picture of Mrs. John Augustus di Zarega, of New York, a near relative of Mrs. Samuel Huntington, of Franklin place. The picture is accompanied with a sketch entitled "A Talented Society Woman," in which Mrs. di Zarega's varied abilities are described, and a list given of her published works. She has just completed a translation of a French play, a work of importance, and also a translation of "A Tale of the Ancient Vikings" from the Norwegian.

A Spiritual Campaign.

The Salvation Army will conduct a "spiritual campaign" in this city tomorrow when Brigadier Breagle, of New York, will be present and address a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. hall in the afternoon. In the evening in the Army barracks on East Front street a unique meeting will be conducted.

Chimney on Fire.

The chimney in Patrick Kiely's house, 534 West Sixth street, caught fire this morning, and an alarm was turned in at 8:15 o'clock from Box 34. The blaze was put out with three small extinguishers, and the damage was trifling. The house is owned by Mrs. John Brown.

Miss Cain, of Raritan, spent Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. J. Hervey Duchanan, of Duer street.

ITEMS BRIEF AND BRIGHT

GATHERED ALL ABOUT THE TOWN BY ALERT PRESS REPORTERS.

News in Short Paragraphs That are Interesting to Read During the Spare Moments of Many Busy Plainfielders.

—Hillier & Co., of Front street, will open the shirt waist season Wednesday of this week.

—Decoration Day being a legal holiday, there will be no circulation of books at the Free Public Library. The reading room will be cpen from 2 until 6 p. m.

—There will be a sale of lots at Somerset Park in Washington Valley tomorrow. The company that is developing this tract of land has made a great many improvements during the last few weeks and the lots located there are very advantageous. Look at their advertisement in today's Press.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

No bigger programmes of continuous vaudeville will be offered for Memorial week than those arranged at both the Proctor theatres, in New York. Decoration Day the doors at both the 23d Street Theatre and the Pleasure Palace, 58th street and 3d avenue, will be opened at 9:30 a. m. and the bill will run continuously until 11 p. m., making 13 hours of incessant gaiety. The entertainers are the best in the vaudeville line, too. At the 23d street house the leaders will be Joseph Hart and Carrie DeMar in "Dr. Chauncey's Visit;" then follows May Irwin's sister, Flo Irwin, in "The Gay Miss Con," assisted by Walter Hawley. Other are: Wright Huntington & Co. in a new farce; Gypsey Quintet; Stuart, the Male Patti; Joe Flynn and a score more. The big feature at The Palace this week is Cissie Loftus in her now famous imitations of noted actors. Among the many other strong specialties can be mentioned: The Seven Reed Birds in their newest farce; Folloy Trio, Mr. and Mrs. Franz Wilczek, violinists; and many others. The special matinee price of 25 cents for the best seats in the orchestra to the ladies and children has proved a tremendous success.

Truck Team Ran Away.

Capt. Wm. Hand's big team of horses ran way this morning and caused quite a little excitement on North avenue. The team was standing in front of Fred Dunn's grocery store, while Augustus Hoffman, the driver, was in J. P. D. Kirch's office. Wm. Godown was in charge of the team.

As Godown attempted to unload some boxes on the rear the team started and ran up North avenue at a fast pace. They threaded their way between carriages and turned the corner and ran into East Third street without an accident. At Richmond street they were stopped. Nothing was injured about the truck or any freight lost.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but Skin Eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, cures them, also Old, Running and Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, Warts, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Chapped Hands, Chilblains. Best Pile cure on earth Drives out Pains and Aches. Only 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

Sweets Won Success.

A very successful strawberry festival was held Saturday afternoon and evening in the W. C. T. U. rooms under the auspices of the members. Mrs. John French was chairman of the affair, and under her direction the members assisted in making a good sum of money for the benefit of the union.

George W. Bailey, superintendent of Jefferson College Hospital, Philadelphia, was the guest yesterday of Dr. and Mrs. J. Hervey Buchanan, of Duer street.

Little Boy Badly Burned.

Mahanoy City, Pa., May 29.—Roy Lynn, aged 8 years, was badly burned on the mountains by his clothes catching fire from a blaze which he had kindled to roast potatoes. Screaming in agony the little fellow rushed toward home enveloped from head to foot. Several women seized and wrapped him in a piece of carpet, thus extinguishing the flames. His face, head and back were badly burned.

Jury Censures the Reading

Norristown, Pa., May 29.—The coroner's jury has rendered a verdict in the deaths of five victims which took place in this county from injuries received at Exeter, Berks county, on May 12, placing the entire blame of the horrible disaster upon the Philadelphia & Reading Company's method of operating the road and not censuring any of the employes.

DRINK GRAIN-O

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich seal brown color and tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about ¼ as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink. 15 and 25c.

THEY ARE HERE AT LAST.

WELL WORTH WAITING FOR, THEY ARE, TOO.

We refer to the sample garments of Ladies' Muslin Underwear, which many of our customers have been so impatiently waiting for. We are sure, however, that all those who have waited will be more than repaid by the opportunity to secure exquisitely fine garments at only two-thirds their value. Made by the celebrated Galland Bros. They are marvelously beautiful and wondrously attractive to those who appreciate fine goods, fine work and cheap prices. We buy at ⅔ regular price. We sell them in the same way. They are now on sale. Those who call first will secure the choicest bargains.

ABOUT SHIRT WAISTS.

The warm weather reminds of your needs in this direction. If you have seen our line of waists then you do not need to be told about them. If you have not seen our waists then by all means see them before you make your selections. We have more desirable waists, better in finish, better fitting, more variety and more choice styles than all other concerns in this city. That is a broad statement, but a true one as you can easily ascertain by investigation. It is equally true of pique, duck and crash skirts. They are new, well made, fit perfectly and are inexpensive.

MISCELLANEOUS SUMMER NOVELTIES

Ladies' Belts, the variety infinite, styles choice and exclusive, prices 10c to 3.00 each. The line includes some elegant imported Jetted elastic belts. THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 29.—Rev. E. S. Jamison, of the Methodist church, preached a special sermon last night to the G. A. R. men, the Junior Order of United American Mechanics and the Daughters of Liberty. The discourse was of a patriotic nature, and drew out a large attendance. "Our Boys of '61" was a highly patriotic subject, and the speaker handled the subject in a way to interest every one, especially those old veterans who fought thirty-five years ago. There was also special music by the choir.

The Middlesex County Bowling Green Club met on Schepflin's green again Saturday afternoon and rolled several games among themselves. The green was in excellent condition for the sport, but no scores were kept. Bowling for the prizes will be begun soon. There were twenty-two members out. Refreshments were served and the affair made as pleasant as possible. It has been decided to observed June 10th as ladies' day.

Street Commissioner Staats has begun repairs on the New Market road. It will take a good part of next month before they are all completed, but the road will be much improved by them.

Rev. Martin Sindall, of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian church yesterday morning.

A. R. Ward has taken up his residence at Cedar Cottage for the summer, having given up housekeeping.

The Young People's Crokinole Club have decided to discontinue their meetings for the summer.

Rockview Council, No. 130, will give an entertainment in Apgar's Hall next Monday night.

Mrs. L. B. Nelson has returned from a visit with relatives at Orange.

Mrs. E. S. Jamison has returned from a visit with Elizabeth friends.

Mrs. C. D. Taylor has returned from a visit with relatives in Paterson.

Miss Sophia Stillman, of Perth Amboy, is visiting relatives here.

George C. Andrews, of Syracuse, is registered at the Park Hotel.

A. Nelson has returned from a visit to Basking Ridge.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Daily Press

New Market, May 29.—The graduating exercises of the New Market school will be held Thursday evening, June 15th, in the First Baptist church. All those who have passed through eight grades will be given a certificate.

A rally of Christian Endeavorers was held last night in the First Baptist church. Members of the society from Dunellen were also present, as well as representatives from the Epworth League. Rev. Mr. Dorward, of Stelton, president of the Middlesex County Union, was the speaker of the evening. There was also special music by the choir.

Fishing is quite good in the lake. A party from Newark spent Friday here, and went away with quite a catch. There was one catfish in the basket that weighed four pounds.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 29—The Decoration Day exercises in town tomorrow morning promises to eclipse anything of a like nature held in years. The Jr. O. U. A. M., who have taken a leading movement in the matter, expect a large turnout of Juniors who have been invited from neighboring towns. A delegation from Winfield Scott Post will be present. A band has been engaged, and altogether it will be a gala day.

The boys' five mile road race, which was to take place Decoration Day afternoon, has been called off on account of a number of those who had promised to enter backing out Saturday.

The Misses Hayes, of Fanwood, who have been visiting the Holy Land, were given a warm welcome home by the Baptist Sunday-school Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Marsh, attended the funeral service of Mr. Marsh's sister, held Sunday afternoon at her late home in Bound Brook.

George Calkins, of Elizabeth, a former resident of the town, and principal of the public school, is visiting Dr. and Mrs. James H. Parks.

Mrs. W. Stewart Hess, of New York, was the guest Sunday of Mrs. George W. Marsh.

Miss Ada Gould, of Warwick, N. Y., is visiting Mrs. George Lyons.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 29—J. N. Wilcox, the carpenter, lays at his home with several ribs broken, his right arm useless and his face badly bruised as a result of being thrown out of his wagon late Saturday evening. Mr. Wilcox had been building a shanty for a number of Italians on his wood property off Central avenue. Saturday evening, thinking that the Italians might wish to occupy the building, he drove down in company with one of the Italians. While driving through the woods the front wheel struck a stump and Mr. Wilcox was thrown out and the Italian on top of him. The latter becoming afraid that Mr. Wilcox was dead, as he did not move, be got up, tied the horse to a tree and left the injured man to look after himself. Mr. Wilcox came to in about ten minutes and succeeded in getting home. Dr. Fred A. Kinch was called and did all that he could to relieve the sufferer.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store. Only 50 cents and $1.00, every bottle guaranteed.

DEATH OF W. N. LYON.

Had Been in Feeble Health for Sometime—A Retired Merchant.

William N. Lyon, seventy-eight years of age, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alfred W. Day, of 816 Madison avenue, yesterday morning. Mr. Lyon had been in feeble health for some time, and his death was not unexpected. The funeral will be private, and interment will be at South Hingham, Mass.

Mr. Lyon was born at Bellville, this State, but was brought up at Oyster Bay, where his parents moved when he was quite young. Later he went to Brooklyn and then came to Dunellen, where he lived until a few years ago, when he brought his family to this city.

Mr. Lyon was formerly in the crockery business with William B. Thompson on Baxter street, New York. He retired twenty years ago. Mr. Lyon leaves three daughters, Mrs. A. C. Vail, Mrs. Edwin B. Day and Mrs. Alfred W. Day.

PUPILS ARE PATRIOTIC.

Memorial Day Exercises in Public Schools Today.

Today memorial exercises were held in all the publi c schools, and delegations of veterans visited each school and made short addresses to the scholars. Features of the exercises were the tableaux, drills, recitations and songs arranged by the teachers and given by the scholars. A strong sentiment of patriotism permeated all of the exercises and the hearts of the veterans were deeply stirred. The Bryant School was favored by having Hon. H. K. Carroll present, and he made a very interesting address. Each school acquitted itself creditably and each participant won praise for the excellent manner in which the programmes were carried out.

At Bryant School a large and handsome American flag was presented to Dr. Carroll, President McKinley's commissioner to Porto Rico, to be sent to that island and used on some of the official buildings.

COMMITTEE NAMED.

Mayor Smalley Names Five to Organize Business Men's Movement.

Mayor Smalley, of the borough, who presided over the meeting of the business men last Tuesday night, and who was authorized to appoint a committee to formulate a plan of organization, this morning named the following to serve on that committee: Mayor George W. Rockfellow, Senator Charles A. Reed, James E. Martine, Joseph B. Coward and Silas D. Drake.

The committee will hold a meeting in a few days and decide on what plan to pursue.

Stealing Flowers.

The officers of the North Plainfield cemetery should do something to protect lot owners from the thieves who steal flowers from the graves of loved ones. On Saturday a father placed two large bunches of pinks into a vase on two different graves, and this morning his curiosity was excited to see whether they had been taken, as had a similar bunch the week previous, and he was mortified that both bunches were gone and the vases were empty. Put a detective on duty for one day, gentlemen, and catch the guilty person or persons and make an example of them. If you don't do something to stop the habit, you will lose several lot owners.

Coming Nuptials.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss May Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Flynn, of West Fourth street, to Dr. Francis P. Donlon, of New York city. The marriage will take place in St. Mary's church Wednesday morning, June 7th, at 10 o'clock.

—Mrs. Wm. Dagnall and family, of Richmond street, wish to thank many friends for kindness during the sad affliction in the loss of her daughter, Miss Della M. Doyle.

WORKS WITH HER PEN

IDA HUSTED HARPER, BIOGRAPHER FOR SUSAN B. ANTHONY.

Something About One of the Busiest and Most Successful of Women Journalists—An Earnest and Brilliant Advocate of Woman Suffrage.

Mrs. Ida H. Harper has recently come into prominence in the east, where she has been engaged for the past two years upon the "Life and Works of Susan B. Anthony" and at present as correspondent to the New York Sun upon woman's work, especially that pertaining to the suffrage question.

Mrs. Harper is a woman of rare literary attainments and a writer of marked ability and versatility. When a very young woman, she began a witty and original series of articles in the Terre Haute Saturday Evening Mail, which continued for 12 years. During this time she ably edited a woman's department in The Fireman's Magazine, the largest labor periodical in the country, edited by Eugene V. Debs. Being an extensive traveler, Mrs. Harper corresponded for the Chicago Times and Inter Ocean, Detroit Free Press, Cleveland Leader, Indianapolis Journal, New York Christian Union and other large papers.

In 1889 she became managing editor of the Terre Haute Daily News, carrying this paper through a political campaign and supporting an independent ticket, which was elected entire. Later Mrs. Harper was an editorial writer on the Indianapolis News and made a specialty of paragraphing, her work being widely copied.

She wrote one of the monographs for Indiana and read several papers before the World's fair congress, receiving a diploma of honorable mention from the board of managers. She was the Indiana representative of the World's Fair Press league and a charter member of the Press association of Indiana; also secretary of the Woman Suffrage association.

In the autumn of 1893 Mrs. Harper went to California, where her daughter entered the Leland Stanford university, and she herself spent two years in the study of economics, constitutional history, French, English literature, etc.

Early in 1896, when Miss Anthony went to California to conduct a campaign for securing a woman suffrage amendment at her earnest solicitation, Mrs. Harper took the management of the press work for the state, when for eight months she was in constant communication with 250 papers which advocated woman's enfranchisement, and also assisted Miss Anthony in a vast amount of literary work, contributing her services gratuitously.

At the close of the campaign Mrs. Harper accepted Miss Anthony's urgent invitation to go to Rochester and write her biography. This has involved nearly two years of the most exacting labor. She read 20,000 letters, faded and crumpled with age, assorted, selected and eliminated, prepared material for three stenographers and wrote with a pen 500,000 words, besides making a vast amount of historical research. An especial genius for painstaking labor is required for this work, which Mrs. Harper possesses to a remarkable extent.

This same conscientious attention to details, which makes her a successful writer, also makes her a successful homekeeper. While much of her work has been of a public nature, she is nevertheless a great lover of home, never neglecting it for outside work.

Mrs. Harper is of New England parentage, but was born and spent most of her life in Indiana, where she entered the Indiana university at 17. At the close of her freshman year she accepted a position as principal of a high school, but resigned to be married the next year.

She has one daughter upon whom she has bestowed her loving care, her husband having died many years ago, and who has now grown to womanhood and already developed into a writer of much ability.

Since completing Miss Anthony's biography Mrs. Harper and her daughter have made their home in Washington, where she is busy with her pen. She is a close student of current events, takes a vital interest in national affairs and is a firm believer in the equality of rights for women.

Mrs. Harper has little sympathy with the argument most persistently brought forward by the opposers of woman suffrage, that it would "destroy the home." Upon this point she says: "The strongest influence that the woman can wield in the home may be counteracted by the conditions that exist outside of it. She is seriously crippled in the performance of these very duties of wife and mother if shut out from all participation in that municipal and state legislation which touches so closely the interests of the home."

ELNORA M. BABCOCK.

Rumor has it that Marie Corelli, who is regarded by many as one of the most gifted of women writers, is coming to this country

If you have any to be extracted remember you will not be hurt in the slightest. My local anaesthetic is the best that can be obtained and is not known to the other dentists in this city. Gas strictly fresh administered by an expert if you want that. If you need artificial teeth you may rest assured that the greatest care will be exercised in selecting shape and color to harmonize with the face, also to restore the features to their natural expression and fullness. This is most important.

HAVANA FROM ALL SIDES.

The City Hides Much Dirt and Squalor Under Finery and Glitter.

FEVER RIDDEN HARBOR.

Beauty of the Hills and Palms, and Interesting Architecture of the Ancient Houses.

There Has Been a Settlement on Its Site Since 1519—Is Divided Into Two Parts—Show Places of the City—The Narrow Streets and the Idle, Easy-Going Populace.

A beautiful city is Havana. Havana, Habana, La Havana, San Cristobal de la Habana, the town of St. Christopher of the Haven. Like most tropical towns and like many peoples of the tropics, it hides much dirt and squalor under much finery and glitter. One must not dwell on its incredibly foul harbor, that is poisonous the year round with fever. Looking inland, there shine tall palms and rolling hills, hung with draperies of deep and glowing green. The burning sun of Cancer is reflected from white spires and roofs.

Over romantic walls there peep fantastic and graceful trees, strange to Northern eyes. Ancient houses, with deep archways and with mysterious gratings over medieval windows, invite to speculation. Narrow streets are bright with the colored dress of country people, burned brown by a hot sun. Mules and donkeys hung with panniers, handsome with braided bridles, are tethered along the house-fronts, while their owners wait for a purchaser of the rich fruits, the tiny red bananas, huge plantains, long sugar canes and great yellow globes of oranges with which the animals are laden.

Men in white clothes, women in mantillas, pass through the streets. In the big park, the public square, are chattering merry crowds. Careless and pleasure-wooing people they seem and are, and it is hard to imagine that the idle, easy going place was taken and retaken once by the worst buccaneers who ever infested the Spanish Main.

Havana is one of the old cities of the Western World. There has been settlement on its site since 1519. It is divided into two parts—the old town and the new. The old town is inside of the ancient walls, while the new part is outside, and has many pretty suburbs. Good roads lead to it from the lovely country that rises in fine stretches behind it.

One of the show places of the city is the cathedral, which was built in 1724, and which is of interest to the whole world because it contains the tomb of Columbus. His body has been taken away, but the tomb and the memorial stone and inscriptions remain.

The history of the city is bloody. It was the bone of contention between the Spanish and the pirates throughout the sixteenth century, and its narrow streets were the scenes of dreadful deeds. The buccaneers captured it many times while their power lasted, and each time the city had to pay enormous tribute. In the fights the town was destroyed partly, and much of it has been rebuilt over and over again.

Apart from the attacks of the buccaneers, it suffered in the wars of Spain with other Powers, and in 1762 was taken by the British. The siege that preceeded its capture is memorable in British history on account of the enormous loss on the English ships, not from fighting, but from yellow fever and smallpox.

Filbert Culture in Italy.

It will surprise many to hear that in certain districts of Italy the filbert crop rivals the produce of the vine in commercial importance. These delicious nuts are grown on bushes or shrubs, which are arranged in groups that are from 15 to 25 feet apart so as to insure the access of plenty of light and air. They thrive best in deep clayey soil, and the planting takes place during November and December of slips from the mother plant. Seeds could be used but the growth would be too slow to be profitable. As it is, the shrubs do not bear fruit until the third year, any blossoms appearing before that time being removed, so that the plant shall not be impoverished. The plants are periodically pruned when any slips which have failed to sprout are removed and replaced by others; so that there are plantations which remain in full growth, although nearly a hundred years old. The filbert is not subject to the diseases common to other crops, but it suffers severely from hailstones and from cold winds.

Corporation Notice.

Sewer Assessments.

SECOND NOTICE.

The Subscriber, the Collector of Taxes of the City of Plainfield, hereby gives notice, pursuant to Section 25 of the Act of the Legislature entitled, "An Act to Provide for Drainage and Sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890, and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto, that unless the assessments hereinafter specified, with interest thereon at the rate of one per centum per month, and all costs and fees, shall be paid to the subscriber at his office, No. 109 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., within thirty days after the first publication of this (being the second) notice, the subscriber will on Thursday, the first day of June, eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, at his said office, No. 109 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., between the hours of one and five o'clock in the afternoon, that is to say at two o'clock in the afternoon of the first day, proceed to make sale of and sell at public auction the several parcels of land and real estate upon which the said assessments shall remain due and unpaid, being those hereinafter particularly described, for the lowest term of years, but in no case exceeding fifty years, for which any person will take the same and pay the amount of such assessment, with the interest thereon as aforesaid, and all costs and fees, including the expense of advertisement and sale. The assessments above referred to are the assessments made by Harry W. Marshall, Frank Bushnell and Robert A. Meeker, the Commissioners of Assessments of the City of Plainfield heretofore appointed under the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to Provide for the Appointment of Commissioners of Assessments under Chapter CXLI, P. L. 1895," approved April 25, 1896, as altered and subsequently ratified and confirmed by the Common Council, containing the assessments of damages and benefits or expenses, as the case may be, for the making and constructing of sewers and appurtenances (including house connections), under and by virtue of the Act of the Legislature, entitled, "An Act to Provide for Drainage and Sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and ordinances and other proceedings of the Common Council had under said Acts of the Legislature, said report and assessments covering the whole of said system of sewerage and appurtenances already completed (not covered by assessments heretofore made) and particularly in and through the following described streets and parts of streets to wit:

MASTER'S SALE

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

By virtue of a decree of the Court of Chancery of the State of New Jersey bearing date on the thirteenth day of May A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, in a cause pending in said Court wherein John Schroppe et al. are complainants and Martha Schuck et al. are defendants, I shall expose to sale at public vendue, to the highest bidder on between the hours of twelve o'clock noon and five o'clock in the afternoon to wit, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises situate in the City of Plainfield, County of Union and State of New Jersey, described as follows: first tract:—BEGINNING at a stone in the centre of Union street and running along the centre of said Street, South forty-six and a half degrees two chains and sixty-one and a half links to the entrance of the Union Cemetery; thence along the line of said Cemetery, North forty-three and a half degrees East, one chain and seven links to a stone in said line; thence running North forty-six and a half degrees West; two chains and fifty seven and a half links to a stone in the centre of Sixth Street; thence along the centre of said Street South forty-seven and a half degrees West, one chain and seven links to the place of Beginning. Being the same premises conveyed to John A. Schuck in his lifetime, by deed of William Birt and wife, and dated October 13, 1851, and recorded in the Register's office of the County of Essex in Book T-7 of deeds pages 496 etc.

Second tract:—BEGINNING at a stone in the centre of Sixth street and corner of John A. Schuck's lot, and running South forty-six and a half degrees East, two chains and fifty-seven and a half links to a stone in Thomas R. Stillman's line and another corner of said Schuck's lot; thence along said Stillman's line North forty-three and one half degrees East, twenty-six links; thence North forty-seven degrees East, fifty-six links to a stone, a corner of Wm. Birt's lot; thence along said Wm. Birt's line North forty-seven degrees West, two chains and fifty-five links to a stone in the centre of Sixth Street, another of Wm. Birt's corners; thence along the centre of said Sixth Street, forty-seven and a-half degrees West, eighty-two links to the place of beginning.

Containing twenty-one hundredths of an acre of land, more or less. Said Sixth street being forty-two feet in width, and was conveyed to said Schuck by deed of said Birt and wife, dated October 7, 1854, and recorded in Essex County in Book 205, pages 165, &c.

Excepting and reserving out of the last above described tract so much thereof as is covered by the following description, to wit, Beginning at a point in the centre of Sixth street as now laid out in the line of Henry Smith's land; thence running along the centre of said Sixth street South 48 degrees 25 minutes West (magnetic bearing) 42.62 feet to a point; thence South 43 degrees 11 minutes East 168.07 feet to an iron bolt in George E. Hoadley's line; thence along said Hoadley's line North 48 degrees and 37 minutes East 38.04 feet to a point being said Hoadley's corner and in Henry Smith's line; thence along said Smith's line North 41 degrees and 45 minutes West 169 feet to a point in the centre of Sixth street and place of beginning.

Being conveyed to David Seaman by said Schuck in his lifetime, by deed dated May 1, 1877, recorded in Book E-117 of deeds for Union County, pages 160, &c.

Including the estate and interests in dower of the defendants Martha Schuck, widow of John A. Schuck deceased, and in the inchoate rights of dower of Kate Schuck, wife of George A. Schuck and Jennie Schuck wife of Michael Schuck, together with all and singular the hereditaments and appurtenances in the said premises belonging or in any wise appertaining.

GOLF BALL HIT CADDIE.

Walter Stine Knocked Down by Ball Hitting Him on the Head.

Saturday afternoon on the Park Golf Club links Walter Stine, of Grandview avenue, was badly hurt with a golf ball It was his first experience as a caddie and he had been around once with Carl Brown. The lad must have stood in a wrong position, for when Mr. Brown hit his ball it struck the boy on the back of the head near the right ear.

The blow knocked him down and dazed him for a few minutes. In a short time he was able to get up and walked back to the clubhouse where he reported the accident to some of the members. An examination was made and a large lump, the size of an egg, was discovered on his head. Applications of cold water was made by Richard Cass, the expert at the club, and other members assisted in making the lad as comfortable as possible. Later Mr. Cass took the boy to his home, where proper treatment was continued.

Awarded a Southern Contract

F. A. Dunham, C. E., of Park avenue, this city, has been awarded a contract to make a preliminary survey of the roads in a Tennessee county. In speaking of Mr. Dunham The Herald, of Cleveland, Tenn., says that he "is an authority on road building and a National authority."

—This week Thursday evening the first anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. E. E. Jackson, of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, will be celebrated in an appropriate manner.

movement of reform, and I want to know who will stand by me. Already I have received words of encouragement and the assurance of help, but I want it in black and white. When you asked me to come here you surely did not expect to get a man like a reed-stick that will bend any way to suit, one without a backbone. Send me a letter and say that you are with me. A revival in this church is all that I can expect as a result, but this movement must go on. The value of the property in this town will increase in proportion to the virtue that prevails. If the present condition continues many will sneak and sell their property in a short time.

"When the trolley comes to this place the first car will probably be run Sunday, and you citizens will be invited to a free ride. I beg of you don't you go, don't lend your presence to the affair. Do you expect your property to increase in value while disreputable women are brought here to ruin our boys? I am trying to stand between our boys and girls and vouchsafe their freedom from these wicked influences, and yet there are people who look down and refuse to help in this cause of reformation."

After the service Pastor Shott met his people, and they gave him a hearty shake of the hand and a Godspeed. Many signed their name, thus saying that they will help in this reform movement.

Rev. Mr. Shott continued his hot shot at the service in the church last evening, and his remarks were aimed chiefly at his congregation. His text was taken from Esther, 4th chapter and 14th verse: "For if thou altogether hold thy peace at this time, thy and thy father's house shall be destroyed."

just preceding her baptism. Her father had met Dr. Lewis, years before, and been impressed by words of his, and Dr. Littell, having become a believer in the Seventh-Day doctrine, desired to receive baptism at his hands.

The session was closed with a prayer and conference meeting, led by Rev. Ira Lee Cottrell, "I beseech you * * * that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice," was the keynote of this service, which had as its theme "Consecration," and made a fitting close to four days of pleasant and profitable conference.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

THE HERO DEAD WERE HONORED BY VETERANS

Elaborate Memorial Day Exercises in Plainfield.

GRAVES WERE DECORATED.

PATRIOTIC SERVICES IN MUSIC HALL IN THE AFTERNOON.

Young and Old Veterans, Their Sons, and School Children Visited Cemeteries in the Morning—A Patriotic Address by Rev. George C. Wilding, of Elizabeth—Soldiers Monument Spoken of.

For the first time in two or three years the Memorial Day parade was not interfered with by rain or threatened weather. Forming on East Front street, the long lines of scared veterans, their sons, a group of young men who volunteered their services to their country during the last war and many school children went over the line of march, decorating the graves of the dead heroes as they went.

The parade started promptly at 9:30 o'clock. It formed as follows: Platoon of police, marshal and aids, Queen City band, platoon of Winfield Scott Post, school children, Sons of Veterans, school children, soldiers of the late war, school children, platoon of Winfield Scott post, school children, with another platoon of the post, armed, bringing up the rear.

I. L. McVoy was marshal of the day. The first cemetery visited was the Presbyterian cemetery in North Plainfield. This and the Evergreen cemetery was decorated by the post. Details of G. A. R. men in command of comrades visited other cemeteries in this vicinity and did likewise.

S. V Commander Andrew Cox took charge of the detail to decorate the graves in the Seventh Day and Hillside cemeteries; J. V. Commander W. W. Coriell the detail to decorate the graves in the Friends, Catholic and Scotch Plains cemeteries; Comrade Robert Milligan took charge of the detail that went to Westfield, and the graves at New Market, South Plainfield and Samptown were looked after by those living in their vicinity.

There were two graves for the soldiers of the late war to decorate, and their company was divided into two platoons, under command of Comrades Peterson and Bolsterli. Stages were provided for those who went to Scotch Plains, Hillside and Westfield.

At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon the exercises in Music Hall began, the building being crowded. The stage was decorated with stacked rifles and flowers, and in the center was the representation of a grave, the headstone marked "To Our Unknown" The members of the Grand Army and a number of clergymen occupied the stage. Commander Charles B. Stevens presided.

After patriotic selections by the Queen City Band, Rev. W. C. O'Donnell offered prayer. R. C. McGue read the G. A. R. general orders and President Lincoln's Gettysburg address, the post took part in brief opening exercises, and Chaplain John Goodwin offered prayer. A quartette from the Sons of Veterans sang "The Blue and the Gray," then the speaker of the occasion, Rev. George C. Wilding, of the St. James Methodist church, Elizabeth, was introduced.

Mr. Wilding spoke first of his personal experiences at the beginning of the war of '61. He lived just by Mason and Dixon's line, and the war feeling was very strong in the town. Many of his mates joined the army, and he himself went so far as to enlist, but was refused by the examiners on account of his small stature. His father was engaged in sanitary commission work, and the boy helped work for the soldiers whenever opportunity offered. He described vividly scenes on the drilling ground, the intense sympathy with the army which pervaded the town, and the gloom which settled over it when two of the soldier boys were left dead on the battlefield of Cedar Creek, and others came home crippled or to die of their wounds. After these personal reminiscences Mr. Wilding spoke of the good which results from the observation of Memorial Day. He said that it stirs and keeps alive the finest feelings of the heart; teaches bravery, sacrifice, gratitude and patriotism. He referred with strong commendation to the custom of keeping the holiday in the public schools, saying that love of country should be taught next to love of God.

Rev. William C. O'Donnell made a strong plea for the co-operation of the whole city in the work of raising a soldiers' monument, patriotic selections were given by the band and by a choir of young girls dressed in white

VISITED SEWAGE BEDS.

THE STATE SEWERAGE COMMISSION COMES TO PLAINFIELD.

Commissioners Went to the Beds in Company With Mayor Rockfellow and Street Commissioner Andrew J. Gavett.

Last Monday afternoon Plainfield was visited by the State Sewerage Commission, a commission that was created by an act passed last winter by the Legislature, and it has entirely to do with sewage matters. The commission is made up as follows: Wm. T. Hunt, of Newark, chairman; John Hinchcliffe, treasurer; Col. Chas. W. Fuller, Chas. F. Harrington, David L. Wallace, and Boyd McLean, secretary.

The commissioners were met at the North Avenue station by Mayor Geo. W. Rockfellow and Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett, and were taken in a wagonette about the city and to the sewage beds, the principle object of interest, for which the commission visited Plainfield. The Mayor handled the reins and escorted the visitors about in his usual affable manner, while Mr. Gavett furnished the details.

Down at the sewage farm two beds were found to be dry and they were harrowed, and two other beds were in a state of being dried. The remaining fifteen beds were completely covered with water, owing to the severe soaking they have received since last winter. As a matter of fact since last December there has been 250,000,000 gallons of water emptied on the beds, and it will take some little time for them to dry out.

An invitation was extended to the commiseion to visit the beds in July, and they signified their intention of so doing. While they were here they asked innumerable questions, and thoroughly posted themselves on everything connected with their mission. They did not express themselves in favor or against the system or as to what they saw. The commission seemed to be well pleased with the city and its surroundings.

Why Women Are Nervous.
(British Medical News.)

The frequent cases of nervous prostration or utter collapse of the nervous system under which women "go all to pieces," as the saying is, have caused much thought and investigation on the part of physicians.

Certain inorganic substances are well known to cause various forms of nervous diseases which are readily traced to the poisons producing them. Further research leads to the belief that alum is a prevailing cause of so-called nervous prostration, for the symptoms it produces on the nervous system after its absorption into the blood are very remarkable indeed. Experiments physiologically made upon animals by Orfila, Professors Hans Mayer, Paul Seim and others, show that alum frequently produces no visible symtoms for many days after its introduction into the body. Then follow loss of appetite and other alimentary disturbances, and finally a serious prostration of the whole nervous system. The most prominent physicians now believe that "nervous prostration" and many effections of the nerves from which both men and women suffer are caused by the countinued absorption of alum into the system.

It is probable that many medical men are unawares of the extent to which salts of alumina may be introduced into the body, being under the impression that the use of alum in bread is prohibited. Alum, however, is still used surreptitiously to some extent to whiten bread, and very largely in making cheap kinds of baking powder. In families where baking powder is generally used great care should be exercised to procure only those brands made from cream of tartar. The alum powders may generally be distinguished by the lower price at which they are sold.

Cutting Bicycle Tires.

Persons who own bicycles want to exercise a little more care as to where they leave their wheels in the future. Of late there has been someone about cutting tires with a penknife, and several have suffered in consequence. A few nights ago wheels owned by Warren Marsh, C. E. Hepburn and Lawyer W. S. Angleman have been subjected to treatment, while standing near their places of business. In each case a long incision was made in the tire making repair difficult and in some cases hopeless.

Consul Bowen Sails.

Herbert Wolcott Bowen, formerly consul to Barcelona, and recently appointed United States Minister to Persia, sailed today at noon by White Star Line steamer for England. Mr. Bowen formerly resided at Netherwood, and is a brother of Henry E. Bowen, of Watchung avenue.

MANY PLAYERS ON GOLF CLUB GROUNDS

Match Play at Both Hillside and Park Clubs.

CONTEST FOR CHAPMAN CUP

MISS SAIDEE HOWELL DISTINGUISHED HERSELF ON PARK LINKS.

Both Clubs Were Visited by a Large Number of People—Social Features Enjoyed in the Clubhouses—Parker Mason and C. W. Fisk Made the Best Scores for the Chapman Cup.

With every condition favorable for golf there was an unusually large crowd of players and interested spectators on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club grounds yesterday. During the day there were over one hundred players on the course, and the sight was one long to be remembered by all present. The clubhouse was a delightful rendezvous for those who did not care to go on the course, as the social features throughout the day were very pleasant.

The event of the morning was the first round play for the Chapman cup. There were eight contestants and the scores were rather close. H. R. Stockton beat Frank Talmage by 1 up and 19 holes; C W. Fisk beat Lester Glenny by 2 up; Parker W. Mason beat Augustus Fisk by 3 up and 1 to go, and Morris Dumont beat George VanBoskerck by 5 up and 4 to go.

The semi-finals were played in the afternoon when there were some surprises. C. W. Fisk beat H. R. Stockton by 3 up and 2 to go, and Parker W. Mason beat Morris Dumont by 5 up and 3 to go. Next Saturday the finals will be played between Parker W. Mason and C. W. Fisk, and a lively contest is expected.

The beautiful grounds of the Park Golf Club were sought yesterday by an unusually large number of golfers and persons interested in the game. The interest was equally divided between the morning and afternoon, when a lively contest was held for two cups, offered by the club, for the lowest net scores made by lady and gentleman members, eighteen holes, continuously, medal play.

There were very few women who entered the contest, but a large number of gentlemen. Miss Saidee Howell won the ladies' cup by a net score of 136, and Miss A. G Ball won second place with a score of 143. Through a misunderstanding Miss Daisy Elsberg only played one round, and at a late hour she decided to go the second. She did not, however, beat Miss Howell's score.

G. W. Cooley won the cup for the gentlemen with a net score of 84, but the play of Aubrey Crowe was especially noteworthy, he making a score of 86 with a handicap of 4. The detailed scores are as follows:

| | Gross. | Handicap. | Net. |
|---|---|---|---|
| G. W. Cooley | 114 | 30 | 84 |
| A. Crowe | 90 | 4 | 86 |

DEATH OF MRS. KIELY.

Wife of Police Sergeant Passed Away Last Night.

The death of Mrs. Lizzie Kiely, wife of Police Sergeant Patrick Kiely, occurred at her late residence on West Fourth street last night at midnight. She had been a sufferer for two years with an aggravated tumor near the brain, and although six operations were performed, and the best of medical care given the patient by Drs. Endicott and Boone, of this city, and Professor Powell, of New York, recovery was impossible.

Mrs. Kiely leaves two little children, a girl of eight and a boy of four years of age. Born in Queenstown, Ireland, she early in life came to this country. The funeral services will be held Friday morning from St. Mary's Roman Catholic church. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Early Excursion to Seashore.

There is considerable rivalry existing as regards the arrangements for the first excursion out of Plainfield for the seashore. The First Baptist church set their date early in July and felt sure they would be the first. Announcement is now made that the Crescent Avenue church and its missions will go June 8th, and this will undoubtedly be the first excursion out of town.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS WON

RUTGERS PREPS DEFEATED BY A SCORE OF 10 TO 5.

Principal Feature Was a Two Bagger by Claude Edwards—High School Has Won Two Out of Three Games With Preps.

In a well fought game the Plainfield High School baseball nine defeated Rutgers Preps yesterday afternoon at the Crescent Oval by a score of 10 to 5. As the High School has now won two out of the three games played with this nine Plainfield stands at the head.

The game was well played from start to finish. No brilliant plays were noticed, the only feature being a two bagger by Claude Edwards. The runs came in by ones and twos except in the fifth inning, when the Plainfield men brought in four.

The High School lined up as follows: Edwards, p.; Squires, c.; Morgan, 1st b.; Mason, 2d b.; Craig, 3d b.; Fisher, s. s.; Millar, r. f.; Droll, c.f.; Randford, l. f.

The score by innings:

| | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Rutgers | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 1 | —5 |
| High School | 2 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 4 | 0 | 2 | 1 | 0 | —10 |

This is the next to the last game that the High School will play this year Saturday afternoon they cross bats with the nine from the Bachelor's Club on the oval, and after that will disband for the summer.

Pond's Team Victorious.

The Pond's baseball club crossed bats yesterday with the Dunellen team and gave them a defeat which they will not soon forget. Dunellen had her strongest team in the field, but it did not figure in the result. Squires, Pond's pitcher, tangled them all up in their endeavor to hit him. If it had not been for a few costly runs they would not have scored at all. The game was witnessed by a crowd of rooters, who whooped 'em up for both sides. Dixon made two fine catches of his life, and Martin's wonderful catching won much applause. Dodd made a four base hit, but the umpire called it a foul. Derfinger played a strong game in right field. The teams lined up as follows:

| PONDS. | | DUNELLEN. |
|---|---|---|
| Stevens | 1b. | Mumford |
| Martin | 2b. | Fletcher |
| Derfinger | lf. | Herlick |
| Dodd | cf. | Tenney |
| Dixon | c. | Daly |
| Scott | ss. | Taylor |
| Morgan | 3b. | Smalley |
| Owens | rf. | Craig |
| Squires | p. | Cushing |

SCORE BY INNINGS.

| | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Pond | 2 | 1 | 4 | 2 | 5 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | —15 |
| Dunellen | 0 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 4 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | —5 |

Other Games.

About two hundred people witnessed the game of baseball yesterday on the Y. M. C. A. field between the Black Diamonds of Morristown and the team from St. Mary's School. The contest was lively from start to finish. The home team won the game in the eighth inning when they scored four runs, The score was 8 to 6.

A nine calling themselves the "Unknown" defeated the law students in a game yesterday morning by a score of 20 to 11. Moore, Hand, R. Schoonmaker, W. Schoonmaker, Conan, DeCamp, Drake and Rosebury, were the "Unknowns." The students who played were Nash, Henry, Clark, Quinn, Pope, Giddes, Linbarger, Baker and Denton.

At Westfield yesterday, the Orients of this city defeated the Yellow Jackets of Westfield, by a score of 17 to 11. The game was played on the South Broad street diamond. A. Conway and F. McClurg were the battery for the Orients, and Drainard and Jackson for the Westfields.

A team from Elizabeth was defeated by the Woodsides of this city on the golf grounds yesterday by a score of 12 to 10.

The Plainfield N. A. A. played a team at Somerville yesterday and won by a score of 27 to 11.

CALVARY BAPTISTS RECOGNIZED

The New Colored Society Accepted in Afro-American Association.

A number of colored pastors, representing the Afro-American Association, gathered at the Calvary Baptist church yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and officially recognized that congregation as a regular Baptist church. Rev. Wm. Hill, of Newark, was elected moderator, and Rev. J. A. Harris was chosen clerk. After the investigation into the cause of organization, doctrine and practice, it was unanimously agreed to recognize the church.

In the evening Rev. E. E Jackson, pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, by request, preached the sermon on the subject of "A Holy Ghost Succession of the Church."

Fred Bowden in the Cavalry.

Chas E. Bowden, of Spooner avenue, spent Saturday visiting his brother, Fred Bowden, formerly of this city, but now of the Second U. S Cavalry. He will leave today for Cuba. The Cavalry has been stationed at Bedloe's Island.

PASTOR SHOTT GOES ON WITH REFORM WORK

Arousing His Parishioners by Holding Cottage Meeting.

OLD TIMERS DON'T LIKE IT.

BUT THEY ARE UNABLE TO MEET THE MINISTER IN ARGUMENT.

A Few of the Old Residents Have Had Personal Interviews With the Parson, but the Latter Has Disconcerted Them by His Rapid Fire Talk About the Poor Morals That Prevail.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 31—In pursuance of his announced purpose of starting a reform movement in Scotch Plains to elevate the plane of morals prevailing there, Rev. G. M. Shott, pastor of the Baptist church, has already commenced holding cottage prayer meetings to discuss the subject of town morals, and out of which he believes the reform movement will grow.

Last night a cottage prayer meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John Robison, wife of Freeholder Robison, which was well attended by the members of the church. Similar meetings will be held frequently and in this way Rev. Mr. Shott thinks he will be able to learn how much support he may secure from the townspeople in conducting his crusade against sin and iniquity in the place.

The agitation of Rev. Mr. Shott has not proven popular in some circles, however, as some of the old-timers are considerably wrought up by the disclosures which the reverend gentleman's remarks have brought up. Some of the old residents, who are inclined to favor the hotels for the business that they bring to the town, have taken it upon themselves to call upon the minister personally and tell him that he was there to preach the gospel and not meddle in the affairs of the place as he is doing now. It is said that in such interviews the minister has argued with such force and loquacity that the protestors have been at a loss to meet the parson's arraignment of the town's morals and have been compelled to retire in embarrassment, but not a little disgruntled.

OPENING OF THE HUNTERSTON.

Major Coleman Will be Ready for Business Tomorrow.

The Hotel Hunterston, under the management of Major Coleman, long and favorably known in the hotel world, will be opened and ready for business tomorrow. Major Coleman, assisted by Mrs. Coleman, who is a thorough-going business woman, has been at the Hunterston for sometime getting things in readiness for the season, and they have made numerous changes and improvements that will add to the pleasure and convenience of those who will be their guests this summer.

The house will open with a considerable number of guests, and already Mr. Coleman has a large number of distinguished people booked for the season. By July it is expected that the hotel will be filled with guests who will bring a return of the brilliant and successful days of the hotel when first opened a number of years ago.

In the course of a couple of weeks Major Coleman will give a reception and ball to Plainfielders to introduce his management, as it is his intention to make the Hunterston a pleasant place for Plainfielders to visit at any and all times.

FOR RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY.

S. D. Drake Obtains Control of the Denton Property.

S. D. Drake this morning consummated a deal whereby he is to secure control of thirty acres of land owned by the Dentons at Netherwood Heights. The first papers have been signed for the delivery into the possession of Mr. Drake, and he will immediately commence the work of putting the property in condition for development for residential purposes.

It is his intention to have streets surveyed and building lots cut out within a few weeks. Mr. Drake purposes to boom this property for high-class residences to the best of his ability. He has not yet settled upon a name for the section.

A Surprise Party.

Friends of Mr. Dantz, of Westervelt avenue, gave him a surprise party Saturday night. Those present were Mrs. Philpott, W. and O. Philpott, Frank Dantz I. Gaston, August Windham, John LuMair, Miss Julia Philpott, Mrs. Smith, Messrs Smith, Miss Maude and Miss Bertha Philpott, Miss Jessie Totten, Miss Lu Windham and Miss Annie Windham.

MISS JACKSON'S RECITAL

YOUNG PEOPLE DO FINELY IN PHYSICAL CULTURE AND RENDERING.

The Reception Held in the Casino, Which Was Crowded With Admiring Friends—Programme Carried Out Smoothly.

The annual reception of Miss Addie Parker Jackson's classes in physical culture and rendering was given in the Casino of the Union County Country Club Monday evening and was a very enjoyable affair. The room was filled to its utmost capacity, many guests standing through the whole programme. The ushers were Miss Katherine Wolcott Dwight, Miss Saidee Mae Howell, Miss Frances Phillips and Miss Helen Phillips.

The programme opened with a paper on Physical Culture, written by Miss Jackson and read by Miss Marie Newman. The paper described the need and value of physical culture, and the best methods. After a description of the hygienic exercises favored by the Emerson system, selected members of the class, all little children, gave representative movements as an illustration. The esthetic exercises were then described, after which six older girls, gowned in white, went through a drill including many of the movements for teaching grace.

"Sackcloth and Ashes," a very bright dialogue between Miss Elizabeth Macaneny and Miss Marion Beardsley, was the next number, after which a number of individual recitations were given. These were as follows: "The Women of Mumbles Head," Miss Eila Harold Serrell; "What Happened in Church," Miss Helen Adams; "The Chase of the Ginger-bread Man," Jerry Manning; "The Fifer and Drummer of Scituate," Miss Jean Dunham; "The Duel," Chauncey Runyon; "The Scarlet Hood," Miss Lillian Maclay; "Saved Four Hundred," Miss Alice Conant

Miss Stephanie Krom then gave an amusing monologue, "A Telephone Romance," then came other recitations: "Dorothy," Miss Jennie Darrow; "A Twilight Pastoral," Miss Edith DeLong; "Riding Down," Miss Laura VanCampen; and "What Ailed the Pudding," Miss Margaret Abbott. A recitation to music, "The Quaker," by Miss Wilhelmina Patton, introducing a very graceful dance; and a costume recitation, "The Seasons," in which Miss Laura VanCampen appeared as Spring, Miss Margaret Townsend as Summer, Miss Lucie Budlong as Autumn, and Miss Norma Northrop as Winter, closed the programme. Miss Mabel Maxson acted as accompanist.

The entire programme was carried out with perfect smoothness, the young students all taking their respective parts very creditably. The physical culture drills were pretty and graceful, the young women in the dialogue and monologue acted with ease and naturalness, and all those who recited appeared thoroughly to enter into the spirit of the stories they were to tell. Some of the pupils who appeared in the recital of last year, showed a remarkable improvement since that time; and even the youngest children showed an unexpected command of voice of power of understanding.

Miss Jackson and all the performers received beautiful gifts of flowers. Hearty applause all through the evening showed the appreciation of the audience, and at the close congratulations were showered on the students and their successful teacher

NOT HELD FOR KIDNAPPING.

Elsie Tier Frightened in Court and Italian Was Dismissed.

Michael Pianzo, the Italian rag-picker who was arrested Monday noon because it was thought then that he was attempting to kidnap Elsie Tier, could not be held on that charge when tried before City Judge Runyon in the afternoon, because of insufficient evidence. Little Elsie was so frightened when facing the crowd of spectators in the court room that she could not tell what had happened.

But when he was arrested the police found a big pistol in his pocket. For carrying concealed weapons he was fined $5, which he paid. Michael stoutly denied the charge of trying to induce the little girl to follow him.

Bayonne Firemen Burned Out.

The fire department house occupied by Protective Company, No. 5, of Bayonne, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday. The members succeeded in saving a few of their belongings, however. Among them was the pedestal which Engine Company No 2, of this city, presented to the Bayonne firemen.

Memorial for Late Aaron M. Powell.

At the yearly meeting of the Friends' Society in New York last night a memorial service for the late Aaron M. Powell, of this city, who died in Philadelphia two weeks ago, was held.

BUT ONE EPISCOPAL CHURCH FOR BOROUGH

Rev. W. Montgomery Downey Will Be the Rector.

HOLY CROSS DECIDED IT.

MOTHER CHURCH ACCEPTED PROPOSITION OF CHURCH OF REDEEMER.

Rev. T. Logan Murphy Presented the Matter in a Letter Read at a Meeting of the Vestry Monday Night and Favored the Proposition Made by the Committee From the Church of the Redeemer.

A great change was effected in Episcopal church circles last Monday evening when the Church of the Holy Cross and the Church of the Redeemer were united, after being apart for a period of nearly five years. The trouble and the separation of the two churches has been one of the most notable in this State. It will be remembered that the trouble arose over difficulty that Rev. T. Logan Murphy had with Mr. Miner, who was organist of the Church of the Holy Cross, and which resulted in the latter being discharged. A division in the membership followed and thus the Church of the Redeemer was formed.

The reverses in the condition of affairs was a source of worriment to Rector Murphy, who had served the church so long and faithfully, and finally his health broke down. Then followed his resignation. At once rumors of consolidation were current, and, as a result, it was decided Monday evening at a meeting of the vestry and choir of the Church of the Holy Cross, by a vote of 16 to 5, to accept the proposition made by the Church of the Redeemer. The principal point in the proposition is that Rev. Wm. M. Downey, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, is to remain in his position in the consolidated church.

Rev. T. Logan Murphy presided at the meeting and he at Exeter immediately the following communication which is incorporated the proposition made by the Church of the Redeemer on the two cepted by the mother church and so-

Ma.

Dear Parishioners:—A matter which deeply tant matter which deeply the interests and future terms this parish is to be submitted of tonight for your rejection or approval namely:

Whether two separate parishes Church of the Holy Cross and Church of the Redeemer, shall united as one parish, under the name of the Holy Cross.

This matter is of vital importance to the Protestant Episcopal Church in this borough. For it determines whether the church shall be united or divided against itself. There can be but one proper answer to this question, namely, that the church should be united and not divided. I have always held this view and the members of this church have also.

During this month of May the rector, wardens and vestrymen of this church received a communication from the like body of the Church of the Redeemer as follows:

"At a regular meeting of the Church of the Redeemer, held on the first day of May, 1899, it was resolved that a committee of three be appointed to take such steps as they shall deem advisable to secure a conference with a similar committee from the vestry of the Church of the Holy Cross, upon the subject of a consolidation of the two churches. That such committee report to the vestry at a special meeting to be called and held after such conference. The rector appointed Messrs. Alexander, Dupee and Perkins as such committee.

A. E. Faber, Jr.,
Clerk of the Vestry."

This letter was presented at a regular meeting of our vestry, held May 4th, when a like committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Carman, Barker and Gallup, was appointed to confer with them upon the subject of consolidation of the two parishes.

A conference was held and our committee reported that the members of the Church of the Redeemer desired to consolidate their parish with this church, under the name of the Church of the Holy Cross, and that they were willing that the consolidated church should assume and pay the debts and obligations of both churches; that four out of seven vestrymen of the consolidated church should be selected from the present members of the Church of the Holy Cross, and that they would retain our present organist and sexton, provided that their rector, Rev. William M. Downey, was accepted as rector of the consolidated church, for they were legally bound to

MAY CALL FOR 20,000 MEN

President McKinley and Cabinet Discusses Philippine Situation.

DIFFERENT IDEAS HELD.

The Fact Conceded That Gen. Otis Lacks Sufficient Troops to Vanquish the Enemy.

Best Means of Placing More Soldiers in the Field to Conduct Campaign in the Philippines Discussed at Washington—Very Little More Fighting Likely to Be Done Until Close of Rainy Season.

Washington, May 31.—At yesterday's meeting of the Cabinet was discussed the best means of placing soldiers at the disposal of Major-General Otis, with which to further conduct the campaign in the Philippines and the gravity of the situation was discussed from nearly every standpoint. It is understood that before the Cabinet meeting closed it was practically decided to issue a call for 20,000 of the provisional army.

Including the 7,000 troops now on their way or under orders for service in the Philippines, General Otis will have only 25,000 regular troops under his command. With 20,000 regular troops in Cuba and Porto Rico, there will be only 17,000 regulars left in the United States. The question, therefore, hinges on whether it will be prudent to further draw on the regular forces in the United States in order to augment General Otis's forces in the Philippines.

It is conceded that General Otis lacks a sufficient number of men to completely whip the natives. It is also believed that he will be abe to do very little fighting until after the rainy season is over, and that he will be able to do little more than garrison some of the points which the forces under General MacArthur and Lawton have taken, and hold them until the rainy season is over. It is also plain that there will be more or less illness during this period of bad weather, and that when the campaign is resumed the force capable of active warfare will be materially reduced.

Those opposed to organizing a provisional army favor sending more regulars to the Philippines and also enlisting some of the peaceful Filipinos. But another element in the War Department is opposed to halfway measures in dealing with the situation. They are urging the President to issue at once a call for at least 20,000 of the provisional army, so that it may be organized, trained and sent to the Philippines in time to begin an aggressive campaign in the early autumn.

Secretary Alger has cabled to General Otis, asking him if any further reinforcements would be needed after the regulars now en route, or under orders, reached Manila.

Washington, May 31.—Secretary Long is continuing his efforts to stop friction among bureau chiefs. He has not abandoned his idea of consolidating the Bureau of Construction, Steam Engineering and Equipment, under the present Chief Constructor, Rear Admiral Hitchborn, but he has taken a step to remedy existing and patent faults without the delay which must attend the merging process he has in view and which he will submit to Congress at its next session.

He has designated a board, consisting of Assistant Secretary of Navy Allen, Rear Admiral Rodgers, who is president of the Board of Inspection; Rear Admiral O'Neil, Chief of Ordnance; Rear Admiral Hichborn, Chief Constructor; Rear Admiral Melville, Chief of the Bureau of Steam Engineering; Rear Admiral Bradford, Chief of the Bureau of Equipment; Rear Admiral Endicott, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, with Lieutenant Commander W. H. H. Southerland as recorder.

The board will revise the naval regulations, so far as they pertain to the duties of the various working bureaus, that is the bureaus which look after construction, repair and equipment, which exceeds only the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery and the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts. The board will meet again and then various bureau chiefs will submit statements of the duties each claims for his bureau.

Wheat Crop is in Danger.

Chicago, May 31.—Between crop-killing weather and Persian flies the wheat crop is in danger. The Chicago and St. Louis professionals have taken the long side. Illinois, Michigan and Kansas will not raise much more than seed, say the people next to the fields. The cream has been skimmed off Wall Street and New York is short in wheat, say the commission houses.

From 69½c. ten days ago July wheat has climbed to 77½ on the curb and the regular closing was 77⅛c. but there is steam under the market. Primary receipts are away under a year ago. The only drawback is lack of demand abroad. It is predicted that the price will go to 85c.

Must Pay 40 Cents Per Foot at Paris.

New York, May 31.—Commissioner General Peck has announced that American exhibitors at the Paris Exposition of 1900 will have to pay a charge of not more than 40 cents a square foot for the construction of permanent floors and temporary walls, as the French exposition authorities, in order to preserve harmony, have reserved to themselves the right to make such constructions.

Missing Girl's Body Found

Philadelphia, May 31.—The body of a fifteen-year-old girl was found floating in the Schuylkill River by a park guard. It is supposed to be that of Rebecca Haines, who disappeared from the home of her parents, No 4,433 Melon street, Sunday evening, after her mother had scolded her.

Trenton, N. J., May 31.—George Brooks, of Morristown, has filed papers asking to be adjudged a bankrupt. Brooks was a New York theatre manager. His liabilities are given as $34,989.21.

CZAR'S ARBITRATION PLAN

Russia Makes Proposal at the Peace Conference to Make It Obligatory.

FIVE COMMISSIONERS.

Commissions to Be Composed of Two From Each Quarreling Nation and One Independent.

Sir Julian Pauncefote About to Propose a Scheme for Permanent Court of Arbitration to Be Located Either at Berne or The Hague—Discussion on the Increase of Armaments.

The Hague, May 31.—The American arbitration plan has not yet been completed. The statement that the American, British and Italian proposals had been submitted is positively contradicted. At present the Russian project is the only one that has been submitted, together with a motion by Sir Julian Pauncefote of the British delegation, that the conference declare primarily in favor of the principle of establishing a permanent tribunal of arbitration.

Russia proposes that arbitration be made obligatory for differences concerning pecuniary damages to a State or its dependencies resulting from vital facts of negligence by another State or its dependencies; also in cases of disagreements regarding interpretations or the application of the following treaties or conventions: Postal telegraphs, railways, submarine cables, for the prevention of collisions between ships in the open sea, navigation, international floods and interoceanic canals, for he protection of literary and artistic property, for the protection of industrial property, including inventions, trademarks, commrcial marks and names; monetary, sanitary, veterinary, and phylloxera conventions, and conventions for judicial and mutual assistance in technical and not political demarcations. Each contracting party can, with others, agree for extending this list.

Concerning international commissions, each interested Government shall nominate two members, and these four shall choose the fifth member, who shall preside. If the vote is equal the two Governments shall ask a third power or a private person to select the President.

The two sections of the Disarmament Committee met to-day only for general deliberation on the limitation of the use of warlike inventions. No conclusions were reached. The questions of effectives and budgets were not considered.

The sub-committee of the Committee on Arbitration sat for three hours to-day discussing the clause of the Russian project which relates to mediation. There is every prospect of a unanimous decision in favor of the establishment of a permanent tribunal of arbitration.

The military and naval sections debated the Russian proposals to the effect that every State should be entitled to raise is armaments until they to raise its armaments until they vanced nation.

The scheme for a permament court of arbitration which Sir Julian Pauncefote is prepared to submit provides that it shall be located at either Berne, The Hague or Brussels, where the archives shall be preserved and where the headquarters for all official business shall be located.

Washington, May 31.—News came to the State Department from the American delegation at The Hague that there was every prospect of the adoption of the proposition for the neutralization of enemy's merchant vessels at sea in time of war. The United States Government is strongly in favor of this idea.

Forty-Knot Torpedo Boat.

Philadelphia, May 31.—Norman C. Cookson, the Newcastle, England, lead magnate, is in this city on a visit to Edwin S. Cramp. Mr. Cookson's purpose is to invite Mr. Cramp to be present at the trial of a torpedo boat destroyer built for him by English builders to make forty knots per hour. Ship builders are watching the progress of the construction of the new marine wonder with keenest interest, and Mr. Cookson believes that if American firms are interested results beyond presept anticipations can be secured in time.

Rich Mine in British Columbia

San Francisco, May 31.—Two prospectors returned from British Columspectors have returned from British Columbia with reports of a marvelously rich gold mine. They say that they were eighteen months without seeing any other human being, and that they encountered great perils.

Soldiers Not Favored.

Boston, May 31.—Governor Walcott has vetoed the so-called Spanish veteran's preference bill. This bill exempted veterans of the late war with Spain from civil service examinations, and gave them a preference on the public services appointment list, next after the veterans of the Civil War.

Killed Them With a Bed Slat

Chattanooga, May 31.—In the McMinnville jail over a crap game, "Sonny" Crane, a negro murderer, mortally injured William and John Brown by beating them with a bed slat. "Bill" Brown was under sentence of death for the murder of his wife, and John Brown was a life prisoner.

Old Man Leaps to Death

Philadelphia, Pa., May 31.—Rendered desperate by insomnia and a painful disease, Francis Kelly, 86 years old, of 1508 Alter Street, leaped from a second story window of his home, and sustained injuries which resulted in his death a few hours afterwards.

Bryan Speaks at Quincy, Ill.

Quincy, Ill., May 31.—William J. Bryan, speaking here on the issues of the next Presidential campaign, made a defence of Democracy and the Chicago platform, and vigorously denounced the gold standard, trusts and the policy of what he calls militarism.

The New Werner Edition of

THE ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA

IN THIRTY SUPERB OCTAVO VOLUMES.

"Give Your Boys a Chance"

were the closing words of an address by Abraham Lincoln. He realized that parents are responsible, in a degree, for what their children become. If you have children, study their individual tendencies and place the best possible educational advantages before them. A way has been provided in the New Werner Edition of the Encyclopædia Britannica, complete in thirty volumes. The best thoughts on all subjects in the history of man are treasured there. A systematic study of this work is equal to any college course. Algebra, Anatomy, Architecture, Building, Electricity, Political Economy, are a few of its articles which have been adopted by Yale, Harvard and Columbia colleges. This shows in what esteem it is held by the highest educators in the land. Just now you can secure the

and the balance in small monthly payments. The entire Thirty Volumes with a Guide and an elegant Oak Book Case, will be delivered when the first payment is made.

An elderly lady living at Fordham Heights, a part of New York City, and who was known to be a warm advocate of Ripans Tabules for any case of liver trouble or indigestion, said to a reporter who visited her for the purpose of learning the particulars of her case: "I had always employed a physician and did so on the last occasion I had for one, but at that time obtained no beneficial results. I had never had any faith in patent medicines, but having seen Ripans Tabules recommended very highly in the New York Herald, I concluded to give them a trial, and I found they were just what my case demanded. I have never employed a physician since, and that means a saving of $3 a call. A dollar's worth of lasts me a month, and I would not be without them now if it were my last dollar." At the time of this interview there were present two daughters who specially objected to their mother giving a testimonial which should parade her name in the newspapers, but to this the elder lady argued: "There may be other cases just like mine, and I am sure I take great pleasure in recommending the tabules to any one affected as I was. If the telling about my case in the papers enables some other person similarly affected to be as greatly benefited as I have been, I see no objection." And the daughters, familiar with her case and knowing how earnestly she felt about the benefit she had received from Ripans Tabules, decided that their mother was quite right.

CUBAN ROLLS PADDED.

Native Officers Hoped to Reap Gains on Names of Dead

Havana, May 31.—Lieutenant Colonel George M. Randall accompanied by Paymaster Moses, his clerks, a doctor and a military escort, with nearly $200,000, went by special train to Santiago de las Vegas to begin payment of Cubans. The Alcalde opened the Council Chamber for the purpose of distribution. Many of the applicants, of whom there was a large number, were without guns. It was observed that a large proportion were from Marianao, from which point they were prevented from coming yesterday to Havana. Not a single officer come forward to identify any applicant, a fact causing considerable annoyance and increasing the delay.

That the rolls are padded badly becomes more and more evident each day.

FIRST FILIPINO CITIZEN.

Harry Philips, a Native of Pasig, Naturalized at Taunton, Mass.

Taunton, Mass., May 31.—Harry T. Philips has been admitted to citizenship in the United States and is probably the only Filipino in the world now enjoying all the rights and privileges of an American citizen. In his own country, Harry T. Phillips was known as Henrique Philipi. He was born in the town of Pasig. At the age of 14, he ran away from his native town, which is about fourteen miles from Manila, and shipped on board a vessel as cabin boy.

To Intercede for Stout.

Easton, Pa., May 31.—Notice has been served by Parke F. Davis, of this city, and Calvin F. Smith, of Nazareth, counsel for Llewellyn F. Stout, now under sentence of death for the murder of Harvey H. Wurster, the Bingen telegraph operator, that application will be made to the Board of Pardons at Harrisburg on Wednesday, June 21, 1899, for the commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment.

The application to have the death sentence commuted is based on these three grounds: Youth, mental temperament and reasonable doubt as to guilt of murder in the first degree.

America in Bid for Belgians.

Washington, May 31.—The United States Embassy at Brussels has reported to the State Department that the Belgian Government has by decree issued on the 29th instant rescinded the interdiction upon the importation of American cattle. The decree takes effect at once. The State Department is very proud of its achievement in securing the reopening of the Belgian markets to American cattle after having been closed since 1894.

Spain Will Claim Her Dead

Washington, May 31.—The State Department has been informed that the Duke d'Arcos, the new Spanish minister soon to arrive, will ask permission of the United States for Spain to remove the bodies of the Spanish sailors at the Portsmouth Navy Yard for reburial in Spain. It is understood that Admiral Cervera will come to the United States to superintend in person the removal of the bodies of his crew.

New Craft for the Navy.

Bath, Me., May 31.—The United States torpedo boat destroyer Dahlgren has been floated off the ways at the Bath Iron Works. As soon as she was fairly afloat Mrs. John Vinton Dahlgren, who is the wife of the late Admiral Dahlgren's youngest son, broke a bottle of champagne over the decorated bow, and pronounced the christening words.

Hamlet Nearly Destroyed by Wind.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 31.—British Hollow, a hamlet near Potosi, was nearly destroyed by the hail and several small buildings were blown down and other damage done. LaCrosse reports that in many places crops were actually washed from the ground, and the railroads are heavy sufferers from washouts.

Mysterious Attempt at Suicide.

Oil City, Pa., May 31.—A woman apparently 25 years old, was discovered in the parlors of a hotel here, in a dying condition from the effects of a dose of carbolic acid, supposed to have been taken with suicidal intentions. A man who accompanied the woman to the hotel will be held pending an investigation.

Charged With Felonious Assault.

New York, May 31.—William H. Holland, of Albany, N. Y., the bookmaker who on April 2 last shot Samuel Walter, the ticket seller for Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show in a saloon in this city and who escaped after the shooting, has been arrested here and held in $500 bail for examination on a charge of felonious assault.

Amphitrite Sprung A Leak.

Norfolk, Va., May 31.—The monitor Amphitrite was to have sailed for Tompkinsville, but failed to get away. The officers say they do not know when they will leave. The crew say that the ship on the way up from Port Royal sprang aleak and the pumps had to be kept constantly at work. They also say there are other defects.

A Grand Stand Falls.

Chicago, May 31.—The grand stand in Garfield Park at the end of the road race course collapsed. Many persons were injured. The stand fell shortly before the winner appeared at the finish, precipitating nearly 100 people to the ground. No one was seriously hurt, however, and order was quickly restored.

Ask G. A. R. to Join Them.

Dallas, Tex., May 31.—Camp Sterling Price, United Confederate Veterans resolutions inviting Posts John A. Dix and George H. Thimas of the Grand Army of the Republic of this city and the Woman's Relief Corps of these posts to join them in decoration ceremonies on June 3.

Thrown From Horse During Storm.

Dubois, Pa., May 31.—Superintendent Rumsey, of the Shawmut Mining Company, was dangerously and probably fatally injured at Cartwright, Elk County, by being thrown from his horse that became frightened at the terrific storm that passed over that section.

CAPT. TILLY'S BODY FOUND

General Smith and His Rescuing Party Take It From the River.

AMBUSHED BY NATIVES.

Body of Unfortunate Soldier Bears Many Marks of Violence by His Slayers.

General Smith and His Expedition to Remain at Escolante for the Present—Tilly's Remains Buried at Iloilo—Deceased's Head Shockingly Mutilated by Aguinaldo's Followers.

Manila, May 31.—The body of Captain George H. Tilly, of the Signal Corps, who was attacked by threacherous natives upon landing from the cable ship Recorder at Escalante, Island of Negros, has been found in the river near the place where the attack was made.

The discovery of the body was made by General Smith's expedition from Iloilo.

Capt. Tilly's body bore many evidences of violence and savagery, and the head in particular, was frightfully mutilated. The remains were buried at Iloilo by General Smith and his expedition. Tilly's father, who lives at Jamaica, Long Island has been informed by the Government of the finding of his son's body.

CAPTAIN TILLY.

Captain Tilly was on board a cable ship which was repairing the cable near Escalante when a white flag was discovered flying ashore. Captain Tilly with three natives as a boat's crew, went ashore, accompanied by some workmen.

When they got ashore they were fired upon by natives concealed near the beach. Captain Tilly and his companions rushed toward the water, but did not reach the cable ship.

The vessel escaped to Iloilo, but Captain Tilly and the workmen were missing. General Smith was immediately notified and sailed for Escalante with a force of men to rescue Tilly and his companions if alive.

Manila, May 31.—Memorial Day was celebrated at Battery Knoll, where Scott's guns were planted against the Filipino trenches in the first day's fighting at Manila. Nearly 300 soldiers lie buried there on a bleak mound, surrounded by rice fields, rough boards marking the graves, which are ranged in five unbroken rows. Beyond these are Spanish block houses and bamboo hedges, which were torn by shells from the American guns.

The few soldiers who could be spared from the trenches came to Battery Knoll, dusty and bronzed, bearing flowers with which to strew their comrades' graves. A silk flag was placed over each mound. The day was as mild as a New England spring day. Just before sunset a few hundred Americans gathered in a circle around Battery Knoll in blue and brown uniforms. Among the soldiers were groups of American women, while brown-faced natives peered curiously at the unwonted spectacle from points near by.

Aguinaldo is apparently unable to reorganize the insurrection in Cavite province, under the direction of General Trias, who is said to have offered recently to surrender to the Americans if he received the promise of a pardon.

The Filipinos under Trias are wholly demoralized and are suffering greatly from scarcity of food.

There have been practically no hostilities for several days.

Two small gunboats have sailed for Cebu, where it is believed they will have a strong influence in keeping order.

London, May 31.—A special despatch from Labuan announces that severe fighting is reported between Americans and Filipinos on the island of Mindanao. The principal city on the island, Zamboango, has been bombarded and burned and is in ruins. The same despatch reports trouble in Sulu. The Americans have blockaded the port. A British steamer was denied admission and was escorted seaward by the United States gunboat Castine.

Manila, May 31.—The third engineer, another officer and a boat's crew from the hospital ship Relief, while sailing in a catboat off Parananque, were captured by insurgents, who put off from the shore in boats.

Transport Logan at New York.

New York, May 31.—The United States transport Logan, from Gibara, Cuba, has arrived here. The Second Volunteer Infantry (immunes) were on board. They were landed at Jersey City to be transferred to Camp Meade, near Philadelphia.

More Money for Ships.

Bremen, May 31.—At an extraordinary meeting of the stockholders of the North German Llyod Steamship Company held here, it was decided to increase the capital from $15,000,000 marks to $20,000,000.

The housewife keeps, with greatest care,
Her dainty glass and linen fair,
Her china and her tableware,
As sweet as she is able;
And Ivory Soap's her greatest aid,
Because 'tis pure and cleanly made
Of things which none need be afraid
To have upon the table.

IVORY SOAP IS MADE OF SWEET CLEAN MATERIALS.

READY TO SHOOT.

Gen'l Delgado Opposed to Cuban Soldiers Drawing Uncle Sam's Money.

Havana, May 31.—General Pedro Delgado, commanding the Cuban forces around Guanajay, called his men together, told them they were disbanded and ordered them to take their arms and go home. Of the 200 some thirty who were mounted on ponies said they would ride to Havana and get their money. Thereupon Delgado, who was formerly a notorious bandit, called upon the rest to draw up in line and to shoot any man who took the road to Havana. The thirty mounted men gloomily dispersed. They will have an opportunity to receive their shares later.

The disbanding of the troops continues. Twelve hundred men, under command of General Jacinto Hernandez, who were encamped at San Jose de las Lajas, about twenty-one miles from Havana, have been mustered out.

THE LATEST NEWS.

Wandering in Boonton

Newark, N. J., May 31.—Light has been thrown on the mystery of the disappearance of Alvin Albrecht, a saloon-keeper of No. 88 Orange street. He left his home on last Tuesday to drive to Stanhope and failed to arrive there.

Otto Miller, an employe of the Fred Lesser Company of No. 54 Belmont avenue, this city has informed the police that on Sunday he went to Boonton on business and saw Albrecht sitting on the station platform with blood on his face and chest and head in his hands. He talked queerly and seemed to be demented. About all that could be drawn from him was that he had been "struck by a train full of politicians."

Inquiry developed that he had been struck by a train and that badly bruised and with two ribs broken, he got up and was wandering aimlessly.

Hooted the Seventh Regiment.

New York, May 31.—The Seventh Regiment was subjected to the very greatest humiliation by the crowds that lined Fifth avenue as it passed in the parade. Jeers, cat calls and hisses greeted it as it passed the main reviewing stand at the Worth monument at Twenty-fourth street. Mayor Van Wyck and General Miles were among those on the stand, but their presence did not restrain even those on the stand beside them from hissing the regiment. The cause for the unfriendly demonstration toward the Seventh Regiment was that its members refused to go to the front when the call to arms was made in the war with Spain.

Says Dreyfus is Innocent

Paris, May 31.—Amid cries of "bravo," which President Mazeau did not attempt to suppress, M. Ballot-Beaupre declared solemnly and impressively his conviction that the authorship of the famous or infamous document which, in the hands of his enemies, sent Capt. Alfred Dreyfus to Devil's Island, did not belong to the prisoner, but to Esterhazy, who had already admitted that he manufactured it in obedience to orders from his military chiefs.

Roosevelt and Miles See the Parade.

New York, May 31.—Memorial Day was observed here with somewhat more than the usual amount of interest, owing to the fact that Gov. Roosevelt and Gen. Miles were here to review the mammoth parade participated in by the survivors of two wars, societies and citizens in general. The procession was greeted with hearty cheers all along the line of march. There were over 25,000 people in line and everything passed off pleasantly. No accidents of a serious nature were reported.

Cursed Spaniards and Fainted

New Brunswick, N. J., May 31.—"Curse those Spaniards!" was the dramatic exclamation of the grandmother of one of the Maine victims as she drew the cord that unveiled a monument here. Then, completely overcome by her feelings, she fell fainting into the arms of the bystanders.

Railroad Train Hits a Street Car.

Seattle, Wash., May 31.—A Northern Pacific passenger train struck a Grant street car, killing one passenger on the street car, seriously wounding two, and slightly injuring twelve others. Nearly all of the street car passengers were thrown over the trestle into the bay, where the water is fifteen feet deep, but were recued from drowning by workmen at the Union Iron Works. The man killed was E. Broad of South Seattle. The motorman attributes the accident to the brakes, which did not act promptly at a point where the cars usually come to a full stop.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

Norristown, Pa., May 31.—An attempt was made to wreck a passenger train on the Chester Valley branch of the Reading Railroad at Exton station, near Centreville. Fortunately the train was not running fast when the engineer saw the obstructions on the tracks ahead. They consisted of two pieces of iron, one, a portion of a 12-inch water pipe about a foot long, and the other angular in shape and of wrought iron. They were wedged between the track at a switch.

Famine in Pig Iron.

Cleveland, May 31.—A famine of pig iron is threatened and the manufacturers may feel the effects of it within a few days if the iron brokers can be believed. The surplus supply of pig is now but three days ahead of the consumption, and within a week, it is predicted that the surplus will be wiped out and the consumption will exceed the supply. The cause is the abnormal increase in the consumption, which is 25 per cent. greater than one year ago.

Crazed By Exeter Wreck.

Reading, Pa., May 31.—As the result of the Exeter wreck Frederick Homerich, a Phildadelphia & Reading fireman, has become insane. He was removed to the Almshouse. He was at the scene of the wreck on the night of its occurrence and helped to remove the dead and dying. He has talked much of the affair ever since, and it was finally necessary to remove him for fear he would do violence to somebody.

To Corner Automobiles.

New York, May 31.—It is reported that a combination with a capital of $200,000,000 is forming to control the automobile transit of Greater New York. The members of the combination are the General Carriage Company, of New York and New Jersey, and the New York Auto-Truck Company. The carriage company in New York is capitalized at $100,000 and in New Jersey for $20,000,000.

An Unusual Ceremony.

Chicago, May 31.—An unique ceremony that marked the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Amadee Bell and wife, of Troy, N. Y. They were remarried in Notre Dame Church here in the presence of thirty descendants. Their youngest daughter, Mrs. Charles Choate, of Troy, sang "Ave Maria." Their descendants are: Ten children, thirty-one grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

France Honors Harrison.

Paris, May 31.—At the Parliamentary banquet given by President Emile Loubet and at the reception which followed the center of attraction was Benjamin Harrison, legal representative of Venezuela at the forthcoming sessions of the Venezuela boundry commission in this city, and Mrs. Harrison.

Charters Issued.

Harrisburg, May 31.—Charters have been issued by the State Department to the Consumers' Brewing Company of Erie, with a capital of $150,000, and the Knickerbocker Lime Company, Philadelphia, capitalized at $300,000.

Railway Company's Increase of Capital.

Harrisburg, May 31.—The Pittsburg, Bessemer & Lake Erie Railway Company, of Pittsburg, has filed a notice in the State Department of an increase of from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 in its capital stock.

Dreyfus Case Causes Suicide

Brussels, May 31.—Le Caplain, a retired French army officer committed suicide here on hearing that a revision of the Dreyfus case was inevitable.

The Newark Advertiser argues that if the able-bodied male population of the State and county prisons were turned into the salt meadows adjoining cities and towns in Northern New Jersey, it would be practicable to reclaim the whole of this waste land in a few years, and there would soon be hundreds of factories erected on them to give employment to an army of working people. With proper management the State could probably realize a handsome profit by condemning the land at its present value and selling it when improved, and the labor of prisoners thus employed would not compete with that of free citizens. The obstacle to the improvement of the meadows by paid labor is the cost of the labor, so unless prisoners are employed, it is argued, nothing can be done. The subject is one which deserves consideration.

It is a matter for congratulation in Episcopal church circles in this city that members of the Church of the Holy Cross and the Church of the Redeemer have arrived at an understanding and will come together once again in unity and consolidation. It is an evident fact that the community from which the two churches have been drawing their support is not large enough to afford the two societies the prosperity that a vigorous, successful church organization should have. The fact that the two congregations will unite in the near future, as they were before the unfortunate circumstances arose to divide them and cause the new church to appear, is a propitious prospect for all concerned.

The Trenton True American takes the following view of the question of the Martin Act being constitutional: "The Fidelity Trust Company of Newark has declined to guarantee the title obtained through sales under the Martin Act. There is pending in the State courts a suit which involves the constitutionality of the act under which these sales have been held, and a decision is not expected for some months, with the possibility of its being adverse to the law. Many a community has been looking to the Martin Act to cure wilful discrepancies in the taxation of property and in the sale of land for taxes, and if that need shall be broken there will be no end of trouble in collecting the back taxes."

In an interview yesterday United States Senator John Kean declared that New Jersey positively will send to the next National Republican Convention a delegation which will be solid for the renomination of McKinley and Hobart.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

An unusual sight was witnessed on West Front street in front of the Stillman building yesterday afternoon when a swarm of honey bees, numbering several thousand, commenced to swarm on one of the wire support for the east bound trolley feeder over the street railway. The bees made their appearance on the scene at 12:45 and in less than fifteen minutes there was a bunch of them as big as a peck measure hanging from the wires. Every time a trolley car came along a section of them was knocked into the roadway, only to rise in a few seconds and strive to get into the swarming bunch on the trolley wire above. For a radious of twenty-five feet the air was completely filled with the honey-makers, and pedestrians, bicycle riders and passengers on trolley cars, when they passed the point, thought that the street had been turned into apiary. A large crowd of boys and men were attracted to the spot to watch the curious sight, and now and then someone more venturesome than the rest would go into the street on a tour of inspection, only to be driven back in double quick time when the bees commenced to buzz around their faces. Finally, an old man came along with a bag rigged upon a long pole and after much trouble succeeded in capturing the swarm and carrying them off to be placed in a hive for a summer's work.

THE WAYWARD PUPPIES.

Our dog Bess had three little pups,
And nice little doggies were they;
But the worst of it was they would not mind,
And were always running away.

Sport was the best one of the three,
Although he was mischievous, too.
Next came Speck, the little brown one;
Then came Master Lew.

A sad accident happened the other day
To one of these puppies so dear.
Their mamma she told them all to stay home,
But they wandered 'way down to the pier.

When night came on but two came back.
Where could dear Sport be?
"I know where he is," said little brown Speck,
"He fell right into the sea."

Poor Mamma Bess, she cried for Sport,
And often went to the pier;
And now, my dear friends, all of this came
From not minding their parent dear.

PRECOUS STONES.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 31.—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tomlinson, of Plainfield, have been visiting with Mrs. Tomlinson's mother, Mrs. Ann Dunham.

The choir of Holy Cross church, North Plainfield, will sing at a special musical service to be held in Holy Innocents' church a week from Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Wilcox has gone to Stroudsburg, where she is visiting Mrs. Ace. It is likely that she will spend the summer there.

Mr. Rarick, who has been visiting his son, Maurice Rarick, has returned to his home in Chester.

The Dunellen base ball club expect to play a game with the Scotch Plains nine Saturday.

Miss Jennie Smith, of Front street, has returned from a visit with relatives in Somerville.

Miss Ethel Fenner of Pluckamin, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Swackhamer.

Rev. A. I. Martine, who fell and hurt his side a week ago, is able to sit up a little.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Frederick spent yesterday with relatives in Somerville.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bodine have returned from a visit with out-of-town friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Fetter, of Hopewell, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Taylor have taken up their residence in Plainfield.

Mr. Hooker, of Jersey City, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Harnard.

Miss Clara Staats, of Somerville, has been visiting Mrs. S. D. Stryker.

J. G. Taylor has returned from a visit with Somerville relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Roe, of New York, are guests of Mrs. Nancy Thomas.

NEW MARKET

(Special Correspondence to The Daily Press.)

New Market, May 31.—At the annual meeting of the Father Light Missionary Circle of the Baptist church, held Saturday, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. George Harris; vice-president, Mrs. Charles Dayton; secretary, Miss Minnie VanMiddlesworth, and treasurer, Miss Cora Dayton.

W. B. Smith has begun the erection of a new house. It is expected that it will be ready for occupancy by August 1st.

Miss Elizabeth Barnet, of Bayonne, spent yesterday with friends in town.

Miss Florence Tappen, of Metuchen, is visiting friends in town.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 31.—Scotch Plains presented a far different picture to a visitor Decoration Day morning than what they would expect to find after the notoriety the town has gained since Dr. Shett began his crusade against the sin which is said to be so rampant here. Instead of finding a "new Bowery" the visitor found a beautiful inland village whose inhabitants were in the midst of a patriotic event, the unfurling of a new flag which had been presented to the town by Twilight Council, No. 7, Jr. O. U. A. M. The other organizations of the town were asked to lend their aid, and when the line of march was formed on Park avenue about 11 o'clock, it was found that the number in line far exceeded the hopes of the committee. The line of march was up Front street to Terrill road, where a delegation from Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., of Plainfield, were met, together with several veterans of the Spanish-American War and the Queen City Band. After a short rest the line was again formed and marched back to the liberty pole. The flag was run up the ropes and when at half mast the string was pulled and the emblem was swung to the breeze, scattering miniature flags by the score among the crowd. Rev. Mr. Woodruff, of the Methodist church, made a short but patriotic presentation speech. Rev. Dr. Shott, in accepting the flag, said every one present does not know what the word Americanism means. It means not only love and respect for the beautiful emblem which floats so proudly above us, but love for the Bible, on whose foundation the glory of this country rests; love for the home and love of purity in our women. After music by the band the line of march was again taken up and the graves of the fallen were strewn with flowers. The services in the cemetery were in charge of the detail from the G. A. R. and were very impressive.

Herbert Mooney met with a bad wheeling accident while wheeling over to the Milburn race yesterday morning. He and his brother, Edmund, were taking turns setting pace and in some way Herbert's front wheel struck the wheel ahead and he was thrown over the handle bars and landed on his face on the hard roadbed. A large gash was cut in his face besides a number of other bruises. He mounted his wheel again and rode to Springfield where he received medical attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flannery, of New York, together with Mr. Flannery's father, John E. Flannery, of Plainfield, spent Decoration Day with Mr. and Mrs. George H. Johnston.

Irving Quereau, of New York, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Randolph yesterday.

Richard Robison entertained his friend, Clarence Schober, of Brooklyn, yesterday.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 31.—The veterans of the Civil War living in Westfield held interesting exercises in the Westfield Club hall yesterday afternoon. Rev. George A. Francis, pastor of the Baptist church, and Rev. Charles Fiske, rector of St. Paul's church, delivered very enjoyable addresses, Mrs. Hart sang several solos as did Robert Harden, and Mr. Walcott rendered two very pleasing violin solos.

Herman Schurr, a barber employed by Fred Henricke, was arrested by Officer John M. C. Marsh last evening on a warrant charging him with stealing goods from the hardware store of John Darsh. In his bed were found two axes which were taken from the Darsh store. A Justice of the Peace held him this morning for the grand jury.

Mr. and Mrs. Pinto, Mr. and Mrs. Cruikshank and Miss Helen Cruikshank, of Plainfield, were registered last week at the Somerset Inn, Bernardsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Dobbins and daughter Elsie, of Caldwell, Essex county, spent Sunday and Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, of Elmwood place.

Rev. David Blow and Miss Ella Johnson, of this city, will be united in marriage Thursday night at the home of the bride, 345 Cottage place. Justice of the Peace Mosher will perform the ceremony.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store. Only 50 cents and $1.00, every bottle guaranteed.

IT MERITS ATTENTION.

A NEW PREPARATION WHICH CURES DYSPEPSIA AND STOMACH TROUBLE.

Remarkable Curative Properties.

A new remedy, which may revolutionize the treatment of stomach troubles, has recently been placed before the public and bears the endorsement of many leading physicians and scientific men.

The remedy is not a wonderful secret discovery, nor a patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except indigestion and stomach troubles, with which nine-tenths of our nation are afflicted.

The remedy is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges containing vegetable and fruit essences, pure aseptic pepsin (free from animal impurities) bismuth and Golden Seal; they are sold by druggists generally under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Many interesting experiments made with these tablets show that they possess remarkable digestive power, one grain of the active principle being sufficient to thoroughly digest 3,000 times its own weight of lean meat, eggs, oatmeal or similar wholesome foods; these tablets do not act on the bowels like after-dinner pills, nor in fact do they act upon any particular organ, but the manner in which they cure all forms of indigestion is this: They act entirely upon the food eaten, digesting it completely, nourishing every tissue and nerve in the body; they simply perform the work of digestion, thus giving the weak stomach rest and assistance sufficient to enable it to recover its normal strength. This is the reason so many pretended cures have signally failed; they do not furnish the digestive power which is the one thing above all others that the stomach of the dyspeptic lacks, and unless that lack is supplied, it is waste of time to attempt to restore the enfeebled stomach by means of "tonics," "stomach bitters" and "pills" no permanent good can result from their use.

If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover; this is the secret and the whole secret of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a year ago and now the most popular, widely used dyspepsia remedy, everywhere a success secured almost entirely on its merits, as it has never been extensively advertised.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are now sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cts. per package; if he hasn't them in stock he will order them for you from his wholesale house. They are made by the E. A. Stuart Co., chemists, Marshall, Mich., who will be pleased to send information and testimonials from every state in the union.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Ramsey Blair and family, of East Second street, leave for Belmar tomorrow, where they will spend the summer.

Walter Probasco, of the University of Pennsylvania, accompanied by a friend, spent Sunday at the home of his father, Dr. J. B. Probasco, of East Front street.

—J. B. Lane, A. M. and B. D. C., of Dunellen, will lead the union gospel service in the W. C. T. U. room tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

NATURAL GAS GIVING OUT.

Supply That Run Factories and Warmed Indiana Homes Decreasing.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—Recent events have clearly demonstrated that the supply of natural gas, which has long been a source of great wealth and a means of bringing hundreds of factories to Indiana, is slowly but steadily giving out.

Each succeeding winter has brought increased suffering to those who have depended on natural gas for heat, and a climax is being reached in some parts of the gas belt by the refusal of gas companies to make any more connections.

Factories which had built up great industries in the Keystone State left it when gas was discovered in Indiana, and the effect of the location of factories in the gas belt in Indiana is told by the many thriving cities that have sprung up from county seat towns, which before the gas boom were hardly noticed.

Dewey's Health Improved.

Hong Kong, May 31.—Since his arrival here on May 23, on board his flagship, the United States cruiser Olympia, Admiral Dewey has improved in health, but he still refuses all invitations of a social nature. The Admiral has also relinquished all official duty on board the Olympia.

The date of his departure for home is still uncertain, his intention being to remain here until he has thoroughly recuperated. The air of the high ground here is much cooler than at any place between Hong Kong and the Mediterranean Sea.

The programme for the Olympia's voyage to the United States has not been definitely decided upon. It has been determined, however, to stop at the Piraeus, from which port Admiral Dewey will go to Athens to pay his respects to King George of Greece. The Olympia is being painted white, instead of the dark slate color which was applied at the breaking out of the war.

ELEGANT GOWNS.

Elaborate Costumes For Fashionable Occasions.

Except where tailor made costumes are concerned there is no such thing as simplicity. Ruffles, tucks, plaitings, cording, folds, lace, embroidery, passementerie, applications, buttons, buckles and clasps are all utilized as trimming, with draperies, rosettes, bows and bands of ribbons and velvet. Then there are spangled tulles and gauzes and fringe, both silk and beaded.

SATIN TOILET.

Exquisite evening gowns are made of lace and guipure shaped to the figure without a seam and flaring out at the foot of the skirt with the circular flounce effect. These are worn over satin, usually white, cream or ecru, and are very rich.

Ball gowns are divided into two classes—those for the dancers and those for the guests who do not dance. The former are of the most vaporous materials—spangled and embroidered tulle and gauze, broche mousselines de soie, light piece lace and the whole range of crepes de chine and thin liberty silks. The second division of costumes is richer and heavier in material and trimming, with longer trains and less diaphanous decorations.

The gown illustrated is of black satin, the princess redingote opening over a skirt of orange silk with black lace embroidered with jet. The redingote is also heavily embroidered with jet, as are the large revers of orange silk, which join at the back to form a deep point. A ruffle of black mousseline de soie forms epaulets and outlines this point, diminishing to nothing at the waist. The collar is of orange silk, the capote also, the trimming of the capote consisting of black plumes and a paste buckle. The cravat is of white lace, forming a jabot.

FASHION HINTS.

Tailor Made Gowns and Other Costumes of the Day.

The present tailor made costume is practically an adaptation of the riding habit. The skirt has no plaits whatever at the back and but a single seam and fastens at the front or side, or if it has two slight plaits behind there is no placket hole there. Only a graceful figure, neither very thin nor decidedly stout, can carry such a skirt to advantage, for all defects as well as all beauties are brought into prominence by it.

SILK CAPE.

The new materials are of soft and brilliant coloring, light and of medium depth of tone as a rule. A number of blues are seen, blue being an extremely fashionable color this season. There are several bluet blues, French blue, pastel blue and turquoise, although the last named enjoys less favor than the stronger, franker shades. Tobacco and wallflower browns, with suede, are well worn, while mastic, ecru, the palest possible gray and other undefined tints just off white are of extreme elegance, comprising many exquisite toilets and also attractive separate silk and satin waists. Cyclamen, light violet and pinkish mauve are delicate and lovely colors, and pale yellow and green are also seen, especially in lawns, crapes and for millinery purposes.

Fine checks and dots are used for walking gowns, while plaids appear for trimmings and for the linings of capes and wraps.

The cape shown is of the 1840 style, in mauve grosgrain, having three circular flounces of black chantilly over white satin. The top flounce is beaded by a triple ruche of mauve silk. The flaring collar is lined with a large ruche of white satin bordered with mauve, and there is a cravat of white mousseline de soie trimmed with lace.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Bergzabern. Der Sohn eines hiesigen Metzgermeisters hat einen Lehrjungen, mit dem er auf dem Felde beschäftigt war, mit einem Peitschenhieb so auf den Kopf geschlagen, daß der Junge todt auf dem Platze blieb.

Frankenthal. Die hiesige Strafkammer verurtheilte den Rechtsanwalt Horn von Dürkheim wegen mehrfacher Unterschlagung von Prozeßgeldern und Betrugs zu 27 Monaten Gefängniß und drei Jahren Ehrverlust.

Ludwigshafen. Im Luitpoldhafen brach Nachmittags auf einem holländischen Schiffe, das große Quantitäten Schwefel in Säcken als Fracht führte, Feuer aus, dem erst nach mehreren Stunden durch Aufschütten von Kies und theilweise Unterwassersetzung des Schiffes Einhalt geboten werden konnte. Der Schaden ist sehr bedeutend und wird auf über 30,000 Mark geschätzt.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Noch in diesem Sommer sollen nach Ausführung der erforderlichen Leitungen sämmtliche württembergischen Telephonanstalten in den Verkehr mit ganz Baden einbezogen und einzelne Anstalten auch zum Verkehr mit Straßburg (Elsaß) über Karlsruhe zugelassen werden.—Dieser Tage wurde im Hauptpostamt ein Postbeutel entwendet; der Beutel wurde mit den einfachen Briefen in einer nahen Straße gefunden, dagegen fehlten die eingeschriebenen Briefe. Diese fanden sich später in einem Briefkasten wieder, und zwar eröffnet und ihres Baarinhalts beraubt.

Oehlingen. In der hiesigen Ulrichskapelle wurde eingebrochen und das Ciborium gestohlen. Die Hostien lagen noch im Tabernakel; die beiden Opferstöcke wurden ihres Inhalts beraubt. Der Dieb, der wegen Münzverbrechens steckbrieflich verfolgte Ignaz Geiger von Ohmenheim, wurde verhaftet und der entwendete Kelch im Werthe von 120 Mark in Nördlingen beigebracht.

Gerabronn. Für die Bahn Blaufelden-Gerabronn-Langenburg sind nunmehr die Grunderwerbungen vollzogen. Sie ergaben die Summe von 120,000 Mark, die von den Betheiligten übernommen wurden. Die Amtskörperschaft leistet noch einen Baukostenbeitrag von 35,000 Mark und liefert für alle Zeiten das zur Lokomotivspeisung in Langenburg nöthige Wasser. Die Bahn wird 12 Kilometer lang.

Großfüßen. Der 60jährige Gemeinderath Johann Fischer von hier, welcher wegen Majestätsbeleidigung in Anklagezustand versetzt worden war, wurde freigesprochen.

Hall. In den letzten Tagen haben 22 Diakonissinnen das hiesige Diakonissenhaus verlassen. Dieser „Strike" wird mit dem Konkurs des Pfarrers Faulhaber in Zusammenhang gebracht. Damen aus der Stadt nehmen sich der von den Diakonissinnen verlassenen Pfleglinge an.

Ulm. Die Stadt Ulm, die seit Jahren die Erbauung von Arbeiterwohnungen im großen Stile betreibt und auf der Unteren Bleiche ein richtiges Arbeiterdorf angelegt hat, beschloß die Erbauung von 16 weiteren Arbeiterwohnungen. Nach Erledigung der Entfestigungsfrage sollen weitere 40 Wohnhäuser erbaut werden.

Wiblingen. Das hiesige Kloster beging dieser Tage unter allgemeiner Betheiligung das 800jährige Jubiläum seines Bestehens.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Ein verliebter Oberrealschüler, aus Straßburg, 19 Jahre alt, hat sich hier in Gegenwart seines Vaters durch einen Pistolenschuß derartige schwere Verletzungen beigebracht, daß er in eine Privatklinik verbracht werden mußte.

Bruchsal. Ein eigenartiger Zufall hat es gewollt, daß im städtischen Pfründner- und Armenhause zwei im gleichen Zimmer wohnende Pfleglinge in Zeit von wenigen Stunden ihr Leben beschlossen haben. Nachdem ein hiesiger 60jähriger Bürger gestorben, verschied kurz nachher der im anstoßenden Bett liegende 92jährige frühere Schuhmacher Ihle, der zweitälteste Mann Bruchsals. Von seiner Lebensenergie gab letzterer einen Beweis, indem er den um das Bett seines bereits entschlafenen Stubengenossen versammelten Personen zurief: „Ihr braucht nit zu bete, 's is noch nit fertig mit mer!"

Mannheim. Der Bürgerausschuß bewilligte 2,475 000 Mark für den Bau eines zweiten Gaswerkes.

Billingen. Der Bauer Leopold Dold, der in Rohrbach den früheren Centrumsabgeordneten Löffler und dessen Frau durch Revolverschüsse verletzte, wurde als geisteskrank in eine Irrenanstalt verbracht.

PROVE ALL THINGS.

This Old, Old Command is Easy To Fulfill in Plainfield.

To win a wager, an English Marquis stood on London Bridge and offered for an hour British sovereigns ($5) for five shillings ($1 25). He could not find a customer. There are several good reasons why the ordinary mortal could not be induced to buy, but no reason can be given why Plainfield people will not accept the following convincing proof about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this:—

Mrs. I. L. Holmes, of 442 West Second street, says:—"I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and derived more benefit from them than from anything else. Before I tried this remedy I was bothered almost constantly with a severe pain across the small of my back, so bad at times that I thought I must give up. If I sat down and got up or was lying down and attempted to rise quickly, or retained one position for any length of time, sharp, acute pain always followed. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised for such trouble and went to L. W. Randolph's drug store and got a box. They helped me from the first and I improved right along under the treatment. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others who suffer from kidney complaint."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

THE EEL IN WINTER

HOW THE MARKET IS SUPPLIED WITH THE SLIPPERY CREATURES.

Many Are Brought From the Bottoms of Sand Dune Ponds—They Burrow Under the Mud and Are Speared by Thousands—Supply Seems Inexhaustable.

"The thing that a good many folks can't understand," said the fish dealer, "is this: They read that eels hibernate—bury themselves in the mud—as soon as cold weather comes and don't show themselves again until warm weather returns, and yet they see us have eels here by the bushel all winter long, as fat and as kinky and as slippery as any eels are in summer. It is enough to puzzle 'em.

"Behind the sand dunes of the Long Island coast there are many small ponds the water of which is naturally fresh, but has been made salt, or can be made salt, by the cutting of channels to the sea in the confining sand dunes. This brings abundance of shell and other fish from the sea to the ponds, where they fatten and take on better flavor. Native to these ponds is a non-migratory eel—that is, it does not leave those waters and go to the sea in the fall, like the eel that comes from the sea to those ponds in the spring. There is no livelier thing in the water during the warm months than this native eel of the sand dune ponds, but it is a creature of thin blood and sensative organism. When the water begins to grow chill as the cool weather comes on, the eel loses its vim and friskiness, and immediately begins to burrow into the muddy bottoms of the ponds, to lie there dormant until the temperature of the water is high enough to be pleasant again.

"These eels bore into the mud a foot or more. Although they are then to pass into a state of lethargy for the time, they must have air. To secure this they turn their heads up toward the top of their muddy bed and puncture holes through it with their noses. This would seem to prove that eels have lungs as well as gills and are therefore something more than a mere cold-blooded fish. Each burrowing eel leaves two telltale indications of his winter hiding place, the hole he went in by and the one he makes to breathe through.

"Like the bear and the coon, the eel goes into winter retreat laden with fat, and, like them, he loses none of it while he sleeps. So he is never more fit for the table in his active months of incessant and greedy feeding than he is at any time during the months of his dormant fasting. This is unfortunate for him. If he could only reduce himself to leanness before he stowed himself away in the mud he would rest there undisturbed in his nap—but we would have no winter eels in the market.

"When the frosty days have come and the eels have gone into these burrows the native of the sand dune coast no longer fishes or traps for eels. He hunts for them and gets just as much pleasure and profit out of them. Armed with a barbed and many-tined spear, he passes his boat along the edges and over the shallower places of the ponds where the bottom is within easy sight. The holes in the mud betray the burrows of the hibernating eels. The spear is jabbed vigorously down through the mud. Usually, when it is drawn out, the spear will have an eel impaled on its barbs, and the painful contact is sufficient to restore much of the creature's summer animation, and it squirms and lashes itself furiously over its rude awakening. But whether the spear fetches up an eel or not, the eel hunter glances quickly about him on the contiguous surface of the pond, for if he is over a paving eel hole an infallible sign will appear on the surface and tell him so. If there eels lying within a radius of a few feet from the spot where the spear was thrust into the mud, the thrust will be quickly followed by the appearance of minute bubbles here and there on the surface. The shock of the spear plunged into the bottom startles from their [illegible] any eels that may be lying near, and they immediately eject jets of [illegible] from their breathing holes, and these [illegible] appear in bubbles on the surface. When the eels send these bubbles to the top of the water, is is known in the language of the sand dune eel hunters as 'smoking,' and by it they know where to launch their spears. A good smoking bed will yield dozens of fat eels.

"When the edges and shallows of the ponds have yielded up all their eels, the hunter digs new channels in the dunes, or deepens old ones. This draws down the water in the ponds and opens up the bottom in the deeper parts to the spears. This probing of the muddy bottom of these ponds for eels goes on through the fall and winter, until it would seem that not an eel would be left, but when spring comes the ponds are ready with just as big a summer crop of eels as they ever were. Scientists talk about the mystery of the eel, but if they want to solve the deepest kind of mystery about the eel, let them go and cipher out what keeps those little sand dune ponds of the Long Island coast filled with eels year in and year out, with never a sign of their growing less.

Car Ferry Between Florida and Cuba.

A ferry for loaded cars is talked of between Tampa, Fla., and Havana. The idea, according to a southern paper, is to build suitable tracks at both ends and load cars in Havana with fruit and perishable goods, run them on the ferryboat, and then scud them across the gulf to Tampa, run them on the tracks, and then away to northern destinations.

Cure for Headache.

A French doctor has invented an electric helmet, inside of which is a small motor that vibrates strips of steel, the motor making 600 turns per minute. This whizzing is supposed to cure nervous headache and put the sufferer to sleep.

Royal Peculiarities.

When annoyed or excited, the Prince of Wales winks the left eye rapidly, the Emperor of Austria puffs out his cheeks, the Czar lays his hand flat on the top of his head, and the Sultan of Turkey grasps his throat tightly with his hand.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

[OFFICIAL.]

Pursuant to the statue, the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, N. J., for the year commencing May 10, 1899, met in the Court House, Elizabeth, N. J., on said date, at 11 o'clock a. m.

The Board was called to order by S. Rusling Ryno, Clerk of the last Board, who administered the oath to the new members.

The role was then called by cities and townships as follows, viz.:

Clark Township.....Benjamin King
Cranford Township.....E. K. Adams
Elizabeth City.....W. H. Hulskamper
" " .....Frederick Miller
" " .....Jacob Brucklacher
" " .....Joseph McCandles
Fanwood Township.... John Robison
Linden Township.....F. T. Higgins
New Providence Township..J. F. Wahl
Plainfield City..... J. F. Hubbard
" " ..... John H. Tier
Rahway City.....Christian Ehrlich
" " .....John Farrell
Springfield Township...J. Martin Roll
Union Township....James A. Burnett
Summit City.....Wm. H. Swain
" " .....John N. Cady
Westfield Township....M. M. Scudder

All members were present excepting Freeholder Higgins—1.

The Clerk stated that the first business would be the election of the Director, and called for nominations.

Freeholder King in a brief speech nominated J. Frank Hubbard for Director, which was seconded by Freeholder Brucklacher.

There were no other nominations.

The Clerk requested Freeholder Swain and Roll to act as tellers.

As there was but one nomination it was ordered on motion that the Clerk cast the ballot.

The Clerk cast the ballot for J. Frank Hubbard for Director for the ensuing year, who was thereupon declared elected as Director for the legal term.

Director Hubbard was escorted to the chair by the tellers and briefly returned his thanks, expressing his high appreciation for the honor which had again been conferred upon him.

Freeholder King presented the following resolution, viz:

"Resolved, That the salary of the County Physician be fixed at six hundred dollars per annum."

Freeholder Adams moved the adoption of the resolution, which was duly seconded.

Freeholder Robison said that the salary mentioned in the resolution was an increase of $100 over the past year, but as the business in the office had greatly increased he believed that the Board would be justified in making the salary as prescribed in the resolution. The resolution was then on roll-call adopted by a unanimous vote.

Freeholder King nominated Dr. F. W. Westcott for County Physician; there were no other nominations.

There being but one nominee, it was ordered that the Clerk cast the ballot. The Clerk cast the ballot for Dr. F. W. Westcott for County Physician, who was thereupon declared elected as County Physician for the legal term.

By Freeholder King:

"Resolved, That the salary of the Road Inspector be fixed at $60 per month."

Freeholder Farrell moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll-call it was unanimously adopted.

Freeholder King nominated James W. Fink for County Road Inspector.

There were no other nominations and it was ordered that the Clerk cast the ballot.

The Clerk cast the ballot for James W. Fink for County Road Inspector, who was thereupon declared elected as County Road Inspector for the legal term.

By Freeholder Roll:

"Resolved, That when this Board adjourns it stands adjourned to meet on Thursday, May 18, 1899, at 2.30 p.m."

On motion of Freeholder Robison the resolution was adopted without dissent.

By Freeholder Miller:

"Resolved, That the regular meetings of this Board be held on the first Thursday of each month, at 2:30 p. m.

On motion of Freeholder King the motion was adopted without dissent.

By Freeholer Ehrlich:

"Resolved, That the Director be and is hereby constituted a member of all committees."

On motion of Freeholder Miller the resolution was adopted without dissent.

By Freeholder Hulskamper:

"Resolved, That the proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders be published in the following papers at the compensation of $100 per annum each, viz: City of Plainfield—Courier-News, Daily Press. City of Rahway—New Jersey Advocate, Union Democrat. City of Summit—Summit Herald, Summit Record. Westfield Township—Westfield Leader, Union County Standard. City of Elizabeth—Elizabeth Daily Journal, Daily Leader, Freie Press. Cranford Township—Cranford Chronicle. New Providence Township—Passaic Valley News."

Freeholder Farrell moved the adoption of the resolution and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

By Freeholder Adams:

"Resolved, That the Collector is hereby authorized to have his annual report printed in pamphlet form at a price not to exceed $100."

Freeholder Brucklacher moved the adoption of the resolution and on roll-call it was adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Brucklacher:

"Resolved, That the rules of order governing the last Board be adopted as the rules of this Board."

On motion of Freeholder Roll the resolution was adopted without dissent.

The Director announced the appointment of the committee on appropriations as follows, viz: Freeholders Farrell, Roll, Hulskamper, Brucklacher and Burnett.

Freeholder Tier moved to adjourn, which was carried.

The Director declared the Board adjourned until Thursday, May 18th, 1899, at 2:30 p. m.

Alleged Desertion by Wife.

Louis Spriggs, of 25 Howard street, called at The Daily Press office this morning and told a story of an alleged desertion by his wife. Spriggs says that his wife disappeared a week ago last Friday, and since that time he has received no word from her. He says that she took $36 of his money and left him only $1.02 to live on.

Fenner Family Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Fenner family was held at Weston, Somerset county, yesterday. There were about eighty members of the family present and the day was passed in a thoroughly enjoyable manner.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

ONE PISCOPAL CHURCH.

him as he had been called as rector.

The vestry then decided to call a parish meeting of the Church of the Holy Cross, to be held May 29th, at 8 p. m., to enable the members of this church to vote upon the question of consolidation of the two parishes.

This is the question that you must pass upon tonight, and I hope that the decision of this meeting will be to consolidate the two churches as one parish according to the terms proposed, for, by so doing, I believe that peace and goodwill and the future welfare of the parish, with God's blessing, will be assured.

Affectionately your rector,
T. Logan Murphy.

After the reading of the above, Wm. L. Saunders said that he desired on behalf of the meeting to express to Pastor Murphy their high appreciation of the letter read to them. It was a clear and lucid expression of most excellent advice, breathing Christian love and goodwill He moved that in addition to its being recorded on the minutes, that it be published in the local papers.

It has been left to the vestry of the two churches to arrange the details for the consolidation which will be effected at once.

Immediately after the meeting a committee, consisting of J. H. Carman, Horsely Barker and A. T. Gallup, was appointed to confer with a like committee from the Church of the Redeemer to prepare consolidation agreements and have them filed in the County Clerk's office. The consolidation will probably take effect July 1st.

At a meeting of the vestry of the Church of the Redeemer held on Monday evening it was decided by a unanimous vote of fifteen to consolidate.

SCHEUTZEN CORPS OPENING.

New Grounds Used Yesterday—Picnic in the Evening.

The Independent Scheutzen Corps opened their new grounds on Johnston's Drive yesterday. There were three sweepstake events for money prizes, target shooting. There were sixteen entries in all. Chris. Steckler won the first and second prizes in the first two events, and Rudolph Speigel secured second money in the first event, while Herman Klinsman won second money in the second event. C. J. Burhart was third in the first event and Fred Breen was third in the second event. Everybody had a good time at the shoot, after which all adjourned to Mountainside Grove where the Saengerbunds held a picnic.

Changes in Fire Department.

The changes in the fire department, occasioned by the establishment of the firehouse in the West End, will take place tomorrow. ## WHOLE FAMILY IN A RUNAWAY.

Horse was Frightened at Steam and Trolley Cars in Bound Brook.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, May 31—A bad mix-up, in which a horse, a trolley car and an engine were concerned, occurred here yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock in front of the station. As a result Mrs. William Blauvelt and her father were injured, Mrs. Blauvelt quite seriously.

Mrs. Blauvelt and two children, accompanied by her parents, were driving past the station when the horse became frightened at the combination of steam cars and trolleys and ran toward the curb. The carriage was upset and the occupants thrown out.

The injured ones were taken into a nearby drug store, and Dr. Fisher was summoned. It is not thought that either of them is fatally hurt, but their escape from death was marvelous. A number of Plainfield people witnessed the accident from the trolley car.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Elmer Garretson and family, of Vine street, spent yesterday with relatives at Roycefield.

Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Frederick Mead and children, expect to spend the summer abroad, sailing on Wednesday, June 14th.

Mrs. Andrew Love, Sr., of Duer street, who has been quite ill with rheumatism of the bowels, is much better, and her friends are in hopes she will soon be restored to her former health.

George M. Macintrye and family, of Elm street, spent Sunday with relatives at Roycefield, and returned in time to entertain Miss Daisy Overbaugh and Tracy Eddy, of Bayonne, yesterday.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

An Aged Colored Woman Died in Squalor and Poverty.

Mrs. Anna C. Washington, an aged colored woman, died sometime last night at her home, 409 Cottage place. She was found dead in bed this afternoon by J. M. Smalley, the butcher, who called at her house to see why she did not send home the washing.

Mrs. Washington was born in Virginia, and came here from Richmond twenty-five years ago. She lived with Dr. Rushmore for many years.

—Where Mrs. Washington lived was as filthy and mean a place as there is on the street. The house consists of two rooms, and the furniture is of the cheapest kind. One room was used as a wash room, and the tubs stood half filled with dirty water, just as they were when the woman left her work.

The neighbors saw Mrs. Washingingabout the house as usual yesterday, so her death may have occurred anytime between last night and this noon.

To Pay a Fraternal Visit.

The Red Men of Miantonomo Tribe and Paughcaughnaughsinque Tribe will go to New Brunswick Friday night to pay a fraternal visit to Ahander Tribe, of that place. Instead of going in a trolley car, as was at first expected, the Red Men have decided to go by stage. Stages will therefore leave Red Men's hall Friday night at 6:45 o'clock.

A Jack Tar in Town.

James Lannigan, assistant engineer on the U. S. S. Boston, of Admiral Dewey's fleet, was the guest of Plainfield friends yesterday. Mr. Lannigan was formerly a resident of this city, and an employe of Pond Tool Works and a member of the Plainfield Catholic Club. While in town he visited at the home of John Traynor, of Orchard place.

Enjoyed Fishing and Sailing.

A jolly lot of Plainfielders, including A. A. Taft, John T. Case, Willard R. Ross, John M. Duck, Louis M. Hummer, and Corra Ryno, of this city, and John Douglass, of Jersey City, enjoyed a sailing and fishing trip to Sandy Hook, yesterday. They had a fine sail, but the catch of fish was small.

Storm Sewer Started.

Patsy Christmas, the contractor, started the work this morning on the Park avenue storm sewer. The work was commenced on Somerset street and that portion of the street is closed temporarily, the trolley cars making connections and passengers are given transfers. The work will now be rushed rapidly and completed as soon as possible.

Broke Her Arm.

Miss Annie Crawford, of Newark, was conversing with a friend on horseback yesterday, in front of the home of F. R. Stevens, of 145 East Fifth street, when the horse commenced to plunge. In attempting to get out of the way Mrs. Crawford stepped backwards and tripped and fell, fracturing the bone in her left arm.

—Anyone in need of sponges can find a full line at Powers' drug store on Somerset street. He has a superior stock and the prices are right, as per advertisement in another part of this paper.
